Do Whatever You Can For Rights: Forum Consensus

Negro Wants 'In' To American Society, Marinites Are Told

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The frustrations of the white liberal dedicated to obtaining civil rights for Negroes were clearly demonstrated at a day-long symposium Saturday in Marin City.

More than 160 persons, predominantly white and middle class, attended the gathering sponsored by the Marin County Human Rights Commission, and co-sponsored by 40 other organizations in the county.

"What can we do?" was the question raised time and again throughout the day.

From the morning speeches, mid-day workshops and final afternoon sessions emerged a kind of consensus that this was fundamentally a moral problem that involved every aspect of American domestic life and foreign policy.

The essential answer to the question, "What can we do?" was: "Whatever you can."

As each of the 15 workshop leaders arose to report the findings of his group, there was apparent agreement that it is not eonugh for white civil rights champions to work among Negroes who already understand their aims and hardships.

"We don't want any more studies," declared Dr. Joseph L. White, Negro psychologist and educator from Long Beach State College. He derided those who perpetually ask, "What does the Negro really want?" Said White, "He wants what every American wants. He wants in."

He endorsed the point made by many of the workshop groups that the real task of the white liberal is to change the heart and mind of the white community which is either indifferent or antagonistic to civil rights.

White urged the liberals to be "a bridge" between the ghetto Negro and the white businessman or union leader. "But," he warned, "the white liberal is going to face a lot of resentment from the Negro community and from the white community."

In many of the workshops—wrestling with problems or housing, employment and education—there was raised the question: "Does it really do any good for us to get together and discuss these things? After it's over what do we actually do?"

One of the workshop groups, comprised of high school students, announced that its members would form a committee to work for better relations between the races in the county's schools.

Another workshop voted to seek community support and endorsement for a realty broker striving to find housing for Negroes in Marin.

Another agreed to make a formal complaint to the Independent-Journal on its coverage of incidents in Marin City, which, according to the workshop, overemphasized violence and lawlessness.

Take-Off Rocket Repaired

CAPE KENNEDY—The Federal Space Agency said today a new bug cropped up in the Gemini 6 rocket but that it was resolved without further delay to Wednesday's rendezvous launch attempt.

The problem developed in the Titan 2 rocket's powerful engine system, but after a long series of meetings, engineers said the trouble was eliminated and "we're still on schedule."

Space officials said yesterday they hope to send astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford on their chase in space after Gemini 7 Wednesday, but the new problem posed a serious threat to the bast-off date until it was resolved.

PROPULSION

Informed sources said the problem involved the propulsion system on the Titan 2 rocket. This was not the plug that fell out yesterday causing a shutdown of the engines at the moment of lift-off.

Gemini 7 is due to return to earth Saturday after 14 days aloft with the possibility it would stay up a 15th day.

Borman and Lovell had a broken tape recorder to annoy them as they streaked through the heavens 185 miles high. The recorder collected medical data.

Their beards were growing bushier and their diet was medically sound but not very appetizing.

ANOTHER ORBIT

Gemini 7 entered its 133rd orbit at 10 a.m. EST.

The endurance flight record fell to Gemini 7 yesterday. Tonight at 11:46 p.m. EST, the individual orbital time record of 225 hours, 16 minutes held by astronaut Gordon Cooper will fall to Borman and Lovell.

Once again, the astronauts prepared for a laser beam test to try to communicate with the ground via a light beam from hand held "ray gun." Every test has been unsuccessful since the flight started Dec. 4.

Thieves Strike At Two Churches

Thieves got away with more than $600 in checks and cash from two churches in Tiburon and Belvedere yesterday between 11 a.m. and noon while parishioners worshipped.

Rev. Ernest J. Wood of the Tiburon Baptist Church, 445 Tiburon Boulevard, told sheriff's deputies someone entered the church office after 11 o'clock services had begun, pried open a metal cabinet, and took a bag containing $343.46 in checks and cash.

Shirley J. Harkey of 1 Cay Passage, Corte Madera, who was tending the church nursery school, said she saw a blond young man about five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds and dressed in a gray suit near the office about 11:45 a.m. The broken cabinet was discovered at 12:05 p.m.

At St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 3 Bayview Avenue, Belvedere, Rev. Llewellyn A. White discovered the theft of $300 in checks and an undetermined amount of cash after 11 o'clock services.

Rev. White told Belvedere police the checks and money were stolen after someone broke open the closet door in his secretary's office. The money had been collected at the 8 a.m. communion service and locked in the closet.

Murderer Is Stabbed To Death At Quentin

John Contreras Zamilpa, 23, serving a life sentence at San Quentin Prison for murder, was fatally stabbed by an unidentified assailant or assailants at the prison yesterday afternoon.

Zamilpa was stabbed in the back with a sharp instrument while he was en route from his cell block to his evening meal.

Prison officials reported he staggered into the housing unit office on the ground floor at 3:55 p.m., said he had been stabbed, and collapsed.

He was taken to the prison hospital where he died at 4:27 p.m. Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Zamilpa died on the operating table while undergoing surgery.

The stabbing occurred sometime between the time Zamilpa left his cell on the fifth tier in the south cell block and the time he reached the ground floor.

Officials at the prison reported today that a six-inch-long handfashioned knife was found on the fourth tier of the cell block after the stabbing. The weapon was stained with blood, reported Associate Warden Homer J. Hastings.

Four men seen near the scene of the stabbing have been put into isolation at the prison while the crime is being investigated, Hastings said.

Zamilpa entered San Quentin in March of 1964 to serve a life sentence after he was convicted of killing a fellow prisoner at Soledad Prison in 1963. He was said to have stabbed the man 73 times. He went to Soledad on conviction of furnishing narcotics.

Woman Mayor Robbed Of Purse

VALLEJO (UPI)—Two youths slugged Mayor Florence E. Douglas and a friend outside Mrs. Douglas' home last night, then fled with their purses.

The women had driven up to the mayor's home when the youths attacked them. The youths opened the car's doors, punched both women in the face, grabbed the purses and fled.

Neither woman required medical treatment. Mrs. Douglas said she had $10 in her purse. Mrs. Albina Kaiser said she had a small amount of money in her purse.

Rocks Thrown In Marin City

There were two rock throwing incidents in Marin City Saturday night.

Sgt. Wade Powell of the sheriff's office reported that a rock was thrown at his patrol car in the vicinity of Cole Drive and Drake Avenue at 8 p.m.

Battles Still To Come, Marine General Says

SAIGON (UPI) —Thousands of U.S. Marines, warned by their commander the "major fighting" was yet to come, today pushed through jungled mountains in the sixth day of a hunt for a Communist battalion believed hiding in caves and tunnels big enough to conceal heavy trucks.

Marines reached what appeared to be the base camp used by the fleeing Reds. They found only abandoned equipment.

The area is 335 miles north of Saigon and 20 miles south of the Leathernecks' Da Nang airbase.

"I don't think the major fighting has started yet," Maj. Gen. Lewis Walt, commander of the Third Marine Amphibious Force, declared last night.

His statement came after Strategic Air Command B-52 bombers pounded the mountain range with 750 and 1,000 pound bombs believed to have caught the Viet Cong by surprise. The eight-jet B-52s fly so high they cannot be heard until their bombs whistle toward earth.

Majority In Student Poll Backs U.S. Saigon Action

By LINDA BROWN

Editor, "Jolly Roger," Drake High School

Five times more Sir Francis Drake High School students support the war effort in Viet Nam than believe that the United States should withdraw, according to a poll taken by the Jolly Roger, the high school newspaper.

The Jolly Roger polled 70 per cent (1,113 students) of the student body on their views of the Viet Nam war.

The general trend throughout the survey was support for U.S. actions in Viet Nam. However, numerous remarks against American "intervention" and "aggression" were made.

The overwhelming majority of the students — of whom the boys will soon be of draft age — said that "if we were to get out now the Communists would take over more and more countries until there would be no free nations left but the U.S. — then what?"

More than 70 per cent of those students who answered the questionnaire approved of President Johnson's foreign policy in regard to Viet Nam. Many believe that "he is trying to protect the United States from communist domination" and state their preference to "fight there rather than here in California."

High Court Tosses Out Prayer Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today denied a hearing to New York City parents who sought an order allowing their children to "pray voluntarily to God each day" in a Queens public school.

The case is the first to reach the high court involving the question of "voluntary" prayers by public school pupils. In decisions in 1962 and 1963, the court barred use of state-composed prayers and the Lord's Prayer, as well as Bible reading when done in devotional exercises.

The Queens parents demanded that school authorities gave their children "an opportunity to express their love and affection to Almighty God each day through a prayer in their respective classrooms."

The controversy arose after principal Elihu Oshinsky of Public School 184 in Whitestone forbade recitation of two prayers by kindergarten children before they ate milk and cookies in morning and afternoon.

One prayer was:

"God is great, God is good
And we thank him for our food.
Amen."

The other was:

"Thank You for the world so sweet
Thank you for the food we eat
Thank You for the birds that sing
Thank You God for everything."

The parents formed a group called Prayer Rights for American Youth (PRAY) and sued in federal district court in Brooklyn for prayer privileges for a group of students ranging in age from 5 to 11.

Federal District Judge Walter Bruchhausen ruled in favor of the parents but was reversed by the 2nd Circuit Court.

Klansman Is Apparent Suicide

GRANITE QUARRY, N.C. (AP) — The Rowan County coroner said today the death of Grady B. Mars, retired military policeman linked with the Ku Klux Klan by a congressional investigator, may have been suicide.

Mars

Mars, 41, died of a gunshot wound in the head in his bedroom Saturday night.

Coroner Rufus Honeycutt quoted Mars' wife Jean, as saying her husband had been despondent since refusing to testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities when it was investigating the Klan in October.

Donald T. Appell, chief counsel for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, identified Mars in October as a district officer and organizer for the United Klans of America.

Mars pleaded the Fifth Amendment when asked about Klan activities at a committee hearing.

Murder Charged In Gas-Set Fire

CHICAGO (UPI)—A disgruntled patron using a borrowed match touched off a two-gallon Molotov cocktail in a crowded Skid Row tavern Saturday night. Flames, smoke and the resulting panic killed 13 persons.

Robert Lee Lassiter, 25, who admitted setting the gasoline afire in the entrance of the club which held about 150 persons, yesterday appeared in Circuit Court to answer charges of first degree murder and arson.

Lassiter

Residents of the shabby neighborhood often went to the Seeley Club on Saturday night.

Shortly before midnight bartender Edward Gaston, got into a dispute with Lassiter. The latter was bounced, then went to a filling station and purchased the gasoline. Police said at least three persons saw Lassiter pour the gasoline onto the floor in front of the entrance to the tavern and ignite it.

More Tax Cuts Next Year, But Social Security Cost Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tax cuts totalling $1.7 billion will go into effect next year—but don't cheer yet. Federal taxes also will go up an estimated $5 billion.

The apparent contradiction arises from separate congressional actions in 1964 and this year. First, the lawmakers enacted a to stage reduction in excise taxes but, during the last session they raised Social Security contributions and added taxes for the new medicare program.

While this may strike some persons as a case of the right hand not knowing what the left hand is doing, it's only fair to say — as President Johnson did recently — that taxes have been reduced by almost $20 billion during the past four years.

As things stand 1966 is not shaping up as another big tax cut year along the lines of 1964 and 1965. The 1964 income tax reduction turned $9.5 billion back to individuals and companies and is likely to dwarf cuts for years to come.

This year, people enjoyed the second $4 billion stage of the 1964 act as well as the first $1.7 billion stage of the excise tax reduction.

The only windfall now in the works for 1966 is the second stage of the excise tax cut—another $1.7 billion worth.

On the other side of the ledger, Social Security and self employment taxes are due to rise Jan. 1 to finance increased retirement benefits and new medicare program for the elderly.

LBJ Returns To Washington For Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House early today for an intensive round of conferences with foreign leaders, final preparations for the new budget and more discussion of Viet Nam.

Johnson had been at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., for 24 days — relaxing, recuperating from his Oct. 8 operation and holding a series of top-level policy talks on the whole range of governmental activity.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said staff work would occupy much of the President's time today.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain, who has been trying to promote Viet Nam peace talks, will be at the White House Friday.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who wants for his country a role in the nuclear defense of Western Europe, will arrive Saturday for two or three days of conferences ith Johnson.

The President and Mrs. Johnson are expected to return to the ranch a few days before Christmas for a holiday stay that may continue into January.

Quest For Electric Guitar Leads To Kidnaping Charge

SALINAS (AP)—A young gunman charged with kidnaping a family of four and taking them on a terror-filled 280-mile ride through Northern California says he didn't intend to do it.

"Things just kept building up," Robert Clodgo, 20, of Salinas, said yesterday in a statement to a sheriff's deputy.

The unemployed young man, soft-spoken and dressed in a sport coat and tie, explained all he wanted to do in the beginning was steal a car.

He said he wanted to use it in some robberies to raise money so he could buy an electric guitar and play in a rock 'n' roll band.

Sgt. Fred Snyder of the Salinas sheriff's office said Clodgo's ill-conceived plan exploded into a campaign of terror when the suspect randomly chose and entered the home of Wendell Dusharme of Castroville at 3 a.m. Saturday.

Snyder said that Dusharme, 47, a masonry contractor, was awakened as Clodgo searched for the family car keys. The youth hit Dusharme over the head two times with a metal bar, inflicting cuts and bruises.

The deputy said Clodgo then produced a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle, partly concealed by Christmas paper wrapping, and forced the family to dress and get into their car.

Dusharme, his wife jeanne, 47, and son Mike, 17, sat in the front of the 1957 pink sedan and took turns driving. Clodgo sat in the back seat with Dirk Dusharme, 10, and kept his rifle trained on the family, Snyder said.

"He kept saying 'If you don't behave, I'll blast you,'" Dusharme related later. "I kept telling my family 'no heroics, no foolish gestures.'"

The forced ride ranged through Oakland on the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay, and ended at a ranger station on the foggy coast 90 miles north of San Francisco. Clodgo had worked in the area last summer as a firefighter, he said.

The gunman released Mrs. Dusharme and the children. They walked to a telephone and called the sheriff's office. But Clodgo held Dusharme as a hostage and they drove back to San Francisco. There he released the contractor without further harm.

Clodgo returned to Salinas in time to keep a date with a girl friend at a dance hall that night. A deputy on patrol spotted the parked stolen car and the rifle laying on a seat, and the youth was arrested.

Atom Smasher Site

Homestead Valley Woman Found Dead By Hanging

Ella Kersten Johnson, 63, of 235 LaVerne Avenue, Homestead Valley, was found hanging in her garage yesterday and taken to Marin General Hospital where she was pronounced dead upon arrival at 9:10 a.m.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Mrs. Johnson hanged herself with a piece of rope which was attached to a rafter in the garage. She had been standing on a small shelf with the rope attached to her neck, he said.

Her body was discovered by her husband, Ove T. Johnson, a general foreman for waterfront employees in San Francisco.

Johnson reported that his wife arose at 8 a.m. and he thought she was preparing breakfast. When he arose and could not find her in the house, he started a search and found her body in the garage, Bradley said.

According to her husband, Mrs. Johnson had been under treatment of psychiatrist, Bradley said.

Her daughter, Mrs. Sonja J. Bath, and her family, recently had arrived to spend Christmas with the Johnsons.

A native of Denmark, Mrs. Johnson had lived in Marin for 25 years and in California 33 years.

Rusk Meets With French Premier

Rusk told newsmen on his arval he did not expect anything surprising to emerge from the ministers meeting opening tomorrow at headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But in calling on Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Courve de Murville, Rusk was putting into practice another observation that: "I think my stay in Paris will be useful...to discuss with other ministers the questions in our minds."

Viet Train Picking Up Some Steam

The Bay Area campaign for America's Christmas Trains and Trucks for Viet Nam, beset by confusion and dissidence, is now picking up steam, according to officials in charge.

Art Hillman, president of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, said his original objection to joining the national project was his concern over the apparent lack of facilities to handle the donated supplies.

Inky Tillisch of Palo Alto, coordinating Bay Area chairman, announced that the Christmas train left Washington, D.C. yesterday.

The said the General Services Administration will re-package all donations for overseas shipment on a government vessel scheduled to sail under the Golden Gate Bridge on Christmas Eve.

Plea Of Guilty Given Court

Change of plea to guilty to battery and disturbing the peace was entered in Marin Municipal Court today by Austin Dwaine Yeager, 24, of San Jose.

Judgment was scheduled by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. for Jan. 10.

An earlier trial of Yeager and a companion, James Howard Bane, 25, also of San Jose and charged with disturbing the peace and battery was declared a mistrial Oct. 20 when Bane failed to appear. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

Burglars Loot Two Safes

Burglars looted two safes at Ghilotti Brothers Inc., 525 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, but got only 80 cents cash for their efforts, sheriff's officers said today.

Co-owner Dino J. Ghilotti told deputies entry was by breaking a window. The office was ransacked, officers said, and the money taken from an unforced large safe.

A smaller safe, also in the office, was pried open but nothing was taken.

Dr. Robert W. Clarke, 199 Bret Harte Road, California Park, told deputies his automobile was burgled while parked at Meadow Club, Fairfax. Taken was a stethoscope and a flashlight, officers said.

Man Suspected Of Burglary

Jameson Deming McDowell, 29, of Palo Alto, was arrested by sheriff's officers yesterday on suspicion of burglary of a Tamalpais Valley home. He was booked in county jail, then released on $550 bail.

Officers said McDowell entered the kitchen of the home of James Herbert Thigpen, 612 Eastwood Way, and was rummaging through the refrigerator when Thigpen discovered him about 5:30 p.m.

Thigpen held McDowell until officers arrived. Deputies quoted McDowell as saying he had been to a Muir Woods party and was seeking food and a place to sleep.

He is scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Joy-Ride Plea Nets Six Months

Harold Chester Wasley, 20, has been sentenced to six months in county jail on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court to joy-riding.

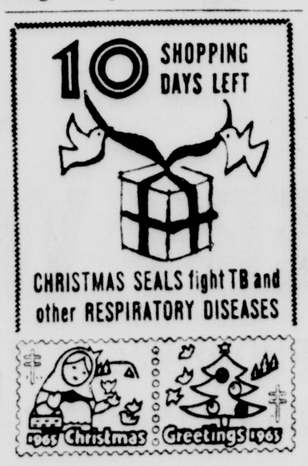
A new trial had been scheduled for today. Judgment was by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.



GEMINI

nicians at Cape Kennedy to try to prepare the Gemini 6 spaceship for launching, after yesterday's failure of the booster rocket to lift off the pad.

What started out as a weekend full of hope for Schirra and Stafford turned in seconds into frustration—and a moment of danger and decision yesterday.

"They're cleared for takeoff," Mission Control advised Gemini 7, passing overhead shortly before the 9:54 a.m. liftoff time.

"Adios," control told Schirra and Stafford.

Right on schedule, the countdown proceeded.

". . . 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ignition."

"Shutdown," announced Mission Control with scarcely a pause.

By this time, under these conditions, Schirra and Stafford were close to making a decision to eject and be thrown clear of the smoldering rocket, live with fuel. But they just gripped their ejection rings. Then the fuel pressure started slowly decreasing; the crisis disappeared.

Had they ejected—much like pilots do from jet aircraft—the damage to the capsule and seats might have been too severe to repair before the end of the Gemini 7 flight.

The trouble: An electrical plug costing $108, carrying vital information to the launch control center in a blockhouse near pad 19, had fallen out at that pivotal moment and caused the automatic monitoring system to cut off the Titan's engines.

It was a moment of agonizing decision for Schirra, who as command pilot had the option of activating an ejection system that could have hurled both pilots out of their capsule and back to the ground by parachute in a matter of 10 seconds.

Schirra coolly watched his instruments, decided there was no real danger and kept his hand off the ejection ring — thereby winning the praise of officials ranging all the way up to President Johnson.

President Johnson said:

"Our disappointment is exceeded by our pride in astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford and the flight directors of NASA (National Aeronautical and Space Administration). With the world watching they acted with remarkable courage in the face of danger and potential disaster."

Teacher Held In Span Try

A 26-year-old Daly City school teacher was taken into custody by the California Highway Patrol at 9:15 p.m. Saturday after the patrol was told by a San Francisco priest that he believed the woman planned to leap off the Golden Gate Bridge.

Patricia Z. Smith was spotted in her northbound white 1965 Mustang at the bridge toll plaza by patrolman Arthur Olson, who chased her in his patrol car across the bridge at speeds up to 85 miles per hour. She finally pulled to a stop at Rodeo Avenue on Highway 101. She was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

The patrol said Rev. Philip McCrillis of St. Anne's Church, San Francisco, said she had been talking to him about taking her own life. He called the authorities when she left.

Kettenhofen Issues A Challenge

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has challenged a Greenbrae boardwalk resident to a showdown before the board of supervisors tomorrow afternoon.

Ira O. Baumgardner of 1 Greenbrae Boardwalk, in a letter to the supervisors protesting formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control district, declared the project has been pursued "by a member of our Marin board of supervisors for purely selfish purposes." He wrote further:

"Please answer these questions Mr. Kettenhofen: do you own property near this area? Wouldn't a change in the creek and a park increase the market value of your property?"

In a telegram to Baumgardner, Kettenhofen declared that it is not the first time "such vicious accusations" have been made against him.

He then challenged Baumgardner, "If you have the conviction and courage," to attend a hearing on the district formation before the board of supervisors at 3 p.m. tomorrow and repeat his charges there.

Kettenhofen said he will give his answer "under official oath."

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on French Premier Georges Pompidou today as foreign and defense ministers of the Atlantic Alliance gathered to discuss an integrated nuclear force and France's part in the alliance.

But in calling on Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Courve de Murville, Rusk was putting into practice another observation that: "I think my stay in Paris will be useful...to discuss with other ministers the questions in our minds."

GEMINI

nicians at Cape Kennedy to try to prepare the Gemini 6 spaceship for launching, after yesterday's failure of the booster rocket to lift off the pad.

Gemini 6 astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford had the day off.

What started out as a weekend full of hope for Schirra and Stafford turned in seconds into frustration—and a moment of danger and decision yesterday.

"They're cleared for takeoff," Mission Control advised Gemini 7, passing overhead shortly before the 9:54 a.m. liftoff time.

"Adios," control told Schirra and Stafford.

Right on schedule, the countdown proceeded.

". . . 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ignition."

Exhaust boiled from beneath the mighty vehicle, but the rocket didn't move.

"Shutdown," announced Mission Control with scarcely a pause.

By this time, under these conditions, Schirra and Stafford were close to making a decision to eject and be thrown clear of the smoldering rocket, live with fuel. But they just gripped their ejection rings. Then the fuel pressure started slowly decreasing; the crisis disappeared.

Had they ejected—much like pilots do from jet aircraft—the damage to the capsule and seats might have been too severe to repair before the end of the Gemini 7 flight.

The trouble: An electrical plug costing $108, carrying vital information to the launch control center in a blockhouse near pad 19, had fallen out at that pivotal moment and caused the automatic monitoring system to cut off the Titan's engines.

It was a moment of agonizing decision for Schirra, who as command pilot had the option of activating an ejection system that could have hurled both pilots out of their capsule and back to the ground by parachute in a matter of 10 seconds.

Schirra coolly watched his instruments, decided there was no real danger and kept his hand off the ejection ring — thereby winning the praise of officials ringing all the way up to President Johnson.

President Johnson said:

"Our disappointment is exceeded by our pride in astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford and the flight directors of NASA (National Aeronautical and Space Administration). With the world watching they acted with remarkable courage in the face of danger and potential disaster."

Plea Of Guilty Given Court

Change of plea to guilty to battery and disturbing the peace was entered in Marin Municipal Court today by Austin Dwaine Yeager, 24, of San Jose.

Judgment was scheduled by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. for Jan. 10.

An earlier trial of Yeager and a companion, James Howard Bane, 25, also of San Jose and charged with disturbing the peace and battery was declared a mistrial Oct. 20 when Bane failed to appear. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

Burglars Loot Two Safes

Burglars looted two safes at Ghilotti Brothers Inc., 525 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, but got only 80 cents cash for their efforts, sheriff's officers said today.

Co-owner Dino J. Ghilotti told deputies entry was by breaking a window. The office was ransacked, officers said, and the money taken from an unforced large safe.

A smaller safe, also in the office, was pried open but nothing was taken.

Dr. Robert W. Clarke, 199 Bret Harte Road, California Park, told deputies his automobile was burgled while parked at Meadow Club, Fairfax. Taken was a stethoscope and a flashlight, officers said.

Man Suspected Of Burglary

Jameson Deming McDowell, 29, of Palo Alto, was arrested by sheriff's officers yesterday on suspicion of burglary of a Tamalpais Valley home. He was booked in county jail, then released on $550 bail.

Officers said McDowell entered the kitchen of the home of James Herbert Thigpen, 612 Eastwood Way, and was rummaging through the refrigerator when Thigpen discovered him about 5:30 p.m.

Thigpen held McDowell until officers arrived. Deputies quoted McDowell as saying he had been to a Muir Woods party and was seeking food and a place to sleep.

He is scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Joy-Ride Plea Nets Six Months

Harold Chester Wasley, 20, has been sentenced to six months in county jail on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court to joyriding.

Wasley, of San Francisco, originally was charged with theft of the auto, owned by Fred Gregory Shaw, in Novato last March 8. Two previous trials on the latter charge ended in deadlocked juries.

A new trial had been scheduled for today. Judgment was by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Kettenhofen Issues A Challenge

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has challenged a Greenbrae boardwalk resident to a showdown before the board of supervisors tomorrow afternoon.

Ira O. Baumgardner of 1 Greenbrae Boardwalk, in a letter to the supervisors protesting formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control district, declared the project has been pursued "by a member of our Marin board of supervisors for purely selfish purposes." He wrote further:

"Please answer these questions Mr. Kettenhofen: do you own property near this area? Wouldn't a change in the creek and a park increase the market value of your property?"

In a telegram to Baumgardner, Kettenhofen declared that it is not the first time "such vicious accusations" have been made against him.

He then challenged Baumgardner, "If you have the conviction and courage," to attend a hearing on the district formation before the board of supervisors at 3 p.m. tomorrow and repeat his charges there.

Kettenhofen said he will give his answer "under official oath."

Student Musician's Work To Be Staged

A music program featuring an original composition by Sir Francis Drake High School student Steve Jacobs will be presented three times this week by the school's a capella choir, concert band, chamber orchestra and girls' chorus.

The program will first be given at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Sleepy Hollow Elementary School, San Anselmo. At 8 p.m. Wednesday a public concert will be held at the Drake Little Theater. A shortened version will be presented for students at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Palsy Reported Slated

Directors of the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Marin will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Civic Center to hear a report from the national organization on a survey of Marin's needs. The directors will also plan Christmas parties for handicapped Marin children.

Foes Of Marincello Due To Make Another Appeal

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will receive petitions from opponents of Marincello asking that the Nov. 12 vote approving the plan for the community be reconsidered.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Marincello petitions are scheduled as the last item on a 62-item agenda.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney has said that the board cannot reconsider the plan, but can direct the county planning commission to study specific amendments.

The plan was approved by a 3-2 vote with Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker dissenting.

Also on tomorrow's agenda, slated for 1:30 p.m., is consideration of the application of Borah Lawrence for rezoning of a 70,000-square-foot parcel on North San Pedro Road opposite LaBrea Way, which would allow a seven-unit apartment or cluster development. Santa Venetia residents have opposed the change.

Soon after that hearing is an appeal by Standard Oil Co. on the planning commission's denial of a use permit for a service station in the Town and Country Shopping Center at Strawberry.

At 3 p.m., the supervisors will hold a hearing on formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control zone. If the board votes to create the zone, it is also slated to name an advisory committee for the zone.

Early in the day, the board is also to consider appointments to the recently formed airport commission.

Mink Coat, Jewels, Seal Cape Stolen

San Rafael police said the burglar pried open an aluminum sash on the north side of the house to enter, and left by a side door. Filippo said the theft must have occurred between the time he left the house at 10 p.m. Friday and his return at 6:15 p.m. yesterday.

Club Problem Study Slated At Air Base

The Airman's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base, which has been threatened with closure and won reprieve, will come up for critical study by a committee of the Non-commissioned Officers Club board of governors.

CM/Sgt. Leslie M. Tate, president of the board of the NCO Club, which operates the Airman's Club, said he had named a three-man committee Thursday to study the Airman's Club, "with a positive approach" toward solving its problems.

The club has been operating at a loss of about $4,000 per year, but made a profit of $600 in November, Sgt. Tate said. Earlier, the Airman's Club had been slated for closing on Jan. 25.

Named to the committee were M/Sgt. Louis Bilikas, S/Sgt. Donna J. Hatcher and S/Sgt. Tommy Scissom. This committee is to make its report to the board of governors in January.

"One of the main problems is that there is no parking," Sgt. Tate said. There is space for only four cars at the club.

"There is not too much wrong with the building, but we will seriously consider moving the club to another location," he said. The Airman's Club is located on top of a hill near the World War II barracks.

Col. Ralph M. Wanderer Jr., base commander, said no space is available elsewhere on the base. He saw little wrong with its present location.

"It is in the center of about two-thirds of the troops on the base," Col. Wanderer said.

"Since the club was threatened with closure, it has generated more interest in it," he added.

"The club does not have the support of the airmen on the base," Sgt. Tate said. He pointed out that there are between 1,500 and 2,000 airmen on the base, yet in November, only 184 of them belonged to the club.

Among other suggestions which the committee will ponder are the possibility of closing the club on week nights and having parties in it to stir interest and make a profit, Sgt. Tate said.

Phone Lines Vanishing Downtown

If anyone thinks there is something lacking these days from a particular area of downtown San Rafael, that something is probably overhead telephone wires.

They are being put underground by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., in a $9,400 project nearing completion in a three block area from Fifth Avenue at H Street to Mission Avenue, and along Mission to the new city hall construction.

District Manager Gordon Davenport said the work involves burying the cables instead of stringing them overhead on poles.

He said the objectives are to keep the downtown area looking clean and uncluttered, and at the same time reinforce the cables to take a heavier load.

An unusual aspect of this project, said Davenport, is that workmen can lay the cable without digging open trenches. The method consists of drilling holes under the pavement at fixed intervals and pulling the cable through.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Mahler Is Right, Noise Is Wrong

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo's conducting of Mahler's Symphony No. 4 last night in the opening of the Marin symphony season was a revelation of the heights this orchestra can reach when inspired.

But right here we must say that since the College of Marin gymnasium is the best place we have for such concerts until a real concert hall is built, something should be done about the noisy ventilating and heating system.

The noise was especially annoying in the Mahler work, in which the orchestral palette ranges in timbre from brilliant to diaphonous and opalescent and in dynamics from ethereal to cyclopean.

Salgo seems to have a deep understanding and love for the music of Mahler. Through some wizardry he was successful in achieving the massive Mahler sound with an orchestra of fewer than 70 players.

Some of Mahler's characteristic writing he brought out were the long sinuous melodic lines, as heard in the strings in the second and especially the third infinitely beautiful movement, and the wonderful tonal chiaroscuro obtained by bringing out solo instruments or groups of them over the rich orchestral texture.

Ideally suited to the vocal solo in the fourth movement was the vocal quality and technique of soprano Margot Power. Not the powerful voice one would think necessary in a Mahler symphony, it has a bird-like clarity and flexibility that was just right for this work with its long pastoral portions and actual bird-call passages.

In the contrasting and rather grotesque second movement, a novel musical experience was hearing concertmaster Charles Meacham's skillful playing of one violin tuned a whole tone higher than the others in featured measures.

The same vocal qualities that were suitable in the Mahler fourth movement made Miss Power's choice of two Mozart arias appropriate for her two solos. These were dove solo from "The Marriage of Figaro" and Come Scoglio from "Cosi Fan Tutte."

The concert opened with a satisfying reading of Beethoven's cheerful and exuberant Symphony No. 8, in which there was excellent timing in the dialogue among sections.

Mood Reinforced By Music In Opera Of 'Long Dinner'

Saturday night's performance in the San Anselmo Festival Theater of "The Long Christmas Dinner" in the Hindemith-score, Wilder-libretto opera version, pointed up the immense value of music in reinforcing mood.

This was made evident by comparison of the College of Marin Opera Workshop performance with the preceding Wilder play enacted by the Festival Theater players. The play was covered on opening night by Karl Barron, Independent-Journal.

Though the opera cast did credit to dramatic coaching, the play in the tandem production was perhaps more powerful in dramatic immpact, possibly because of the superior professional experience of the players. But music was enormously effective in accentuating the nostalgic mood of the story covering 90 years and three generations of a family's Christmas dinners.

Individual musical honors went to Sydney Peterzon, whose pure lyrical soprano was perfect for Leonora, especially as the young bride. The role of Lucia was well sung by soprano Joan Smith, though the timbre of her voice sounded young for this mature character.

Ideally suited to their roles as cousin Ermengarde and Genevieve, respectively, were the mezzo soprano voices of Margaret Lee and Marjorie Broughton, who sang and acted their roles well. It was the best work we have heard from Miss Broughton.

Tenor Kenneth Rowland as Roderick has been heard to better advantage. The deep baritone quality of George Baker's voice was very effective in the role of cousin Brandon.

Other young singers adding to the impressive performance smoothly paced by Larry Snyder directing from one of two pianos — the other being ably played by Phyllis Murphy—were Marie Goff, Donald Neely, Wyn Brown, Carolyn Wiswell and Edwin Rajeski.

The play and opera will be repeated Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Dec. 31, Jan. 1 and 2.

Students' Poll Shows Some For Torture, Bombing Hanoi

cept that they are Communists. We feel that they are better dead than red, and before we win we will have to kill every Viet Cong."

Most of the students whose answers favored staying in Viet Nam stated that their reason wasn't that it's too late to get out, but rather "because if the little countries surrounding the communist nations watch us give up and get out, then they'd really have nothing to fall back on. Democracy is worth fighting, and even dying for!"

A burning issue among Drake students is the Viet Nam Day Committee. Only 18 more students believe that the VDC should not be halted than claim that the marchers should be stopped.

"When we begin to suppress those people who don't agree," said one of the students, "then we become much like those who we're fighting," said one of the students against their suppression.

"Those people who march are traitors to their country and its leaders because they are giving the Viet Cong an excellent reason to kill their fellow Americans," is a statement typical of responses of those who would suppress the demonstrations.

Of the students polled, 39.8 per cent advocated drafting pacifist demonstrators, while 47.3 per cent were opposed.

Students who support the U.S. policy in Viet Nam were asked if they would enlist to go over and fight if they met the age, sex and other qualifications. Only 29.5 per cent said they would not, and of the 513 students who said that they would go, 322 were boys and 249 were girls. The percentage of boys who would enlist was highest in the freshman class and dwindled steadily until it reached the seniors (many of whom will be eligible for the draft within a matter of months).

The students at Drake were asked if they have friends or relatives who are serving or have served in Viet Nam. Surprisingly 42.9 percent said they have.

While 34.7 per cent of the entire sampling are for and 52.6 per cent against torture of prisoners, and 29.4 per cent for and 52.8 per cent against bombing Hanoi, the bulk of those who answered in favor of both are boys.

More than 50 per cent of those questioned said that if the United States had not been involved in the Vietnamese conflict until now, we should not go in.

"It's really none of our business," was the typical comment.

Students Try U.S. Work Programs

Three students from San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools are currently involved in an experiment to test the usefulness of a work experience program in their schools.

If they prove to be successful a new program, called Work Experience Education, will be introduced to the San Rafael High School District.

Also in the program are Terra Linda High School seniors Brian Duthie and Ken Herbert. Duthie works at the Don Timoteo Elementary School in the duplicating department, while Herbert also works at the Civic Center, employed in the instructional materials department.

Ross Doctor Twice Honored By Officials

Dr. Manuel Kalman of Ross received double honors Friday in a ceremony in the San Francisco Board of Supervisors chambers.

Dr. Kalman, who is hospitalization officer for the Veterans Administration in San Francisco, was presented a plaque emblematic of his selections by the California Veterans Board for special honor for many years of public service and as "a man of medicine and mercy, a man of law, a man of kindness and devotion to duty."

Then, to his surprise, the Ross doctor was named by Joseph Farber, California director of veterans affairs, as consultant to the veterans board and to Farber.

The new position, which carries no salary, will be an additional duty to Kalman's work as hospitalization officer and as inspecting officer for convalescent hospitals to which patients are sent from Veterans Administration hospitals.

Kalman is an Army Reserve lieutenant colonel.

Civil Rights Problem Affects All U.S. Life

This group resolved to raise the matter before the county supervisors when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge.

Viet Nam loomed large in the day's deliberation. By many it was viewed as both an immoral war and a threat to the American Negro.

During the morning panel discussion this threat was pinpointed by Wilfred Ussery, national first vice chairman of Congress on Racial Equality. Warning that war in Viet Nam might lead to war with China, he said this would "crystallize into a war of white against non-white."

Under such conditions, he said, the Negro might be regarded as a "menace to national security."

Ussery said, "When we can kill 60 million with a bomb, it's nothing to lock up 18 or 20 million black people, or send them to the gas oven."

This sombre note was struck again in one of the workshops by William Bradley, San Francisco chairman of CORE: "The whites are capable of wiping out the black. You may think you're not capable, but you are. You'd better believe it."

In support of the argument, Bradley cited the fate of the American Indian and the atomic bombings of Japan.

Ussery also warned of future riots "worse than Watts" unless recent federal laws are "utilized to complete the unfulfilled portions of the American Revolution."

He said this legislation is failing its purposes wherever local bodies fail to consult with those the laws are designed to help.

He predicted more demonstrations and blamed business, industry and labor for a "lack of a sense of urgency" and a "failure to move" in civil rights.

Corps Hikers Still Missing

MANZANO, N.M. (AP) — An extensive search continued today for eight Peace Corps trainees missing on a four-day hike through the rugged Manzano Mountains in central New Mexico.

About 40 persons participated in the search, which started after the group failed to arrive at Manzano yesterday on a 30-mile trek which began at Belen Thursday morning.

Another group of trainees left Belen at the same time and arrived at Manzano on schedule, and a third group crossed from Manzano to Belem without incident.

MARRIAGE PROPOSAL IS CORKER

WOMBELL, England (AP)—Marjorie Fowler, 21, plans to fly 10,000 miles to meet a prospective suitor who became acquainted with her through a bottle.

Marjorie put a "please write me" message in a bottle she was packing at the glass factory where she works. A 26-year-old pharmacist in Perth, Australia, John Vettler, found the message and replied.

The correspondence flourished, and John suggested that Marjorie fly out to meet him. He forwarded $1,260 for the plane fare.

Excursions to the capitals of Europe, as well as Washington, D.C., will be supplemented with recreational and cultural activities.

U.S. Navy Held World's Biggest

LONDON (UPI) — An authoritative naval review published today said the U.S. Navy is the largest and most advanced the world has ever seen and could "bulldoze" the way to victory in Viet Nam if given the go-aheads.

No combination of Communist forces could stop the American Navy, according to the 1965-66 edition of Jane's Fighting Ships.

"It must be a source of wonder to many a nation, especially to any aggressively inclined, why the United States, with such a colossal military force and mounting any size of air strike, has not bulldozed her way to the objective in Viet Nam," the review said.

It said the U. S. Navy "is doubtless capable not only of containing any possible combination of Vietnamese forces arrayed against it, but of countering any force that any co-beligerants might have available in that sphere."

The only significant naval forces in Far East waters which could oppose the Americans are the Red Chinese, with mostly antiquated units but 30 submarines, and the highly efficient Soviet fleet.

Jane's said the entire force of U. S. nuclear powered surface warships, including the giant aircraft carrier Enterprise, "have been or are being transferred to the Pacific fleet for support of operations off Viet Nam."

It said the Soviet Union is keeping long range, missile-armed units of its submarine fleet "on station" off Communist China, the United States and Australia.

It noted that the Russians, although trailing in nuclear units, have almost as many submarines as the rest of the world combined — including the United States.

New York Makes Money From Sales

NEW YORK (UPI) —Faced with the prospect of a $500 million deficit in the next fiscal budget, city officials have acquired a new interest in salvage.

City purchase Commissioner Roger Browne revealed yesterday that the city saved $714,000 during 1965 by putting on the auction block such discards as empty shells from policemen's bullets and antiquated ferry boats.

Foes Of Marincello Due To Make Another Appeal

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will receive petitions from opponents of Marincello asking that the Nov. 12 vote approving the plan for the community be reconsidered.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Marincello petitions are scheduled as the last item on a 62-item agenda.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney has said that the board cannot reconsider the plan, but can direct the county planning commission to study specific amendments.

Soon after that hearing is an appeal by Standard Oil Co. on the planning commission's denial of a use permit for a service station in the Town and Country Shopping Center at Strawberry.

At 3 p.m., the supervisors will hold a hearing on formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control zone. If the board votes to create the zone, it is also slated to name an advisory committee for the zone.

Early in the day, the board is also to consider appointments to the recently formed airport commission.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Mahler Is Right, Noise Is Wrong

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo's conducting of Mahler's Symphony No. 4 last night in the opening of the Marin symphony season was a revelation of the heights this orchestra can reach when inspired.

But right here we must say that since the College of Marin gymnasium is the best place we have for such concerts until a real concert hall is built, something should be done about the noisy ventilating and heating system.

The noise was especially annoying in the Mahler work, in which the orchestral palette ranges in timbre from brilliant to diaphonous and opalescent and in dynamics from ethereal to cyclopean.

Salgo seems to have a deep understanding and love for the music of Mahler. Through some wizardry he was successful in achieving the massive Mahler sound with an orchestra of fewer than 70 players.

Some of Mahler's characteristic writing he brought out were the long sinuous melodic lines, as heard in the strings in the second and especially the third infinitely beautiful movement, and the wonderful tonal chiaroscuro obtained by bringing out solo instruments or groups of them over the rich orchestral texture.

Ideally suited to the vocal solo in the fourth movement was the vocal quality and technique of soprano Margot Power. Not the powerful voice one would think necessary in a Mahler symphony, it has a bird-like clarity and flexibility that was just right for this work with its long pastoral portions and actual bird-call passages.

In the contrasting and rather grotesque second movement, a novel musical experience was hearing concertmaster Charles Meacham's skillful playing of one violin tuned a whole tone higher than the others in featured measures.

The same vocal qualities that were suitable in the Mahler fourth movement made Miss Power's choice of two Mozart arias appropriate for her two solos. These were dove solo from "The Marriage of Figaro" and Come Scoglio from "Cosi Fan Tutte."

The concert opened with a satisfying reading of Beethoven's cheerful and exuberant Symphony No. 8, in which there was excellent timing in the dialogue among sections.

Mood Reinforced By Music In Opera Of 'Long Dinner'

Saturday night's performance in the San Anselmo Festival Theater of "The Long Christmas Dinner" in the Hindemith-score, Wilder-libretto opera version, pointed up the immense value of music in reinforcing mood.

This was made evident by comparison of the College of Marin Opera Workshop performance with the preceding Wilder play enacted by the Festival Theater players. The play was covered on opening night by Karl Barron, Independent-Journal.

Though the opera cast did credit to dramatic coaching, the play in the tandem production was perhaps more powerful in dramatic immpact, possibly because of the superior professional experience of the players. But music was enormously effective in accentuating the nostalgic mood of the story covering 90 years and three generations of a family's Christmas dinners.

Individual musical honors went to Sydney Peterzon, whose pure lyrical soprano was perfect for Leonora, especially as the young bride. The role of Lucia was well sung by soprano Joan Smith, though the timbre of her voice sounded young for this mature character.

Ideally suited to their roles as cousin Ermengarde and Genevieve, respectively, were the mezzo soprano voices of Margaret Lee and Marjorie Broughton, who sang and acted their roles well. It was the best work we have heard from Miss Broughton.

Tenor Kenneth Rowland as Roderick has been heard to better advantage. The deep baritone quality of George Baker's voice was very effective in the role of cousin Brandon.

Other young singers adding to the impressive performance smoothly paced by Larry Snyder directing from one of two pianos — the other being ably played by Phyllis Murphy—were Marie Goff, Donald Neely, Wyn Brown, Carolyn Wiswell and Edwin Rajeski.

The play and opera will be repeated Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Dec. 31, Jan. 1 and 2.

cept that they are Communists. We feel that they are better dead than red, and before we win we will have to kill every Viet Cong."

Most of the students whose answers favored staying in Viet Nam stated that their reason wasn't that it's too late to get out, but rather "because if the little countries surrounding the communist nations watch us give up and get out, then they'd really have nothing to fall back on. Democracy is worth fighting, and even dying for!"

A burning issue among Drake students is the Viet Nam Day Committee. Only 18 more students believe that the VDC should not be halted than claim that the marchers should be stopped.

"When we begin to suppress those people who don't agree," said one of the students, "then we become much like those who we're fighting," said one of the students against their suppression.

"Those people who march are traitors to their country and its leaders because they are giving the Viet Cong an excellent reason to kill their fellow Americans," is a statement typical of responses of those who would suppress the demonstrations.

Of the students polled, 39.8 per cent advocated drafting pacifist demonstrators, while 47.3 per cent were opposed.

Students who support the U.S. policy in Viet Nam were asked if they would enlist to go over and fight if they met the age, sex and other qualifications. Only 29.5 per cent said they would not, and of the 513 students who said that they would go, 322 were boys and 249 were girls. The percentage of boys who would enlist was highest in the freshman class and dwindled steadily until it reached the seniors (many of whom will be eligible for the draft within a matter of months).

The students at Drake were asked if they have friends or relatives who are serving or have served in Viet Nam. Surprisingly 42.9 percent said they have.

While 34.7 per cent of the entire sampling are for and 52.6 per cent against torture of prisoners, and 29.4 per cent for and 52.8 per cent against bombing Hanoi, the bulk of those who answered in favor of both are boys.

More than 50 per cent of those questioned said that if the United States had not been involved in the Vietnamese conflict until now, we should not go in.

"It's really none of our business," was the typical comment.

Students Try U.S. Work Programs

Three students from San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools are currently involved in an experiment to test the usefulness of a work experience program in their schools.

If they prove to be successful a new program, called Work Experience Education, will be introduced to the San Rafael High School District.

Also in the program are Terra Linda High School seniors Brian Duthie and Ken Herbert. Duthie works at the Don Timoteo Elementary School in the duplicating department, while Herbert also works at the Civic Center, employed in the instructional materials department.

Ross Doctor Twice Honored By Officials

Dr. Manuel Kalman of Ross received double honors Friday in a ceremony in the San Francisco Board of Supervisors chambers.

Dr. Kalman, who is hospitalization officer for the Veterans Administration in San Francisco, was presented a plaque emblematic of his selections by the California Veterans Board for special honor for many years of public service and as "a man of medicine and mercy, a man of law, a man of kindness and devotion to duty."

Then, to his surprise, the Ross doctor was named by Joseph Farber, California director of veterans affairs, as consultant to the veterans board and to Farber.

The new position, which carries no salary, will be an additional duty to Kalman's work as hospitalization officer and as inspecting officer for convalescent hospitals to which patients are sent from Veterans Administration hospitals.

Kalman is an Army Reserve lieutenant colonel.

This group resolved to raise the matter before the county supervisors when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge.

Viet Nam loomed large in the day's deliberation. By many it was viewed as both an immoral war and a threat to the American Negro.

During the morning panel discussion this threat was pinpointed by Wilfred Ussery, national first vice chairman of Congress on Racial Equality. Warning that war in Viet Nam might lead to war with China, he said this would "crystallize into a war of white against non-white."

Under such conditions, he said, the Negro might be regarded as a "menace to national security."

Ussery said, "When we can kill 60 million with a bomb, it's nothing to lock up 18 or 20 million black people, or send them to the gas oven."

This sombre note was struck again in one of the workshops by William Bradley, San Francisco chairman of CORE: "The whites are capable of wiping out the black. You may think you're not capable, but you are. You'd better believe it."

In support of the argument, Bradley cited the fate of the American Indian and the atomic bombings of Japan.

Ussery also warned of future riots "worse than Watts" unless recent federal laws are "utilized to complete the unfulfilled portions of the American Revolution."

He said this legislation is failing its purposes wherever local bodies fail to consult with those the laws are designed to help.

Frank Quinn, director of the San Francisco Human Rights Commission, called for organization of Negroes to help themselves.

He predicted more demonstrations and blamed business, industry and labor for a "lack of a sense of urgency" and a "failure to move" in civil rights.

Corps Hikers Still Missing

MANZANO, N.M. (AP) — An extensive search continued today for eight Peace Corps trainees missing on a four-day hike through the rugged Manzano Mountains in central New Mexico.

About 40 persons participated in the search, which started after the group failed to arrive at Manzano yesterday on a 30-mile trek which began at Belen Thursday morning.

Another group of trainees left Belen at the same time and arrived at Manzano on schedule, and a third group crossed from Manzano to Belem without incident.

MARRIAGE PROPOSAL IS CORKER

WOMBELL, England (AP)—Marjorie Fowler, 21, plans to fly 10,000 miles to meet a prospective suitor who became acquainted with her through a bottle.

Marjorie put a "please write me" message in a bottle she was packing at the glass factory where she works. A 26-year-old pharmacist in Perth, Australia, John Vettler, found the message and replied.

The correspondence flourished, and John suggested that Marjorie fly out to meet him. He forwarded $1,260 for the plane fare.

Scholars Given Travel Chance

Students at Sir Francis Drake High School are being offered the opportunity to travel abroad under the auspices of World Horizons Institute, which permits students to see Europe while earning college credits.

Johan Tassone, an English teacher, will conduct a tour this summer for 35 days with a maximum of 30 students.

Excursions to the capitals of Europe, as well as Washington, D.C., will be supplemented with recreational and cultural activities.

U.S. Navy Held World's Biggest

LONDON (UPI) — An authoritative naval review published today said the U.S. Navy is the largest and most advanced the world has ever seen and could "bulldoze" the way to victory in Viet Nam if given the go-aheads.

No combination of Communist forces could stop the American Navy, according to the 1965-66 edition of Jane's Fighting Ships.

"It must be a source of wonder to many a nation, especially to any aggressively inclined, why the United States, with such a colossal military force and mounting any size of air strike, has not bulldozed her way to the objective in Viet Nam," the review said.

It said the U. S. Navy "is doubtless capable not only of containing any possible combination of Vietnamese forces arrayed against it, but of countering any force that any co-beligerants might have available in that sphere."

The only significant naval forces in Far East waters which could oppose the Americans are the Red Chinese, with mostly antiquated units but 30 submarines, and the highly efficient Soviet fleet.

Jane's said the entire force of U. S. nuclear powered surface warships, including the giant aircraft carrier Enterprise, "have been or are being transferred to the Pacific fleet for support of operations off Viet Nam."

It said the Soviet Union is keeping long range, missile-armed units of its submarine fleet "on station" off Communist China, the United States and Australia.

It noted that the Russians, although trailing in nuclear units, have almost as many submarines as the rest of the world combined — including the United States.

New York Makes Money From Sales

NEW YORK (UPI) —Faced with the prospect of a $500 million deficit in the next fiscal budget, city officials have acquired a new interest in salvage.

City purchase Commissioner Roger Browne revealed yesterday that the city saved $714,000 during 1965 by putting on the auction block such discards as empty shells from policemen's bullets and antiquated ferry boats.

Wide Range Of Prices For Christmas Trees

Christmas tree lots have sprung up throughout Marin County in the past week, and prices were found in a survey to range widely from lot to lot (and sometimes from customer to customer).

The best buy appeared to be old-fashioned green Douglas firs, in fairly short supply and low demand, going in some places for 65 cents a foot. The top price, for silvertip firs, pines and white firs, was $2 a foot.

It was not possible to make an exact count of all the lots in the county because only certain ones require business licenses.

Those in the unincorporated areas need no licenses, and neither, in most cases, do those in cities operated as a part of a regular business, such as a nursery or a grocery store.

Bottom prices were found on lots at 428 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and next to 489 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, both operated by De Molay local chapters, and at Pan's Garden, Sausalito.

Silvertips demanded $2 a foot, especially when "flocked" with white, at the Miles R. Ferguson lot at Grand Avenue and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael; at Jeffrey Meyer's lots at the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, at the Tiburon Safeway Store lot, and on lots in Novato. Ferguson's Douglas firs cost $1 to $1.50 a foot.

Jack Crawford, president of the Marin Boys Club, Mill Valley, said the club's lot at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto had a few choice silvertips for $2, but most cost $1.75 a foot.

Heaviest concentration of lots seemed to be in San Anselmo, although the city had issued only three business licenses for new operations.

One of the licensees, Marlin H. Ogden, has two lots, one on Greenfield Avenue near Braverman's Furniture in San Anselmo, and the other in San Rafael at 1926 Fourth Street. Ogden said prices range from $1 per foot up, depending on fullness of the trees, all silvertips.

In Larkspur two licenses were issued, but only one lot established by last week, at the Value World Center. Silvertips were on sale for $1.50 a foot.

Corte Madera had issued no licenses, but the traditional Lions Club lot was set up in Corte Madera Center. Silvertips were on sale at $1.85 a foot, white firs at $1.60, and Douglas firs for as low as 85 cents in some cases for larger trees.

In Novato, two lots were opened by John Pronzini at Novato Square and Nave shopping centers and another by John Novak at Novak Square. Prices there for most trees ranged from $1 to $1.50 a foot, except for the $2 white trees.

The Mayer lots in Tiburon and San Rafael have Douglas and white firs and lodgepole and bull pines, all for $1 to $1.50 a foot, in addition to silvertips which might bring $2.

In Sausalito silver spruces were on sale at Pan's Garden for $1.75 a foot, and Douglas firs for $1 down to 65 cents.

Prices were not available at the indoor lot at the closed Purity Store in Sausalito, where flocked, white trees were included in the selection being readied for sale.

At a lot at Gate Six, Waldo Point, manager Frank Russo said he sells spruce and firs at about $1 a foot, with the price fluctuating on his estimate of the customer.

The Mill Valley De Molay lot manager said prices were determined, in many cases, by the total appearance, rather than the height. A lot called Trees at C's, across the street, also did not have footage prices, but the average silvertip cost $8, a white fir $5.85, and Douglas fir $3.95.

Girl Rescued From Ledge

San Rafael firemen were called out to rescue a 10-year-old Fairfax girl who became stuck on a ledge below Dominican Drive while her parents were house hunting at 2:35 p.m. yesterday.

Laura Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Nolan of 5 Hawthorne Court, was rescued when firemen threw down a rope and one of the firemen got behind her and "talked" her up the incline.

Firemen said the girl "went for a walk" while her parents were looking at houses, and ended up on the ledge.

Injured Child Is Treated; Father Jailed On Charge

Two-month-old Marilyn Pierce, child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landen Pierce of 749 Tamalpais Drive, Apt. 11, Corte Madera, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a head injury allegedly received at the hand of her father.

Pierce, 29, who said it was all an accident, was booked into county jail Saturday on a charge of inflicting injury on a child. He remained in jail today, with bail set at $2,200.

Corte Madera Police Officer Fred R. Talmadge said the shaken Pierce stood in a corridor of Marin General Hospital just before midnight Friday and him the baby was in her mother's arms when injured.

Talmadge quoted Pierce as saying he must have accidentally struck the child when slapping his wife during an argument.

His wife, Marilyn Jo, an hour earlier had called police from a service station to say she and her husband had argued and she was afraid to return home.

Talmadge went with her to the apartment. He said Pierce, a tree surgeon, was contrite and promised that "everything will be all right now."

Later, at the hospital, Mrs. Pierce said her husband attacked her just after Talmadge left, while little Marilyn was in her arms.

Nurses at Marin General Hospital said the baby was operated on for the injury, which police described as a half-inch indentation, three or four inches in diameter, on the side of her head.

Talmadge said Pierce told him he was just teasing and slapping at his wife and did not understand how the child was injured.

Republicans Reject 'Radical' Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders approved a resolution today advising party members to reject membership "in any radical or extremist organization."

The measure did not name the John Birch Society.

The Republican Coordinating Committee acted swiftly to endorse the stand of GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

A spokesman said the committee unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that Republicans should reject membership:

"In any radical or extremist organization, including any which attempt to use the Republican party for its own ends or any which seeks to undermine the basic principles of American freedom and constitutional government."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, proposed the resolution. Dirksen said he acted for himself and House GO PLeader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

Gov. Robert E.S mylie of Idaho, who had earlier called for a specific denunciation of the Birch society, seconded the Dirksen resolution.

Smylie reportedly decided not to press for action on a resolution naming the Birch society because he doubted there were enough votes to adopt it.

Cigarette Held Cause Of Fire

Fire blamed on a cigarette destroyed a combination living room-kitchen at the home of J. Alvin Wayne, 1550 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, at Saturday afternoon, with damage estimated at $4,000.

Wayne dropped the cigarette end, but couldn't find it, and left the house, firemen reported. While he was out, the fire started and there were many calls reporting it, the first at 1:20 p.m. Three fire alarm boxes were pulled and there were numerous telephone calls, the fire department reported.

Gallinas Area Apartments Are Cleared

A building permit for the P. J. Tarrant apartment building at Labrea Way and North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia was issued prior to a moratorium on sewer connections, county public works director Donald R. Frost said today.

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary district last June wrote the county building department saying that no connecion permits would be issued until reconstruction of Gallinas Village Community Services District sewer lines was complete. However, Frost said a permit for the apartments had already been issued.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, secretary of the sanitary district, said Friday that she did not know how the builder got his county building permit in light of the district's moratorium on connections.

Frost said "no occupancy permit will be issued until sewer connections are properly made."

Drake Students To Aid Patients

Seven students at Sir Francis Drake High School are participating in a Junior Red Cross program aimed at brightening the holiday season for Viet Nam veterans under care at San Francisco's Letterman General Hospital.

The students are planning a Christmas presentation which will be given in the hospital wards.

Participating are Seniors Russ Richeda, Barbara Colton, Eve McArdell, Sandy Schultz, and Gene Krammer; and Juniors Stephanie Hays, Cindy Dyer.

Bolinas Fire Siren To Go Off Saturdays

Bolinas volunteer firemen will sound the siren at the firehouse each Saturday noon commencing Saturday, Fire Chief Jose Silva said today.

Silva said this will be done so firement will know it is in workable condition. "It will be the first time in the history of Bolinas that this has been done," said Silva.

Tam Students Opposed To Marincello

A group of Tamalpais High School students is petitioning the Marin County Board of Supervisors to reconsider its Nov. 12 approval of the Marincello Master Plan.

One hundred signatures were collected by student Chris Cruickshank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Cruickshank of 194 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, who felt she was not entitled to sign an adult petition.

"We . . . are neither property owners or voters but our faith and stake in Marin is as great and perhaps greater because we are young students," the petition reads.

The students asked that the board "reconsider the fate of our open land before we become a hodgepodge county like so many others. We implore you to do all in your power to preserve our unique environment before it is destroyed and only the memory of individualism remains."

Crossroads Manor On Plan Agenda

The Novato planning commission will consider Baimar Corp.'s plans for Crossroads Manor, a twon huse development, when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development lies west of Highway 101, approximately one-half mile north of the Highway 37 intersection.

The Novato City Council last week delayed action on the Marin Viviera portion of Scottsdale, another 25 acres north of the crossroads section, pending a study of town house developments in other Bay Area cities.

The Gasoline Crossroads request for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive of the Harker Development Co. also will be considered by the commission, which postponed action on it two weeks ago.

Wide Range Of Prices For Christmas Trees

Christmas tree lots have sprung up throughout Marin County in the past week, and prices were found in a survey to range widely from lot to lot (and sometimes from customer to customer).

The best buy appeared to be old-fashioned green Douglas firs, in fairly short supply and low demand, going in some places for 65 cents a foot. The top price, for silvertip firs, pines and white firs, was $2 a foot.

It was not possible to make an exact count of all the lots in the county because only certain ones require business licenses.

Those in the unincorporated areas need no licenses, and neither, in most cases, do those in cities operated as a part of a regular business, such as a nursery or a grocery store.

Bottom prices were found on lots at 428 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and next to 489 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, both operated by De Molay local chapters, and at Pan's Garden, Sausalito.

Silvertips demanded $2 a foot, especially when "flocked" with white, at the Miles R. Ferguson lot at Grand Avenue and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael; at Jeffrey Meyer's lots at the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, at the Tiburon Safeway Store lot, and on lots in Novato. Ferguson's Douglas firs cost $1 to $1.50 a foot.

Jack Crawford, president of the Marin Boys Club, Mill Valley, said the club's lot at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto had a few choice silvertips for $2, but most cost $1.75 a foot.

Heaviest concentration of lots seemed to be in San Anselmo, although the city had issued only three business licenses for new operations.

One of the licensees, Marlin H. Ogden, has two lots, one on Greenfield Avenue near Braverman's Furniture in San Anselmo, and the other in San Rafael at 1926 Fourth Street. Ogden said prices range from $1 per foot up, depending on fullness of the trees, all silvertips.

In Larkspur two licenses were issued, but only one lot established by last week, at the Value World Center. Silvertips were on sale for $1.50 a foot.

Corte Madera had issued no licenses, but the traditional Lions Club lot was set up in Corte Madera Center. Silvertips were on sale at $1.85 a foot, white firs at $1.60, and Douglas firs for as low as 85 cents in some cases for larger trees.

In Novato, two lots were opened by John Pronzini at Novato Square and Nave shopping centers and another by John Novak at Novak Square. Prices there for most trees ranged from $1 to $1.50 a foot, except for the $2 white trees.

The Mayer lots in Tiburon and San Rafael have Douglas and white firs and lodgepole and bull pines, all for $1 to $1.50 a foot, in addition to silvertips which might bring $2.

In Sausalito silver spruces were on sale at Pan's Garden for $1.75 a foot, and Douglas firs for $1 down to 65 cents.

Prices were not available at the indoor lot at the closed Purity Store in Sausalito, where flocked, white trees were included in the selection being readied for sale.

At a lot at Gate Six, Waldo Point, manager Frank Russo said he sells spruce and firs at about $1 a foot, with the price fluctuating on his estimate of the customer.

The Mill Valley De Molay lot manager said prices were determined, in many cases, by the total appearance, rather than the height. A lot called Trees at C's, across the street, also did not have footage prices, but the average silvertip cost $8, a white fir $5.85, and Douglas fir $3.95.

Injured Child Is Treated; Father Jailed On Charge

Two-month-old Marilyn Pierce, child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landen Pierce of 749 Tamalpais Drive, Apt. 11, Corte Madera, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a head injury allegedly received at the hand of her father.

Pierce, 29, who said it was all an accident, was booked into county jail Saturday on a charge of inflicting injury on a child. He remained in jail today, with bail set at $2,200.

Corte Madera Police Officer Fred R. Talmadge said the shaken Pierce stood in a corridor of Marin General Hospital just before midnight Friday and him the baby was in her mother's arms when injured.

Talmadge quoted Pierce as saying he must have accidentally struck the child when slapping his wife during an argument.

His wife, Marilyn Jo, an hour earlier had called police from a service station to say she and her husband had argued and she was afraid to return home.

Talmadge went with her to the apartment. He said Pierce, a tree surgeon, was contrite and promised that "everything will be all right now."

Later, at the hospital, Mrs. Pierce said her husband attacked her just after Talmadge left, while little Marilyn was in her arms.

Nurses at Marin General Hospital said the baby was operated on for the injury, which police described as a half-inch indentation, three or four inches in diameter, on the side of her head.

Talmadge said Pierce told him he was just teasing and slapping at his wife and did not understand how the child was injured.

Girl Rescued From Ledge

San Rafael firemen were called out to rescue a 10-year-old Fairfax girl who became stuck on a ledge below Dominican Drive while her parents were house hunting at 2:35 p.m. yesterday.

Laura Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Nolan of 5 Hawthorne Court, was rescued when firemen threw down a rope and one of the firemen got behind her and "talked" her up the incline.

Firemen said the girl "went for a walk" while her parents were looking at houses, and ended up on the ledge.

Let's Not Go Overboard On County Aide Salaries

Marin County boasts top caliber men in elected offices, both in integrity and in the ability to perform their functions.

Due compensation for those offices is fine. But let's not go overboard in our enthusiasm to express satisfaction with their performances and in recognition of their responsibilities.

Salary raises voted by the supervisors last week to some of our elected officials, especially the graduated increases that are built in over the next three years, border on the excessive.

The decision to increase the salaries was not based on any systematic study of salaries in other counties with comparable populations. Those who made the salary study report that the pay scale is "so varied" in various counties and so "very spotty" that they cannot be used as a basis of comparison.

The result was that the salary raises determined in Marin County represent arbitrary figures arrived at from personal judgments of what each position should be worth now and three years from now. The judgments were apparently based on the "responsibilities" of the elected offices and the importance of their decisions as they affect public interest.

Sure, some of our officials work long hours and are forced to attend night meetings to serve the community. As individuals, we like to see them well compensated for their efforts.

But the pay raises voted last week are for the positions, not the men. The pay raise will apply to the office holders, whether they be experienced incumbents or a newcomer who wins an election in the future.

We have in mind especially the automatic increases that are provided for 1967 and 1969. They are passed off as "coming to about five per cent per year increase" to keep up with the rise in cost of living.

Most of them amount to far more than five per cent. Some of them come close to 30 per cent increase. Furthermore, the automatic percentage raise for cost of living gives the higher income brackets (like elected officials) a big advantage over other employees in the lower brackets.

For example, a man in the $15,000 per year category, receiving 5 per cent cost of living raise, would have $750 per year more to spend on his family. A minor clerk, getting $5,000 per year, would have only $250 per year additional.

The disparity, which started with the original salary, is further widened with each percentage increase.

Now, to get down to specifics.

Sonoma County is the closest to Marin, both in geographical proximity and population. Sonoma's current salaries are as follows:

Assessor $15,000; county clerk $12,000; sheriff $15,000; treasurer-tax collector $11,250; and recorder $11,250.

The Marin assessor now gets $14,700 and will be raised to $15,300 next year. This is comparable. But in 1967, the salary will jump to $20,000, and in 1969 to $22,000. Sonoma would have to raise its salary by $7,000 in three years to keep up with Marin.

Marin's county clerk gets $16,000 now and will get $16,800 next year. This will jump to $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 in 1969. Sonoma would have to raise the pay by $7,500 in three years to keep up with Marin.

In 1969, the other Marin salaries would be: Recorder $15,500; sheriff $21,000, and treasurer-tax collector $19,500.

We believe the supervisors and their salary committee would have been on surer footing if they had used salaries in comparable counties as one of the bases on which to justify the increases.

The supervisors are treading on dangerous ground when they leave salary increases solely to the personal judgments of what the office is worth and what the responsibilities command.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

A Bad Year For Agriculture, In Spite Of What Brown Says

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO—Quite a few Californians—Republicans and Democrats alike, and cityfolk and countryfolk alike — may have some difficulty in matching Gov. Edmund G. Brown's glowing optimism over the year's agricultural experience with that of the first full and factual report for 1965.

The report comes from J. F. Bennett, deputy director of the state department of agriculture.

In early December, Brown met in Los Angeles with W. Willard Wirtz, U.S. secretary of labor, and the man who generally called the shots on when, how and if any Mexican braceros could be brought into the state to help in the harvest fields. Wirtz received a report from the panel he had appointed to advise him on California agriculture labor needs.

"THE REPORT clearly shows what we have predicted for several months," Brown said at the time, "that California agriculture has had an excellent year, and that it weathered this first year without major use of Mexican braceros very well.

"It also indicates," the governor continued, "that there probably will be few, if any braceros, needed next year."

Before lining up Brown's statements with those of his department of agriculture, one should realize two things about the 1955 season. First off, with one exception, it was one of the most beautiful growing seasons in years — summer temperatures were mild, not causing rapid ripening of fruit; the fall was warm and virtually without damaging rains. The single exception was a mid-August rain which destroyed many cling peaches.

THE DISASTER in the peach area freed workers who moved into the tomato harvest, thereby reducing shortages.

Now, getting into Bennett's report — the first full breakdown on crop production and marketing issued thus far. The report did not deal with livestock although prices for livestock and poultry have been very high this year and have boosted total farm income substantially.

ASPARAGUS: Actual harvest of 147 million pounds, indicating crop loss of 12 million pounds; canned pack down 1.2 million cases; price for white asparagus to consumers up an estimated 10-12 cents per No. 300 can, or 25 per cent.

STRAWBERRIES: Total harvest 174 million pounds, indicating loss of 25 million pounds, or 13 per cent; data indicates consumers are paying about 5 cents more per package for frozen strawberries, a 15 per cent jump.

CANTALOUPES: Production of 4,680,000 CWT, down 22 per cent; season average price for cantaloupe, $4.15 per jumbo crate, as compared to $3.30 a year ago.

LEMONS: Production at 13.5 million boxes, down 17 per cent; average price of $3.75 per carton, as compared to $2.63 per carton last year.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS: Indications are that 12 to 14 per cent of the expected production of 66 million pounds was lost.

Bid Negotiation Is Explained

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the bid opening for San Rafael Fire Station No. 5 on Friday, Dec. 3, a great deal of confusion arose concerning the ethics of negotiating a building contract with the low bidder.

It is standard practice throughout the construction industry to negotiate with the low bidder for the purpose of either adding work to or deleting work from a proposed building contract prior to signing an agreement. The Associated General Contractors of America support this practice so long as it is conducted within a reasonable period of time after the bid opening.

Physicians Urge Viet Nam War End

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As physicians, we are asked by government and private agencies to volunteer for civilian medical service in Viet Nam — bomb-blasted and napalm-burned women and children by the hundreds lie relatively untended in monstrous refugee camps, driven from their homes by American planes. The undersigned, who marched with 40,000 others of like mind in Washington on Nov. 27, believe that prevention of these wounds makes more sense than appeals for treatment.

How can we rationally give with one hand while taking away one-hundred-fold with the other. Dr. Benjamin Spock's remarks at the end of the march seemed to us most appropriate:

"It seems ludicrous that our officials keep solemnly repeating that the North Vietnamese must leave their neighbors alone, when we have come half-way round the world to interfere. . . . I believe that our government only confuses itself and the American people when it sets up a puppet dictatorship in Viet Nam and then calls the Vietnamese people aggressors and attacks them with napalm when they revolt against it. . . ."

As physicians, we urge a halt to the bombing in Viet Nam as the most relevant medical aid to the civilians of Viet Nam.

No Harrassment Was Intended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Dec. 1, you published a letter by Patricia Gerstner of Kentfield in which she accused our organization (among others) of "harrassing and intimidating the public and property owners. . . ." She also implied that the name of our organization was "a variant way. . .(of). . .deluding. . .different segments of the population." Her identification of the basic Jewish and Christian principle of brotherhood as "a dead horse" is tragic. Furthermore, she failed to learn the facts of Operation WELCOME NEIGHBOR.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race which is supported by the Marin Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California has been sponsoring a campaign within the churches and synagogues of Marin County to procure signatures from members of the religious community to the following pledge: "I recognize the right of all minority people to rent or buy housing in my immediate neighborhood and I shall welcome them as neighbors." Currently 61 of the congregations in Marin have requested a total of 25,000 pledge cards for distribution among their members.

As your editorial of Oct. 28 noted, the purpose of our campaign is to permit people to voluntarily express their commitment to the principles upon which their religious faiths are based. As is clearly indicated in that editorial as well as in a number of news articles which appeared in your paper and other newspapers, it is our desire to show that the "yes" vote on proposition 14 was an expression of the concern of many individuals for their private rights. These people also feel strongly their commitments to the principles of brotherhood, and given the opportunity to voluntarily express this in a pledge such as ours we are confident that they will do so.

Editorial Page Wins Plaudits

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just a line to thank you and your associates for the high quality of your editorial page. Monday, Dec. 6, it seemed to me, was especially good. Your approach to the drug problem was sensible, vigorous and timely.

I am especially pleased with your occasional articles on Marin birds. "The Birds in Winter" are a joy to us out on Pleasant Lane, even to the jays and sparrows. I am glad that you find pleasure in Marin's bird life and share it with us.

We enjoy the Independent-Journal with its good news coverage and its high standards, especially when issues involving moral standards are faced.

May the Christmas season be a blessed one for all of you.

"TO WHAT," asked a respecful reporter, "do you attribute your long and carefree life?" "Don't quite know yet," admitted Old Grandpaw Breslauer, celebrating his 104th birthday. "I'm still dickering with two breakfast companies, a distillery, and a tuna fish cannery."

A DINER at the Baroque Restaurant in N.Y. asked the head waiter if he could take home a half-finished bottle of wine for his dog. "It's very, very bad for a dog to drink wine," frowned the head waiter, "and besides, it's against the law to give a dog intoxicating liquids." "Who's giving it to him?" demanded the diner. "It happens that my dog likes to watch me drink it."

Casey Stengel (on his 75th birthday): "You gotta remember that a lot of fellahs my age are dead."

Publisher Alfred A. Knopf: "The most temperamental author I have known was Joseph Conrad. One night he became annoyed with his family and guests at dinner, and turned his chair around so the back of it faced the table. He finished his meal that way. I don't think he enjoyed it."

Vance Packard: "Remember this before you burden other people with your troubles. Half of them aren't the least bit interested, and the rest are delighted that you're getting what they think is coming to you."

Here's How You Can Help Foreign Aid—Give Materials For Schools

WASHINGTON — Whenever I have talked about foreign policy with students and adults in audiences across the country, two questions come up again and again:

"What can I do to help?"

"Isn't there too much handout in foreign aid?"

There is a good answer to both questions.

THERE IS something which the individual — students and adults alike — can do and in doing it enlarge the self-help side of foreign aid.

Without moving out of your own community, would you like to help build a schoolhouse abroad where schools are desperately needed and where children desperately need schooling?

The project I am talking about was originated by a private citizen, actively involves private citizen participation, and has generated private initiative in needy countries.

The project is the School-to-School Program which the Peace Corps has adopted in order that thousands of Americans may participate and which it has now thoroughly tested to make sure that it works, works well, and proves how it can be blessed both to give and to receive.

HERE'S WHAT happened:

A little over a year ago the Parent-Teachers Assn. of Rosendale School, Schenectady, N.Y., had some money they wanted to use for a good purpose. They asked a government official what he would propose.

"I'd build a school," he replied. "I don't mean sending in construction crews. I mean buying cement and block-making machines and providing a couple of supervisors to oversee the construction. I mean self-help."

They did it, with the students helping to raise funds to provide building materials for a school in the impoverished village of Casablanca, Colombia. The villagers of Casablanca built it with their own hands. The Peace Corps provided on-the-job assistance. A dire need was met people-to-people by private initiative.

And now donations from the U.S., mostly from school children, have built or are building over 70 schoolhouses in 19 underdeveloped countries where the Peace Corps is represented.

This is only a beginning. Many more applications for help are being received by the Peace Corps. With contributions of $1,000 or more, schoolhouses can be built by self-help in areas of Asia, Africa, and Latin America where the need is desperate.

WHO MAY participate? Nearly everybody, but especially:

1. Individual schools, classrooms, student bodies, and other school groups.

2. School-related organizations such as the P-TA of your community, provided the students share in the fund-raising.

3. Any community organization, such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, or Lions, provided they do so in conjunction with a school.

In the wake of these school-to-school, self-help projects will come a chain of contacts and communications between the school children of America and the school children in the communities abroad who will also benefit.

THIS IS FOREIGN aid which can do incalculable good—undertaken by private initiative matched by self-help and carried out people-to-people.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver has described the school-to-school program as "an exciting new avenue for better understanding."

Its potential is as great as Americans, by their voluntary contributions, want to make it.

Nasser And Russians Ready African Arms

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Gamal Nasser and Russia are in the process of setting up the machinery to arm and supply African attacks on the Rhodesian government of Sir Ian Smith.

At the very time Nasser is vigorously pressing the U.S. to provide him with new large stocks of surplus grain and other commodities, the UAR ruler is secretly conferring with high-ranking Soviet officers and members of the Organization of African Unity in Cairo to instigate and wage extensive guerrilla war in Rhodesia.

THE SOVIET GROUP, headed by Marshall Andrei Grechko, first deputy defense minister, consists of Air Marshal Rudenko, deputy air force commander; Admiral Sergeyev, top naval man; and Col. General Mikhail Nikitin, reputed new military intelligence commander.

Foremost among Africans are Flexi Onaha, Uganda defense minister and militant advocate of the use of armed force against Rhodesia, and the leading military lieutenants of Keyna President Kenyatta, chairman of the Organization of African Unity.

Significantly, the Russian group is exactly the same that visited Hanoi shortly before Communist Party Secretary Brezhnev went there early this year. Following these trips it was announced the Soviet was increasing its military aid to North Viet Nam, including ground-to-air missiles — which so far have taken a toll of eight U.S. planes.

IT HAS ALSO BEEN ascertained that the Soviet group in Cairo is in direct contact with Kenyatta and Diallo Telli, secretary-general of the OAU.

Nasser's conspiring with Moscow to organize and arm guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia is a repeat of what he did in the strife-torn Belgian Congo in 1964.

At that time, when the UAR was getting more than $100 million a year in surplus U.S. food under a three-year agreement with President Kennedy, Nasser was trans-shipping large quantities of weapons and munitions to the Communist-led rebels in the Congo. The arms were flown from Russia to UAR bases, where they were stored for delivery, largely via the Sudan, to the rebels.

IN THE ATTACKS now being secretly planned in Cairo against the Rhodesian government, Nasser will provide the military equipment from his stocks. In turn, the Soviet will replace these supplies with new arms.

In preparation for the guerrilla operations, "advance" infiltration and propaganda centers are being set up in adjoining Zambia and Malawi.

At Lusaka, Zambia, on the Zambesi River separating it from Rhodesia, already two leaders-in-exile of the African Peoples Unity Party are beaming incendiary broadcasts to the African population of Rhodesia. George Myandoro and James Chikerema in daily broadcasts are preaching "kill the whites," "destroy the whites' cattle and crops," "strike against the Smith government," "sabotage and tie up transportation and communications."

STATE AND DEFENSE department authorities make no secret of their profound concern over the Rhodesian crisis. A high State Department official is privately calling it the "most dangerous situation in the entire world, not excepting Viet Nam."

He pointed out that if large scale guerrilla fighting develops in Rhodesia, all Africa could become involved, with Russia and Red China "feeding the flames."

Administration insiders say President Johnson is prepared to support Britain if it imposes an oil embargo against the Ian Smith government. It is indicated that state and justice department experts already are formulating the measures necessary for such U.S. action.

ARCHITECTS' LEADER — Robert B. Marquis, of Lower County Road, Bolinas, has been elected president of the Northern California chapter of the American Institute of Architects for 1966, succeeding Burton Rockwell. Marquis moves up from vice president.

Republicans Reject 'Radical' Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders approved a resolution today advising party members to reject membership "in any radical or extremist organization."

The measure did not name the John Birch Society.

The Republican Coordinating Committee acted swiftly to endorse the stand of GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

A spokesman said the committee unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that Republicans should reject membership:

"In any radical or extremist organization, including any which attempt to use the Republican party for its own ends or any which seeks to undermine the basic principles of American freedom and constitutional government."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, proposed the resolution. Dirksen said he acted for himself and House GO PLeader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

Gov. Robert E.S mylie of Idaho, who had earlier called for a specific denunciation of the Birch society, seconded the Dirksen resolution.

Smylie reportedly decided not to press for action on a resolution naming the Birch society because he doubted there were enough votes to adopt it.

Gallinas Area Apartments Are Cleared

A building permit for the P. J. Tarrant apartment building at Labrea Way and North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia was issued prior to a moratorium on sewer connections, county public works director Donald R. Frost said today.

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary district last June wrote the county building department saying that no connecion permits would be issued until reconstruction of Gallinas Village Community Services District sewer lines was complete. However, Frost said a permit for the apartments had already been issued.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, secretary of the sanitary district, said Friday that she did not know how the builder got his county building permit in light of the district's moratorium on connections.

Frost said "no occupancy permit will be issued until sewer connections are properly made."

Bolinas Fire Siren To Go Off Saturdays

Bolinas volunteer firemen will sound the siren at the firehouse each Saturday noon commencing Saturday, Fire Chief Jose Silva said today.

Silva said this will be done so firement will know it is in workable condition. "It will be the first time in the history of Bolinas that this has been done," said Silva.

Tam Students Opposed To Marincello

A group of Tamalpais High School students is petitioning the Marin County Board of Supervisors to reconsider its Nov. 12 approval of the Marincello Master Plan.

One hundred signatures were collected by student Chris Cruickshank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Cruickshank of 194 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, who felt she was not entitled to sign an adult petition.

"We . . . are neither property owners or voters but our faith and stake in Marin is as great and perhaps greater because we are young students," the petition reads.

The students asked that the board "reconsider the fate of our open land before we become a hodgepodge county like so many others. We implore you to do all in your power to preserve our unique environment before it is destroyed and only the memory of individualism remains."

Crossroads Manor On Plan Agenda

The Novato planning commission will consider Baimar Corp.'s plans for Crossroads Manor, a twon huse development, when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development lies west of Highway 101, approximately one-half mile north of the Highway 37 intersection.

The Novato City Council last week delayed action on the Marin Viviera portion of Scottsdale, another 25 acres north of the crossroads section, pending a study of town house developments in other Bay Area cities.

The Gasoline Crossroads request for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive of the Harker Development Co. also will be considered by the commission, which postponed action on it two weeks ago.

Assessor Broemmel Gets Heat In The Form Of Warm Praise

Marin Assessor Bert W. Broemmel came in for some more heat, this time in the form of warm praise, when Charles A. O'Brien spoke last Thursday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government.

O'Brien is chief deputy attorney general of California. He told the assemblymen:

"Our investigations have uncovered criminal acts, discrimination and incompetence in the assessment process.

"BUT WE HAVE also more frequently encountered dedicated, fair-minded assessors and their deputies and state board staff.

"Many of these men, particularly Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson and Marin County Assessor Bert Broemmel and our own state equalizers, have fought to improve the present system."

Broemmel was in San Mateo today presenting the recommended assessment reforms to the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, reforms that he and Watson with others developed and got approved by the California Assn. of Assessors.

THE PRIZE, consisting of 50 back copies of the I-J, must go to Florence T. Scott, director of the Marin Council of Community Services.

Dedicated readers will recall that it was Miss Scott who suggested that the mysterious Marin Coordinating Council was something to do with schools.

She was right, but in trying to track down the council the other day, I was thrown off the track by the county schools office itself. No one in that office seemed to have any idea what the group was, who belonged to it and what it coordinated.

IT TURNS OUT to be the Marin Coordinating Council of Teachers Assn. According to Newell McMullen, outgoing president of the council, it coordinates activities of the county, regional and state groups of the California Teachers Assn.

The council, by the way, is meeting again today at the Civic Center at 7:45 p.m.

ART BUCHWALD

When They Split Up California Will It Lead To Aggressiveness?

LOS ANGELES—The latest news from California is that they're thinking of breaking it up into two states. The idea, which was a joke a few years ago, is now being talked about seriously. The people I have spoken to have strong feelings about it. One man said:

"I've always believed there should be a South California and a North California. Of course I think the United States will support South California, because, after all, the Communist menace is located in the north at Berkeley, and if we don't stop them now, we could lose Oregon, Washington, and Idaho."

"HOW DO YOU KNOW the menace comes from the North?

"We have proof CAL students have been infiltrating down from the north especially during football games, and they're being supported by students from Stanford, and the College of the Pacific."

He showed me a draft card that he said had been burned in Hollywood. "This is a North California draft card found in the pocket of a Berkeley student who was picketing Grauman's Chinese Theater. I think it speaks for itself."

"WHAT DO YOU hope to gain by splitting the state?" I asked.

"We'll get rid of Sacramento for one thing. The North government has always treated South California as a stepsister. Now we'll have our own government probably located in Los Angeles. Mayor Yorty has just been in Viet Nam to study how their government works there. We'll probably use the South Vietnamese government as a model for our own."

"Aren't there many very difficult problems that have to be resolved before the division of the state is made?"

"Of course there are, and we're willing to negotiate all of them."

"HOW WOULD YOU go about it?"

"Well, first we'd bomb San Francisco. Then we'd tell the North Californians we'd be willing to stop the bombing if they were willing to go to the table and talk."

"But why would you bomb San Francisco first?"

"If we didn't, we wouldn't have anything to stop doing if they agreed to our terms."

"I see."

"Look, we don't want anything for ourselves. We just want to be left alone to prosper. It's the North Californians who are going to be the aggressors."

"BUT HOW do you know they will be the aggressors if you haven't even divided the state yet?"

"Well, you've had North Korea and North Viet Nam. Do you think North California is going to be any different?"

"Let's say, after the split, that you and North California have your differences and finally you agree to go to the negotiating table. What would be the primary objective of the negotiations?"

"I SHOULD think it would be to bring about a united California. If it was open to a vote, the North Californians would never want to live under a Communist system."

"Do you mean to say that after you take all the trouble to divide the state you will want to work at uniting it again?"

"But with one difference. This time South California would be the capital, and North California would have to dance to our tune."

"And if they didn't?"

"Then there's always San Francisco!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Nine chambers of commerce from San Rafael to Ukiah lined up in favor of discontinuing Northwestern Pacific's overnight passenger service to Eureka at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in San Rafael.

More than 700 persons jammed San Rafael High School auditorium for the first Marin County Conference on Education.

An old ferry, the Thoroughfare, which had been converted into a fish reduction plant, was charred by fire at its mooring off McNear's Point.

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael Bulldogs defeated the Tamalpais High Indians, 14-6, in the 25th clash in the series which was billed as the "Marin County classic in football."

Sheriff Walter B. Sellmer asked all Marin County residents who have extra Christmas tree decorations to take them to the county jail for use on the Christmas tree for inmates.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Let's Not Go Overboard On County Aide Salaries

Marin County boasts top caliber men in elected offices, both in integrity and in the ability to perform their functions.

Due compensation for those offices is fine. But let's not go overboard in our enthusiasm to express satisfaction with their performances and in recognition of their responsibilities.

Salary raises voted by the supervisors last week to some of our elected officials, especially the graduated increases that are built in over the next three years, border on the excessive.

The decision to increase the salaries was not based on any systematic study of salaries in other counties with comparable populations. Those who made the salary study report that the pay scale is "so varied" in various counties and so "very spotty" that they cannot be used as a basis of comparison.

The result was that the salary raises determined in Marin County represent arbitrary figures arrived at from personal judgments of what each position should be worth now and three years from now. The judgments were apparently based on the "responsibilities" of the elected offices and the importance of their decisions as they affect public interest.

Sure, some of our officials work long hours and are forced to attend night meetings to serve the community. As individuals, we like to see them well compensated for their efforts.

But the pay raises voted last week are for the positions, not the men. The pay raise will apply to the office holders, whether they be experienced incumbents or a newcomer who wins an election in the future.

We have in mind especially the automatic increases that are provided for 1967 and 1969. They are passed off as "coming to about five per cent per year increase" to keep up with the rise in cost of living.

Most of them amount to far more than five per cent. Some of them come close to 30 per cent increase. Furthermore, the automatic percentage raise for cost of living gives the higher income brackets (like elected officials) a big advantage over other employees in the lower brackets.

For example, a man in the $15,000 per year category, receiving 5 per cent cost of living raise, would have $750 per year more to spend on his family. A minor clerk, getting $5,000 per year, would have only $250 per year additional.

The disparity, which started with the original salary, is further widened with each percentage increase.

Now, to get down to specifics.

Sonoma County is the closest to Marin, both in geographical proximity and population. Sonoma's current salaries are as follows:

Assessor $15,000; county clerk $12,000; sheriff $15,000; treasurer-tax collector $11,250; and recorder $11,250.

The Marin assessor now gets $14,700 and will be raised to $15,300 next year. This is comparable. But in 1967, the salary will jump to $20,000, and in 1969 to $22,000. Sonoma would have to raise its salary by $7,000 in three years to keep up with Marin.

Marin's county clerk gets $16,000 now and will get $16,800 next year. This will jump to $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 in 1969. Sonoma would have to raise the pay by $7,500 in three years to keep up with Marin.

In 1969, the other Marin salaries would be: Recorder $15,500; sheriff $21,000, and treasurer-tax collector $19,500.

We believe the supervisors and their salary committee would have been on surer footing if they had used salaries in comparable counties as one of the bases on which to justify the increases.

The supervisors are treading on dangerous ground when they leave salary increases solely to the personal judgments of what the office is worth and what the responsibilities command.

"AND I MAY EVEN GET TIGHTER . . ."

Bid Negotiation Is Explained

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the bid opening for San Rafael Fire Station No. 5 on Friday, Dec. 3, a great deal of confusion arose concerning the ethics of negotiating a building contract with the low bidder.

It is standard practice throughout the construction industry to negotiate with the low bidder for the purpose of either adding work to or deleting work from a proposed building contract prior to signing an agreement. The Associated General Contractors of America support this practice so long as it is conducted within a reasonable period of time after the bid opening.

Physicians Urge Viet Nam War End

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As physicians, we are asked by government and private agencies to volunteer for civilian medical service in Viet Nam — bomb-blasted and napalm-burned women and children by the hundreds lie relatively untended in monstrous refugee camps, driven from their homes by American planes. The undersigned, who marched with 40,000 others of like mind in Washington on Nov. 27, believe that prevention of these wounds makes more sense than appeals for treatment.

How can we rationally give with one hand while taking away one-hundred-fold with the other. Dr. Benjamin Spock's remarks at the end of the march seemed to us most appropriate:

"It seems ludicrous that our officials keep solemnly repeating that the North Vietnamese must leave their neighbors alone, when we have come half-way round the world to interfere. . . . I believe that our government only confuses itself and the American people when it sets up a puppet dictatorship in Viet Nam and then calls the Vietnamese people aggressors and attacks them with napalm when they revolt against it. . . ."

As physicians, we urge a halt to the bombing in Viet Nam as the most relevant medical aid to the civilians of Viet Nam.

No Harrassment Was Intended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Dec. 1, you published a letter by Patricia Gerstner of Kentfield in which she accused our organization (among others) of "harrassing and intimidating the public and property owners. . . ." She also implied that the name of our organization was "a variant way. . .(of). . .deluding. . .different segments of the population." Her identification of the basic Jewish and Christian principle of brotherhood as "a dead horse" is tragic. Furthermore, she failed to learn the facts of Operation WELCOME NEIGHBOR.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race which is supported by the Marin Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California has been sponsoring a campaign within the churches and synagogues of Marin County to procure signatures from members of the religious community to the following pledge: "I recognize the right of all minority people to rent or buy housing in my immediate neighborhood and I shall welcome them as neighbors." Currently 61 of the congregations in Marin have requested a total of 25,000 pledge cards for distribution among their members.

As your editorial of Oct. 28 noted, the purpose of our campaign is to permit people to voluntarily express their commitment to the principles upon which their religious faiths are based. As is clearly indicated in that editorial as well as in a number of news articles which appeared in your paper and other newspapers, it is our desire to show that the "yes" vote on proposition 14 was an expression of the concern of many individuals for their private rights. These people also feel strongly their commitments to the principles of brotherhood, and given the opportunity to voluntarily express this in a pledge such as ours we are confident that they will do so.

Editorial Page Wins Plaudits

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just a line to thank you and your associates for the high quality of your editorial page. Monday, Dec. 6, it seemed to me, was especially good. Your approach to the drug problem was sensible, vigorous and timely.

I am especially pleased with your occasional articles on Marin birds. "The Birds in Winter" are a joy to us out on Pleasant Lane, even to the jays and sparrows. I am glad that you find pleasure in Marin's bird life and share it with us.

We enjoy the Independent-Journal with its good news coverage and its high standards, especially when issues involving moral standards are faced.

May the Christmas season be a blessed one for all of you.

Here's How You Can Help Foreign Aid–Give Materials For Schools

WASHINGTON — Whenever I have talked about foreign policy with students and adults in audiences across the country, two questions come up again and again:

"What can I do to help?"

"Isn't there too much handout in foreign aid?"

There is a good answer to both questions.

THERE IS something which the individual — students and adults alike — can do and in doing it enlarge the self-help side of foreign aid.

Without moving out of your own community, would you like to help build a schoolhouse abroad where schools are desperately needed and where children desperately need schooling?

The project I am talking about was originated by a private citizen, actively involves private citizen participation, and has generated private initiative in needy countries.

The project is the School-to-School Program which the Peace Corps has adopted in order that thousands of Americans may participate and which it has now thoroughly tested to make sure that it works, works well, and proves how it can be blessed both to give and to receive.

HERE'S WHAT happened:

A little over a year ago the Parent-Teachers Assn. of Rosendale School, Schenectady, N.Y., had some money they wanted to use for a good purpose. They asked a government official what he would propose.

"I'd build a school," he replied. "I don't mean sending in construction crews. I mean buying cement and block-making machines and providing a couple of supervisors to oversee the construction. I mean self-help."

They did it, with the students helping to raise funds to provide building materials for a school in the impoverished village of Casablanca, Colombia. The villagers of Casablanca built it with their own hands. The Peace Corps provided on-the-job assistance. A dire need was met people-to-people by private initiative.

And now donations from the U.S., mostly from school children, have built or are building over 70 schoolhouses in 19 underdeveloped countries where the Peace Corps is represented.

This is only a beginning. Many more applications for help are being received by the Peace Corps. With contributions of $1,000 or more, schoolhouses can be built by self-help in areas of Asia, Africa, and Latin America where the need is desperate.

WHO MAY participate? Nearly everybody, but especially:

1. Individual schools, classrooms, student bodies, and other school groups.

2. School-related organizations such as the P-TA of your community, provided the students share in the fund-raising.

3. Any community organization, such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, or Lions, provided they do so in conjunction with a school.

In the wake of these school-to-school, self-help projects will come a chain of contacts and communications between the school children of America and the school children in the communities abroad who will also benefit.

THIS IS FOREIGN aid which can do incalculable good—undertaken by private initiative matched by self-help and carried out people-to-people.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver has described the school-to-school program as "an exciting new avenue for better understanding."

Its potential is as great as Americans, by their voluntary contributions, want to make it.

Nasser And Russians Ready African Arms

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Gamal Nasser and Russia are in the process of setting up the machinery to arm and supply African attacks on the Rhodesian government of Sir Ian Smith.

At the very time Nasser is vigorously pressing the U.S. to provide him with new large stocks of surplus grain and other commodities, the UAR ruler is secretly conferring with high-ranking Soviet officers and members of the Organization of African Unity in Cairo to instigate and wage extensive guerrilla war in Rhodesia.

THE SOVIET GROUP, headed by Marshall Andrei Grechko, first deputy defense minister, consists of Air Marshal Rudenko, deputy air force commander; Admiral Sergeyev, top naval man; and Col. General Mikhail Nikitin, reputed new military intelligence commander.

Foremost among Africans are Flexi Onaha, Uganda defense minister and militant advocate of the use of armed force against Rhodesia, and the leading military lieutenants of Keyna President Kenyatta, chairman of the Organization of African Unity.

Significantly, the Russian group is exactly the same that visited Hanoi shortly before Communist Party Secretary Brezhnev went there early this year. Following these trips it was announced the Soviet was increasing its military aid to North Viet Nam, including ground-to-air missiles — which so far have taken a toll of eight U.S. planes.

IT HAS ALSO BEEN ascertained that the Soviet group in Cairo is in direct contact with Kenyatta and Diallo Telli, secretary-general of the OAU.

Nasser's conspiring with Moscow to organize and arm guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia is a repeat of what he did in the strife-torn Belgian Congo in 1964.

At that time, when the UAR was getting more than $100 million a year in surplus U.S. food under a three-year agreement with President Kennedy, Nasser was trans-shipping large quantities of weapons and munitions to the Communist-led rebels in the Congo. The arms were flown from Russia to UAR bases, where they were stored for delivery, largely via the Sudan, to the rebels.

IN THE ATTACKS now being secretly planned in Cairo against the Rhodesian government, Nasser will provide the military equipment from his stocks. In turn, the Soviet will replace these supplies with new arms.

In preparation for the guerrilla operations, "advance" infiltration and propaganda centers are being set up in adjoining Zambia and Malawi.

At Lusaka, Zambia, on the Zambesi River separating it from Rhodesia, already two leaders-in-exile of the African Peoples Unity Party are beaming incendiary broadcasts to the African population of Rhodesia. George Myandoro and James Chikerema in daily broadcasts are preaching "kill the whites," "destroy the whites' cattle and crops," "strike against the Smith government," "sabotage and tie up transportation and communications."

STATE AND DEFENSE department authorities make no secret of their profound concern over the Rhodesian crisis. A high State Department official is privately calling it the "most dangerous situation in the entire world, not excepting Viet Nam."

He pointed out that if large scale guerrilla fighting develops in Rhodesia, all Africa could become involved, with Russia and Red China "feeding the flames."

Administration insiders say President Johnson is prepared to support Britain if it imposes an oil embargo against the Ian Smith government. It is indicated that state and justice department experts already are formulating the measures necessary for such U.S. action.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

A Bad Year For Agriculture, In Spite Of What Brown Says

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO—Quite a few Californians—Republicans and Democrats alike, and cityfolk and countryfolk alike — may have some difficulty in matching Gov. Edmund G. Brown's glowing optimism over the year's agricultural experience with that of the first full and factual report for 1965.

The report comes from J. F. Bennett, deputy director of the state department of agriculture.

In early December, Brown met in Los Angeles with W. Willard Wirtz, U.S. secretary of labor, and the man who generally called the shots on when, how and if any Mexican braceros could be brought into the state to help in the harvest fields. Wirtz received a report from the panel he had appointed to advise him on California agriculture labor needs.

"THE REPORT clearly shows what we have predicted for several months," Brown said at the time, "that California agriculture has had an excellent year, and that it weathered this first year without major use of Mexican braceros very well.

"It also indicates," the governor continued, "that there probably will be few, if any braceros, needed next year."

Before lining up Brown's statements with those of his department of agriculture, one should realize two things about the 1955 season. First off, with one exception, it was one of the most beautiful growing seasons in years — summer temperatures were mild, not causing rapid ripening of fruit; the fall was warm and virtually without damaging rains. The single exception was a mid-August rain which destroyed many cling peaches.

THE DISASTER in the peach area freed workers who moved into the tomato harvest, thereby reducing shortages.

Now, getting into Bennett's report — the first full breakdown on crop production and marketing issued thus far. The report did not deal with livestock although prices for livestock and poultry have been very high this year and have boosted total farm income substantially.

ASPARAGUS: Actual harvest of 147 million pounds, indicating crop loss of 12 million pounds; canned pack down 1.2 million cases; price for white asparagus to consumers up an estimated 10-12 cents per No. 300 can, or 25 per cent.

STRAWBERRIES: Total harvest 174 million pounds, indicating loss of 25 million pounds, or 13 per cent; data indicates consumers are paying about 5 cents more per package for frozen strawberries, a 15 per cent jump.

CANTALOUPES: Production of 4,680,000 CWT, down 22 per cent; season average price for cantaloupe, $4.15 per jumbo crate, as compared to $3.30 a year ago.

LEMONS: Production at 13.5 million boxes, down 17 per cent; average price of $3.75 per carton, as compared to $2.63 per carton last year.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS: Indications are that 12 to 14 per cent of the expected production of 66 million pounds was lost.

"TO WHAT," asked a respecful reporter, "do you attribute your long and carefree life?" "Don't quite know yet," admitted Old Grandpaw Breslauer, celebrating his 104th birthday. "I'm still dickering with two breakfast companies, a distillery, and a tuna fish cannery."

A DINER at the Baroque Restaurant in N.Y. asked the head waiter if he could take home a half-finished bottle of wine for his dog. "It's very, very bad for a dog to drink wine," frowned the head waiter, "and besides, it's against the law to give a dog intoxicating liquids." "Who's giving it to him?" demanded the diner. "It happens that my dog likes to watch me drink it."

East Berliners Have False Front

EAST BERLIN (AP) — The pianist in East Berlin's plush Opera Cafe played "Tonight" from the musical "West Side Story" and a curvaceous waitress served fruit cake richly topped with whipped cream.

Across the broad Unter den Linden Boulevard, two booted members of an East German honor guard stood immobile in front of what once was the Nazi memorial. Now it is dedicated to "antimilitarism and anti-Fascism."

In another part of the schizoid half-city, three East Germans sat in a fashionable restaurant, timing their whispered conversation with the comings of a waiter in a tailcoat.

"You read in the newspapers about the price of butter going up in West Berlin. Here they continually raise the prices and you don't read a word about it. You go to the store one day and find that the prices are up," the man said.

"I keep thinking: This can't go on any longer — this type of government," his wife whispered, "They open a hole here and they fill it in there. It's become just like Russia. But it's gone on for 20 years—How? I don't know."

"Ninety per cent of the people put on a false front," her husband added. "They do the accepted things in public and then go home and say something entirely different."

The son, who relished the plate of beef stroganoff before him, smiled and asked: "Have you heard this one already?

"A well-known East German woman athlete is called to Berlin to be honored by Walter Ulbricht (East German Communist Party chief). 'Well, young lady,' he says, 'you have already earned every medal and honor we have to offer. So, this time we will grant you one wish.' 'Take down the Berlin Wall for 14 days,' she says. 'Aha!' Ulbricht says. 'I understand. You want to be alone with me.' "

The joke called to mind others, most with Ulbricht as the butt.

The conversation turned to the recent East German communal election in which the Communist regime claimed that 99.8 per cent of the 11-million voters endorsed the single-slate list of candidates.

"Ach! That was no election," the father said "We were sent our ballots in advance. What kind of election is it where you have no real choice of candidates. They all stand for the same principle."

If one does not vote or makes use of a closed booth to mark his ballots, he said, the person becomes suspect by the Communist authorities.

"I would never have gotten to high school," their son said, "if I hadn't joined the FDJ (the Communist Free German Youths organization). If I would want to make my doctorate, I wouldn't have a chance if I did not first join the party."

The son complained that East Germans traveling in other East Bloc countries, hungry for strong Western currencies such as the West German mark, are given third-class treatment.

"When you arrive, they ask you: East or West German? If you say West, you immediately get the best room in the best hotel and you can go where you want to and and exchange all the money you want.

"The East Germans are put together in closed groups. Everyone is told when to eat breakfast and when to eat lunch. And we are only allowed to exchange 100 marks."

At home as well, the woman said, East Germans are not accorded equal treatment from their Communist ally, the Soviet Union. Soviet troops in East Germany, she said, are discouraged from fraternizing and even from passing greetings with Germans.

"That is the great friendship you hear so much about," she said.

When the subject of the Communist Wall in Berlin came up, the woman said a surprising thing:

"The wall had to be."

If it had not been for the wall she said, the drain on East German manpower would have been such that the country's economy would have been ruined.

Later, before taking leave, her husband told a western visitor:

"We haven't given up hope yet. We can hope as long as we still can receive West German radio and television programs."

Four women disappear to every 1,000 men.

The salary of the first U.S. attorney general, Edmund J. Randolph, was $1,500 a year.

Assessor Broemmel Gets Heat In The Form Of Warm Praise

Marin Assessor Bert W. Broemmel came in for some more heat, this time in the form of warm praise, when Charles A. O'Brien spoke last Thursday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government.

O'Brien is chief deputy attorney general of California. He told the assemblymen:

"Our investigations have uncovered criminal acts, discrimination and incompetence in the assessment process.

"BUT WE HAVE also more frequently encountered dedicated, fair-minded assessors and their deputies and state board staff.

"Many of these men, particularly Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson and Marin County Assessor Bert Broemmel and our own state equalizers, have fought to improve the present system."

Broemmel was in San Mateo today presenting the recommended assessment reforms to the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, reforms that he and Watson with others developed and got approved by the California Assn. of Assessors.

THE PRIZE, consisting of 50 back copies of the I-J, must go to Florence T. Scott, director of the Marin Council of Community Services.

Dedicated readers will recall that it was Miss Scott who suggested that the mysterious Marin Coordinating Council was something to do with schools.

She was right, but in trying to track down the council the other day, I was thrown off the track by the county schools office itself. No one in that office seemed to have any idea what the group was, who belonged to it and what it coordinated.

IT TURNS OUT to be the Marin Coordinating Council of Teachers Assn. According to Newell McMullen, outgoing president of the council, it coordinates activities of the county, regional and state groups of the California Teachers Assn.

The council, by the way, is meeting again today at the Civic Center at 7:45 p.m.

ART BUCHWALD

When They Split Up California Will It Lead To Aggressiveness?

LOS ANGELES—The latest news from California is that they're thinking of breaking it up into two states. The idea, which was a joke a few years ago, is now being talked about seriously. The people I have spoken to have strong feelings about it. One man said:

"I've always believed there should be a South California and a North California. Of course I think the United States will support South California, because, after all, the Communist menace is located in the north at Berkeley, and if we don't stop them now, we could lose Oregon, Washington, and Idaho."

"HOW DO YOU KNOW the menace comes from the North?

"We have proof CAL students have been infiltrating down from the north especially during football games, and they're being supported by students from Stanford, and the College of the Pacific."

He showed me a draft card that he said had been burned in Hollywood. "This is a North California draft card found in the pocket of a Berkeley student who was picketing Grauman's Chinese Theater. I think it speaks for itself."

"WHAT DO YOU hope to gain by splitting the state?" I asked.

"We'll get rid of Sacramento for one thing. The North government has always treated South California as a stepsister. Now we'll have our own government probably located in Los Angeles. Mayor Yorty has just been in Viet Nam to study how their government works there. We'll probably use the South Vietnamese government as a model for our own."

"Aren't there many very difficult problems that have to be resolved before the division of the state is made?"

"Of course there are, and we're willing to negotiate all of them."

"HOW WOULD YOU go about it?"

"Well, first we'd bomb San Francisco. Then we'd tell the North Californians we'd be willing to stop the bombing if they were willing to go to the table and talk."

"But why would you bomb San Francisco first?"

"If we didn't, we wouldn't have anything to stop doing if they agreed to our terms."

"I see."

"Look, we don't want anything for ourselves. We just want to be left alone to prosper. It's the North Californians who are going to be the aggressors."

"BUT HOW do you know they will be the aggressors if you haven't even divided the state yet?"

"Well, you've had North Korea and North Viet Nam. Do you think North California is going to be any different?"

"Let's say, after the split, that you and North California have your differences and finally you agree to go to the negotiating table. What would be the primary objective of the negotiations?"

"I SHOULD think it would be to bring about a united California. If it was open to a vote, the North Californians would never want to live under a Communist system."

"Do you mean to say that after you take all the trouble to divide the state you will want to work at uniting it again?"

"But with one difference. This time South California would be the capital, and North California would have to dance to our tune."

"And if they didn't?"

"Then there's always San Francisco!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Nine chambers of commerce from San Rafael to Ukiah lined up in favor of discontinuing Northwestern Pacific's overnight passenger service to Eureka at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in San Rafael.

More than 700 persons jammed San Rafael High School auditorium for the first Marin County Conference on Education.

An old ferry, the Thoroughfare, which had been converted into a fish reduction plant, was charred by fire at its mooring off McNear's Point.

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael Bulldogs defeated the Tamalpais High Indians, 14-6, in the 25th clash in the series which was billed as the "Marin County classic in football."

Sheriff Walter B. Sellmer asked all Marin County residents who have extra Christmas tree decorations to take them to the county jail for use on the Christmas tree for inmates.

Anybody Here Seen Samantha?

Has anyone seen Samantha? She has a date she shouldn't miss.

She's a short-haired, orange and white kitten approximately six months old.

Unable to keep the kitten, a kind-hearted Mill Valley woman spent hours trying to find her a home, only to be turned down because of Samantha's gender and expenses of an operation and shots.

Then her benefactor and some friends had a brilliant idea. They donated five good prizes for a raffle to provide funds that would make Samantha more attractive.

But with tickets all sold, raffle held and date made with the vet — Samantha has disappeared.

Wishing to remain anonymous, her friends ask you, if you've seen the kitten, to call the Marin County Humane Society immediately.

East Berliners Have False Front

EAST BERLIN (AP) — The pianist in East Berlin's plush Opera Cafe played "Tonight" from the musical "West Side Story" and a curvaceous waitress served fruit cake richly topped with whipped cream.

Across the broad Unter den Linden Boulevard, two booted members of an East German honor guard stood immobile in front of what once was the Nazi memorial. Now it is dedicated to "antimilitarism and anti-Fascism."

In another part of the schizoid half-city, three East Germans sat in a fashionable restaurant, timing their whispered conversation with the comings of a waiter in a tailcoat.

"You read in the newspapers about the price of butter going up in West Berlin. Here they continually raise the prices and you don't read a word about it. You go to the store one day and find that the prices are up," the man said.

"I keep thinking: This can't go on any longer — this type of government," his wife whispered, "They open a hole here and they fill it in there. It's become just like Russia. But it's gone on for 20 years—How? I don't know."

"Ninety per cent of the people put on a false front," her husband added. "They do the accepted things in public and then go home and say something entirely different."

The son, who relished the plate of beef stroganoff before him, smiled and asked: "Have you heard this one already?

"A well-known East German woman athlete is called to Berlin to be honored by Walter Ulbricht (East German Communist Party chief). 'Well, young lady,' he says, 'you have already earned every medal and honor we have to offer. So, this time we will grant you one wish.' 'Take down the Berlin Wall for 14 days,' she says. 'Aha!' Ulbricht says. 'I understand. You want to be alone with me.' "

The joke called to mind others, most with Ulbricht as the butt.

The conversation turned to the recent East German communal election in which the Communist regime claimed that 99.8 per cent of the 11-million voters endorsed the single-slate list of candidates.

"Ach! That was no election," the father said "We were sent our ballots in advance. What kind of election is it where you have no real choice of candidates. They all stand for the same principle."

If one does not vote or makes use of a closed booth to mark his ballots, he said, the person becomes suspect by the Communist authorities.

"I would never have gotten to high school," their son said, "if I hadn't joined the FDJ (the Communist Free German Youths organization). If I would want to make my doctorate, I wouldn't have a chance if I did not first join the party."

The son complained that East Germans traveling in other East Bloc countries, hungry for strong Western currencies such as the West German mark, are given third-class treatment.

"When you arrive, they ask you: East or West German? If you say West, you immediately get the best room in the best hotel and you can go where you want to and and exchange all the money you want.

"The East Germans are put together in closed groups. Everyone is told when to eat breakfast and when to eat lunch. And we are only allowed to exchange 100 marks."

At home as well, the woman said, East Germans are not accorded equal treatment from their Communist ally, the Soviet Union. Soviet troops in East Germany, she said, are discouraged from fraternizing and even from passing greetings with Germans.

"That is the great friendship you hear so much about," she said.

When the subject of the Communist Wall in Berlin came up, the woman said a surprising thing:

"The wall had to be."

If it had not been for the wall she said, the drain on East German manpower would have been such that the country's economy would have been ruined.

Later, before taking leave, her husband told a western visitor:

"We haven't given up hope yet. We can hope as long as we still can receive West German radio and television programs."

Four women disappear to every 1,000 men.

The salary of the first U.S. attorney general, Edmund J. Randolph, was $1,500 a year.

Has anyone seen Samantha? She has a date she shouldn't miss.

She's a short-haired, orange and white kitten approximately six months old.

Unable to keep the kitten, a kind-hearted Mill Valley woman spent hours trying to find her a home, only to be turned down because of Samantha's gender and expenses of an operation and shots.

Then her benefactor and some friends had a brilliant idea. They donated five good prizes for a raffle to provide funds that would make Samantha more attractive.

But with tickets all sold, raffle held and date made with the vet — Samantha has disappeared.

Wishing to remain anonymous, her friends ask you, if you've seen the kitten, to call the Marin County Humane Society immediately.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Kennedy Faces Tasks After Latin Journey

By BONNIE ANGELO
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy promised cheering crowds throughout South America that "as long as I am in public life, you will have a friend in the United States."

Now he is faced with shaping his promises into programs—and in finding a way to spur into action an administration with which he no longer has influence and is often at odds.

Kennedy says that at this point he is not yet ready to talk about specific recommendations.

It can be said, however, that these points will take priority:

First is the overriding need for education in South America. Kennedy is convinced that the lack of education for the masses is the root of all the problems that burden the South American nations.

Second is the urgent need for reform. Kennedy's visits to sugar cane fields and coal mines dramatically showed him the sorry plight of laborers.

His views on reforms are chillingly simple: A revolution is in the making among South America's benighted poor, and if democratic forces fail to lead it, Communists will. He is dismayed at the tremendous gap between the leadership and the people of most Latin American countries.

He was annoyed by what he called "the incredible hypocricy" of rich liberals who talk endlessly about social revolution as they gather over cocktails in dazzling homes — but never do anything about it.

The senator is concerned about the state of the Alliance for Progress, which was one of President Kennedy's first major programs. He fears that its original concept — calling for 80 per cent participation by Latin countries working together, with 20 per cent participation by the United States—is slipping away, leaving the old, conventional idea of foreign aid. The alliance is most successful, he believes, in programs such as Food for Peace that directly affect the lives of the poor.

Human Guinea Pigs' Civil Rights Sought

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — There will soon be a new "civil rights" clause for patients volunteering for medical research.

Provisions for safeguarding patients' rights have been quietly drafted by federal health planners and endorsed by the nation's new Surgeon General, Dr. William Stewart.

Some scientists are bound to protest what they will consider new strictures. But the safeguards are going through, thanks to the prompt approval of Dr. Stewart.

In grasping the thorny problem Dr. Stewart has probably averted a public hassle later.

Henceforth, medical researchers applying for U.S. money grants will undergo a double check, if their planned experiments involve human beings. They will be asked to show that their potential volunteers have been fully informed of both the "risks" and "medical benefits" of the research.

If they can't, no money.

One Public Health Service spokesman likened the proviso to Title 6 of the Civil Rights Act, which permits the U.S. to cut off funds to balky grantees in other fields.

Of course, the PHS now has the power to halt support of improper research. But it isn't always quite clear just what is improper.

A new resolution approved by the National Advisory Health Council and seconded by Dr. Stewart removes some doubt. When investigators say they obtained "informed consent" from patients, they'll now have to prove it to the satisfaction of "institutional associates."

This may sound like hair-splitting. But Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., for one, doesn't think so. He's been watching the problem since the 1962 legal reforms of the Food and Drug Administration.

Javits then sponsored a patient-consent amendment involving drug experiments in the wake of the thalidomide tragedy. Since then, Javits has asked if some researchers are getting off the hook in medical experiments where techniques other than drugs are used.

Javits' interest was further heightened in July, 1963, when authorities charged that two doctors injected live cancer cells into 19 patients at Brooklyn's Jewish Chronic Disease Hospital without their knowledge and consent, and again, by complaints of a Harvard researcher that some deaths and crippling followed experiments elsewhere in which he assumes patient consent wasn't obtained.

Patient consent is a medical dilemma. If patients always knew exactly what investigators were seeking, some exepriments would be worthless. Prescribing dummy pills, or placebos, to measure the effect of real medicine is an example.

Yet it is possible , as the steps being taken show, to make sure that volunteers get the fairest shake possible. And this is so even when the goal of gaining vital new data supercedes the usual medical aim of trying to cure the patient.

This assurance of a double check on human experimentation seems to be a good first step. How it works out in practice remains to be seen.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Tiburon Tidelands Appeal On Agenda

The Tiburon City Council, meeting today at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, will consider an appeal of planning commission denial of use permits for Tiburon Tidelands Co.

Tiburon Tidelands has been seeking use permits since Dec. 16, 1964, to construct a yacht harbor and a restaurant-shops building on six shoreline and 12 underwater acres between Main and Mar West streets. The planning commission denied the application on Oct. 18.

The council is expected to pass a resolution to create a city parks and recreation commission. The proposal was first introduced on Sept. 27. Councilmen at that time agreed on the need for a commission but felt the proposal needed more study.

The council will be asked to contribute funds to help pay for Christmas decorations in the downtown area, sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Prep Band Wins National Award

The Terra Linda High School band has won fifth place and $100 worth of sheet music in a nation-wide contest with 460 other high school bands, sponsored by Disneyland.

Each entry in the contest was a film strip with recorded sound of the band in action for 10 minutes. The local school's film was made at College of Marin stadium last month under the baton of director Gordon Lowe.

Bay United Fund Merger Is Expected Tomorrow

Approval of merger of the Marin United Fund with that of four other counties into a United Bay Area Crusade is scheduled to be completed at the 11th annual meeting of the Marin group at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

The merger vote has been called "an absolute must" by fund president S. J. Hugh Allen. A two-thirds vote of the members is required. They will also be asked to approved a 15-man delegation for the area-wide board of trustees.

John D. LaNoue, 1965 Marin fund chairman, will report on campaign results. Rex T. Silvernale, executive committee chairman, will discuss the new area setup. Paul Y. Dunn of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts will be master of ceremonies.

Drake Dance Slated

Sir Francis Drake High School will hold its annual Christmas dance in the auditorium Friday from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Family To Aid Filipine Girl

The Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. family of 558 Heather Way, San Rafael, has agreed to assume financial support of 9-year-old Carolina I. Rodanilla of the Philipppines under the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., paying $15 a month to help support the child.

Kramer is a member of the San Rafael Board of Education. According to a report from the plan's New York headquarters, the girl is one of five fatherless children living with their mother in a two-room tin shack. The money will allow her to attend school.

Kennedy Faces Tasks After Latin Journey

By BONNIE ANGELO
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy promised cheering crowds throughout South America that "as long as I am in public life, you will have a friend in the United States."

Now he is faced with shaping his promises into programs—and in finding a way to spur into action an administration with which he no longer has influence and is often at odds.

Kennedy says that at this point he is not yet ready to talk about specific recommendations.

It can be said, however, that these points will take priority:

First is the overriding need for education in South America. Kennedy is convinced that the lack of education for the masses is the root of all the problems that burden the South American nations.

Second is the urgent need for reform. Kennedy's visits to sugar cane fields and coal mines dramatically showed him the sorry plight of laborers.

His views on reforms are chillingly simple: A revolution is in the making among South America's benighted poor, and if democratic forces fail to lead it, Communists will. He is dismayed at the tremendous gap between the leadership and the people of most Latin American countries.

He was annoyed by what he called "the incredible hypocricy" of rich liberals who talk endlessly about social revolution as they gather over cocktails in dazzling homes — but never do anything about it.

The senator is concerned about the state of the Alliance for Progress, which was one of President Kennedy's first major programs. He fears that its original concept — calling for 80 per cent participation by Latin countries working together, with 20 per cent participation by the United States—is slipping away, leaving the old, conventional idea of foreign aid. The alliance is most successful, he believes, in programs such as Food for Peace that directly affect the lives of the poor.

Human Guinea Pigs' Civil Rights Sought

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — There will soon be a new "civil rights" clause for patients volunteering for medical research.

Provisions for safeguarding patients' rights have been quietly drafted by federal health planners and endorsed by the nation's new Surgeon General, Dr. William Stewart.

Some scientists are bound to protest what they will consider new strictures. But the safeguards are going through, thanks to the prompt approval of Dr. Stewart.

In grasping the thorny problem Dr. Stewart has probably averted a public hassle later.

Henceforth, medical researchers applying for U.S. money grants will undergo a double check, if their planned experiments involve human beings. They will be asked to show that their potential volunteers have been fully informed of both the "risks" and "medical benefits" of the research.

If they can't, no money.

One Public Health Service spokesman likened the proviso to Title 6 of the Civil Rights Act, which permits the U.S. to cut off funds to balky grantees in other fields.

Of course, the PHS now has the power to halt support of improper research. But it isn't always quite clear just what is improper.

A new resolution approved by the National Advisory Health Council and seconded by Dr. Stewart removes some doubt. When investigators say they obtained "informed consent" from patients, they'll now have to prove it to the satisfaction of "institutional associates."

This may sound like hair-splitting. But Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., for one, doesn't think so. He's been watching the problem since the 1962 legal reforms of the Food and Drug Administration.

Javits then sponsored a patient-consent amendment involving drug experiments in the wake of the thalidomide tragedy. Since then, Javits has asked if some researchers are getting off the hook in medical experiments where techniques other than drugs are used.

Javits' interest was further heightened in July, 1963, when authorities charged that two doctors injected live cancer cells into 19 patients at Brooklyn's Jewish Chronic Disease Hospital without their knowledge and consent, and again, by complaints of a Harvard researcher that some deaths and crippling followed experiments elsewhere in which he assumes patient consent wasn't obtained.

Patient consent is a medical dilemma. If patients always knew exactly what investigators were seeking, some exepriments would be worthless. Prescribing dummy pills, or placebos, to measure the effect of real medicine is an example.

Yet it is possible , as the steps being taken show, to make sure that volunteers get the fairest shake possible. And this is so even when the goal of gaining vital new data supercedes the usual medical aim of trying to cure the patient.

This assurance of a double check on human experimentation seems to be a good first step. How it works out in practice remains to be seen.

Tiburon Tidelands Appeal On Agenda

The Tiburon City Council, meeting today at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, will consider an appeal of planning commission denial of use permits for Tiburon Tidelands Co.

Tiburon Tidelands has been seeking use permits since Dec. 16, 1964, to construct a yacht harbor and a restaurant-shops building on six shoreline and 12 underwater acres between Main and Mar West streets. The planning commission denied the application on Oct. 18.

The council is expected to pass a resolution to create a city parks and recreation commission. The proposal was first introduced on Sept. 27. Councilmen at that time agreed on the need for a commission but felt the proposal needed more study.

The council will be asked to contribute funds to help pay for Christmas decorations in the downtown area, sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Prep Band Wins National Award

The Terra Linda High School band has won fifth place and $100 worth of sheet music in a nation-wide contest with 460 other high school bands, sponsored by Disneyland.

Each entry in the contest was a film strip with recorded sound of the band in action for 10 minutes. The local school's film was made at College of Marin stadium last month under the baton of director Gordon Lowe.

Bay United Fund Merger Is Expected Tomorrow

Approval of merger of the Marin United Fund with that of four other counties into a United Bay Area Crusade is scheduled to be completed at the 11th annual meeting of the Marin group at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

The merger vote has been called "an absolute must" by fund president S. J. Hugh Allen. A two-thirds vote of the members is required. They will also be asked to approved a 15-man delegation for the area-wide board of trustees.

John D. LaNoue, 1965 Marin fund chairman, will report on campaign results. Rex T. Silvernale, executive committee chairman, will discuss the new area setup. Paul Y. Dunn of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts will be master of ceremonies.

Drake Dance Slated

Sir Francis Drake High School will hold its annual Christmas dance in the auditorium Friday from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Family To Aid Filipine Girl

The Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. family of 558 Heather Way, San Rafael, has agreed to assume financial support of 9-year-old Carolina I. Rodanilla of the Philipppines under the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., paying $15 a month to help support the child.

Kramer is a member of the San Rafael Board of Education. According to a report from the plan's New York headquarters, the girl is one of five fatherless children living with their mother in a two-room tin shack. The money will allow her to attend school.

Flew 35 bomber missions

War II Pilot Retires From Hamilton Duty

Lt. Col. William J. Olsen, chief of the communications systems division at Hamilton Air Force Base, has retired after 24 years in the Army and Air Force.

He was commissioned through the Army's aviation cadet program, and plioted 35 bomber missions over Europe during World War II, earning the Air Medal with five oak leaf clusters and the Army Commendation Medal.

During his career in the Air Force's communications and electronics field, he helped put into operation the first successful high frequency radar network.

Olsen, who lives at 1314 Yukon Way, Novato, has gone to work for a Novato realty firm.

Supervisors To Meet In Marin City

Marin County supervisors will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge to seek solutions for vandalism, harassment of deputies and property damage in the community.

The trouble, which included several incidents of sniping at sheriff's patrol cars, reached its peak Dec. 5 when the sheriff's substation was gutted by fire. The special meeting was set after a long discussion before supervisors last Tuesday on the problem.

At that time the board agreed to defer the decision on a request from Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos for eight additional deputies and four more patrol cars to see if there were not some better solution.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will open the meeting with a report expected to include a recommended program.

Also scheduled for discussion is a letter from Marin City resident David Barrow suggesting that a machine and wood shop be established which would be open to all, not just residents of Marin City.

He suggested that this might be the nucleus of a club in which dues from members could help defray the cost.

The board will hear other suggestions from residents before starting its own discussion of possible solutions.

Four Nominated By Contractors

Four men have been nominated for two directors' seats to represent Marin for the Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. They are Denny Dehnert, Russell Thompson, Charles D. Kyne and Harry M. Locke.

Two Marin men, Walter Louis and Louis Robello, have been nominated for the post of trustee of the industry fund. Election for both offices will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at an organizational meeting in Cotati.

Council On Holiday

The Marin Youth Council will not meet during December because of Christmas. The council will next meet at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 17 in the Curriculum Lab at the Civic Center. Those planning to attend should contact the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Tomales High Assessment Called Unification Asset

High assessed valuation per student in the Tomales High School District would provide financial benefit to any district it might join under unification proposals now being studied.

Figures on several proposals will be discussed by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The figures, prepared by Asst. County Schcol Supt. Robert Stannard, show that Tomales has an assessed value of $86,101 per high school-age student.

The Tamalpais High School District has an assessed value of $38,577 per student; Analy High School District, $23,050, and Petaluma High School District, $22,169.

Proposals discussed by the committee two weeks ago included unification of Tomales with the Drake attendance area of Tamalpais. This would give an assessed value per student of $40,207.

Committee members have also given thought to splitting the Tomales district with a northern portion going to Analy in Sonoma County, the middle being added to the Petaluma district, and the southern portion going to Tamalpais.

The committee, armed with Stannard's figures, is expected to define these proposals more firmly Wednesday, and to propose one of them next month.

Real Estate Breakfast

The Annual silver fizz breakfast of the Marin County Real Estate Board will be held Dec. 21 at 8 a.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Highway Chase Ends In Death

LONG BEACH (AP)—A 100-mile-an-hour chase on the Long Beach freeway ended with the death of a motorcycle officer and the arrest of to sailors, police reported.

Officer Robert Smith, 26, crashed his cycle into the rear of an auto during the chase of the two sailors' car last night. The chase ended when the sailors' auto collided with another car, police said.

The sailor driver, identified as Jerry L. Miller, 18, and his passenger Barry Weiner, 22, received minor head lacerations. The driver of the other vehicle, Catherine E. Puchrik, 50, of Long Beach, also received minor injuries, officers said.

Play Raises Cash

"The Miracle Worker" gained more than $250 for student activities at Redwood High School, students announced last week. The play was presented in November.

Honor Society Picks New Officer Slate

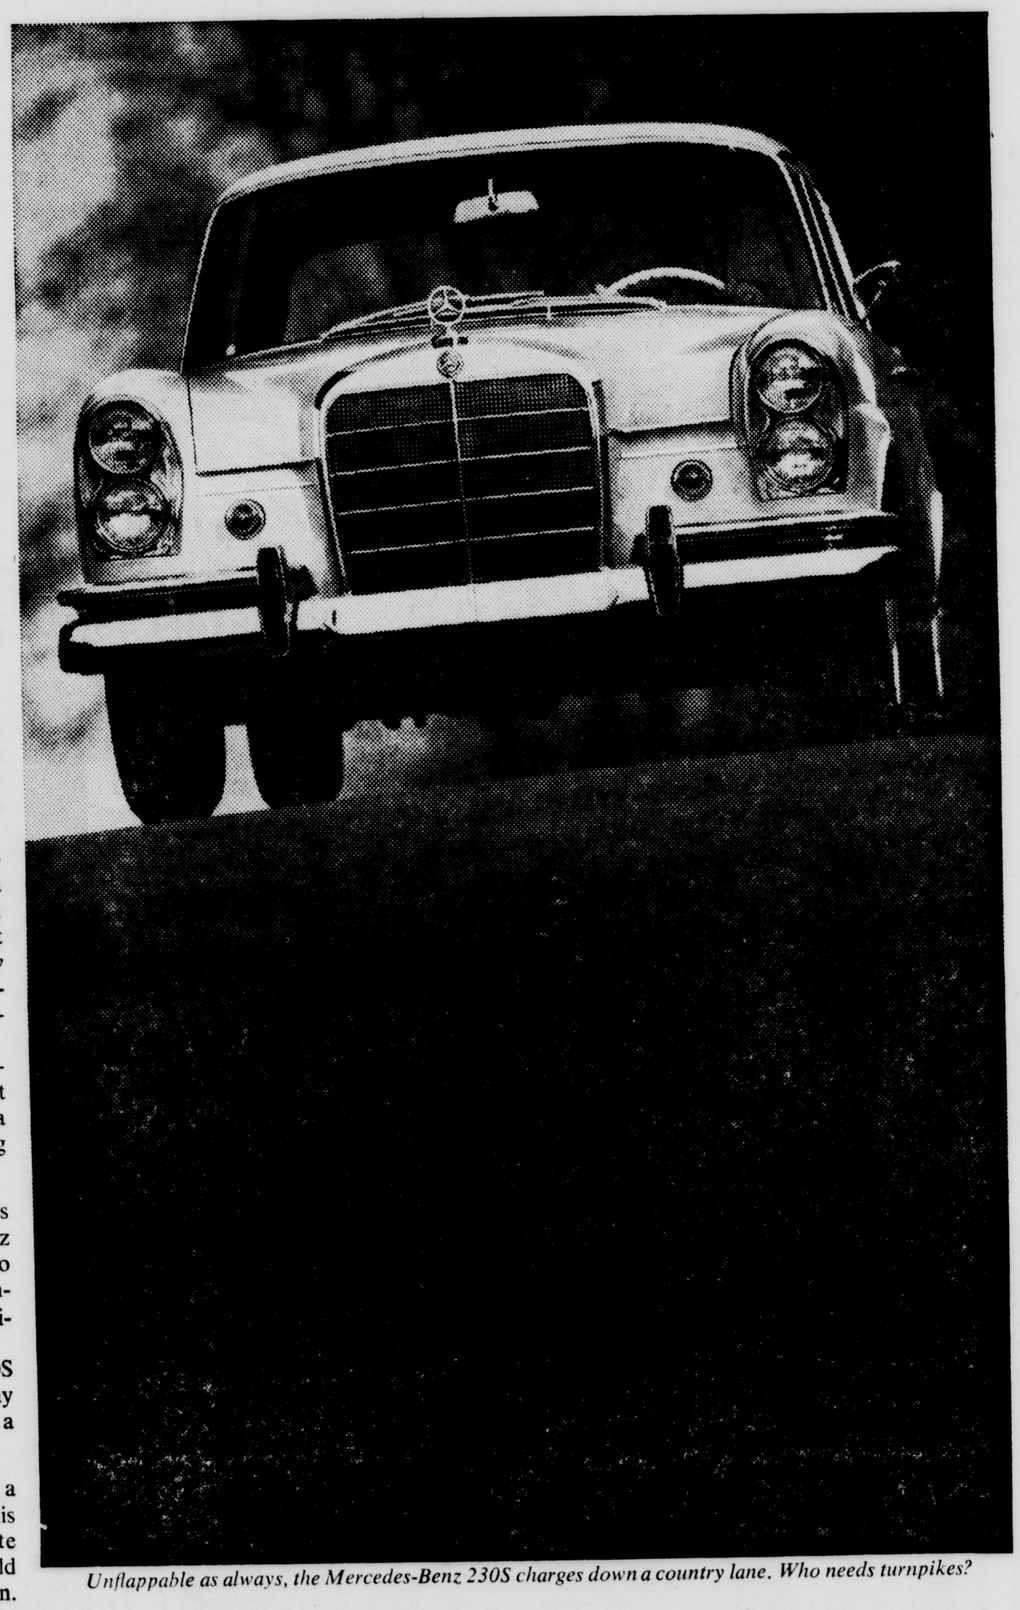
Other officers are Carol Wells of San Rafael, vice-president; Margaret Rowse of Larkspur, secretary; Stephen Schultz of San Anselmo, treasurer; and William Bruemmer of San Rafael, inter-club council representative.

15 revealing facts about the Mercedes-Benz 230S for those who always thought it was a rich man's plaything.



The Mercedes-Benz 230S scorns hand-tooled inlays and power-operated gadgets. For $4,900, you get an efficiently engineered car built for a long, hard life on the world's worst roads. Take 3 minutes to read the intriguing details below.

1. The steering system of the Mercedes-Benz 230S avoids two common pitfalls—freakish lightness and truck-like sluggishness. You guide this car with satisfying exactness. You control it—it doesn't control you.

This steering system is a precision instrument—and it's built like one. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious gadget squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct pressure is reached. A follow-up inspector simply counts the blots for a foolproof final check.

Showroom snoopers: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of any Mercedes-Benz—there they are, a dozen or so telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

2. Heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers are standard equipment on the Mercedes-Benz 230S. It is a heavy-duty automobile. It has to be: Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 148 countries. Durability is a big sales point to Afghanistanians, Colombians and Icelanders.

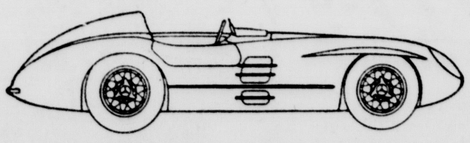
Test drivers: Blast the Mercedes-Benz 230S down the sort of road you'd skip on a Sunday drive. You'll pound over potholes without a qualm.

3. The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is a taut steel box, welded in 10,000 places. This "unit" structure is stronger than separate frame-and-body types. And the car grows old gracefully. Welds can't squeak, rattle or groan.

Unflappable as always, the Mercedes-Benz 230S charges down a country lane. Who needs turnpikes?

Bulldog grip

4. The fully independent suspension system under you in the Mercedes-Benz 230S would do credit to a racing car. As a matter of fact, it did. Its test-bed was the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR, World Champion sports-racing car a few years ago.



The 300SLR proved suspension in racing.

Just as Mercedes-Benz team racing drivers did back then, you slice through curves on a trim and even keel.

5. For a 1½-ton automobile with a top speed of 109 mph, the Mercedes-Benz 230S has immense braking power. Brutal panic stops can't fade its front disc brakes. Water won't turn them to sponge. In the Mercedes-Benz 230S, you stop with almost boring ease. The world could do with more monotony like this.

6. A 4-speed floor shift in the Mercedes-Benz 230S costs exactly as much extra as a column-mounted shift: nothing.

7. German driving conditions are an engine designer's nightmare. Gasoline costs 54¢ per gallon. Yet there is no highway speed limit. Mercedes-Benz engineers licked the problem with a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine that delivers high gas mileage and high cruising speed.

This lovingly balanced and assembled engine can dash along for endless hours at 90 mph—yet uses about half the fuel of many large V8's. It is neither a tiger nor a tabby.

Bring your magnifying glass

8. Mercedes-Benz employs one inspector for every 11 workers. And pays them to criticize their heads off.

You'll never clench your fists in fury at shabby workmanship. The paint job under the hood is every bit as good as it is on top. A sensitive finger can run from grille to tailpipe and never meet a sharp edge, a lump or a gap.

9. Mercedes-Benz shuns the Annual Model Change like the plague. You relax at "new model time" with the Mercedes-Benz 230S. How pleasant, not to feel betrayed.

Note: Last August, Mercedes-Benz announced its most sweeping changes in years. Many technical advances were made—without having to change the cars' looks.

In 14 years, 3 Mercedes-Benz model changes.

10. Seats in the Mercedes-Benz 230S were built up by orthopedic physicians, not whipped up by interior stylists. This is why you can drive 600 miles a day and not feel like an old laundry bag when you stop.

"When you sit down, you don't sort of disappear into the cushion," says David E. Davis Jr., editor of Car and Driver. "You're cradled in something that was really engineered to keep a human being where he belongs."

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

11. You can go buy a new suit with the money you won't spend on premium-quality tires for your Mercedes-Benz 230S. They're mounted at the factory as standard equipment. And every wheel is balanced—even the spare.

12. You need never crack open a window to enjoy constant fresh-air ventilation. Air is drawn into the Mercedes-Benz 230S through a scoop on the hood. Stale air is exhausted through ducts behind the rear side windows.

Ingenious little valves, at either end of the instrument panel, blow warm air to the side windows for defrosting in cold weather. In muggy weather, you can adjust them with a fingertip for a stream of cooling air.

13. The engine and front suspension of the Mercedes-Benz 230S are mounted on a separate subframe that can be quickly removed, like a drawer, for major servicing.

14. At the proving ground, Mercedes-Benz engineers fire cars from rocket sleds to simulate head-on 65 mph collisions. Such tests have shown that doors stay closed and the passenger compartment stays intact.

The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is designed to fold at the front and rear under heavy impact: crash tests show that shock in the passenger area is reduced to one tenth of the amount recorded at the front bumper.

Mercedes-Benz cars enjoy a reputation as the world's safest passenger cars.

15. The Mercedes-Benz 230S repels status seekers. It is no bigger than it needs to be, and no more decorated than an efficient machine should be. All that is left is an automobile. Mercedes-Benz believes this is enough.

YOUTHFUL SUCCESS STORY — Annoula La Lone, who had no education and did not know what Christmas was when she came to the United States from Greece at the age of 12, puts together a gauze Christmas tree at Tamalpais High School, where she is a senior. She is realizing a childhood ambition to "live in America and be a cultured lady." (Independent-Journal photo)

NEVER HAD CHRISTMAS

Greek-Born Coed Makes Two Sets Of Dreams Come True

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Annoula La Lone—sometimes called Allula, Anoola and Noola by her Tamalpais High School classmates—is a Greek-American success story at 17.

She told Greek villagers when she was five years old that she was going to live in America and be a "cultured lady." They laughed at her, but at 12 she came to the U.S.

With no knowledge of English and no education whatever, Annoula entered fifth grade in a Pasadena school where her foster mother was told "it's impossible to grade her." She worked hard and "cut the mustard."

Now a high school senior, she plans a college career, possibly in sociology.

Asked how she feels about her adopted country now, she says: "I love it. It's fantastic."

"She was praying in 1959 for a way to get out of her hell and we were praying for a little girl to come into our lives," says her foster mother, Mrs. Jay La Lone.

"I said, 'God, my hands are empty. Show me what you want me to do.' Then the mail man came. He knew this Greek-American woman with a list of Greek kids who were orphans and up for adption. He told me about them. Then 10 pictures were sent us and, from them, we picked Annoula."

The La Lones tried to arrange for Annoula to be sent to America but were unsuccessful, so Mrs. La Lone went after her, adopting her in Greece. Annoula lived in Athens then where she did house work. She had never attended school. She didn't know what Christmas was, she said, except that it was a time for people to meet and eat together. There were no gifts.

The La Lones moved to Mill Valley two months ago, residing at 507 Barone Lane.

Annoula, accustomed to Pasadena High Schol where she said there are 4,000 pupils, loves Tamalpais. She likes the smallness of it, the fact that she knows "practically everyone." She likes her counsellor, she said, and was amazed to find a 'free campus," unlike Pasadena's.

She said that, when she sent an article from the Tamalpais News to Greece, friends wrote back: "What is Tamites? We can't find it in the Greek dictionary."

Annoula loves to do the jerk, monkey and filley, but still likes to do her native Greek folk dances.

The La Lones have two sons, Darrell La Lone, a senior at University of California and Ernest Smith, of Sacramento. Smith and his wife have also adopted a Greek girl, who is named Yannoula.

San Rafael School Staff To Present Pay Requests

A new salary schedule for San Rafael School District employees will be presented to the district's board of education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the administration building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The plan now calls for a sliding scale ranging from a 5.77 per cent increase at the bottom level to 4.75 at the top. The jump would be retroactive to the beginning of the school year, replacing a two per cent increase granted earlier.

Bottom salary would go from $5,300 a year to $5,500, and the maximum pay from $11,012 to $11,110.

Plans for rehabilitation of San Rafael High School have hit a snag on the way to approval by the state Division of Architecture, and Supt. Bert C. Corona will ask that the Dec. 22 bid opening date for the project be cancelled.

Bids should be opened Dec. 23 for the Davidson Junior High School gymnasium addition, according to Corona's recommendation.

Board members will hear a report calling for sale of $1 million in bonds for construction in the elementary district, for relocation of a portable classroom from Sun Valley to San Pedro School and annauguration of bus service for the Los Ranchitos area.

The staff will give a report on a proposal to use volunteers as noon supervisorsg on school grounds, and the board is scheduled to continue discussion on a retirement policy which will allow the board to allow some employees to work past the age of 65.

Terra Linda High Sprouts Yule Decor

Winning class will be honored with a plaque in the school trophy case, according to sophomore Blair Wardlaw, chairman of the contest.

Farmers Named To Committee

Farmers of Marin and Sonoma counties voted last month to elect representatives to the Marin-Sonoma Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Elected after 92 ballots were mailed in by local farmers were: Alfred J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station, incumbent president, David B. Burbank of Fallon, James A. Marshall of Tomales, Thomas Furlong Jr. of Tomales, and William Barboni of Petaluma.

Bianchi was elected to a three-year term, Burbank to a two-year term, and Marshall for one year. Furlong and Barboni were elected as alternates to the committee, which oversees administration of federal farm programs in this area.

Supervisors To Meet In Marin City

Marin County supervisors will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge to seek solutions for vandalism, harassment of deputies and property damage in the community.

The trouble, which included several incidents of sniping at sheriff's patrol cars, reached its peak Dec. 5 when the sheriff's substation was gutted by fire. The special meeting was set after a long discussion before supervisors last Tuesday on the problem.

At that time the board agreed to defer the decision on a request from Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos for eight additional deputies and four more patrol cars to see if there were not some better solution.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will open the meeting with a report expected to include a recommended program.

Also scheduled for discussion is a letter from Marin City resident David Barrow suggesting that a machine and wood shop be established which would be open to all, not just residents of Marin City.

He suggested that this might be the nucleus of a club in which dues from members could help defray the cost.

The board will hear other suggestions from residents before starting its own discussion of possible solutions.

Four Nominated By Contractors

Four men have been nominated for two directors' seats to represent Marin for the Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. They are Denny Dehnert, Russell Thompson, Charles D. Kyne and Harry M. Locke.

Two Marin men, Walter Louis and Louis Robello, have been nominated for the post of trustee of the industry fund. Election for both offices will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at an organizational meeting in Cotati.

Council On Holiday

The Marin Youth Council will not meet during December because of Christmas. The council will next meet at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 17 in the Curriculum Lab at the Civic Center. Those planning to attend should contact the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Tomales High Assessment Called Unification Asset

High assessed valuation per student in the Tomales High School District would provide financial benefit to any district it might join under unification proposals now being studied.

Figures on several proposals will be discussed by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The figures, prepared by Asst. County Schcol Supt. Robert Stannard, show that Tomales has an assessed value of $86,101 per high school-age student.

The Tamalpais High School District has an assessed value of $38,577 per student; Analy High School District, $23,050, and Petaluma High School District, $22,169.

Proposals discussed by the committee two weeks ago included unification of Tomales with the Drake attendance area of Tamalpais. This would give an assessed value per student of $40,207.

Committee members have also given thought to splitting the Tomales district with a northern portion going to Analy in Sonoma County, the middle being added to the Petaluma district, and the southern portion going to Tamalpais.

The committee, armed with Stannard's figures, is expected to define these proposals more firmly Wednesday, and to propose one of them next month.

Real Estate Breakfast

The Annual silver fizz breakfast of the Marin County Real Estate Board will be held Dec. 21 at 8 a.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Highway Chase Ends In Death

LONG BEACH (AP)—A 100-mile-an-hour chase on the Long Beach freeway ended with the death of a motorcycle officer and the arrest of to sailors, police reported.

Officer Robert Smith, 26, crashed his cycle into the rear of an auto during the chase of the two sailors' car last night. The chase ended when the sailors' auto collided with another car, police said.

The sailor driver, identified as Jerry L. Miller, 18, and his passenger Barry Weiner, 22, received minor head lacerations. The driver of the other vehicle, Catherine E. Puchrik, 50, of Long Beach, also received minor injuries, officers said.

Play Raises Cash

"The Miracle Worker" gained more than $250 for student activities at Redwood High School, students announced last week. The play was presented in November.

Honor Society Picks New Officer Slate

Other officers are Carol Wells of San Rafael, vice-president; Margaret Rowse of Larkspur, secretary; Stephen Schultz of San Anselmo, treasurer; and William Bruemmer of San Rafael, inter-club council representative.

15 revealing facts about the Mercedes-Benz 230S for those who always thought it was a rich man's plaything.

Unflappable as always, the Mercedes-Benz 230S charges down a country lane. Who needs turnpikes?

The Mercedes-Benz 230S scorns hand-tooled inlays and power-operated gadgets. For $4,900, you get an efficiently engineered car built for a long, hard life on the world's worst roads. Take 3 minutes to read the intriguing details below.

1. The steering system of the Mercedes-Benz 230S avoids two common pitfalls—freakish lightness and truck-like sluggishness. You guide this car with satisfying exactness. You control it—it doesn't control you.

This steering system is a precision instrument—and it's built like one. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious gadget squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct pressure is reached. A follow-up inspector simply counts the blots for a foolproof final check.

Showroom snoopers: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of any Mercedes-Benz—there they are, a dozen or so telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

2. Heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers are standard equipment on the Mercedes-Benz 230S. It is a heavy-duty automobile. It has to be: Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 148 countries. Durability is a big sales point to Afghanistanians, Colombians and Icelanders.

Slight Drop In Employees Association

Membership in the Marin County Employees Assn. has taken a slight drop since the association's decision to increase dues from 50 cents to $3 a month and hire a manager.

Since the decision was made last month, 49 have dropped out of the association while 28 employees have joined. This leaves a total membership of 474, which is more than enough to support the proposed budget, president La Verne Robinson said yesterday.

Applications for the manager will be closed Jan. 15 and the man should be selected by Feb. 1, she said.

The association drop outs included some department heads. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht, and County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Yule Lights Voted

Directors of the Village Square Assn. of Corte Madera Friday agreed to decorate the square with Christmas tree lighting, reported association Vice President Robert D. Dolman.

Drake Widening Plan Detailed

The Marin County Public Works Department's proposal to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Kentfield from Laurel Grove avenue to the town of Ross would not only add traffic lanes on the main route, but also affect traffic on side streets.

The plan presented to the county planning commission last week showed new streets connecting Altamira and Butterfly and Maple and Stetson, each about 100 feet from the boulevard.

The new connecting streets would mean that the J. L. K. Fossey home at 6 Altamira would have to be moved or demolished. It would be one of 35 buildings affected in the plan approved by the commission.

The Fosseys and the Wallace E. McDonalds at 5 Altamira, have both protested the plan, reported Peter Sarant, public works department engineer. He said they were not at the planning commission hearing, although notified. They protested to him the following day.

The improvement project, still to go to the board of supervisors, would be constructed over five years.

Secretary Named

Mrs. Karen DeFault Friday was named acting recording secretary of the Black Point Improvement Club, replacing Mrs. Elaine Jensvold, who is moving from the community.

Four Men Accused Of Counterfeiting

LANCASTER (AP)—Engraving plates for 100-peso bills were confiscated with the arrest of four men accused of counterfeiting more than one million Mexican pesos, arresting officers reported.

Sheriff's deputies and U.S. Treasury agents said the pesos ere worth about $80,000 in U.S. dollars. Booked on suspicion of counterfeiting Thursday were Edward M. Brakes, 34, Donald Reed, 57, both Lancaster printers; Jack Carlton Reed, 35 and Philip James Rochford, 27, both of Redlands.

Juniors Wash Cars

A total of $47.50 was added to the treasury of Redwood High School's junior class following a car wash held Dec. 4 at Ed Miller's Texaco Station on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

What Is Patriotism?

Is it patriotism to accept and obey without question the actions and policies of one's government even though one sincerely believes these actions and policies to be wrong, unwise, even immoral? Is it not greater patriotism to express a thoughtful dissent from our policy in Viet Nam and to explore peaceful solutions to the undeclared war in that devastated country?

We call upon our government to initiate a stronger effort to bring about an immediate cease-fire. Let us, in the name of humanity, submit this conflict to the judgment of the United Nations. In President Johnson's own words . . . "There can be no military solution . . ." "We must find a path to a peaceful settlement . . ." Because we are concerned with the morality, justice and honor of our country, we wholeheartedly support these statements.

To quote the late Justice Brandeis: "The greatest menace to freedom is an inert people. Public discussion is a political duty."

YOUTHFUL SUCCESS STORY — Annoula La Lone, who had no education and did not know what Christmas was when she came to the United States from Greece at the age of 12, puts together a gauze Christmas tree at Tamalpais High School, where she is a senior. She is realizing a childhood ambition to "live in America and be a cultured lady." (Independent-Journal photo)

NEVER HAD CHRISTMAS

Greek-Born Coed Makes Two Sets Of Dreams Come True

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Annoula La Lone—sometimes called Allula, Anoola and Noola by her Tamalpais High School classmates—is a Greek-American success story at 17.

She told Greek villagers when she was five years old that she was going to live in America and be a "cultured lady." They laughed at her, but at 12 she came to the U.S.

With no knowledge of English and no education whatever, Annoula entered fifth grade in a Pasadena school where her foster mother was told "it's impossible to grade her." She worked hard and "cut the mustard."

Now a high school senior, she plans a college career, possibly in sociology.

Asked how she feels about her adopted country now, she says: "I love it. It's fantastic."

"She was praying in 1959 for a way to get out of her hell and we were praying for a little girl to come into our lives," says her foster mother, Mrs. Jay La Lone.

"I said, 'God, my hands are empty. Show me what you want me to do.' Then the mail man came. He knew this Greek-American woman with a list of Greek kids who were orphans and up for adption. He told me about them. Then 10 pictures were sent us and, from them, we picked Annoula."

The La Lones tried to arrange for Annoula to be sent to America but were unsuccessful, so Mrs. La Lone went after her, adopting her in Greece. Annoula lived in Athens then where she did house work. She had never attended school. She didn't know what Christmas was, she said, except that it was a time for people to meet and eat together. There were no gifts.

The La Lones moved to Mill Valley two months ago, residing at 507 Barone Lane.

Annoula, accustomed to Pasadena High Schol where she said there are 4,000 pupils, loves Tamalpais. She likes the smallness of it, the fact that she knows "practically everyone." She likes her counsellor, she said, and was amazed to find a 'free campus," unlike Pasadena's.

She said that, when she sent an article from the Tamalpais News to Greece, friends wrote back: "What is Tamites? We can't find it in the Greek dictionary."

Annoula loves to do the jerk, monkey and filley, but still likes to do her native Greek folk dances.

The La Lones have two sons, Darrell La Lone, a senior at University of California and Ernest Smith, of Sacramento. Smith and his wife have also adopted a Greek girl, who is named Yannoula.

San Rafael School Staff To Present Pay Requests

A new salary schedule for San Rafael School District employees will be presented to the district's board of education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrom at the administration building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The plan now calls for a sliding scale ranging from a 5.77 per cent increase at the bottom level to 4.75 at the top. The jump would be retroactive to the beginning of the school year, replacing a two per cent increase granted earlier.

Bottom salary would go from $5,300 a year to $5,500, and the maximum pay from $11,012 to $11,110.

Plans for rehabilitation of San Rafael High School have hit a snag on the way to approval by the state Division of Architecture, and Supt. Bert C. Corona will ask that the Dec. 22 bid opening date for the project be cancelled.

Bids should be opened Dec. 23 for the Davidson Junior High School gymnasium addition, according to Corona's recommendation.

Board members will hear a report calling for sale of $1 million in bonds for construction in the elementary district, for relocation of a portable classroom from Sun Valley to San Pedro School and annauguration of bus service for the Los Ranchitos area.

The staff will give a report on a proposal to use volunteers as noon supervisorsg on school grounds, and the board is scheduled to continue discussion on a retirement policy which will allow the board to allow some employees to work past the age of 65.

Terra Linda High Sprouts Yule Decor

Winning class will be honored with a plaque in the school trophy case, according to sophomore Blair Wardlaw, chairman of the contest.

Retired Officers Association Elects

Col. Helmut K. Schmid (Army), has been elected president of the Marin County Chapter of the Retired Officers Assn. He will replace Col. Arthur Watson, who organized the association.

Other newly elected officers of the association are: Col. Robert C. Hiatt (Marine Corps), first vice president; CWO Glen A. Thayer (Navy), second vice president; Capt. Edward F. Springer (Army), secretary-treasurer.

Farmers Named To Committee

Farmers of Marin and Sonoma counties voted last month to elect representatives to the Marin-Sonoma Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Elected after 92 ballots were mailed in by local farmers were: Alfred J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station, incumbent president, David B. Burbank of Fallon, James A. Marshall of Tomales, Thomas Furlong Jr. of Tomales, and William Barboni of Petaluma.

Bianchi was elected to a three-year term, Burbank to a two-year term, and Marshall for one year. Furlong and Barboni were elected as alternates to the committee, which oversees administration of federal farm programs in this area.

Slight Drop In Employees Association

Membership in the Marin County Employees Assn. has taken a slight drop since the association's decision to increase dues from 50 cents to $3 a month and hire a manager.

Since the decision was made last month, 49 have dropped out of the association while 28 employees have joined. This leaves a total membership of 474, which is more than enough to support the proposed budget, president La Verne Robinson said yesterday.

Applications for the manager will be closed Jan. 15 and the man should be selected by Feb. 1, she said.

The association drop outs included some department heads. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht, and County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Yule Lights Voted

Directors of the Village Square Assn. of Corte Madera Friday agreed to decorate the square with Christmas tree lighting, reported association Vice President Robert D. Dolman.

Drake Widening Plan Detailed

The Marin County Public Works Department's proposal to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Kentfield from Laurel Grove avenue to the town of Ross would not only add traffic lanes on the main route, but also affect traffic on side streets.

The plan presented to the county planning commission last week showed new streets connecting Altamira and Butterfly and Maple and Stetson, each about 100 feet from the boulevard.

The new connecting streets would mean that the J. L. K. Fossey home at 6 Altamira would have to be moved or demolished. It would be one of 35 buildings affected in the plan approved by the commission.

The Fosseys and the Wallace E. McDonalds at 5 Altamira, have both protested the plan, reported Peter Sarant, public works department engineer. He said they were not at the planning commission hearing, although notified. They protested to him the following day.

The improvement project, still to go to the board of supervisors, would be constructed over five years.

Secretary Named

Mrs. Karen DeFault Friday was named acting recording secretary of the Black Point Improvement Club, replacing Mrs. Elaine Jensvold, who is moving from the community.

Four Men Accused Of Counterfeiting

LANCASTER (AP)—Engraving plates for 100-peso bills were confiscated with the arrest of four men accused of counterfeiting more than one million Mexican pesos, arresting officers reported.

Sheriff's deputies and U.S. Treasury agents said the pesos ere worth about $80,000 in U.S. dollars. Booked on suspicion of counterfeiting Thursday were Edward M. Brakes, 34, Donald Reed, 57, both Lancaster printers; Jack Carlton Reed, 35 and Philip James Rochford, 27, both of Redlands.

Juniors Wash Cars

A total of $47.50 was added to the treasury of Redwood High School's junior class following a car wash held Dec. 4 at Ed Miller's Texaco Station on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

What Is Patriotism?

Is it patriotism to accept and obey without question the actions and policies of one's government even though one sincerely believes these actions and policies to be wrong, unwise, even immoral? Is it not greater patriotism to express a thoughtful dissent from our policy in Viet Nam and to explore peaceful solutions to the undeclared war in that devastated country?

We call upon our government to initiate a stronger effort to bring about an immediate cease-fire. Let us, in the name of humanity, submit this conflict to the judgment of the United Nations. In President Johnson's own words . . . "There can be no military solution . . ." "We must find a path to a peaceful settlement . . ." Because we are concerned with the morality, justice and honor of our country, we wholeheartedly support these statements.

To quote the late Justice Brandeis: "The greatest menace to freedom is an inert people. Public discussion is a political duty."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Decompensation Term Applied To Any Malfunctioning Organ

VAN DELLEN

Decompensation is a popular medical term that physicians apply to any malfunctioning organ. Cardiac decompensation is the best example and exists when the old ticker cannot maintain adequate circulation.

The victims are short of breath and develop a dry, hacky cough along with swelling of the legs and congestion in the lungs. Many will recognize the condition as dropsy or heart failure. Rest, digitalis, a salt-free diet, and diuretics usually bring relief.

A TECHNICAL term for a certain type of flat feet is decompensation of the arches. An overweight patient of mine was convalescing from pneumonia and wore moccasins for slippers. Pain developed when the weakened arches could not support the weight of the body as he walked about on the hard hospital floors.

Shoes with arch supports were obtained and he was given instructions on how to strengthen the arches through exercise. In this case, a prolonged illness led to weakness of his muscles, tendons, and other supportive tissues.

Uremia is a household word that we associate with "poor kidneys." Many physicians prefer the term decompensation of the kidneys or renal decompensation. It implies that these important organs are unable to function properly and toxic waste products are accumulating in the blood.

UREMIA sounds so final, whereas decompensation could be temporary and improvement takes place when the organs compensate.

This change in nomenclature was made to order when the artificial kidney was invented. This device filters the toxic waste products from the blood; the victim is not uremic for several days thereafter even though the decompensating kidney remains the same.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self addressed envelope accompanies request.

EXPLORATORY AGE

Mrs. D. writes: When my child was a year old we were able to put most of our knick-knacks out of reach. Now that he is 2, it is almost impossible to keep him away from things, no matter where we place them. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

As a father of three children and grandfather of seven, I know what you mean. There's an old saying, "Nothing is out of reach of a 2-year-old." Time will solve your problem.

GULLET SPASM

Mrs. D. writes: I nearly choke to death from spasms of the esophagus. Is there any cure for this condition?

REPLY

There is no need to worry about choking to death because the windpipe, rather than the esophagus, controls breathing. It goes to the stomach and when spasm occurs, pain and difficulty in swallowing are the usual manifestations. Cure is possible.

SKEPTICAL PATIENT

D. E. writes: Why are physicians so ignorant about brucellosis? I believe I have this disease but, when I ask doctors about it, they act as if I were talking Greek.

REPLY

Some persons pay for physician's advice but refuse to believe what he tells them. I hope this does not apply to you. Have the usual brucellosis laboratory tests been made?

POLAR BEAR LIVERS

F. J. P. writes: I understand that the ingestion of polar bear livers can result in illness because of excessive quantities of vitamin A. What do you say about this?

REPLY

There have been reports of this nature in medical journals. Polar bear liver contains so much vitamin A that poisoning has occurred after ingesting large amounts of this meat.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Gemini Coverage Was Cliffhanger

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) —Someday something real live may blow up in front of our eyes in never-never land. Will many of us, tube-conditioned to violence (Western, gangland, sexland, soapland) as we are, just sit there nonchalantly, a-twiddle in our own twaddle and smug on the living room rug?

The question is not so whimsical. Anyway, it will be the whole of my sermon for today. It is occasioned by the television coverage of yesterday morning's space shot that wasn't.

What was revealed was thepot live disaster into our faces, should that disaster erupt within camera range. There could have been an explosion. There could have been ejection of the two astronauts safely. Or a tragedy.

In a few moments, we were reminded — through the intimacy of live television coverage of a set public event—that space exploration has not become cut - and - dried, that someday we're going to lose some people, that when anyone climbs up and encapsuleshi mself atop that much volatile power he's in a precarious perch.

It seems to me the public has been getting a bit blase about these shots. Those who watched the networks yesterday must have had their anxiety level freshened.

All three networks did good jobs of vamping until word came of what might, or could, have happened. All did well in remoting to experts who opined out of technical erudition. As a fine example of a typical bleat of frustration by a reporter, Dave Brinkley said at 11:25 a.m.: "If the NASA people know what happened, they still haven't told us."

As for those electroncc conversations, bird to blockhouse and back, much of this isf ine stuff for caricature by comedians. We bait our breath when NASA comes on with a here's-a-tape heralding, and then what comes could be titled "Why Johnny can't talk." Like this:

Q. Agrevable reostun halopen on the A-valve?

A. Roger.

Q. Uh, Roger, but first gayrn mimsy on the borogove, outgrabe the mome rath, and then take another frumious?

A. Ah, beamish, boy. Understand. You have a go. Galumph.

As James Thurber once wrote, in a title: "What do you mean, it was brillig?" Was?

It still is. Stop jabbering this wocky onto our frequency.

A live fish never stops growing.

Ranchers, Officials Meet On Annexation

A meeting Saturday of several West Marin ranchers with representatives of the North Marin County Water District failed to bring agreement over proposed annexation to the district of a 35-square-mile area in the Tomales-Marshall area.

"The ranchers wanted us to give them more information about the financial results of the annexation, which we will try to get them by next week. I think we are progressing to the point where they will be able to make a knowledgeable decision about the annexation," said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Decompensation Term Applied To Any Malfunctioning Organ

VAN DELLEN

Decompensation is a popular medical term that physicians apply to any malfunctioning organ. Cardiac decompensation is the best example and exists when the old ticker cannot maintain adequate circulation.

The victims are short of breath and develop a dry, hacky cough along with swelling of the legs and congestion in the lungs. Many will recognize the condition as dropsy or heart failure. Rest, digitalis, a salt-free diet, and diuretics usually bring relief.

A TECHNICAL term for a certain type of flat feet is decompensation of the arches. An overweight patient of mine was convalescing from pneumonia and wore moccasins for slippers. Pain developed when the weakened arches could not support the weight of the body as he walked about on the hard hospital floors.

Shoes with arch supports were obtained and he was given instructions on how to strengthen the arches through exercise. In this case, a prolonged illness led to weakness of his muscles, tendons, and other supportive tissues.

Uremia is a household word that we associate with "poor kidneys." Many physicians prefer the term decompensation of the kidneys or renal decompensation. It implies that these important organs are unable to function properly and toxic waste products are accumulating in the blood.

UREMIA sounds so final, whereas decompensation could be temporary and improvement takes place when the organs compensate.

This change in nomenclature was made to order when the artificial kidney was invented. This device filters the toxic waste products from the blood; the victim is not uremic for several days thereafter even though the decompensating kidney remains the same.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self addressed envelope accompanies request.

EXPLORATORY AGE

Mrs. D. writes: When my child was a year old we were able to put most of our knick-knacks out of reach. Now that he is 2, it is almost impossible to keep him away from things, no matter where we place them. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

As a father of three children and grandfather of seven, I know what you mean. There's an old saying, "Nothing is out of reach of a 2-year-old." Time will solve your problem.

GULLET SPASM

Mrs. D. writes: I nearly choke to death from spasms of the esophagus. Is there any cure for this condition?

REPLY

There is no need to worry about choking to death because the windpipe, rather than the esophagus, controls breathing. It goes to the stomach and when spasm occurs, pain and difficulty in swallowing are the usual manifestations. Cure is possible.

SKEPTICAL PATIENT

D. E. writes: Why are physicians so ignorant about brucellosis? I believe I have this disease but when I ask doctors about it, they act as if I were talking Greek.

REPLY

Some persons pay for physician's advice but refuse to believe what he tells them. I hope this does not apply to you. Have the usual brucellosis laboratory tests been made?

POLAR BEAR LIVERS

F. J. P. writes: I understand that the ingestion of polar bear livers can result in illness because of excessive quantities of vitamin A. What do you say about this?

REPLY

There have been reports of this nature in medical journals. Polar bear liver contains so much vitamin A that poisoning has occurred after ingesting large amounts of this meat.

Pedestrian Struck, Injured In Novato

Elizabeth Anne Sullivan, 6, of 19 Tyler Street, Novato, suffered cuts to a knee and forehead Friday when she was knocked down by a car at the Diablo Avenue and Center Road intersection, Novato. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

Span Directors Award Contract For Building Job

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors Friday awarded a contract for $411,000 to Arntz Brothers of San Francisco for a major expansion of the district's administration building at the bridge toll plaza.

Arntz was lowest of four bidders for the job which includes extending the office building 114 feet north for 4,500 square feet of new office space. The present meeting room for directors will be soundproofed and the old building will get new wiring.

The board also approved paying $35,000 to Tudor Engineering Co., San Francisco, to make a preliminary study of a five-lane lower deck on the bridge.

L. E. Castner of Boyes Hot Springs was re-elected board president for 1966, and Alvin H. Derre, San Francisco, was re-elected vice president.

Deprived Children Funds On Agenda

Supt. G. R. McConnell will make recommendations to the Mill Valley School District trustees at an 8 p.m. meeting today on uses of about $15,000 in funds for school programs for "educationally deprived children."

Trustees will discuss grade organization where it relates to the proposed school construction program, and set a date for a field trip to school sites and proposed school sites in and adjacent to the Dias Ranch.

Meat Fasting Ban Is Listed For Holidays

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has acted to allow Roman Catholics to eat meat on the Fridays before the coming Christmas and New Year's holidays.

His move, making a routine yearend excepton, reinforces belief that an expected papal announcement revising Church rules on abstinence will not be made until next year. If he had planned to announce a revision before then, a special dispenstion would not have been necessary.

The Vatican announced Pope Paul has given Roman Catholics bishops around the world permission to grant dispensations from the abstinence and fasting requirement applying on the day before Christmas and the abstinence required this year on Dec. 31 because it falls on a Friday.

Meeting Called Off

The Stinson Beach County Water District board failed to meet as scheduled Friday due to lack of quorum.

Youth Ignites Hall's Mattress

Paul Samuelsen, 16, ward of the court and detainee at Marin County Juvenile Hall, set his mattress on fire Friday while he was locked in his room, probation officials reported.

County firemen were called at 5:27 p.m. to extinguish the smoldering mattress. Samuelsen, who was choking from the smoke, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital. He was examined, then transferred to Napa State Hospital.

Sausalito Agenda

Sausalito School District trustees will meet today at 8 p.m. at the district office to explain procedures for picking pupils for the "Operation Headstart" program at Manzanita School in Marin City.

Ground water circulation is confined to the first mile of the earth's crust.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Gemini Coverage Was Cliffhanger

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) —Someday something real live may blow up in front of our eyes in never-never land. Will many of us, tube-conditioned to violence (Western, gangland, sexland, soapland) as we are, just sit there nonchalantly, a-twiddle in our own twaddle and smug on the living room rug?

The question is not so whimsical. Anyway, it will be the whole of my sermon for today. It is occasioned by the television coverage of yesterday morning's space shot that wasn't.

What was revealed was thepot live disaster into our faces, should that disaster erupt within camera range. There could have been an explosion. There could have been ejection of the two astronauts safely. Or a tragedy.

In a few moments, we were reminded — through the intimacy of live television coverage of a set public event—that space exploration has not become cut - and - dried, that someday we're going to lose some people, that when anyone climbs up and encapsuleshi mself atop that much volatile power he's in a precarious perch.

It seems to me the public has been getting a bit blase about these shots. Those who watched the networks yesterday must have had their anxiety level freshened.

All three networks did good jobs of vamping until word came of what might, or could, have happened. All did well in remoting to experts who opined out of technical erudition. As a fine example of a typical bleat of frustration by a reporter, Dave Brinkley said at 11:25 a.m.: "If the NASA people know what happened, they still haven't told us."

As for those electroncc conversations, bird to blockhouse and back, much of this isf ine stuff for caricature by comedians. We bait our breath when NASA comes on with a here's-a-tape heralding, and then what comes could be titled "Why Johnny can't talk." Like this:

Q. Agrevable reostun halopen on the A-valve?

A. Roger.

Q. Uh, Roger, but first gayrn mimsy on the borogove, outgrabe the mome rath, and then take another frumious?

A. Ah, beamish, boy. Understand. You have a go. Galumph.

As James Thurber once wrote, in a title: "What do you mean, it was brillig?" Was?

It still is. Stop jabbering this wocky onto our frequency.

A live fish never stops growing.

Ranchers, Officials Meet On Annexation

A meeting Saturday of several West Marin ranchers with representatives of the North Marin County Water District failed to bring agreement over proposed annexation to the district of a 35-square-mile area in the Tomales-Marshall area.

"The ranchers wanted us to give them more information about the financial results of the annexation, which we will try to get them by next week. I think we are progressing to the point where they will be able to make a knowledgeable decision about the annexation," said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

'Fantastic, Electrifying, Unbelievable'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' unbelievable halfback, is a man in a hurry. He's in a hurry whenever he grabs a football and he has wasted no time getting into the record books.

Sayers unquestionably is the most electrifying rookie to break into the National Football League, an organization which usually demands tenure in dedication and hard work before serious goals can be reached.

Not so with Sayers, who saw little or no action in the first three games of the season, all of which the Bears lost. But in the last 10 games he has become one of the most fantastic stories in sports history.

The Kansas Comet topped it all yesterday when he scored six touchdowns in a 61-20 triumph over San Francisco. And what touchdowns they were as he tied a record set by Ernie Nevers of the Chicago Cardinals in 1929 and equalled by Dub Jones of Cleveland in 1951.

Sayers took a screen pass from Rudy Bukich and went 80 yards for his first score. Then he scored on runs of 21, 7, 50 and 1 yards before topping it off with an 85-yard punt return.

"That one was the best of all," said Sayers, "I worked hardest for it."

It was also the 21st of the season for Sayers, who smashed the NFL record of 20 set by Lennie Moore of Baltimore last year and tied by Jim Brown of Cleveland this year.

"This is the greatest performance I've ever seen by one man," said Owner-Coach George Halas, whose Bears retained a mathematical chance for a first place tie in the Western Division.

"Maybe so," said Sayers in reply to Halas "but I got blocking on every one."

Halas was aware that Sayers could have broken the touchdown record "but I couldn't let him go back in there. If he were to get hurt I'd never have forgiven myself."

Nevertheless, the 49ers were forced to punt in the final seconds and Sayers took his position on the field. The crowd, which had been chanting "we want Sayers" late in the fourth quarter, went wild as the 22-year-old phenom streaked 30 yards before slipping and being yanked by a man he had previously eluded on the return.

In all, Sayers accounted for 326 yards — 113 rushing, 89 on passes caught and 134 on punts returned — to fall five short of the record of 331 by Wally Triplett of Detroit in 1950.

To top it off, Sayers accomplished all this on a rain-slicked field.

A BIG WEEKEND FOR MARIN CAGE QUINTS

It was a big weekend for Marin County basketball teams.

Drake, Novato and Redwood placed first, second and third in the Drake High Invitational Tournament; the Tamalpais Indians advanced into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tourney against Sonoma's Dragons, and the College of Marin Tars continued to show improvement, although they lost a 65-64 heart-breaker to Santa Rosa in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference Tourney at Kentfield.

49ers Become Believers: Sayers 'The Greatest'

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Papa Bear Halas An Old Meanie; Sayers Deserved That TD Mark

Do you think Papa Bear George Halas is an old Meanie? Shake! I'm inclined to believe he beats kids and kicks puppies after the great injustice he inflicted upon his prize rookie Gale Sayers yesterday when the Chicago Bears routed the 49ers, 61-20.

After giving the greatest one-man performance in the history of the NFL, Sayers was prevented by Halas from easily breaking a single game touchdown record. Sayers already had tied the mark shared by Ernie Never and Dub Jones with six TDs, and the record-breaking seventh was his for the asking. The Bears had the ball on the 49er two and, hell, Baby Snooks or Little Orphan Annie could have scored, so why not let Sayers break the mark he so richly deserved?

BUT NO, Halas kept Sayers on the bench, and as it turned out Jon Arnett scored the TD.

Halas weakly explained that he was afraid Sayers might have been injured and he would never forgive himself. Bull, hogwash and fiddle-faddle. As a pal of mine out in the back room said, "Howinell could he get hurt? Nobody touched him all day."

Maybe Halas was afraid Sayers would run into the brick wall beyond the end zone. Or maybe he was afraid the rookie might raise a lump sum on his 1966 contract. Coach Halas, remember, is also the owner of the Bears who handles all contract negotiations. I think his action yesterday was awfully small.

RALPH CHATOIAN points out that the 49ers had a chance to draft Sayers last year, but went instead for Ken Willard and George Donnelly while the Bears, picking after the 49ers, plucked Dick Butkus and then Sayers.

Had San Francisco gone for Sayers instead of Donnelly . . . Close your eyes for a moment and picture the Windy City's Gale force in the same 49er backfield with Willard. Now open your eyes, wipe off your chin and come back to reality.

IN THE first game of the season the 49ers blasted the Bears, 52-24. Sayers made only a token appearance that day.

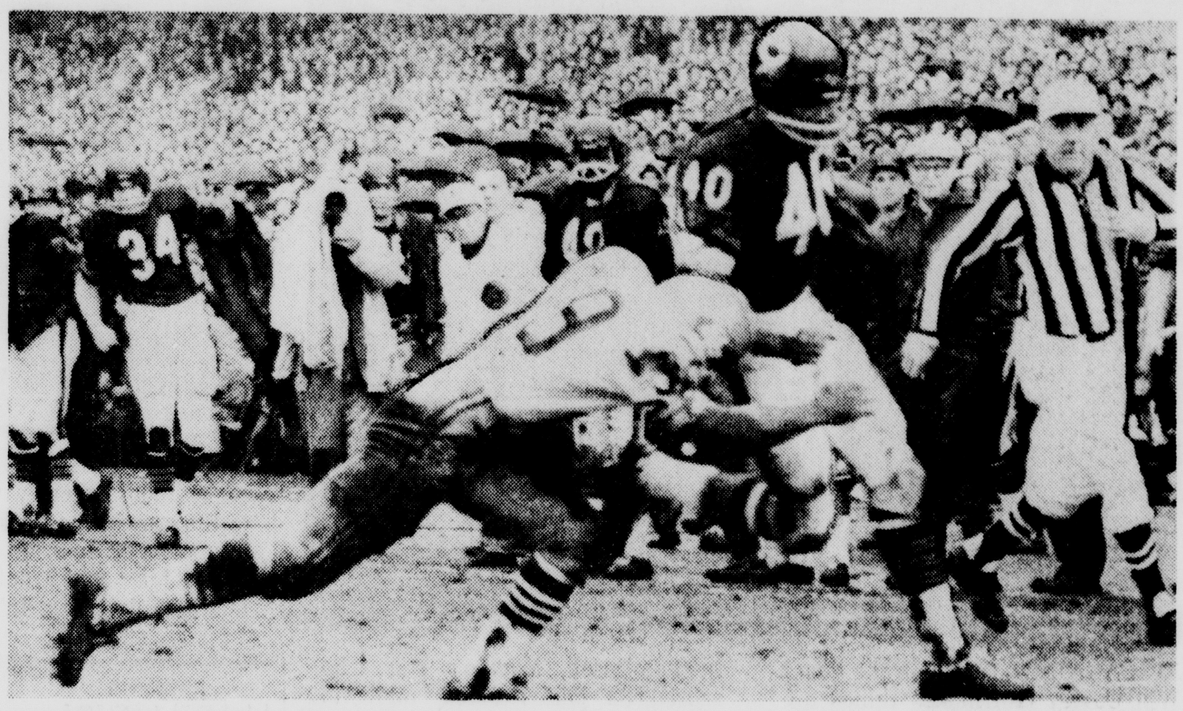
Yesterday's 61-20 Chicago win thus points out a 69-point improvement by the Bears. And just think, we're going to have to look at Sayers for 10 more years or so.

ONE THING seems certain: We 49er fans will have to rephrase our perennial battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" to a just plain "Wait . . ."

THE MAGIC of television was extremely unkind to us yesterday. I mean those "isolated camera action" or "instant replays" or whatever you call them. They merely rubbed salt in the wounds, because the way I saw it Sayers scored 12 touchdowns and the Bears beat us 122-40. Which is twice as bad.

I was hoping every time Sayers carried the ball the cameramen would push the stop-action button. But even in stop-action or slow motion, Sayers is too fast for anything the 49ers could offer.

WELL, WE were lucky to get out of Chicago alive. Now the 49ers come home for a "breather" against first place Green Bay. Packer Paul Hornung only scored five touchdowns against the Colts yesterday. Compared with Sayers' performance, that can be considered a breather for S.F.



ONE OF SIX — Gale Sayers (40) of the Chicago Bears shakes off San Francosco's Kermit Alexander and romps 21 yards for a second quarter touchdown in yesterday's lopsided game in Chicago. Sayers was simply fantastic, scoring six touchdowns to equal an NFL record set in 1939 by Ernie Nevers and equalled by Cleveland's Dub Jones in 1951. It gave Sayers a one season record total of 21 TD's with still one game remaining. (UPI Telephoto)

Bears' Rookie Runs Wild In 61-20 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who last watched Gale Sayers score six touchdowns, now get a look at Paul Hornung, who managed only five.

Sayers and the Chicago Bears mangled the 49ers 61-20 back east yesterday while the Green Bay Packers moved into first place in the Western Conference by beating Baltimore 42-27 as Hornung made five touchdowns.

The Packers come to Kezar Stadium next Sunday for the last game of the season. It means little for the 49ers, except they could hand Baltimore (9-3-1) the title should they beat the Packers (10-3) and the Colts defeat the Los Angeles Rams Saturday. The Bears (9-4) play Minnesota and still have a chance for a tie.

Sayers tied the National Football League record for most touchdowns in a single game held by two others. He ran for 113 yards, caught 89 yards worth of passes and accounted for an additional 134 yards in punt returns.

The rookie from Kansas scored on an 80-yard pass, runs of 21, 7, 50, and 1 yards and an 85-yard punt return. If he keeps this up, they'll make him throw those one-yarders back.

"That's the most brilliant exhibition I've ever seen," said Y. A. Tittle, now an assistant coach for the 49ers. "This was the greatest day I've ever seen a man have."

Head coach Jack Christiansen was so impressed he left the dressing room early to go somewhere alone and contemplate the performance, thus depriving others of his critique.

"He's out of sight," said 49er defensive back Elbert Kimbrough, speaking of Sayers, not Christiansen. "He's the greatest runner I've ever seen and that includes Jimmy Brown.

"He's not a power runner like Brown," Kimbrough continued. "But, man, who needs power the way he runs?"

A good question about Sayers, who saw only limited duty when the 49ers beat the Bears 52-24 at the start of the season. Sayers got the game ball for the second time this season—breaking a Bear tradition. He got his first after scoring four touchdowns in a warm-up against Minnesota.

The 49ers actually were not that far out of it in the first half. A 15-yard pass from John Brodie to John David Crow brought the 49ers to within 20-13. Tommy Davis missed his first point-after-touchdown attempt in his seven NFL seasons after 235 successes.

But Sayers then went on a three-touchdown spree and the 49ers were deader than some of those original Gold Rushers of 116 years ago.

A nine-yard pass to Dave Parks and a two-yard plunge by Dave Kopay accounted for the other 49er touchdowns.

HUNCH, RIGHT GUESS AND . . .

Green Bay Takes Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vince Lombardi's hunch turned Paul Hornung loose on a five-touchdown spree in yesterday's National Football League power struggle at Baltimore but it was a right guess by Green Bay linebacker Dave Robinson that turned the corner for the Packers.

Hornung, given a reprieve by Coach Lombardi after languishing on the bench for two weeks, responded with an offensive binge that vaulted Green Bay past the crippled Colts 42-27 and into the lead in the NFL's Western Division stretch run. A defensive gem by Robinson, however, provided the momentum as the Packers all but shattered Baltimore's title hopes.

The loss dropped the Colts one-half game behind Green Bay and one-half length ahead of Chicago, which stayed alive by smashing San Francisco 61-20 as rookie flash Gale Sayers bolted for six touchdowns. The Packers can wrap it up by beating the 49ers in next Sunday's finale, regardless of how the Los Angeles and Minnesota, respectively.

The Rams upended Cleveland's Eastern Conference champions 42-7; the Vikings beat Detroit 29-7; the New York Giants topped Washington 27-10 and the Philadelphia Eagles trounced Pittsburgh 47-13 in yesterday's other games. Dallas whipped St. Louis 27-13 Saturday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League it was San Diego over Houston 37-26, Buffalo over Kansas City 34-25, Oakland over New York 24-14 and Boston over Denver 28-20.

Robinson, a third year pro from Penn State, came up with the big play for Green Bay in the final minute of the first half. The Johnny Unitas-less Colts trailed 14-13 but were driving for a go-ahead touchdown behind reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo. With the ball on the Green Bay 2, Cuozzo dropped back and lofted a flat pass in the direction of fullback Jerry Hill.

But Robinson, anticipating the pass, drifted to his left, reached up and picked it off — then raced 87 yards to the Baltimore 10. Bart Starr fired a TD pass to Boyd Dowler on the next play, boosting the Packers' halftime bulge to 21-13 and Hornung

Houston Shakeup: Richards Fired, Hatton New Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards, who came to the Houston Astros as general manager in 1961 to build up the club, is on the outside looking in today, but he isn't bitter.

Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, fired Richards yesterday and replaced Field Manager Luman Harris with Grady Hatton, manager of Houston's Oklahoma City farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Tal Smith, special assistant to Hofheinz, was named director of player personnel. Smith and Hatton will share Richards' former duties and the general manager title will be retired.

"The judge thinks that Grady and Tal can run the club better than our group," Richards said at a hurriedly called news conference set up by Hofheinz. "That's 100 per cent okay with me.

Richards said he first learned of the move about 1 p.m. Sunday but "you might say the judge (Hofheinz) and I had some long distance communication of the minds.

"I called Eddie Robinson (Astro farm director) when I landed in Miami (from Venezuela) and in that way learned about Friday's press conference."

Hatton and Hofheinz had held a news conference Friday to announce that Hatton had turned down an offer to manage the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox denied any offer was made.

"After that (when he learned of that news conference) it was obvious," Richards said.

Hofheinz had high praise for Hatton and Smith. "They are two of baseball's brightest young men and I feel that the progress of the Astros on the playing field will be swifter with Grady and Tal in charge of the playing end of the game," he said.

The terms of a new contract for Hatton presumably will be worked out in the next day or so.

Hofheinz said Harris and Robinson would be offered new jobs in the Astro organization. Robinson, at yesterday's news conference, said he'd have to talk it over with Hofheinz and with Mrs. Robinson.

Harris' contract runs through next year.

Richards was given a three-year contract when he replaced Gabe Paul in 1961 as general manager. The contract was extended through 1970 last year.

Hofheinz indicated he would buy up Richards' contract.

Hatton was named Minor League Manager of the Year this year. He guided Oklahoma City to two Pacific Coast League titles in three years.

Richards launched his managerial career with the Chicago White Sox. In 1955 he went with Baltimore as a manager and later became a combination manager-general manager.

Royal Still Undecided On Sooner Grid Offer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooner quarterback yesterday. "There are some things I'd want to talk about before I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An irate University of Texas regent said he doesn't think there is much doubt about the situation. "It sounds like it's cut and dried," he said privately yesterday.

Royal, insisting that nothing has been "seriously discussed," said, "I haven't encouraged anything . . . but I'm willing to talk about it."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Cross also said Royal's record at Texas is "among the best." Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games, won four Southwest Conference titles and were crowned the 1963 national championship team.

Kid Gridders Defeat Jockeys—By A Nose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weight limit in football?

There was in this game—the Bay Meadows jockeys against kids in the San Francisco Police Athletic League.

The weight limit was 115 pounds. The kids, the league's all-stars, defeated the jockeys by a nose, 7-6. It was the first annual Fun Bowl game, played at City College of San Francisco stadium yesterday.

Alex Perez, a Chilean-born jockey, chuckled after the game, "Just think, the first football game I ever saw and I played in it."

There were more fumbles and erratic passes from center than in most bowl games. They figured in the scoring.

The all-stars recovered a fumble on the jockeys' 13 and Randy Karp swept in with the score. Randy Shyne added the extra point that proved to be the margin of victory.

In the fourth period, the all-stars were kicking from deep in their own territory. A bad pass from center and the jockeys took over on the one-yard line. Alex Maese, tailback, took the ball over on second down, a half length ahead of the field. The try for the extra point failed when the jockeys mishandled the pass from center.

When the game ended, Maese was trying to get off a pass in the stretch that represented a bid for victory. The bid faded at the wire.

The board also approved paying $35,000 to Tudor Engineering Co., San Francisco, to make a preliminary study of a five-lane lower deck on the bridge.

L. E. Castner of Boyes Hot Springs was re-elected board president for 1966, and Alvin H. Derre, San Francisco, was re-elected vice president.

Meat Fasting Ban Is Listed For Holidays

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has acted to allow Roman Catholics to eat meat on the Fridays before the coming Christmas and New Year's holidays.

His move, making a routine yearend excepton, reinforces belief that an expected papal announcement revising Church rules on abstinence will not be made until next year. If he had planned to announce a revision before then, a special dispenstion would not have been necessary.

The Vatican announced Pope Paul has given Roman Catholics bishops around the world permission to grant dispensations from the abstinence and fasting requirement applying on the day before Christmas and the abstinence required this year on Dec. 31 because it falls on a Friday.

Youth Ignites Hall's Mattress

Paul Samuelsen, 16, ward of the court and detainee at Marin County Juvenile Hall, set his mattress on fire Friday while he was locked in his room, probation officials reported.

County firemen were called at 5:27 p.m. to extinguish the smoldering mattress. Samuelsen, who was choking from the smoke, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital. He was examined, then transferred to Napa State Hospital.

Damage at the hall was confined to the mattress.

'Fantastic, Electrifying, Unbelievable'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' unbelievable halfback, is a man in a hurry. He's in a hurry whenever he grabs a football and he has wasted no time getting into the record books.

Sayers unquestionably is the most electrifying rookie to break into the National Football League, an organization which usually demands tenure in dedication and hard work before serious goals can be reached.

Not so with Sayers, who saw little or no action in the first three games of the season, all of which the Bears lost. But in the last 10 games he has become one of the most fantastic stories in sports history.

The Kansas Comet topped it all yesterday when he scored six touchdowns in a 61-20 triumph over San Francisco. And what touchdowns they were as he tied a record set by Ernie Nevers of the Chicago Cardinals in 1929 and equalled by Dub Jones of Cleveland in 1951.

Sayers took a screen pass from Rudy Bukich and went 80 yards for his first score. Then he scored on runs of 21, 7, 50 and 1 yards before topping it off with an 85-yard punt return.

"That one was the best of all," said Sayers, "I worked hardest for it."

It was also the 21st of the season for Sayers, who smashed the NFL record of 20 set by Lennie Moore of Baltimore last year and tied by Jim Brown of Cleveland this year.

"This is the greatest performance I've ever seen by one man," said Owner-Coach George Halas, whose Bears retained a mathematical chance for a first place tie in the Western Division.

"Maybe so," said Sayers in reply to Halas "but I got blocking on every one."

Halas was aware that Sayers could have broken the touchdown record "but I couldn't let him go back in there. If he were to get hurt I'd never have forgiven myself."

Nevertheless, the 49ers were forced to punt in the final seconds and Sayers took his position on the field. The crowd, which had been chanting "we want Sayers" late in the fourth quarter, went wild as the 22-year-old phenom streaked 30 yards before slipping and being yanked by a man he had previously eluded on the return.

In all, Sayers accounted for 326 yards — 113 rushing, 89 on passes caught and 134 on punts returned — to fall five short of the record of 331 by Wally Triplett of Detroit in 1950.

To top it off, Sayers accomplished all this on a rain-slicked field.

A BIG WEEKEND FOR MARIN CAGE QUINTS

It was a big weekend for Marin County basketball teams.

Drake, Novato and Redwood placed first, second and third in the Drake High Invitational Tournament; the Tamalpais Indians advanced into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tourney against Sonoma's Dragons, and the College of Marin Tars continued to show improvement, although they lost a 65-64 heart-breaker to Santa Rosa in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference Tourney at Kentfield.

49ers Become Believers: Sayers 'The Greatest'

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Papa Bear Halas An Old Meanie; Sayers Deserved That TD Mark

Do you think Papa Bear George Halas is an old Meanie? Shake! I'm inclined to believe he beats kids and kicks puppies after the great injustice he inflicted upon his prize rookie Gale Sayers yesterday when the Chicago Bears routed the 49ers, 61-20.

After giving the greatest one-man performance in the history of the NFL, Sayers was prevented by Halas from easily breaking a single game touchdown record. Sayers already had tied the mark shared by Ernie Never and Dub Jones with six TDs, and the record-breaking seventh was his for the asking. The Bears had the ball on the 49er two and, hell, Baby Snooks or Little Orphan Annie could have scored, so why not let Sayers break the mark he so richly deserved?

BUT NO, Halas kept Sayers on the bench, and as it turned out Jon Arnett scored the TD.

Halas weakly explained that he was afraid Sayers might have been injured and he would never forgive himself. Bull, hogwash and fiddle-faddle. As a pal of mine out in the back room said, "Howinell could he get hurt? Nobody touched him all day."

Maybe Halas was afraid Sayers would run into the brick wall beyond the end zone. Or maybe he was afraid the rookie might raise a lump sum on his 1966 contract. Coach Halas, remember, is also the owner of the Bears who handles all contract negotiations. I think his action yesterday was awfully small.

RALPH CHATOIAN points out that the 49ers had a chance to draft Sayers last year, but went instead for Ken Willard and George Donnelly while the Bears, picking after the 49ers, plucked Dick Butkus and then Sayers.

Had San Francisco gone for Sayers instead of Donnelly . . . Close your eyes for a moment and picture the Windy City's Gale force in the same 49er backfield with Willard. Now open your eyes, wipe off your chin and come back to reality.

IN THE first game of the season the 49ers blasted the Bears, 52-24. Sayers made only a token appearance that day.

Yesterday's 61-20 Chicago win thus points out a 69-point improvement by the Bears. And just think, we're going to have to look at Sayers for 10 more years or so.

ONE THING seems certain: We 49er fans will have to rephrase our perennial battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" to a just plain "Wait . . ."

THE MAGIC of television was extremely unkind to us yesterday. I mean those "isolated camera action" or "instant replays" or whatever you call them. They merely rubbed salt in the wounds, because the way I saw it Sayers scored 12 touchdowns and the Bears beat us 122-40. Which is twice as bad.

I was hoping every time Sayers carried the ball the cameramen would push the stop-action button. But even in stop-action or slow motion, Sayers is too fast for anything the 49ers could offer.

WELL, WE were lucky to get out of Chicago alive. Now the 49ers come home for a "breather" against first place Green Bay. Packer Paul Hornung only scored five touchdowns against the Colts yesterday. Compared with Sayers' performance, that can be considered a breather for S.F.

Kid Gridders Defeat Jockeys—By A Nose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weight limit in football?

There was in this game—the Bay Meadows jockeys against kids in the San Francisco Police Athletic League.

The weight limit was 115 pounds. The kids, the league's all-stars, defeated the jockeys by a nose, 7-6. It was the first annual Fun Bowl game, played at City College of San Francisco stadium yesterday.

ONE OF SIX — Gale Sayers (40) of the Chicago Bears shakes off San Francosco's Kermit Alexander and romps 21 yards for a second quarter touchdown in yesterday's lopsided game in Chicago. Sayers was simply fantastic, scoring six touchdowns to equal an NFL record set in 1939 by Ernie Nevers and equalled by Cleveland's Dub Jones in 1951. It gave Sayers a one season record total of 21 TD's with still one game remaining. (UPI Telephoto)

Bears' Rookie Runs Wild In 61-20 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who last watched Gale Sayers score six touchdowns, now get a look at Paul Hornung, who managed only five.

Sayers and the Chicago Bears mangled the 49ers 61-20 back east yesterday while the Green Bay Packers moved into first place in the Western Conference by beating Baltimore 42-27 as Hornung made five touchdowns.

The Packers come to Kezar Stadium next Sunday for the last game of the season. It means little for the 49ers, except they could hand Baltimore (9-3-1) the title should they beat the Packers (10-3) and the Colts defeat the Los Angeles Rams Saturday. The Bears (9-4) play Minnesota and still have a chance for a tie.

Sayers tied the National Football League record for most touchdowns in a single game held by two others. He ran for 113 yards, caught 89 yards worth of passes and accounted for an additional 134 yards in punt returns.

The rookie from Kansas scored on an 80-yard pass, runs of 21, 7, 50, and 1 yards and an 85-yard punt return. If he keeps this up, they'll make him throw those one-yarders back.

"That's the most brilliant exhibition I've ever seen," said Y. A. Tittle, now an assistant coach for the 49ers. "This was the greatest day I've ever seen a man have."

Head coach Jack Christiansen was so impressed he left the dressing room early to go somewhere alone and contemplate the performance, thus depriving others of his critique.

"He's out of sight," said 49er defensive back Elbert Kimbrough, speaking of Sayers, not Christiansen. "He's the greatest runner I've ever seen and that includes Jimmy Brown.

"He's not a power runner like Brown," Kimbrough continued. "But, man, who needs power the way he runs?"

A good question about Sayers, who saw only limited duty when the 49ers beat the Bears 52-24 at the start of the season. Sayers got the game ball for the second time this season—breaking a Bear tradition. He got his first after scoring four touchdowns in a warm-up against Minnesota.

The 49ers actually were not that far out of it in the first half. A 15-yard pass from John Brodie to John David Crow brought the 49ers to within 20-13. Tommy Davis missed his first point-after-touchdown attempt in his seven NFL seasons after 235 successes.

But Sayers then went on a three-touchdown spree and the 49ers were deader than some of those original Gold Rushers of 116 years ago.

A nine-yard pass to Dave Parks and a two-yard plunge by Dave Kopay accounted for the other 49er touchdowns.

Green Bay Takes Lead

By DICK COUCH

Vince Lombardi's hunch turned Paul Hornung loose on a five-touchdown spree in yesterday's National Football League power struggle at Baltimore but it was a right guess by Green Bay linebacker Dave Robinson that turned the corner for the Packers.

Hornung, given a reprieve by Coach Lombardi after languishing on the bench for two weeks, responded with an offensive binge that vaulted Green Bay past the crippled Colts 42-27 and into the lead in the NFL's Western Division stretch run. A defensive gem by Robinson, however, provided the momentum as the Packers all but shattered Baltimore's title hopes.

The loss dropped the Colts one-half game behind Green Bay and one-half length ahead of Chicago, which stayed alive by smashing San Francisco 61-20 as rookie flash Gale Sayers bolted for six touchdowns. The Packers can wrap it up by beating the 49ers in next Sunday's finale, regardless of how the Los Angeles and Minnesota, respectively.

The Rams upended Cleveland's Eastern Conference champions 42-7; the Vikings beat Detroit 29-7; the New York Giants topped Washington 27-10 and the Philadelphia Eagles trounced Pittsburgh 47-13 in yesterday's other games. Dallas whipped St. Louis 27-13 Saturday.

In the American League it was San Diego over Houston 37-26, Buffalo over Kansas City 34-25, Oakland over New York 24-14 and Boston over Denver 28-20.

Robinson, a third year pro from Penn State, came up with the big play for Green Bay in the final minute of the first half. The Johnny Unitas-less Colts trailed 14-13 but were driving for a go-ahead touchdown behind reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo. With the ball on the Green Bay 2, Cuozzo dropped back and lofted a flat pass in the direction of fullback Jerry Hill.

But Robinson, anticipating the pass, drifted to his left, reached up and picked it off — then raced 87 yards to the Baltimore 10. Bart Starr fired a TD pass to Boyd Dowler on the next play, boosting the Packers' halftime bulge to 21-13 and Hornung

Houston Shakeup: Richards Fired, Hatton New Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards, who came to the Houston Astros as general manager in 1961 to build up the club, is on the outside looking in today, but he isn't bitter.

Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, fired Richards yesterday and replaced Field Manager Luman Harris with Grady Hatton, manager of Houston's Oklahoma City farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Tal Smith, special assistant to Hofheinz, was named director of player personnel. Smith and Hatton will share Richards' former duties and the general manager title will be retired.

"The judge thinks that Grady and Tal can run the club better than our group," Richards said at a hurriedly called news conference set up by Hofheinz. "That's 100 per cent okay with me.

Richards said he first learned of the move about 1 p.m. Sunday but "you might say the judge (Hofheinz) and I had some long distance communication of the minds.

"I called Eddie Robinson (Astro farm director) when I landed in Miami (from Venezuela) and in that way learned about Friday's press conference."

Hatton and Hofheinz had held a news conference Friday to announce that Hatton had turned down an offer to manage the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox denied any offer was made.

"After that (when he learned of that news conference) it was obvious," Richards said.

Hofheinz had high praise for Hatton and Smith. "They are two of baseball's brightest young men and I feel that the progress of the Astros on the playing field will be swifter with Grady and Tal in charge of the playing end of the game," he said.

The terms of a new contract for Hatton presumably will be worked out in the next day or so.

Hofheinz said Harris and Robinson would be offered new jobs in the Astro organization. Robinson, at yesterday's news conference, said he'd have to talk it over with Hofheinz and with Mrs. Robinson.

Harris' contract runs through next year.

Richards was given a three-year contract when he replaced Gabe Paul in 1961 as general manager. The contract was extended through 1970 last year.

Hofheinz indicated he would buy up Richards' contract.

Hatton was named Minor League Manager of the Year this year. He guided Oklahoma City to two Pacific Coast League titles in three years.

Richards launched his managerial career with the Chicago White Sox. In 1955 he went with Baltimore as a manager and later became a combination manager-general manager.

Royal Still Undecided On Sooner Grid Offer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooner quarterback yesterday. "There are some things I'd want to talk about before I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An irate University of Texas regent said he doesn't think there is much doubt about the situation. "It sounds like it's cut and dried," he said privately yesterday.

Royal, insisting that nothing has been "seriously discussed," said, "I haven't encouraged anything . . . but I'm willing to talk about it."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Cross also said Royal's record at Texas is "among the best." Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games, won four Southwest Conference titles and were crowned the 1963 national championship team.

'Fantastic, Electrifying, Unbelievable'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' unbelievable halfback, is a man in a hurry. He's in a hurry whenever he grabs a football and he has wasted no time getting into the record books.

Sayers unquestionably is the most electrifying rookie to break into the National Football League, an organization which usually demands tenure in dedication and hard work before serious goals can be reached.

Not so with Sayers, who saw little or no action in the first three games of the season, all of which the Bears lost. But in the last 10 games he has become one of the most fantastic stories in sports history.

The Kansas Comet topped it all yesterday when he scored six touchdowns in a 61-20 triumph over San Francisco. And what touchdowns they were as he tied a record set by Ernie Nevers of the Chicago Cardinals in 1929 and equalled by Dub Jones of Cleveland in 1951.

Sayers took a screen pass from Rudy Bukich and went 80 yards for his first score. Then he scored on runs of 21, 7, 50 and 1 yards before topping it off with an 85-yard punt return.

"That one was the best of all," said Sayers, "I worked hardest for it."

It was also the 21st of the season for Sayers, who smashed the NFL record of 20 set by Lennie Moore of Baltimore last year and tied by Jim Brown of Cleveland this year.

"This is the greatest performance I've ever seen by one man," said Owner-Coach George Halas, whose Bears retained a mathematical chance for a first place tie in the Western Division.

"Maybe so," said Sayers in reply to Halas "but I got blocking on every one."

Halas was aware that Sayers could have broken the touchdown record "but I couldn't let him go back in there. If he were to get hurt I'd never have forgiven myself."

Nevertheless, the 49ers were forced to punt in the final seconds and Sayers took his position on the field. The crowd, which had been chanting "we want Sayers" late in the fourth quarter, went wild as the 22-year-old phenom streaked 30 yards before slipping and being yanked by a man he had previously eluded on the return.

In all, Sayers accounted for 326 yards — 113 rushing, 89 on passes caught and 134 on punts returned — to fall five short of the record of 331 by Wally Triplett of Detroit in 1950.

To top it off, Sayers accomplished all this on a rain-slicked field.

A BIG WEEKEND FOR MARIN CAGE QUINTS

It was a big weekend for Marin County basketball teams.

Drake, Novato and Redwood placed first, second and third in the Drake High Invitational Tournament; the Tamalpais Indians advanced into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tourney against Sonoma's Dragons, and the College of Marin Tars continued to show improvement, although they lost a 65-64 heart-breaker to Santa Rosa in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference Tourney at Kentfield.

49ers Become Believers: Sayers 'The Greatest'

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Papa Bear Halas An Old Meanie; Sayers Deserved That TD Mark

Do you think Papa Bear George Halas is an old Meanie? Shake! I'm inclined to believe he beats kids and kicks puppies after the great injustice he inflicted upon his prize rookie Gale Sayers yesterday when the Chicago Bears routed the 49ers, 61-20.

After giving the greatest one-man performance in the history of the NFL, Sayers was prevented by Halas from easily breaking a single game touchdown record. Sayers already had tied the mark shared by Ernie Never and Dub Jones with six TDs, and the record-breaking seventh was his for the asking. The Bears had the ball on the 49er two and, hell, Baby Snooks or Little Orphan Annie could have scored, so why not let Sayers break the mark he so richly deserved?

BUT NO, Halas kept Sayers on the bench, and as it turned out Jon Arnett scored the TD.

Halas weakly explained that he was afraid Sayers might have been injured and he would never forgive himself. Bull, hogwash and fiddle-faddle. As a pal of mine out in the back room said, "Howinell could he get hurt? Nobody touched him all day."

Maybe Halas was afraid Sayers would run into the brick wall beyond the end zone. Or maybe he was afraid the rookie might raise a lump sum on his 1966 contract. Coach Halas, remember, is also the owner of the Bears who handles all contract negotiations. I think his action yesterday was awfully small.

RALPH CHATOIAN points out that the 49ers had a chance to draft Sayers last year, but went instead for Ken Willard and George Donnelly while the Bears, picking after the 49ers, plucked Dick Butkus and then Sayers.

Had San Francisco gone for Sayers instead of Donnelly . . . Close your eyes for a moment and picture the Windy City's Gale force in the same 49er backfield with Willard. Now open your eyes, wipe off your chin and come back to reality.

IN THE first game of the season the 49ers blasted the Bears, 52-24. Sayers made only a token appearance that day.

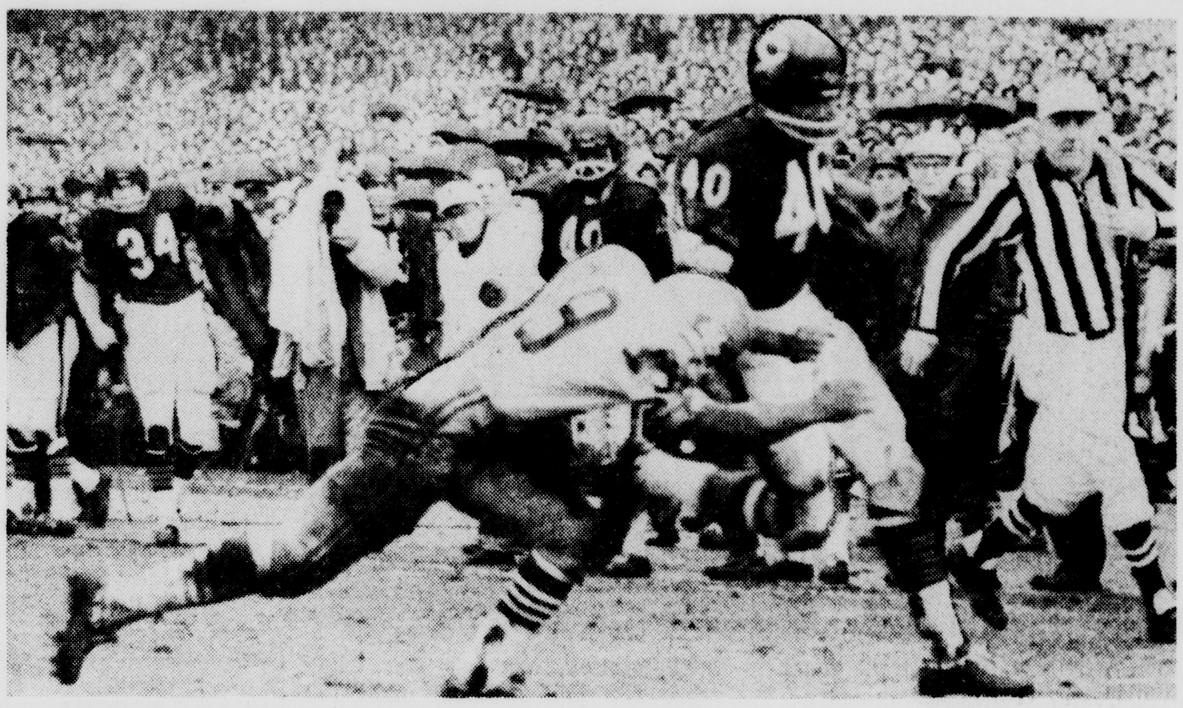
Yesterday's 61-20 Chicago win thus points out a 69-point improvement by the Bears. And just think, we're going to have to look at Sayers for 10 more years or so.

ONE THING seems certain: We 49er fans will have to rephrase our perennial battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" to a just plain "Wait . . ."

THE MAGIC of television was extremely unkind to us yesterday. I mean those "isolated camera action" or "instant replays" or whatever you call them. They merely rubbed salt in the wounds, because the way I saw it Sayers scored 12 touchdowns and the Bears beat us 122-40. Which is twice as bad.

I was hoping every time Sayers carried the ball the cameramen would push the stop-action button. But even in stop-action or slow motion, Sayers is too fast for anything the 49ers could offer.

WELL, WE were lucky to get out of Chicago alive. Now the 49ers come home for a "breather" against first place Green Bay. Packer Paul Hornung only scored five touchdowns against the Colts yesterday. Compared with Sayers' performance, that can be considered a breather for S.F.



ONE OF SIX — Gale Sayers (40) of the Chicago Bears shakes off San Francosco's Kermit Alexander and romps 21 yards for a second quarter touchdown in yesterday's lopsided game in Chicago. Sayers was simply fantastic, scoring six touchdowns to equal an NFL record set in 1939 by Ernie Nevers and equalled by Cleveland's Dub Jones in 1951. It gave Sayers a one season record total of 21 TD's with still one game remaining. (UPI Telephoto)

Bears' Rookie Runs Wild In 61-20 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who last watched Gale Sayers score six touchdowns, now get a look at Paul Hornung, who managed only five.

Sayers and the Chicago Bears mangled the 49ers 61-20 back east yesterday while the Green Bay Packers moved into first place in the Western Conference by beating Baltimore 42-27 as Hornung made five touchdowns.

The Packers come to Kezar Stadium next Sunday for the last game of the season. It means little for the 49ers, except they could hand Baltimore (9-3-1) the title should they beat the Packers (10-3) and the Colts defeat the Los Angeles Rams Saturday. The Bears (9-4) play Minnesota and still have a chance for a tie.

Sayers tied the National Football League record for most touchdowns in a single game held by two others. He ran for 113 yards, caught 89 yards worth of passes and accounted for an additional 134 yards in punt returns.

The rookie from Kansas scored on an 80-yard pass, runs of 21, 7, 50, and 1 yards and an 85-yard punt return. If he keeps this up, they'll make him throw those one-yarders back.

"That's the most brilliant exhibition I've ever seen," said Y. A. Tittle, now an assistant coach for the 49ers. "This was the greatest day I've ever seen a man have."

Head coach Jack Christiansen was so impressed he left the dressing room early to go somewhere alone and contemplate the performance, thus depriving others of his critique.

"He's out of sight," said 49er defensive back Elbert Kimbrough, speaking of Sayers, not Christiansen. "He's the greatest runner I've ever seen and that includes Jimmy Brown.

"He's not a power runner like Brown," Kimbrough continued. "But, man, who needs power the way he runs?"

A good question about Sayers, who saw only limited duty when the 49ers beat the Bears 52-24 at the start of the season. Sayers got the game ball for the second time this season—breaking a Bear tradition. He got his first after scoring four touchdowns in a warm-up against Minnesota.

The 49ers actually were not that far out of it in the first half. A 15-yard pass from John Brodie to John David Crow brought the 49ers to within 20-13. Tommy Davis missed his first point-after-touchdown attempt in his seven NFL seasons after 235 successes.

But Sayers then went on a three-touchdown spree and the 49ers were deader than some of those original Gold Rushers of 116 years ago.

A nine-yard pass to Dave Parks and a two-yard plunge by Dave Kopay accounted for the other 49er touchdowns.

Royal Still Undecided On Sooner Grid Offer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooner quarterback yesterday. "There are some things I'd want to talk about before I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An irate University of Texas regent said he doesn't think there is much doubt about the situation. "It sounds like it's cut and dried," he said privately yesterday.

Royal, insisting that nothing has been "seriously discussed," said, "I haven't encouraged anything . . . but I'm willing to talk about it."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Cross also said Royal's record at Texas is "among the best." Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games, won four Southwest Conference titles and were crowned the 1963 national championship team.

Kid Gridders Defeat Jockeys—By A Nose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weight limit in football?

There was in this game—the Bay Meadows jockeys against kids in the San Francisco Police Athletic League.

The weight limit was 115 pounds. The kids, the league's all-stars, defeated the jockeys by a nose, 7-6. It was the first annual Fun Bowl game, played at City College of San Francisco stadium yesterday.

Alex Perez, a Chilean-born jockey, chuckled after the game, "Just think, the first football game I ever saw and I played in it."

There were more fumbles and erratic passes from center than in most bowl games. They figured in the scoring.

The all-stars recovered a fumble on the jockeys' 13 and Randy Karp swept in with the score. Randy Shyne added the extra point that proved to be the margin of victory.

In the fourth period, the all-stars were kicking from deep in their own territory. A bad pass from center and the jockeys took over on the one-yard line. Alex Maese, tailback, took the ball over on second down, a half length ahead of the field. The try for the extra point failed when the jockeys mishandled the pass from center.

When the game ended, Maese was trying to get off a pass in the stretch that represented a bid for victory. The bid faded at the wire.

Pirates Down Novato; Redwood Places Third

Drake High School won its own tournament Saturday night when the Pirate basketballers beat Novato's Hornets 52-46 in the championship game.

It was the Drake Invitational Tournament that included four Marin County teams, three San Francisco squads and one from Napa. Redwood won third place in the tourney with a 77-67 victory over Balboa of S.F., Washington (San Francisco) took fifth with a 67-51 triumph over Terra Linda, and Napa was seventh with a 92-79 win over Lick-Wilmerding in the tourney's highest scoring game.

Novato was cold in the start of the championship game, hitting only five points in the first quarter. Drake jumped out to an 8-0 lead on four straight buckets from outside. The Pirate defense was tough and caused Novato to force its shots.

By halftime, Drake had a 29-23 lead, but the Hornets of Novato outscored the Pirates in the third quarter 12-6 to knot the game at the three-quarter mark 35-35. From there it was close until Druke pushed through five free throws to reach its total of 52 points. Will Curley, voted the most valuable player of the tourney, made four of those five free tosses.

REBOUNDS EVEN

The Pirates made 19 of 58 shots from the floor for 33 per cent, to Novato's 14 of 54 for 26 per cent. Both teams were even in rebounds, 31 each, and Drake's Bob Tobin was high man with 13.

The big match of the night was Curley guarding Novato ace John Dolinsek, who had scored 32 points against Redwood the night before. Dolinsek was held to only 10 points by Curley. Chet Carlisle was the big scorer for Drake with 19 points, and Novato was led by Tom Corder with 16. Each team used only six players in the game.

SMITH HIGH

Redwood again was led by Russ Smith against Balboa, the 6-1 guard hitting 20 points. He tied Balboa's Pat Ham for game high scoring honors.

The game wasn't as "close" as the final 10-point deficit shows, as the Giants had a 71-43 lead at the three-quarter mark. Emptying the bench, Redwood's reserves gave up 24 points in the final quarter.

Redwood hit 31 buckets in 72 attempts (43 per cent) and Balboa hit 25 of 70 for 36 per cent. In free throws, it was Redwood with 15 of 24 and Balboa with 17 of 33. Balboa won in rebounds, 40-34, Ham with 20 of them.

Terra Linda played Washington, a team that was picked to win the tourney, about even in the first quarter but the Eagles spurted out with a 20-point second quarter to take a 32-23 halftime lead. Then Washington kept control of the boards against the smaller Trojansand never gave up the lead. The Eagles out-rebounded the Trojans 40-26.

ACE AGAINST ACE—Drake guard Will Curley (13) makes things difficult for Novato's John Dolinsek during the final game of the Drake Invitational Saturday night. Curley held Dolinsek, Novato's star who scored 32 points Friday night, to just 10 points. That was one of the reasons the judges voted Curley most valuable player in the tournament.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Jurgen May of East Germany, who ran the world's second fastest mile in 3:53.8 last Saturday, said today he will be running the 880 yards event in Auckland Dec. 15.

Originally May was expected to meet Kenya's Kipchoge Keino and top New Zealand runners in the mile.

Auckland Athletic Association Chairman Bob Cheater indicated he is not happy with May's changed plans. He said no final decision has been reached and he preferred not to make any further comment.

Marin Bows To Santa Rosa In Thrilling Cage Finals

A pair of free throws by Bob Butler in the waning seconds of play gave the Santa Rosa Cubs a spine-tingling 65-64 victory over defending champion College of Marin Saturday night in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference basketball tournament at Kentfield.

Butler's charity tosses put the Bear Cubs out in a 65-62 lead and rendered useless Tar Jim Halm's field goal at the final buzzer, capping the tournament that in two days crammed 11 games into the Marin gymnasium—seven on Saturday.

The last three games on the schedule were decided by one point each—indicating a well-balanced conference. Yuba nipped American River 78-77 for third place and Sierra copped the consolation championship with an 80-78 squeeker over Napa.

Earlier in the day, Marin and Santa Rosa won semi-finals, the Tars with an 89-79 upset over pre-tourney favorite American River and the Bear Cubs with an 83-63 romp over Yuba.

Injury and foul trouble hampered Marin's championship bid. Forward Fred Arnold, who fouled out of Friday night's game against Siskiyous and had four penalties in Saturday's semi-final duel with American River, picked up three in the early stages against Santa Rosa and finally fouled out midway through the second half.

Halm, the big Tar center who leads the league in courage, played on an injured knee and though he played well, he still was below full strength.

In spite of those handicaps, the Tars raced off to a surprising 42-35 halftime lead, thanks mainly to 12 points by Arnold and 9 by Larry Wolfe.

But the Bear Cubs quickly caught up early in the second half and the two teams seesawed right down to the wire with Butler's free throws providing the margin of victory for the northerners.

Center John Karlin led the Santa Rosa attack with 20 points, followed by Butler with 15 and Ron McEntire with 10.

ACE AGAINST ACE—Drake guard Will Curley (13) makes things difficult for Novato's John Dolinsek during the final game of the Drake Invitational Saturday night. Curley held Dolinsek, Novato's star who scored 32 points Friday night, to just 10 points. That was one of the reasons the judges voted Curley most valuable player in the tournament.

3:53.8 Mile By E. German

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Jurgen May of East Germany, who ran the world's second fastest mile in 3:53.8 last Saturday, said today he will be running the 880 yards event in Auckland Dec. 15.

Originally May was expected to meet Kenya's Kipchoge Keino and top New Zealand runners in the mile.

Auckland Athletic Association Chairman Bob Cheater indicated he is not happy with May's changed plans. He said no final decision has been reached and he preferred not to make any further comment.

Marin Bows To Santa Rosa In Thrilling Cage Finals

A pair of free throws by Bob Butler in the waning seconds of play gave the Santa Rosa Cubs a spine-tingling 65-64 victory over defending champion College of Marin Saturday night in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference basketball tournament at Kentfield.

Butler's charity tosses put the Bear Cubs out in a 65-62 lead and rendered useless Tar Jim Halm's field goal at the final buzzer, capping the tournament that in two days crammed 11 games into the Marin gymnasium—seven on Saturday.

The last three games on the schedule were decided by one point each—indicating a well-balanced conference. Yuba nipped American River 78-77 for third place and Sierra copped the consolation championship with an 80-78 squeeker over Napa.

Earlier in the day, Marin and Santa Rosa won semi-finals, the Tars with an 89-79 upset over pre-tourney favorite American River and the Bear Cubs with an 83-63 romp over Yuba.

Injury and foul trouble hampered Marin's championship bid. Forward Fred Arnold, who fouled out of Friday night's game against Siskiyous and had four penalties in Saturday's semi-final duel with American River, picked up three in the early stages against Santa Rosa and finally fouled out midway through the second half.

Halm, the big Tar center who leads the league in courage, played on an injured knee and though he played well, he still was below full strength.

In spite of those handicaps, the Tars raced off to a surprising 42-35 halftime lead, thanks mainly to 12 points by Arnold and 9 by Larry Wolfe.

But the Bear Cubs quickly caught up early in the second half and the two teams seesawed right down to the wire with Butler's free throws providing the margin of victory for the northerners.

Center John Karlin led the Santa Rosa attack with 20 points, followed by Butler with 15 and Ron McEntire with 10.

Tam's Indians, led by Steve Johnson with 22 points, dumped Ukiah 54-33 in a semi-final game Saturday. It was evident it wasn't going to be a match by helftime when the Indians had a 33-15 lead.

Ed Chavez, Tam's coach, said he feels his team is just starting to jell. Besides Johnson's fine performance, Chavez had praise for the rebounding of Honor Jackson.

Tam won its opening game of the toureny Friday night against Petaluma, 52-46, to earn the berth in the semi-finals. Tonight's championship game will be on the Healdsburg High School court.

Raiders Clinch Runner-Up Spot

OAKLAND (AP) — The next time Joe Namath visits Oakland, there'll be a suitable arena to showcase a $400,000 quarterback.

The Jets' golden rookie paid his first and last visit Sunday to Frank Youell Field, the temporary home of the Oakland Raiders. And, if there were a few wet eyes in the joint while the band played "Auld Lang Syne" as the game was ending, it wasn't because anyone was choked up about never seeing the place again.

Namath and the Jets were entitled to a good cry after losing 24-14 to Oakland. But so were the Raiders, who play next season in their new triple-tiered 50,000 seat Coliseum, part of a $30 million complex. Fans will lean back in individually contoured plastic seats instead of the hard wooden benches at Youell.

Before halftime, the Raiders knew San Diego had clinched the Western Division title in the American Football League by beating Houston 37-26 in Texas. The Raiders did insure a second-place finish no matter what happens next Sunday in their season finale at San Diego.

The Jets could have clinched second place in the Eastern Division. Now they must beat division champ Buffalo next Sunday unless last-place Boston can upset Houston.

Instead of landing solidly in second, the Jets skidded all over Youell Field, which drained like a sponge after heavy rains Saturday. The most noticeable skid came with a little more than five minutes remaining, the score tied 14-14 and the Jets on the move.

Namath, who completed 19 of 36 passes for 280 yards with the help of a newly-installed triple wing offense, threw a perfect strike to the spot where Bake Turner was supposed to be.

But Turner slipped on a swampy portion of the field and Dave Grayson intercepted on the 22 and ran it to the Oakland 41, one yard from the original line of scrimmage.

The Raiders drove to the New York 15 from where Mike Mercer stepped back and booted a 22-yard field goal with 2:28 remaining for the go-ahead points. Clem Daniels ran 30 yards to a touchdown with 39 seconds left, a little Christmas present from the Jets because the teams won't be able to get together Dec. 25.

"One of the reasons we put the triple wing in was that we expected a bad field," commented Namath, who suffered three interceptions. "But we didn't expect it to be this lousy."

Despite the mud, Namath pulled the Jets even in the third quarter after being behind 14-0 at half. A 62-yard touchdown pass to Turner and a 43-yarder to Don Maynard did the job with each receiver providing most of the yardage with his feet after Oakland defenders tried vainly for interceptions.

Oakland quarterback Tom Flores, who skidded around in hitting 12 of 29 passes for 219 yards, held a five-minute class in the perils of slippery Youell after the contest.

But his 66-yard pass to Art Powell as the first quarter ended set up Daniels' one - yard plunge and Flores hit Powell with a 23-yard touchdown pass later in the period on a great catch.

"Don't look back. It's better that way," said one fan to another. "Believe me, it's better."

PACKERS COP LEAD; RAMS RIP BROWNS

The three-time NFL scoring king ran for three touchdowns and tallied on 50 and 65-yard pass-run plays from Starr. The 65-yarder killed a last-gasp rally by the Colts and gave Hornung a club record for TDs in a single game.

"I guess that takes me off the Atlanta list," he quippd afterward, in referenc to the stockpile of NFL talent to be made available to the new Atlanta franchise next season.

LIKE A ROOKIE

"I never felt better than I did in practice this week," he said. "The other guys were kidding me just like a rookie and before the game I felt I was ready for a big day."

Until Lombardi gave him the green light against the Colts, Hornung had scored only three touchdowns and had lost his starting job to Elijah Pitts. "It was a hunch — but Hornung's a pressure player," the coachs aid of his decision to start the eight-year veteran yesterday. With Unitas on crutches — result of a mangled knee inflicted by the blitzing Bears last weekend — and Cuozzo slowed by a shoulder injury in the second half, the Colts' attack couldn't keep pace with Hornung and Starr, who completed 10 of his 17 pass attempts for 222 yards. Cuozzo hit on 20 of 38 for 212 yards and one touchdown.

Sayers shocked San Francisco with a one-man show that set a single-game NFL mark of 336 yards rushing, receiving and returning kicks. His six touchdowns gave him a total of 21 for the year — one more than the league record set by Baltimore's Lenny Moore last season and matched by Cleveland's Jim Brown this year.

GABRIEL STARS

Roman Gabriel sparked the Rams' upset of Cleveland by tossing five TD passes and running for a sixth score. The Rams held Jim Brown to 20 yards in 13 carries while winning their third in a row. Tommy McDonald caught three Gabriel scoring strikes on plays that covered 46, 42 and 43 yards.

Minnesota snapped a four-game losing streak as Fran Tarkenton fired two first-half TD passes, Fred Cox booted two long field goals and Ed Sharockman scored on a 40-yard interception return.

Earl Morrall hit Homer Jones with a pair of scoring bombs, good for 74 and 72 yards, in the Giants' victory at Washington, which kept them in second place in the East. The Giants cancl clinch berth in the NFL Playoff Bowl at Miami if they get by Dallas next Sunday.

Philadelphia defenders intercepted nine Pittsburgh passes, running three back for touchdowns, in the Eagles' one-sided victory. The loss was No. 11 for the Steelers in 13 games, their worst record in 21 years.

Warriors Lower Sights

NEW YORK (AP) — Their thoughts of beating Boston shattered, the San Francisco Warriors have lowered their sights to what might be easier prey.

The Warriors will try to bounce back from an overwhelming 143-106 defeat by Boston Saturday when they take on the New York Knickerbockers tomorrow night.

San Francisco has beaten the Knickerbockers twice and lost to them only once this year. The Knicks are in the Eastern Division cellar, nine games behind first-place Boston.

The Celtics showed champion form when they sprinted to a 17-4 lead in the first five minutes and dazzled San Francisco for the remainder of the game. Boston padded its lead with a 42-point output in the third period.

The final score was the Celtics' highest single game total of the season. The previous high was 134 points against Detroit in Providence.

Eight members of the Celtics scored in double figures, topped by Tom Sanders with 24 points. Larry Siegried finished with 18, Willie Naulls had 16.

Seals Win, But Tough Road Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals, warmed by a victory over Los Angeles, will need all the steam that high scorer Wayne Connelly can produce when they meet Victoria Friday.

The Seals defeated the Los Angeles Blades 3-1 last Saturday night after three dismal losses. But Los Angeles had been flirting with the Western Hockey League cellar while the Victoria Maple Leafs are in first place.

Connelly scored the Seals' final goal Saturday, after Jerry Brisson made two points. Many of Connelly's scoring sprees have come in games which San Francisco eventually lost.

One example was Friday's 5-4 defeat by Hershey, Pa., of the American Hockey League.

Saturday's game with Los Angeles ended a seesaw series, with the teams commuting between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Brisson scored first, then Blade wing Leo Labine tied the match. Brisson intercepted a Los Angeles pass and put the Seals ahead to stay.

The win gave San Francisco a record of 8 victories against 11 losses and two ties for the year.

L.A. State Captures Camellia Bowl Tilt

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It took Los Angeles State's Ray Jones only about 13 seconds Saturday to show the University of California at Santa Barbara and a Camellia Bowl crowd of 3,500 why he's a Little All-American.

That's how long Jones needed to race 90 yards for a touchdown with the second half kickoff, as his Diablos came from behind to whip UCSB 18-10 and win the Western Region championship of the NCAA's college division.

Jones, a 5-11, 200-pound senior, ran for two other touchdowns in scoring all his team's points. He also completed four of seven passes for 34 yards and played all the way on defense.

It was a defensive play by Jones, in fact, that insured the victory for Coach Homer Beatty's Diablos.

With less than two minutes left in the game, the Gauchos had driven to the Los Angeles State 6-yard line. Then a pitchout to fullback Mike Thomas went astray and it was Jones who recovered the ball to put the game on ice.

Salinas Or Woodland In Cal Loop?

SAN JOSE (AP) — Ed Mulligan, California League president, is deciding between Salinas and Woodland as the city to own an eighth franchise in the league in 1966.

Directors met Saturday in San Jose and approved the eight-team league. Reno and Modesto, cities that had franchises in 1964 but not in 1965, were selected for 1966 franchises.

Salinas, which dropped its franchise after the 1965 season, re-applied. Woodland applied for a new franchise. The Chicago Cubs offered to sponsor a team at either site.

The Reno team will be operated by George Basta who operated the team in 1964. Joe Gagliardi, a San Jose real estate and insurance man, will operate the Modesto team.

Mulligan said the 1966 season would be 140 games long in a split schedule beginning April 19 and ending Sept. 5.

McKeever Still In Critical Condition

LONG BEACH (AP) — Former University of Southern California football star Mike McKeever remained in a coma for the ninth straight day today from head injuries received in an auto accident.

McKeever, 25, underwent surgery last Thursday to remove blood clots from his brain. Officials at Long Beach Memorial Hospital said he is still in critical condition.

66-YARD PASS PLAY — Oakland Raiders end Art Powell gets out in frofnt of New York Jets defenders Cornell Gordon (48) and Dainard Paulson (40) to gather in Tom Flores' pass in the first period yesterday for a 66-yard gain. Two plays later Clem Daniels ran Oakland's first touchdown, starting the Raiders off to a 24-14 win. (UPI Telephoto)

Raiders Clinch Runner-Up Spot

OAKLAND (AP) — The next time Joe Namath visits Oakland, there'll be a suitable arena to showcase a $400,000 quarterback.

The Jets' golden rookie paid his first and last visit Sunday to Frank Youell Field, the temporary home of the Oakland Raiders. And, if there were a few wet eyes in the joint while the band played "Auld Lang Syne" as the game was ending, it wasn't because anyone was choked up about never seeing the place again.

Namath and the Jets were entitled to a good cry after losing 24-14 to Oakland. But so were the Raiders, who play next season in their new triple-tiered 50,000 seat Coliseum, part of a $30 million complex. Fans will lean back in individually contoured plastic seats instead of the hard wooden benches at Youell.

Before halftime, the Raiders knew San Diego had clinched the Western Division title in the American Football League by beating Houston 37-26 in Texas. The Raiders did insure a second-place finish no matter what happens next Sunday in their season finale at San Diego.

The Jets could have clinched second place in the Eastern Division. Now they must beat division champ Buffalo next Sunday unless last-place Boston can upset Houston.

Instead of landing solidly in second, the Jets skidded all over Youell Field, which drained like a sponge after heavy rains Saturday. The most noticeable skid came with a little more than five minutes remaining, the score tied 14-14 and the Jets on the move.

Namath, who completed 19 of 36 passes for 280 yards with the help of a newly-installed triple wing offense, threw a perfect strike to the spot where Bake Turner was supposed to be.

But Turner slipped on a swampy portion of the field and Dave Grayson intercepted on the 22 and ran it to the Oakland 41, one yard from the original line of scrimmage.

The Raiders drove to the New York 15 from where Mike Mercer stepped back and booted a 22-yard field goal with 2:28 remaining for the go-ahead points. Clem Daniels ran 30 yards to a touchdown with 39 seconds left, a little Christmas present from the Jets because the teams won't be able to get together Dec. 25.

"One of the reasons we put the triple wing in was that we expected a bad field," commented Namath, who suffered three interceptions. "But we didn't expect it to be this lousy."

Despite the mud, Namath pulled the Jets even in the third quarter after being behind 14-0 at half. A 62-yard touchdown pass to Turner and a 43-yarder to Don Maynard did the job with each receiver providing most of the yardage with his feet after Oakland defenders tried vainly for interceptions.

Oakland quarterback Tom Flores, who skidded around in hitting 12 of 29 passes for 219 yards, held a five-minute class in the perils of slippery Youell after the contest.

But his 66-yard pass to Art Powell as the first quarter ended set up Daniels' one - yard plunge and Flores hit Powell with a 23-yard touchdown pass later in the period on a great catch.

"Don't look back. It's better that way," said one fan to another. "Believe me, it's better."

PACKERS COP LEAD; RAMS RIP BROWNS

The three-time NFL scoring king ran for three touchdowns and tallied on 50 and 65-yard pass-run plays from Starr. The 65-yarder killed a last-gasp rally by the Colts and gave Hornung a club record for TDs in a single game.

"I guess that takes me off the Atlanta list," he quippd afterward, in referenc to the stockpile of NFL talent to be made available to the new Atlanta franchise next season.

LIKE A ROOKIE

"I never felt better than I did in practice this week," he said. "The other guys were kidding me just like a rookie and before the game I felt I was ready for a big day."

Until Lombardi gave him the green light against the Colts, Hornung had scored only three touchdowns and had lost his starting job to Elijah Pitts. "It was a hunch — but Hornung's a pressure player," the coachs aid of his decision to start the eight-year veteran yesterday.

With Unitas on crutches — result of a mangled knee inflicted by the blitzing Bears last weekend — and Cuozzo slowed by a shoulder injury in the second half, the Colts' attack couldn't keep pace with Hornung and Starr, who completed 10 of his 17 pass attempts for 222 yards. Cuozzo hit on 20 of 38 for 212 yards and one touchdown.

Sayers shocked San Francisco with a one-man show that set a single-game NFL mark of 336 yards rushing, receiving and returning kicks. His six touchdowns gave him a total of 21 for the year — one more than the league record set by Baltimore's Lenny Moore last season and matched by Cleveland's Jim Brown this year.

GABRIEL STARS

Roman Gabriel sparked the Rams' upset of Cleveland by tossing five TD passes and running for a sixth score. The Rams held Jim Brown to 20 yards in 13 carries while winning their third in a row. Tommy McDonald caught three Gabriel scoring strikes on plays that covered 46, 42 and 43 yards.

Minnesota snapped a four-game losing streak as Fran Tarkenton fired two first-half TD passes, Fred Cox booted two long field goals and Ed Sharockman scored on a 40-yard interception return.

Earl Morrall hit Homer Jones with a pair of scoring bombs, good for 74 and 72 yards, in the Giants' victory at Washington, which kept them in second place in the East. The Giants cancl clinch berth in the NFL Playoff Bowl at Miami if they get by Dallas next Sunday.

Philadelphia defenders intercepted nine Pittsburgh passes, running three back for touchdowns, in the Eagles' one-sided victory. The loss was No. 11 for the Steelers in 13 games, their worst record in 21 years.

Warriors Lower Sights

NEW YORK (AP) — Their thoughts of beating Boston shattered, the San Francisco Warriors have lowered their sights to what might be easier prey.

The Warriors will try to bounce back from an overwhelming 143-106 defeat by Boston Saturday when they take on the New York Knickerbockers tomorrow night.

San Francisco has beaten the Knickerbockers twice and lost to them only once this year. The Knicks are in the Eastern Division cellar, nine games behind first-place Boston.

The Celtics showed champion form when they sprinted to a 17-4 lead in the first five minutes and dazzled San Francisco for the remainder of the game. Boston padded its lead with a 42-point output in the third period.

The final score was the Celtics' highest single game total of the season. The previous high was 134 points against Detroit in Providence.

Eight members of the Celtics scored in double figures, topped by Tom Sanders with 24 points. Larry Siegried finished with 18. Willie Naulls had 16.

Seals Win, But Tough Road Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals, warmed by a victory over Los Angeles, will need all the steam that high scorer Wayne Connelly can produce when they meet Victoria Friday.

The Seals defeated the Los Angeles Blades 3-1 last Saturday night after three dismal losses. But Los Angeles had been flirting with the Western Hockey League cellar while the Victoria Maple Leafs are in first place.

Connelly scored the Seals' final goal Saturday, after Jerry Brisson made two points. Many of Connelly's scoring sprees have come in games which San Francisco eventually lost.

One example was Friday's 5-4 defeat by Hershey, Pa., of the American Hockey League.

Saturday's game with Los Angeles ended a seesaw series, with the teams commuting between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Brisson scored first, then Blade wing Leo Labine tied the match. Brisson intercepted a Los Angeles pass and put the Seals ahead to stay.

The win gave San Francisco a record of 8 victories against 11 losses and two ties for the year.

L.A. State Captures Camellia Bowl Tilt

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It took Los Angeles State's Ray Jones only about 13 seconds Saturday to show the University of California at Santa Barbara and a Camellia Bowl crowd of 3,500 why he's a Little All-American.

That's how long Jones needed to race 90 yards for a touchdown with the second half kickoff, as his Diablos came from behind to whip UCSB 18-10 and win the Western Region championship of the NCAA's college division.

Jones, a 5-11, 200-pound senior, ran for two other touchdowns in scoring all his team's points. He also completed four of seven passes for 34 yards and played all the way on defense.

It was a defensive play by Jones, in fact, that insured the victory for Coach Homer Beatty's Diablos.

With less than two minutes left in the game, the Gauchos had driven to the Los Angeles State 6-yard line. Then a pitchout to fullback Mike Thomas went astray and it was Jones who recovered the ball to put the game on ice.

Salinas Or Woodland In Cal Loop?

SAN JOSE (AP) — Ed Mulligan, California League president, is deciding between Salinas and Woodland as the city to own an eighth franchise in the league in 1966.

Directors met Saturday in San Jose and approved the eight-team league. Reno and Modesto, cities that had franchises in 1964 but not in 1965, were selected for 1966 franchises.

Salinas, which dropped its franchise after the 1965 season, re-applied. Woodland applied for a new franchise. The Chicago Cubs offered to sponsor a team at either site.

The Reno team will be operated by George Basta who operated the team in 1964. Joe Gagliardi, a San Jose real estate and insurance man, will operate the Modesto team.

Mulligan said the 1966 season would be 140 games long in a split schedule beginning April 19 and ending Sept. 5.

McKeever Still In Critical Condition

LONG BEACH (AP) — Former University of Southern California football star Mike McKeever remained in a coma for the ninth straight day today from head injuries received in an auto accident.

McKeever, 25, underwent surgery last Thursday to remove blood clots from his brain. Officials at Long Beach Memorial Hospital said he is still in critical condition.

Today is Monday, Dec. 13, the 347th day of 1965 with 18 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter; the morning stars are Jupiter and Mercury; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1642, New Zealand was discovered by Dutch navigator Abel Tasman.

In 1918, American soldiers attached to the Third Army crossed the Rhine River at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1937, Japanese soldiers captured Nanking, China, and began systematically to loot the city.

A Thought for the Day — British novelist A. Conan Doyle said: "Whenever you have eliminated the impossible whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

He Learns To Solve Problems Of Life While Writing Column

The advantage of reading a bridge column is that you learn what to do in life's little emergencies.

For example, when your wife tells you that she can get a mink coat at an unbelievable bargain price you can show her today's hand.

♣ Q 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks your partner to bid a major suit if he can. If partner bids spades or hearts, you plan to raise to game.

If partner bids two diamonds, denying a major suit, you plan to bid two hearts.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led her singleton heart to dummy's king.

When this held the trick South smiled happily: she had just found something for nothing.

SERIES OF RUFFS

Declarer took the ace of diamond, ruffed a heart, ruffed another diamond and ruffed another heart.

When South then led her last diamond, West stepped up with the ten of trumps and returned a trump to clear the North and South hands of trumps.

South had to lead clubs, and West defeated the contract with a club, the last trump and the ace of hearts.

SHOULD MAKE CONTRACT

South can make the contract, of course, by refusing the bargain in hearts.

After winning the second trick with the king of hearts, declarer should immediately return the queen of hearts, discarding a club from her hand.

West can get the ace of hearts and two trumps, but South wins the rest without any trouble.

Declarer's plan is to discard the rest of the clubs on dummy's hearts. Then South cashes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy, takes the ace of clubs and ruffs another diamond in dummy.

It is then time to lead the last heart and discard the last diamond from the South hand.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

He Learns To Solve Problems Of Life While Writing Column

The advantage of reading a bridge column is that you learn what to do in life's little emergencies.

For example, when your wife tells you that she can get a mink coat at an unbelievable bargain price you can show her today's hand.

♥ K Q J 10 7
♦ 5
♣ Q 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks your partner to bid a major suit if he can. If partner bids spades or hearts, you plan to raise to game.

If partner bids two diamonds, denying a major suit, you plan to bid two hearts.

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led her singleton heart to dummy's king.

When this held the trick South smiled happily: she had just found something for nothing.

SERIES OF RUFFS

Declarer took the ace of diamond, ruffed a heart, ruffed another diamond and ruffed another heart.

When South then led her last diamond, West stepped up with the ten of trumps and returned a trump to clear the North and South hands of trumps.

South had to lead clubs, and West defeated the contract with a club, the last trump and the ace of hearts.

SHOULD MAKE CONTRACT

South can make the contract, of course, by refusing the bargain in hearts.

After winning the second trick with the king of hearts, declarer should immediately return the queen of hearts, discarding a club from her hand.

West can get the ace of hearts and two trumps, but South wins the rest without any trouble.

Declarer's plan is to discard the rest of the clubs on dummy's hearts. Then South cashes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy, takes the ace of clubs and ruffs another diamond in dummy.

It is then time to lead the last heart and discard the last diamond from the South hand.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Getting Credit For Dependents

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

How much have your dependents earned so far in 1965? If your dependent is not a child under nineteen or a student, you lose the dependency credit if his earnings are $600 or more. You should be sure your dependent does not earn over $600 for 1965 even if it means stopping work in December because each dependency credit is worth at least $85 at the lowest tax rate in actual dollars.

P. J. Wikel

If your dependent is a child under 19, or is a student, and you furnish over half the cost of his support, he can earn any amount and you can still claim him.

If your son or daughter was married in 1965 and you furnished over one-half of his support and he was under 19 or a student, then be sure that he does not file a joint return with his spouse. You can claim his dependency credit and the child can file a separate return for his own income. In California the married couple can split the community income after marriage and file separate returns.

If you and your brothers or sisters jointly support your parents, and the parents have income of less than $600 and one of you in unmarried, then that unmarried one should make sufficient payments so that he furnishes over half the cost of maintaining the household for at least one of your parents and he will then be able to claim Head of Household as well as the dependency credit for one of the parents. This could result in considerable tax advantage to the unmarried brother or sister.

Do you contribute to the support of a dependent, but cannot claim him on your Federal or California return because you do not furnish over one-half of his support?

If your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you:

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent to the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact that he did not contribute more than 50 per cent to the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided:

1. The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and

2. Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent of the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1965.

An agreement Form 2120 must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreements must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent. You cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

Airlines Show Late Strength In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines showed late strength and the stock market closed mixed today. Trading was active.

General Dynamics opened late under an accumulation of buy orders due to weekend news that it would build the FB111 bomber. It trimmed about a point from a 5-point jump.

Grumman, also a beneficiary of the project, was up around a point at best.

Schering held a gain of around 4 most of the time as a standout in the drug section.

Steels advanced as a group amid brightening prospects but gains were moderate.

Big Three motors were slightly lower most of the session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.6 million shares compared with 8.75 million on Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

General Dynamics leaped 5¼ to 66¾ on a delayed opening block of 85,000 shares after orders accumulated on news that the company is to build the new FB-111 bomber.

Grumman, also involved in the bomber project, rose more than a point.

Steels, spurred by a report of brisk demand from the construction field, moved ahead in a body. Gains of less than a point were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

Xerox jumped 7 points. Polaroid was up more than 3, U.S. Smelting nearly 3.

Gains of a point or more were made by Raytheon, High Voltage Engineering, GM, Boeing, Goodyear, Air Reduction, United Air Lines, General Aniline, United Artists, Addressograph and Brown, Sharpe.

Insurance Co. of North America and Texas Instruments advanced about 4 each.

The averages were dampened by Du Pont, off more than 3. IBM lost 2, Best Foods nearly 2.

All big three motors took small losses.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

A. VON ROTZ
Will retire

Contractor Von Rotz Is Retiring

Veteran building contractor A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo will build no more homes in Marin County hills.

The Swiss-born cabinet maker, who came to the county in 1922, opened his own cabinet shop at 40 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, a few years later and then went into building houses, said he is retiring from construction work. Coincidentally Van Rotz, now 69, announced closing of his cabinet shop and mill, which has remained at the same location since 1929.

In place of this business the premises will be converted into a new enterprise: Building Supply Center, to be operated by Von Rotz's sons-in-law Orlando F. Denning and James E. Simon, and to open Dec. 15. The company will handle builder's supplies, hardware, lumber and garden supplies.

It will be under management of Tom Perkins, who has been with Von Rotz since 1938.

Last building project of Von Rotz is a small shopping center, nearing completion at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Oak Manor Drive at the northwest boundary of Fairfax. He also developed the nearby Oak Manor residential area which extends high into the hills and to within a few hundred yards of the hillside homes above Sleepy Hollow.

"The shopping center is almost completed and Oak Manor is just about sold out," he said. "There isn't much left to do here."

Other Von Rotz developments have been in Santa Venetia and the Bret Harte and Knoll Paris areas of San Rafael.

In 1942 Von Rotz became interested in local politics and was elected to the San Anselmo City Council. He served as mayor the last two years of his four-year term.

He is a past president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, a former member and for five years chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission. He has been president of the San Anselmo Lions Club, a director of the Marin County Development Assn., and a director of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., of which he was one of the founders.

Since 1949 he and his wife, Mariele, have lived at 1 Alpine Terrace in a home which he built in the San Anselmo hills - a location chosen for its similarity to parts of their native Switzerland.

They have two married daughters, Mary Lou Denning and Mildred Simon, and 10 grandchildren.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Getting Credit For Dependents

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

How much have your dependents earned so far in 1965? If your dependent is not a child under nineteen or a student, you lose the dependency credit if his earnings are $600 or more. You should be sure your dependent does not earn over $600 for 1965 even if it means stopping work in December because each dependency credit is worth at least $85 at the lowest tax rate in actual dollars.

P. J. Wikel

If your dependent is a child under 19, or is a student, and you furnish over half the cost of his support, he can earn any amount and you can still claim him.

If your son or daughter was married in 1965 and you furnished over one-half of his support and he was under 19 or a student, then be sure that he does not file a joint return with his spouse. You can claim his dependency credit and the child can file a separate return for his own income. In California the married couple can split the community income after marriage and file separate returns.

If you and your brothers or sisters jointly support your parents, and the parents have income of less than $600 and one of you in unmarried, then that unmarried one should make sufficient payments so that he furnishes over half the cost of maintaining the household for at least one of your parents and he will then be able to claim Head of Household as well as the dependency credit for one of the parents. This could result in considerable tax advantage to the unmarried brother or sister.

Do you contribute to the support of a dependent, but cannot claim him on your Federal or California return because you do not furnish over one-half of his support?

If your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you:

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent to the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact that he did not contribute more than 50 per cent to the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided:

1. The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and

2. Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent of the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1965.

An agreement Form 2120 must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreements must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent. You cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

Airlines Show Late Strength In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines showed late strength and the stock market closed mixed today. Trading was active.

General Dynamics opened late under an accumulation of buy orders due to weekend news that it would build the FB111 bomber. It trimmed about a point from a 5-point jump.

Grumman, also a beneficiary of the project, was up around a point at best.

Schering held a gain of around 4 most of the time as a standout in the drug section.

Steels advanced as a group amid brightening prospects but gains were moderate.

Big Three motors were slightly lower most of the session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.6 million shares compared with 8.75 million on Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

General Dynamics leaped 5¼ to 66¾ on a delayed opening block of 85,000 shares after orders accumulated on news that the company is to build the new FB-111 bomber.

Grumman, also involved in the bomber project, rose more than a point.

Steels, spurred by a report of brisk demand from the construction field, moved ahead in a body. Gains of less than a point were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

Xerox jumped 7 points. Polaroid was up more than 3, U.S. Smelting nearly 3.

Gains of a point or more were made by Raytheon, High Voltage Engineering, GM, Boeing, Goodyear, Air Reduction, United Air Lines, General Aniline, United Artists, Addressograph and Brown, Sharpe.

Insurance Co. of North America and Texas Instruments advanced about 4 each.

The averages were dampened by Du Pont, off more than 3. IBM lost 2, Best Foods nearly 2.

All big three motors took small losses.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Gold is a good conductor of electricity.

Contractor Von Rotz Is Retiring

Veteran building contractor A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo will build no more homes in Marin County hills.

The Swiss-born cabinet maker, who came to the county in 1922, opened his own cabinet shop at 40 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, a few years later and then went into building houses, said he is retiring from construction work. Coincidentally Van Rotz, now 69, announced closing of his cabinet shop and mill, which has remained at the same location since 1929.

In place of this business the premises will be converted into a new enterprise: Building Supply Center, to be operated by Von Rotz's sons-in-law Orlando F. Denning and James E. Simon, and to open Dec. 15. The company will handle builder's supplies, hardware, lumber and garden supplies.

It will be under management of Tom Perkins, who has been with Von Rotz since 1938.

Last building project of Von Rotz is a small shopping center, nearing completion at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Oak Manor Drive at the northwest boundary of Fairfax. He also developed the nearby Oak Manor residential area which extends high into the hills and to within a few hundred yards of the hillside homes above Sleepy Hollow.

"The shopping center is almost completed and Oak Manor is just about sold out," he said. "There isn't much left to do here."

Other Von Rotz developments have been in Santa Venetia and the Bret Harte and Knoll Paris areas of San Rafael.

In 1942 Von Rotz became interested in local politics and was elected to the San Anselmo City Council. He served as mayor the last two years of his four-year term.

He is a past president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, a former member and for five years chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission. He has been president of the San Anselmo Lions Club, a director of the Marin County Development Assn., and a director of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., of which he was one of the founders.

Since 1949 he and his wife, Mariele, have lived at 1 Alpine Terrace in a home which he built in the San Anselmo hills - a location chosen for its similarity to parts of their native Switzerland.

They have two married daughters, Mary Lou Denning and Mildred Simon, and 10 grandchildren.

Kayser's Pastries Finally Opens Two In Bank Have Anniversaries

A bakery that was scheduled to open in Northgate Shopping Center's Unit One as far back as December, 1964, and has been held up because of construction delays finally made it this month.

HELICOPTER HELPED — Dominican Convent called on many types of transportation, from horse-drawn vehicles to a helicopter, to move Dominican Upper and Lower Schools from their San Rafael campups Saturday to new campus on a 550-acre site on the former Hotaling Ranch in Sleepy Hollow, where the schools will be known as San Domenico. Sister M. Carol, O.P., senior class sponsor, and Judy Owens, student body president, head for the Commodore 'copter takeoff from Forest Meadows.

RAIN COULD NOT DETER—Rain poured down as Dominican's big move made up a parade from San Rafael to Sleepy Hollow. But 115-year-old Dominican schools had been through much more trying affairs than a mere rainstorm. The parade moved as scheduled. Here, the Marin Mounted Sheriff's Posse leads the procession west on Fifth Avenue at Irwin Street in San Rafael. Behind them come horse-drawn vehicles and a string of antique cars, bearing faculty members, trustees and others.

RUMBLE-SEATERS—Janet Riley and Leslie Meeker ride in rumble seat of a 1931 Ford Model A roadster owned and driven by Janet's father, Rev. John Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, in the San Domenico parade—an ecumenical parade as well as a rain-drenched one.

OLD-TIME TRANSPORTATION—Girls of the Upper School brave the weather to ride on a vintage fire truck, a 1941 Knox owned and driven by James R. Coleman of Kentfield, one of many antique vehicles which helped move the Dominican schools to San Domenico.

Apparent Argument, Then Crash

What appeared to be an argument between a driver and his passenger ended in a serious traffic accident at 11:50 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Stephen W. Pinson, 39, of 108 Hilldale Drive, San Anselmo, struck a parked car at 2050 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

In poor condition at Marin General Hospital today with head injuries and a cut face was Pinson's wife, Maybelle Pinson, 38. The driver was treated for face cuts at the same hospital.

San Rafael police had received a call minutes earlier from Ronald A. Kirisits, a private patrolman, who said he had seen the Pinson car headed south on Highway 101 from Terra Linda, and swerving.

He said the passenger seemed to be trying to jump from the car, but the driver was holding her. Kirisits followed in his own car, keeping in touch with police by radio.

The Pinson car was followed off the freeway at Mission Avenue and down to Fourth Street.

The car soon after was found to have crashed into a parked car registered to Virginia M. Long, of 43 East Crescent Drive, San Rafael, knocking it 33 feet forward, even though the hand brake was set and the car was in gear.

James E. French III, 29, of 837 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, was cut on the left hand when his car skidded off Highway 101 near the San Quentin overpass at 10:20 a.m. Saturday and struck a parked station wagon.

Califorina Highway Patrol officers said French's car knocked the station wagon, registered to Robert I. or Helen Baker of Sacramento, from the shoulder of the road into a chain-link freeway fence.

French was treated at San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco, where he was examined and sent home.

Bernice H. Kelley, 52, of 55 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley, was cut above her eye in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just south of the Corte Madera overpass, at 12:35 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Kelley's car collided with one driven by Barbara Jean Kovacs, 24, of 2466 Center Road, Novato, as Mrs. Kelley attempted to avoid an unidentified car which had spun out of control in front of her, the highway patrol reported. Mrs. Kelley was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Lucinda Williford, 46, of San Pablo, suffered a sprained neck in a two-car collision on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a quarter of a mile east of Highway 101, at 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

The highway patrol reported a car driven by Joanne S. Holbrook, 39, of Berkeley drifted over the center line and collided with Mrs. Williford's car. Mrs. Williford was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Richard L. Brittain, 54, of 31 Chickasaw Court, Corte Madera, suffered a cut lip and sprained wrist when his car struck the rear of one driven by Edward M. Smith, 55, of San Francisco on Highway 101, about 200 feet south of the Corte Madera interchange, at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Smith had stopped for traffic and Brittain braked to stop, but his car slid on wet pavement, the highway patrol said. Brittain was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Charlotte Ann Larson, 34, of 212-A Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, complained of pains after her car spun out on Highway 101 and struck the railing on the San Rafael viaduct at 10:45 a.m. Saturday. She told CHP officers she would see her own doctor.

Catherine Barrow, 22, of 163 Drake Avenue, Marin City, suffered minor injury in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just north of the Alto interchange at 12:50 p.m. Saturday.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Floyd Barrow, 18, of 25 Burgess Court, which collided with one driven by George J. Farineau, 42, of 4 Sycamore Avenue, Larkspur, the highway patrol said. Barrow's car skidded off the highway, went up an embankment and then rolled back onto the highway into the path of Farineau's car, the patrol reported.

Both drivers were injured at 10:11 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Edward J. Posusney, 18, of 144 Knight Drive, San Rafael, struck a small foreign car driven by Eleanor K. Lem, 21, of 134 Stadium Way, Mill Valley, at Hoag and Front Streets, San Rafael.

Police said several witnesses reported Miss Lem's northbound car ran a stopsign. She was reported in good condition with broken ribs and internal injuries at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Posusney's eastbound auto was spun around by the impact and the back end hit the front door of Redwood Electric Co., 46 Front Street. The driver was treated for cuts at San Rafael General Hospital.

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just south of the northbound Sausalito lateral, at 12:15 a.m. yesterday.

A car driven by Rocco D'Agostino, 40, of Montezuma Avenue, Forest Knolls, collided with one driven by William E. Worrell, 49, of 21 Fawn Court, Sleepy Hollow, the highway patrol reported.

D'Agostino, who suffered neck and back pains, was X-rayed at Marin General Hospital. Worrell, who suffered a cut nose, and his passenger, Elizabeth Worrell, 40, of the same address, who suffered head pains and cuts of the legs and hands, were treated at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco.

A 24-year-old Pacifica woman complained of back and head pains after a four-car collision on Highway 101 just north of the Lincoln Avenue undercrossing at 10:50 a.m. yesterday.

Injured was Jacqueline L. Sinclair, passenger in a car driven by George L. Sinclair, 23, of Pacifica. She was taken to San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where she was held for observation.

The highway patrol said a northbound car driven by Evelyn C. Shackleton, 55 of 170 Trinidad Road, Tiburon, slowed to avoid traffic ahead, and skidded. Sinclair's car and one driven by Alessio Trinei, 53, of San Francisco, stopped behind the Shackleton car. Then a car driven by May Belle Stenman, 54, of 4 Booker Avenue, Sausalito, struck the rear of the Trinei car, starting a chain-reaction series of rear-end crashes.

Two men were cut last night when the car in which they were riding overturned on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley.

Passenger James A. Smith Jr., 19, of 49 Cole Drive, Marin City, was treated by Mill Valley fireman Loren Freeman, then taken to Marin General Hospital where he was given further treatment. Driver James Henery Griffin, 19, of San Francisco, was cut on his left hand and arm but was not taken to the hospital.

Griffin told police he was driving north at about 8:30 p.m. on Miller near Tamalpais High School when he lost control on a curve. His car struck the divider, rolled over and then back onto its wheels.

Joseph A. Tubb Jr., 30, of San Mateo was cut on his right leg at 5:15 p.m. yesterday when his southbound motorcycle hit the rear of a car on highway 101 just south of the Alto overcrossing, the highway patrol reported.

The patrol said John F. Philips, 21, of Daly City was driving his pickup truck south in the fast lane when he braked for slowing traffic and swerved into the median barrier. Rose A. Cresci, 36, of San Francisco stopped her car behind the truck and it was hit by the motorcycle. Tubb was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Gwendolyn U. Martins, 42, of 210 Adobestone Court, Marinwood, was cut on the nose at 1 a.m. today when her northbound car ran into a ditch on Atherton Avenue, one-quarter mile north of Olive Street just outside the Novato city limits, the highway patrol reported. She was to see her own doctor.

Charles Lusk Campbell, 50, of 7 Villa Maria, Novato, was to see his own doctor for neck and back pains resulting from an accident at 2:30 p.m. yesterday on Novato Boulevard west of Simmons Lane.

Campbell's westbound car collided with a car driven by Richard Ian Avery, 53, of 3 Jules Drive, Novato, which was backing out of a driveway, police reported. Avery was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way.

Deborah Strange, 18, of San Francisco suffered minor face cuts at 2:30 p.m. yesterday when her southbound car swerved on a curve on Shoreline Highway above Tamalpais Valley and crashed into a tree, the highway patrol reported. She was to see

Labor Leaders Ask For More Of Wealth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders demanded today a bigger slice of the nation's wealth for workers, a federal curb on the prices of some key commodities, and a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

In resolutions certain to be gaveled to quick approval by about 1,000 delegates to the federation's 10th anniversary convention, AFL-CIO policymakers also rejected White House wage guidelines and called for bold federal policies to create jobs and boost consumer purchasing power.

"A faster rise in wages and fringe benefits is needed to broaden and strengthen the mass markets that are the foundation of the economy," one resolution said.

Federation leaders also suggested income tax cuts for low- and middle - income families, and elimination of taxes altogether for those under the government's poverty income level of $3,000 a year.

The effects on the economy of 1964 and 1965 tax cuts have "almost completely worn off," the proposed resolution said.

In recommending a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits, federation leaders said the base on which Social Security taxes are assessed should be increased from the present $6,600 to $15,000 a year, supplemented by extra money from the federal Treasury. The cost should not be charged to future generations of workers and employers, they declared.

Social Security benefits now average about $92 per month for a retired single worker and $137 for a married couple.

The recent 7 per cent increase barely covered the increased cost of living, the federation said.

AFL-CIO leaders said medical care benefits under Social Security — which do not go into effect until next July — should be improved and extended to surviving widows and children.

The federation blamed the outflow of private capital, rather than wage increases, for the U.S. balance-of-payments problem in foreign trade.

It said the federal government should restrict the investment of U.S. corporations overseas.

Delegates asked Congress to raise the minimum wage to $2 and include farm workers in its coverage.

In calling on Congress to raise the minimum wage from $1.25 to $2 and expand its coverage to millions more workers — especially farm laborers—federation officials said:

"About 20 to 25 per cent of the population live in poverty or close to its edge in the richest and most productive nation in the world.

"The AFL-CIO, the largest organization of consumers in the United States, seeks no cut rate prices at the grocery store based on the exploitation of anyone," they added in demanding minimum wage coverage of farm workers.

Do Whatever You Can For Rights: Forum Consensus

Negro Wants 'In' To American Society, Marinites Are Told

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The frustrations of the white liberal dedicated to obtaining civil rights for Negroes were clearly demonstrated at a day-long symposium Saturday in Marin City.

More than 160 persons, predominantly white and middle class, attended the gathering sponsored by the Marin County Human Rights Commission, and co-sponsored by 40 other organizations in the county.

"What can we do?" was the question raised time and again throughout the day.

From the morning speeches, mid-day workshops and final afternoon sessions emerged a kind of consensus that this was fundamentally a moral problem that involved every aspect of American domestic life and foreign policy.

The essential answer to the question, "What can we do?" was: "Whatever you can."

As each of the 15 workshop leaders arose to report the findings of his group, there was apparent agreement that it is not eonugh for white civil rights champions to work among Negroes who already understand their aims and hardships.

"We don't want any more studies," declared Dr. Joseph L. White, Negro psychologist and educator from Long Beach State College. He derided those who perpetually ask, "What does the Negro really want?" Said White, "He wants what every American wants. He wants in."

He endorsed the point made by many of the workshop groups that the real task of the white liberal is to change the heart and mind of the white community which is either indifferent or antagonistic to civil rights.

White urged the liberals to be "a bridge" between the ghetto Negro and the white businessman or union leader. "But," he warned, "the white liberal is going to face a lot of resentment from the Negro community and from the white community."

In many of the workshops—wrestling with problems or housing, employment and education—there was raised the question: "Does it really do any good for us to get together and discuss these things? After it's over what do we actually do?"

One of the workshop groups, comprised of high school students, announced that its members would form a committee to work for better relations between the races in the county's schools.

Another workshop voted to seek community support and endorsement for a realty broker striving to find housing for Negroes in Marin.

Another agreed to make a formal complaint to the Independent-Journal on its coverage of incidents in Marin City, which, according to the workshop, overemphasized violence and lawlessness.

Still another workshop prais-

Off-On Gemini 6 Set For Orbits

Take-Off Rocket Repaired

CAPE KENNEDY—The Federal Space Agency said today a new bug cropped up in the Gemini 6 rocket but that it was resolved without further delay to Wednesday's rendezvous launch attempt.

The problem developed in the Titan 2 rocket's powerful engine system, but after a long series of meetings, engineers said the trouble was eliminated and "we're still on schedule."

Space officials said yesterday they hope to send astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford on their chase in space after Gemini 7 Wednesday, but the new problem posed a serious threat to the bast-off date until it was resolved.

PROPULSION

Informed sources said the problem involved the propulsion system on the Titan 2 rocket. This was not the plug that fell out yesterday causing a shut-down of the engines at the moment of lift-off.

Gemini 7 is due to return to earth Saturday after 14 days aloft with the possibility it would stay up a 15th day.

Borman and Lovell had a broken tape recorder to annoy them as they streaked through the heavens 185 miles high. The recorder collected medical data.

Their beards were growing bushier and their diet was medically sound but not very appetizing.

ANOTHER ORBIT

Gemini 7 entered its 133rd orbit at 10 a.m. EST.

The endurance flight record fell to Gemini 7 yesterday. Tonight at 11:46 p.m. EST, the individual orbital time record of 225 hours, 16 minutes held by astronaut Gordon Cooper will fall to Borman and Lovell.

Once again, the astronauts prepared for a laser beam test to try to communicate with the ground via a light beam from hand held "ray gun." Every test has been unsuccessful since the flight started Dec. 4.

Flight director Christopher C. Kraft undated them on the feverish preparations by 200 tech-

Thieves Strike At Two Churches

Thieves got away with more than $600 in checks and cash from two churches in Tiburon and Belvedere yesterday between 11 a.m. and noon while parishioners worshipped.

Rev. Ernest J. Wood of the Tiburon Baptist Church, 445 Tiburon Boulevard, told sheriff's deputies someone entered the church office after 11 o'clock services had begun, pried open a metal cabinet, and took a bag containing $343.46 in checks and cash.

Shirley J. Harkey of 1 Cay Passage, Corte Madera, who was tending the church nursery school, said she saw a blond young man about five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds and dressed in a gray suit near the office about 11:45 a.m. The broken cabinet was discovered at 12:05 p.m.

At St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 3 Bayview Avenue, Belvedere, Rev. Llewellyn A. White discovered the theft of $300 in checks and an undetermined amount of cash after 11 o'clock services.

Rev. White told Belvedere police the checks and money were stolen after someone broke open the closet door in his secretary's office. The money had been collected at the 8 a.m. communion service and locked in the closet.

Murderer Is Stabbed To Death At Quentin

John Contreras Zamilpa, 23, serving a life sentence at San Quentin Prison for murder, was fatally stabbed by an unidentified assailant or assailants at the prison yesterday afternoon.

Zamilpa was stabbed in the back with a sharp instrument while he was en route from his cell block to his evening meal.

Prison officials reported he staggered into the housing unit office on the ground floor at 3:55 p.m., said he had been stabbed, and collapsed.

He was taken to the prison hospital where he died at 4:27 p.m. Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Zamilpa died on the operating table while undergoing surgery.

The wound was on the left side of the back and penetrated a lung, prison officials said.

The stabbing occurred sometime between the time Zamilpa left his cell on the fifth tier in the south cell block and the time he reached the ground floor.

Officials at the prison reported today that a six-inch-long handfashioned knife was found on the fourth tier of the cell block after the stabbing. The weapon was stained with blood, reported Associate Warden Homer J. Hastings.

Four men seen near the scene of the stabbing have been put into isolation at the prison while the crime is being investigated, Hastings said.

Zamilpa entered San Quentin in March of 1964 to serve a life sentence after he was convicted of killing a fellow prisoner at Soledad Prison in 1963. He was said to have stabbed the man 73 times. He went to Soledad on conviction of furnishing narcotics.

Battles Still To Come, Marine General Says

SAIGON (UPI) —Thousands of U.S. Marines, warned by their commander the "major fighting" was yet to come, today pushed through jungled mountains in the sixth day of a hunt for a Communist battalion believed hiding in caves and tunnels big enough to conceal heavy trucks.

Marines reached what appeared to be the base camp used by the fleeing Reds. They found only abandoned equipment.

The area is 335 miles north of Saigon and 20 miles south of the Leathernecks' Da Nang airbase.

"I don't think the major fighting has started yet," Maj. Gen. Lewis Walt, commander of the Third Marine Amphibious Force, declared last night.

His statement came after Strategic Air Command B-52 bombers pounded the mountain range with 750 and 1,000 pound bombs believed to have caught the Viet Cong by surprise. The eight-jet B-52s fly so high they cannot be heard until their bombs whistle toward earth.

In fighting elsewhere, at least 288 Communists were killed during the weekend in the Mekong Delta 75 miles south-

DRAKE HIGH SCHOOL

Majority In Student Poll Backs U.S. Saigon Action

By LINDA BROWN
Editor, "Jolly Roger," Drake High School

Five times more Sir Francis Drake High School students support the war effort in Viet Nam than believe that the United States should withdraw, according to a poll taken by the Jolly Roger, the high school newspaper.

The Jolly Roger polled 70 per cent (1,113 students) of the student body on their views of the Viet Nam war.

The general trend throughout the survey was support for U.S. actions in Viet Nam. However, numerous remarks against American "intervention" and "aggression" were made.

The overwhelming majority of the students — of whom the boys will soon be of draft age — said that "if we were to get out now the Communists would take over more and more countries until there would be no free nations left but the U.S. — then what?"

More than 70 per cent of those students who answered the questionnaire approved of President Johnson's foreign policy in regard to Viet Nam. Many believe that "he is trying to protect the United States from communist domination" and state their preference to "fight there rather than here in California."

The opposition claims that "we are in Viet Nam killing people with no justification ex-

High Court Tosses Out Prayer Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today denied a hearing to New York City parents who sought an order allowing their children to "pray voluntarily to God each day" in a Queens public school.

The case is the first to reach the high court involving the question of "voluntary" prayers by public school pupils. In decisions in 1962 and 1963, the court barred use of state-composed prayers and the Lord's Prayer, as well as Bible reading when done in devotional exercises.

The Queens parents demanded that school authorities gave their children "an opportunity to express their love and affection to Almighty God each day through a prayer in their respective classrooms."

The controversy arose after principal Elihu Oshinsky of Public School 184 in Whitestone forbade recitation of two prayers by kindergarten children before they ate milk and cookies in morning and afternoon.

One prayer was:

"God is great, God is good
And we thank him for our food.
Amen."

The other was:

"Thank You for the world so sweet
Thank you for the food we eat
Thank You for the birds that sing
Thank You God for everything."

The parents formed a group called Prayer Rights for American Youth (PRAY) and sued in federal district court in Brooklyn for prayer privileges for a group of students ranging in age from 5 to 11.

Federal District Judge Walter Bruchhausen ruled in favor of the parents but was reversed by the 2nd Circuit Court.

LONDON (AP)—Actress Kim Novak said today that the injury which caused her to withdraw from the movie "The Eye of the Devil" is a broken vertebra.

Miss Novak, 33, entered a London nursing home with the injury six weeks ago. She hopes to leave tomorrow.

Author Maugham Dying In France

NICE, FRANCE (AP)—British author W. Somerset Maugham lay in a coma in a hostipal today, and his doctor gave him less than 24 hours to live.

The 91-year-old writer suffered a stroke Saturday at his seaside villa at Cap Farrat. He has been unconscious ever since.

Alan F. Searle, Maugham's secertary and companion for years, said the author had directed in a will he made several years ago that his body be cremated and the ashes sent to England to be placed in Canterbury Cathedral.

Moscow Charges Peking Sabotage

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, in its bluntest tirade against Communist China since Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's ouster 14 months ago, says Peking has sabotaged the "sacred cause" of communism in Viet Nam.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda charged editorially Sunda that Mao Tzetung's regime deliberately refused to take joint action with the Soviet Union and other Communist countries "against American aggression in Viet Nam which is extending a direct threat to world peace."

Instead, Pravda charged, Peking's leaders are increasing activities to widen the breach between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Klansman Is Apparent Suicide

GRANITE QUARRY, N.C. (AP) — The Rowan County coroner said today the death of Grady B. Mars, retired military policeman linked with the Ku Klux Klan by a congressional investigator, may have been suicide.

Mars

Donald T. Appell, chief counsel for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, identified Mars in October as a district officer and organizer for the United Klans of America.

Mars pleaded the Fifth Amendment when asked about Klan activities at a committee hearing.

Murder Charged In Gas-Set Fire

CHICAGO (UPI)—A disgruntled patron using a borrowed match touched off a two-gallon Molotov cocktail in a crowded Skid Row tavern Saturday night. Flames, smoke and the resulting panic killed 13 persons.

Robert Lee Lassiter, 25, who admitted setting the gasoline afire in the entrance of the club which held about 150 persons, yesterday appeared in Circuit Court to answer charges of first degree murder and arson.

Lassiter

Residents of the shabby neighborhood often went to the Seeley Club on Saturday night.

Shortly before midnight bartender Edward Gaston, got into a dispute with Lassiter. The latter was bounced, then went to a filling station and purchased the gasoline. Police said at least three persons saw Lassiter pour the gasoline onto the floor in front of the entrance to the tavern and ignite it.

More Tax Cuts Next Year, But Social Security Cost Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tax cuts totalling $1.7 billion will go into effect next year—but don't cheer yet. Federal taxes also will go up an estimated $5 billion.

The apparent contradiction arises from separate congressional actions in 1964 and this year. First, the lawmakers enacted a to stage reduction in excise taxes but, during the last session they raised Social Security contributions and added taxes for the new medicare program.

While this may strike some persons as a case of the right hand not knowing what the left hand is doing, it's only fair to say — as President Johnson did recently — that taxes have been reduced by almost $20 billion during the past four years.

As things stand 1966 is not shaping up as another big tax cut year along the lines of 1964 and 1965. The 1964 income tax reduction turned $9.5 billion back to individuals and companies and is likely to dwarf cuts for years to come.

This year, people enjoyed the second $4 billion stage of the 1964 act as well as the first $1.7 billion stage of the excise tax reduction.

The only windfall now in the works for 1966 is the second stage of the excise tax cut—another $1.7 billion worth.

On the other side of the ledger, Social Security and self employment taxes are due to rise Jan. 1 to finance increased retirement benefits and new medicare program for the elderly.

LBJ Returns To Washington For Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House early today for an intensive round of conferences with foreign leaders, final preparations for the new budget and more discussion of Viet Nam.

Johnson had been at his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., for 24 days — relaxing, recuperating from his Oct. 8 operation and holding a series of top-level policy talks on the whole range of governmental activity.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said staff work would occupy much of the President's time today.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Great Britain, who has been trying to promote Viet Nam peace talks, will be at the White House Friday.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who wants for his country a role in the nuclear defense of Western Europe, will arrive Saturday for two or three days of conferences ith Johnson.

Quest For Electric Guitar Leads To Kidnaping Charge

SALINAS (AP)—A young gunman charged with kidnaping a family of four and taking them on a terror-filled 280-mile ride through Northern California says he didn't intend to do it.

"Things just kept building up," Robert Clodgo, 20, of Salinas, said yesterday in a statement to a sheriff's deputy.

The unemployed young man, soft-spoken and dressed in a sport coat and tie, explained all he wanted to do in the beginning was steal a car.

He said he wanted to use it in some robberies to raise money so he could buy an electric guitar and play in a rock 'n' roll band.

Sgt. Fred Snyder of the Salinas sheriff's office said Clodgo's ill-conceived plan exploded into a campaign of terror when the suspect randomly chose and entered the home of Wendell Dusharme of Castroville at 3 a.m. Saturday.

Snyder said that Dusharme, 47, a masonry contractor, was awakened as Clodgo searched for the family car keys. The youth hit Dusharme over the head two times with a metal bar, inflicting cuts and bruises.

The deputy said Clodgo then produced a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle, partly concealed by Christmas paper wrapping, and forced the family to dress and get into their car.

Dusharme, his wife jeanne, 47, and son Mike, 17, sat in the front of the 1957 pink sedan and took turns driving. Clodgo sat in the back seat with Dirk Dusharme, 10, and kept his rifle trained on the family, Snyder said.

"He kept saying 'If you don't behave, I'll blast you,'" Dusharme related later. "I kept telling my family 'no heroics, no foolish gestures.'"

The forced ride ranged through Oakland on the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay, and ended at a ranger station on the foggy coast 90 miles north of San Francisco. Clodgo had worked in the area last summer as a firefighter, he said.

The gunman released Mrs. Dusharme and the children. They walked to a telephone and called the sheriff's office. But Clodgo held Dusharme as a hostage and they drove back to San Francisco. There he released the contractor without further harm.

Clodgo returned to Salinas in time to keep a date with a girl friend at a dance hall that night. A deputy on patrol spotted the parked stolen car and the rifle laying on a seat, and the youth was arrested.

Rusk Meets With French Premier

Rusk told newsmen on his arval he did not expect anything surprising to emerge from the ministers meeting opening tomorrow at headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But in calling on Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Courve de Murville, Rusk was putting into practice another observation that: "I think my stay in Paris will be useful...to discuss with other ministers the questions in our minds."

The Viet Cong massacres 23 Vietnamese civilians Saturday night at the village of Tan Huong, 35 miles south of Saigon.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said two platoons of Viet Cong machine gunned a pagoda where the workers, including women and children, were asleep.

Troops of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade today accepted the surrender of 22 Viet Cong in the Communist "Zone D" stronghold about 60 miles east-northeast of Saigon.

Authorities said the surrender was the culmination of a long campaign in the region by psychological warfare teams who have urged the Communists in radio broadcasts and by leaflet drops to surrender.

Viet Train Picking Up Some Steam

The Bay Area campaign for America's Christmas Trains and Trucks for Viet Nam, beset by confusion and dissidence, is now picking up steam, according to officials in charge.

Art Hillman, president of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, said his original objection to joining the national project was his concern over the apparent lack of facilities to handle the donated supplies.

Inky Tillisch of Palo Alto, coordinating Bay Area chairman, announced that the Christmas train left Washington, D.C. yesterday.

The said the General Services Administration will re-package all donations for overseas shipment on a government vessel scheduled to sail under the Golden Gate Bridge on Christmas Eve.

Plea Of Guilty Given Court

Change of plea to guilty to battery and disturbing the peace was entered in Marin Municipal Court today by Austin Dwaine Yeager, 24, of San Jose.

Judgment was scheduled by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. for Jan. 10.

An earlier trial of Yeager and a companion, James Howard Bane, 25, also of San Jose and charged with disturbing the peace and battery was declared a mistrial Oct. 20 when Bane failed to appear. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued.

Burglars Loot Two Safes

Burglars looted two safes at Ghilotti Brothers Inc., 525 Jacoby Street, San Rafael, but got only 80 cents cash for their efforts, sheriff's officers said today.

Co-owner Dino J. Ghilotti told deputies entry was by breaking a window. The office was ransacked, officers said, and the money taken from an unforced large safe.

A smaller safe, also in the office, was pried open but nothing was taken.

Dr. Robert W. Clarke, 199 Bret Harte Road, California Park, told deputies his automobile was burgled while parked at Meadow Club, Fairfax. Taken was a stethoscope and a flashlight, officers said.

Man Suspected Of Burglary

Jameson Deming McDowell, 29, of Palo Alto, was arrested by sheriff's officers yesterday on suspicion of burglary of a Tamalpais Valley home. He was booked in county jail, then released on $550 bail.

Officers said McDowell entered the kitchen of the home of James Herbert Thigpen, 612 Eastwood Way, and was rummaging through the refrigerator when Thigpen discovered him about 5:30 p.m.

Thigpen held McDowell until officers arrived. Deputies quoted McDowell as saying he had been to a Muir Woods party and was seeking food and a place to sleep.

He is scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Joy-Ride Plea Nets Six Months

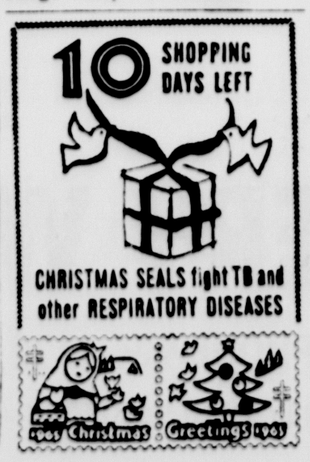
A new trial had been scheduled for today. Judgment was by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.



GEMINI

nicians at Cape Kennedy to try to prepare the Gemini 6 spaceship for launching, after yesterday's failure of the booster rocket to lift off the pad.

Gemini 6 astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford had the day off.

What started out as a weekend full of hope for Schirra and Stafford turned in seconds into frustration—and a moment of danger and decision yesterday.

"They're cleared for takeoff," Mission Control advised Gemini 7, passing overhead shortly before the 9:54 a.m. liftoff time.

"Adios," control told Schirra and Stafford.

Right on schedule, the countdown proceeded.

". . . 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ignition."

Exhaust boiled from beneath the mighty vehicle, but the rocket didn't move.

"Shutdown," announced Mission Control with scarcely a pause.

By this time, under these conditions, Schirra and Stafford were close to making a decision to eject and be thrown clear of the smoldering rocket, live with fuel. But they just gripped their ejection rings. Then the fuel pressure started slowly decreasing; the crisis disappeared.

Had they ejected—much like pilots do from jet aircraft—the damage to the capsule and seats might have been too severe to repair before the end of the Gemini 7 flight.

The trouble: An electrical plug costing $108, carrying vital information to the launch control center in a blockhouse near pad 19, had fallen out at that pivotal moment and caused the automatic monitoring system to cut off the Titan's engines.

It was a moment of agonizing decision for Schirra, who as command pilot had the option of activating an ejection system that could have hurled both pilots out of their capsule and back to the ground by parachute in a matter of 10 seconds.

Schirra coolly watched his instruments, decided there was no real danger and kept his hand off the ejection ring — thereby winning the praise of officials ranging all the way up to President Johnson.

President Johnson said:

"Our disappointment is exceeded by our pride in astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford and the flight directors of NASA (National Aeronautical and Space Administration). With the world watching they acted with remarkable courage in the face of danger and potential disaster."

Teacher Held In Span Try

A 26-year-old Daly City school teacher was taken into custody by the California Highway Patrol at 9:15 p.m. Saturday after the patrol was told by a San Francisco priest that he believed the woman planned to leap off the Golden Gate Bridge.

Patricia Z. Smith was spotted in her northbound white 1965 Mustang at the bridge toll plaza by patrolman Arthur Olson, who chased her in his patrol car across the bridge at speeds up to 85 miles per hour. She finally pulled to a stop at Rodeo Avenue on Highway 101. She was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

The patrol said Rev. Philip McCrillis of St. Anne's Church, San Francisco, said she had been talking to him about taking her own life. He called the authorities when she left.

Kettenhofen Issues A Challenge

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has challenged a Greenbrae boardwalk resident to a showdown before the board of supervisors tomorrow afternoon.

Ira O. Baumgardner of 1 Greenbrae Boardwalk, in a letter to the supervisors protesting formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control district, declared the project has been pursued "by a member of our Marin board of supervisors for purely selfish purposes." He wrote further:

"Please answer these questions Mr. Kettenhofen: do you own property near this area? Wouldn't a change in the creek and a park increase the market value of your property?"

In a telegram to Baumgardner, Kettenhofen declared that it is not the first time "such vicious accusations" have been made against him.

He then challenged Baumgardner, "If you have the conviction and courage," to attend a hearing on the district formation before the board of supervisors at 3 p.m. tomorrow and repeat his charges there.

Kettenhofen said he will give his answer "under official oath."

Man Found Dead In Car At Tomales

A 25-year-old British subject, James Walter Chapman, was found dead this morning in his automobile, parked in the entrance area of Tomales Bay State Park. Sheriff's Deputy William Christensen said the death apparently was suicide.

Christensen said that Chapman, who has been residing on Richardson Drive in Strawberry Manor, was seen about 5 p.m. yesterday at the park by Ranger Richard Fredericks.

Christensen said Chapman drove away from the park, but returned sometime during the night. He was found dead in the car by Fredericks at 8:20 a.m. A garden hose had been attached to the vehicle's exhaust pipe and inserted into the car and all doors were locked and windows rolled up, the officer said.

Club Problem Study Slated At Air Base

The Airman's Club at Hamilton Air Force Base, which has been threatened with closure and won reprieve, will come up for critical study by a committee of the Non-commissioned Officers Club board of governors.

CM/Sgt. Leslie M. Tate, president of the board of the NCO Club, which operates the Airman's Club, said he had named a three-man committee Thursday to study the Airman's Club, "with a positive approach" toward solving its problems.

The club has been operating at a loss of about $4,000 per year, but made a profit of $600 in November, Sgt. Tate said. Earlier, the Airman's Club had been slated for closing on Jan. 25.

Named to the committee were M/Sgt. Louis Bilikas, S/Sgt. Donna J. Hatcher and S/Sgt. Tommy Scissom. This committee is to make its report to the board of governors in January.

"One of the main problems is that there is no parking," Sgt. Tate said. There is space for only four cars at the club.

"There is not too much wrong with the building, but we will seriously consider moving the club to another location," he said. The Airman's Club is located on top of a hill near the World War II barracks.

Col. Ralph M. Wanderer Jr., base commander, said no space is available elsewhere on the base. He saw little wrong with its present location.

"It is in the center of about two-thirds of the troops on the base," Col. Wanderer said.

"Since the club was threatened with closure, it has generated more interest in it," he added.

"The club does not have the support of the airmen on the base," Sgt. Tate said. He pointed out that there are between 1,500 and 2,000 airmen on the base, yet in November, only 134 of them belonged to the club.

Among other suggestions which the committee will ponder are the possibility of closing the club on week nights and having parties in it to stir interest and make a profit, Sgt. Tate said.

Marine Radio Gone From Party Cruiser

The boat, a 42-foot party craft called the Lilly Bee, had been repossessed from a private owner. The radio's owner was listed as Canal Boat Service, 345 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Phone Lines Vanishing Downtown

If anyone thinks there is something lacking these days from a particular area of downtown San Rafael, that something is probably overhead telephone wires.

They are being put underground by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., in a $9,400 project nearing completion in a three block area from Fifth Avenue at H Street to Mission Avenue, and along Mission to the new city hall construction.

District Manager Gordon Davenport said the work involves burying the cables instead of stringing them overhead on poles.

He said the objectives are to keep the downtown area looking clean and uncluttered, and at the same time reinforce the cables to take a heavier load.

An unusual aspect of this project, said Davenport, is that workmen can lay the cable without digging open trenches. The method consists of drilling holes under the pavement at fixed intervals and pulling the cable through.

Student Musician's Work To Be Staged

A music program featuring an original composition by Sir Francis Drake High School student Steve Jacobs will be presented three times this week by the school's a capella choir, concert band, chamber orchestra and girls' chorus.

The program will first be given at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Sleepy Hollow Elementary School, San Anselmo. At 8 p.m. Wednesday a public concert will be held at the Drake Little Theater. A shortened version will be presented for students at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Palsy Reported Slated

Directors of the United Cerebral Palsy Assn. of Marin will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Civic Center to hear a report from the national organization on a survey of Marin's needs. The directors will also plan Christmas parties for handicapped Marin children.

Foes Of Marincello Due To Make Another Appeal

Marin County supervisors tomorrow will receive petitions from opponents of Marincello asking that the Nov. 12 vote approving the plan for the community be reconsidered.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Marincello petitions are scheduled as the last item on a 62-item agenda.

Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney has said that the board cannot reconsider the plan, but can direct the county planning commission to study specific amendments.

The plan was approved by a 3-2 vote with Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker dissenting.

Also on tomorrow's agenda, slated for 1:30 p.m., is consideration of the application of Borah Lawrence for rezoning of a 70,000-square-foot parcel on North San Pedro Road opposite LaBrea Way, which would allow a seven-unit apartment or cluster development. Santa Venetia residents have opposed the change.

Soon after that hearing is an appeal by Standard Oil Co. on the planning commission's denial of a use permit for a service station in the Town and Country Shopping Center at Strawberry.

At 3 p.m., the supervisors will hold a hearing on formation of the Corte Madera Creek flood control zone. If the board votes to create the zone, it is also slated to name an advisory committee for the zone.

Early in the day, the board is also to consider appointments to the recently formed airport commission.

Mink Coat, Jewels, Seal Cape Stolen

A thief removed a $1,000 mink coat, a $100 sealskin cape and about $500 worth of jewels from the home of Joseph R. Filippo, 215 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, during the weekend.

San Rafael police said the burglar pried open an aluminum sash on the north side of the house to enter, and left by a side door. Filippo said the theft must have occurred between the time he left the house at 10 p.m. Friday and his return at 6:15 p.m. yesterday.

MUSIC REVIEWS

Mahler Is Right, Noise Is Wrong

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Sandor Salgo's conducting of Mahler's Symphony No. 4 last night in the opening of the Marin symphony season was a revelation of the heights this orchestra can reach when inspired.

But right here we must say that since the College of Marin gymnasium is the best place we have for such concerts until a real concert hall is built, something should be done about the noisy ventilating and heating system.

The noise was especially annoying in the Mahler work, in which the orchestral palette ranges in timbre from brilliant to diaphonous and opalescent and in dynamics from ethereal to cyclopean.

Salgo seems to have a deep understanding and love for the music of Mahler. Through some wizardry he was successful in achieving the massive Mahler sound with an orchestra of fewer than 70 players.

Some of Mahler's characteristic writing he brought out were the long sinuous melodic lines, as heard in the strings in the second and especially the third infinitely beautiful movement, and the wonderful tonal chiaroscuro obtained by bringing out solo instruments or groups of them over the rich orchestral texture.

Ideally suited to the vocal solo in the fourth movement was the vocal quality and technique of soprano Margot Power. Not the powerful voice one would think necessary in a Mahler symphony, it has a bird-like clarity and flexibility that was just right for this work with its long pastoral portions and actual bird-call passages.

In the contrasting and rather grotesque second movement, a novel musical experience was hearing concertmaster Charles Meacham's skillful playing of one violin tuned a whole tone higher than the others in featured measures.

The same vocal qualities that were suitable in the Mahler fourth movement made Miss Power's choice of two Mozart arias appropriate for her two solos. These were dove solo from "The Marriage of Figaro" and Come Scoglio from "Cosi Fan Tutte."

The concert opened with a satisfying reading of Beethoven's cheerful and exuberant Symphony No. 8, in which there was excellent timing in the dialogue among sections.

Mood Reinforced By Music In Opera Of 'Long Dinner'

Saturday night's performance in the San Anselmo Festival Theater of "The Long Christmas Dinner" in the Hindemith-score, Wilder-libretto opera version, pointed up the immense value of music in reinforcing mood.

This was made evident by comparison of the College of Marin Opera Workshop performance with the preceding Wilder play enacted by the Festival Theater players. The play was covered on opening night by Karl Barron, Independent-Journal.

Though the opera cast did credit to dramatic coaching, the play in the tandem production was perhaps more powerful in dramatic immpact, possibly because of the superior professional experience of the players. But music was enormously effective in accentuating the nostalgic mood of the story covering 90 years and three generations of a family's Christmas dinners.

Individual musical honors went to Sydney Peterzon, whose pure lyrical soprano was perfect for Leonora, especially as the young bride. The role of Lucia was well sung by soprano Joan Smith, though the timbre of her voice sounded young for this mature character.

Ideally suited to their roles as cousin Ermengarde and Genevieve, respectively, were the mezzo soprano voices of Margaret Lee and Marjorie Broughton, who sang and acted their roles well. It was the best work we have heard from Miss Broughton.

Tenor Kenneth Rowland as Roderick has been heard to better advantage. The deep baritone quality of George Baker's voice was very effective in the role of cousin Brandon.

Other young singers adding to the impressive performance smoothly paced by Larry Snyder directing from one of two pianos — the other being ably played by Phyllis Murphy—were Marie Goff, Donald Neely, Wyn Brown, Carolyn Wiswell and Edwin Rajeski.

The play and opera will be repeated Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Dec. 31, Jan. 1 and 2.

cept that they are Communists. We feel that they are better dead than red, and before we win we will have to kill every Viet Cong."

Most of the students whose answers favored staying in Viet Nam stated that their reason wasn't that it's too late to get out, but rather "because if the little countries surrounding the communist nations watch us give up and get out, then they'd really have nothing to fall back on. Democracy is worth fighting, and even dying for!"

A burning issue among Drake students is the Viet Nam Day Committee. Only 18 more students believe that the VDC should not be halted than claim that the marchers should be stopped.

"When we begin to suppress those people who don't agree," said one of the students, "then we become much like those who we're fighting," said one of the students against their suppression.

"Those people who march are traitors to their country and its leaders because they are giving the Viet Cong an excellent reason to kill their fellow Americans," is a statement typical of responses of those who would suppress the demonstrations.

Of the students polled, 39.8 per cent advocated drafting pacifist demonstrators, while 47.3 per cent were opposed.

Students who support the U.S. policy in Viet Nam were asked if they would enlist to go over and fight if they met the age, sex and other qualifications. Only 29.5 per cent said they would not, and of the 513 students who said that they would go, 322 were boys and 249 were girls. The percentage of boys who would enlist was highest in the freshman class and dwindled steadily until it reached the seniors (many of whom will be eligible for the draft within a matter of months).

The students at Drake were asked if they have friends or relatives who are serving or have served in Viet Nam. Surprisingly 42.9 percent said they have.

While 34.7 per cent of the entire sampling are for and 52.6 per cent against torture of prisoners, and 29.4 per cent for and 52.8 per cent against bombing Hanoi, the bulk of those who answered in favor of both are boys.

More than 50 per cent of those questioned said that if the United States had not been involved in the Vietnamese conflict until now, we should not go in.

"It's really none of our business," was the typical comment.

Students Try U.S. Work Programs

Three students from San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools are currently involved in an experiment to test the usefulness of a work experience program in their schools.

If they prove to be successful a new program, called Work Experience Education, will be introduced to the San Rafael High School District.

Senior Lynell Banner from San Rafael High School is employed as a junior typist clerk in the office of the auditor-controller at the Marin County Civic Center.

Also in the program are Terra Linda High School seniors Brian Duthie and Ken Herbert. Duthie works at the Don Timoteo Elementary School in the duplicating department, while Herbert also works at the Civic Center, employed in the instructional materials department.

Ross Doctor Twice Honored By Officials

Dr. Manuel Kalman of Ross received double honors Friday in a ceremony in the San Francisco Board of Supervisors chambers.

Dr. Kalman, who is hospitalization officer for the Veterans Administration in San Francisco, was presented a plaque emblematic of his selections by the California Veterans Board for special honor for many years of public service and as "a man of medicine and mercy, a man of law, a man of kindness and devotion to duty."

Then, to his surprise, the Ross doctor was named by Joseph Farber, California director of veterans affairs, as consultant to the veterans board and to Farber.

The new position, which carries no salary, will be an additional duty to Kalman's work as hospitalization officer and as inspecting officer for convalescent hospitals to which patients are sent from Veterans Administration hospitals.

Kalman is an Army Reserve lieutenant colonel.

ed the Independent-Journal for a recent article bringing to light the lack of recreation in Marin City.

This group resolved to raise the matter before the county supervisors when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge.

Viet Nam loomed large in the day's deliberation. By many it was viewed as both an immoral war and a threat to the American Negro.

During the morning panel discussion this threat was pinpointed by Wilfred Ussery, national first vice chairman of Congress on Racial Equality. Warning that war in Viet Nam might lead to war with China, he said this would "crystallize into a war of white against non-white."

Under such conditions, he said, the Negro might be regarded as a "menace to national security."

Ussery said, "When we can kill 60 million with a bomb, it's nothing to lock up 18 or 20 million black people, or send them to the gas oven."

This sombre note was struck again in one of the workshops by William Bradley, San Francisco chairman of CORE: "The whites are capable of wiping out the black. You may think you're not capable, but you are. You'd better believe it."

In support of the argument, Bradley cited the fate of the American Indian and the atomic bombings of Japan.

Ussery also warned of future riots "worse than Watts" unless recent federal laws are "utilized to complete the unfulfilled portions of the American Revolution."

He said this legislation is failing its purposes wherever local bodies fail to consult with those the laws are designed to help.

Frank Quinn, director of the San Francisco Human Rights Commission, called for organization of Negroes to help themselves.

He predicted more demonstrations and blamed business, industry and labor for a "lack of a sense of urgency" and a "failure to move" in civil rights.

Corps Hikers Still Missing

MANZANO, N.M. (AP) — An extensive search continued today for eight Peace Corps trainees missing on a four-day hike through the rugged Manzano Mountains in central New Mexico.

About 40 persons participated in the search, which started after the group failed to arrive at Manzano yesterday on a 30-mile trek which began at Belen Thursday morning.

Another group of trainees left Belen at the same time and arrived at Manzano on schedule, and a third group crossed from Manzano to Belem without incident.

MARRIAGE PROPOSAL IS CORKER

WOMBELL, England (AP)—Marjorie Fowler, 21, plans to fly 10,000 miles to meet a prospective suitor who became acquainted with her through a bottle.

Marjorie put a "please write me" message in a bottle she was packing at the glass factory where she works. A 26-year-old pharmacist in Perth, Australia, John Vettler, found the message and replied.

The correspondence flourished, and John suggested that Marjorie fly out to meet him. He forwarded $1,260 for the plane fare.

Scholars Given Travel Chance

Students at Sir Francis Drake High School are being offered the opportunity to travel abroad under the auspices of World Horizons Institute, which permits students to see Europe while earning college credits.

Johan Tassone, an English teacher, will conduct a tour this summer for 35 days with a maximum of 30 students.

Excursions to the capitals of Europe, as well as Washington, D.C., will be supplemented with recreational and cultural activities.

U.S. Navy Held World's Biggest

LONDON (UPI) — An authoritative naval review published today said the U.S. Navy is the largest and most advanced the world has ever seen and could "bulldoze" the way to victory in Viet Nam if given the go-aheads.

No combination of Communist forces could stop the American Navy, according to the 1965-66 edition of Jane's Fighting Ships.

"It must be a source of wonder to many a nation, especially to any aggressively inclined, why the United States, with such a colossal military force and mounting any size of air strike, has not bulldozed her way to the objective in Viet Nam," the review said.

It said the U. S. Navy "is doubtless capable not only of containing any possible combination of Vietnamese forces arrayed against it, but of countering any force that any cobeligerants might have available in that sphere."

The only significant naval forces in Far East waters which could oppose the Americans are the Red Chinese, with mostly antiquated units but 30 submarines, and the highly efficient Soviet fleet.

Jane's said the entire force of U. S. nuclear powered surface warships, including the giant aircraft carrier Enterprise, "have been or are being transferred to the Pacific fleet for support of operations off Viet Nam."

It said the Soviet Union is keeping long range, missile-armed units of its submarine fleet "on station" off Communist China, the United States and Australia.

It noted that the Russians, although trailing in nuclear units, have almost as many submarines as the rest of the world combined — including the United States.

Jane's is regarded as the world's most authoritative reference on the navies of the world.

New York Makes Money From Sales

NEW YORK (UPI) —Faced with the prospect of a $500 million deficit in the next fiscal budget, city officials have acquired a new interest in salvage.

City purchase Commissioner Roger Browne revealed yesterday that the city saved $714,000 during 1965 by putting on the auction block such discards as empty shells from policemen's bullets and antiquated ferry boats.

Wide Range Of Prices For Christmas Trees

Christmas tree lots have sprung up throughout Marin County in the past week, and prices were found in a survey to range widely from lot to lot (and sometimes from customer to customer).

The best buy appeared to be old-fashioned green Douglas firs, in fairly short supply and low demand, going in some places for 65 cents a foot. The top price, for silvertip firs, pines and white firs, was $2 a foot.

It was not possible to make an exact count of all the lots in the county because only certain ones require business licenses.

Those in the unincorporated areas need no licenses, and neither, in most cases, do those in cities operated as a part of a regular business, such as a nursery or a grocery store.

Bottom prices were found on lots at 428 Irwin Street, San Rafael, and next to 489 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, both operated by De Molay local chapters, and at Pan's Garden, Sausalito.

Silvertips demanded $2 a foot, especially when "flocked" with white, at the Miles R. Ferguson lot at Grand Avenue and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael; at Jeffrey Meyer's lots at the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, at the Tiburon Safeway Store lot, and on lots in Novato. Ferguson's Douglas firs cost $1 to $1.50 a foot.

Jack Crawford, president of the Marin Boys Club, Mill Valley, said the club's lot at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto had a few choice silvertips for $2, but most cost $1.75 a foot.

Heaviest concentration of lots seemed to be in San Anselmo, although the city had issued only three business licenses for new operations.

One of the licensees, Marlin H. Ogden, has two lots, one on Greenfield Avenue near Braverman's Furniture in San Anselmo, and the other in San Rafael at 1926 Fourth Street. Ogden said prices range from $1 per foot up, depending on fullness of the trees, all silvertips.

In Larkspur two licenses were issued, but only one lot established by last week, at the Value World Center. Silvertips were on sale for $1.50 a foot.

Corte Madera had issued no licenses, but the traditional Lions Club lot was set up in Corte Madera Center. Silvertips were on sale at $1.85 a foot, white firs at $1.60, and Douglas firs for as low as 85 cents in some cases for larger trees.

In Novato, two lots were opened by John Pronzini at Novato Square and Nave shopping centers and another by John Novak at Novak Square. Prices there for most trees ranged from $1 to $1.50 a foot, except for the $2 white trees.

The Mayer lots in Tiburon and San Rafael have Douglas and white firs and lodgepole and bull pines, all for $1 to $1.50 a foot, in addition to silvertips which might bring $2.

In Sausalito silver spruces were on sale at Pan's Garden for $1.75 a foot, and Douglas firs for $1 down to 65 cents.

Prices were not available at the indoor lot at the closed Purity Store in Sausalito, where flocked, white trees were included in the selection being readied for sale.

At a lot at Gate Six, Waldo Point, manager Frank Russo said he sells spruce and firs at about $1 a foot, with the price fluctuating on his estimate of the customer.

The Mill Valley De Molay lot manager said prices were determined, in many cases, by the total appearance, rather than the height. A lot called Trees at C's, across the street, also did not have footage prices, but the average silvertip cost $8, a white fir $5.85, and Douglas fir $3.95.

Girl Rescued From Ledge

San Rafael firemen were called out to rescue a 10-year-old Fairfax girl who became stuck on a ledge below Dominican Drive while her parents were house hunting at 2:35 p.m. yesterday.

Laura Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Nolan of 5 Hawthorne Court, was rescued when firemen threw down a rope and one of the firemen got behind her and "talked" her up the incline.

Firemen said the girl "went for a walk" while her parents were looking at houses, and ended up on the ledge.

Injured Child Is Treated; Father Jailed On Charge

Two-month-old Marilyn Pierce, child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Landen Pierce of 749 Tamalpais Drive, Apt. 11, Corte Madera, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a head injury allegedly received at the hand of her father.

Pierce, 29, who said it was all an accident, was booked into county jail Saturday on a charge of inflicting injury on a child. He remained in jail today, with bail set at $2,200.

Corte Madera Police Officer Fred R. Talmadge said the shaken Pierce stood in a corridor of Marin General Hospital just before midnight Friday and him the baby was in her mother's arms when injured.

Talmadge quoted Pierce as saying he must have accidentally struck the child when slapping his wife during an argument.

His wife, Marilyn Jo, an hour earlier had called police from a service station to say she and her husband had argued and she was afraid to return home.

Talmadge went with her to the apartment. He said Pierce, a tree surgeon, was contrite and promised that "everything will be all right now."

Nurses at Marin General Hospital said the baby was operated on for the injury, which police described as a half-inch indentation, three or four inches in diameter, on the side of her head.

Talmadge said Pierce told him he was just teasing and slapping at his wife and did not understand how the child was injured.

New York's Central Park consists of 840 acres.

The Helmsmen, who ran unopposed, were elected cheerleaders with 891 votes. Members of the group are Rich Cohen, Brad Kritsky, Dianna Gibbs and Susan Travis, all of San Anselmo.

Aboard Destroyer

Gade of 222 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, has been participating in the latest project Gemini space mission aboard the destroyer USS Rupertus in the Pacific. Republicans Reject 'Radical' Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders approved a resolution today advising party members to reject membership "in any radical or extremist organization."

The measure did not name the John Birch Society.

The Republican Coordinating Committee acted swiftly to endorse the stand of GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

A spokesman said the committee unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that Republicans should reject membership:

"In any radical or extremist organization, including any which attempt to use the Republican party for its own ends or any which seeks to undermine the basic principles of American freedom and constitutional government."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, proposed the resolution. Dirksen said he acted for himself and House GO PLeader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

Gov. Robert E.S mylie of Idaho, who had earlier called for a specific denunciation of the Birch society, seconded the Dirksen resolution.

Smylie reportedly decided not to press for action on a resolution naming the Birch society because he doubted there were enough votes to adopt it.

Cigarette Held Cause Of Fire

Fire blamed on a cigarette destroyed a combination living room-kitchen at the home of J. Alvin Wayne, 1550 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, at Saturday afternoon, with damage estimated at $4,000.

Wayne dropped the cigarette end, but couldn't find it, and left the house, firemen reported. While he was out, the fire started and there were many calls reporting it, the first at 1:20 p.m. Three fire alarm boxes were pulled and there were numerous telephone calls, the fire department reported.

Gallinas Area Apartments Are Cleared

A building permit for the P. J. Tarrant apartment building at Labrea Way and North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia was issued prior to a moratorium on sewer connections, county public works director Donald R. Frost said today.

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary district last June wrote the county building department saying that no connecion permits would be issued until reconstruction of Gallinas Village Community Services District sewer lines was complete. However, Frost said a permit for the apartments had already been issued.

Mrs. Helen Foulkes, secretary of the sanitary district, said Friday that she did not know how the builder got his county building permit in light of the district's moratorium on connections.

Frost said "no occupancy permit will be issued until sewer connections are properly made."

Bolinas Fire Siren To Go Off Saturdays

Bolinas volunteer firemen will sound the siren at the firehouse each Saturday noon commencing Saturday, Fire Chief Jose Silva said today.

Silva said this will be done so firement will know it is in workable condition. "It will be the first time in the history of Bolinas that this has been done," said Silva.

Tam Students Opposed To Marincello

A group of Tamalpais High School students is petitioning the Marin County Board of Supervisors to reconsider its Nov. 12 approval of the Marincello Master Plan.

One hundred signatures were collected by student Chris Cruickshank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Cruickshank of 194 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, who felt she was not entitled to sign an adult petition.

"We . . . are neither property owners or voters but our faith and stake in Marin is as great and perhaps greater because we are young students," the petition reads.

The students asked that the board "reconsider the fate of our open land before we become a hodgepodge county like so many others. We implore you to do all in your power to preserve our unique environment before it is destroyed and only the memory of individualism remains."

Crossroads Manor On Plan Agenda

The Novato planning commission will consider Baimar Corp.'s plans for Crossroads Manor, a twon huse development, when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The 25-acre portion of the Scottsdale development lies west of Highway 101, approximately one-half mile north of the Highway 37 intersection.

The Novato City Council last week delayed action on the Marin Viviera portion of Scottsdale, another 25 acres north of the crossroads section, pending a study of town house developments in other Bay Area cities.

The Gasoline Crossroads request for three service stations on three corners of the intersection of San Marin Drive and San Andreas Drive of the Harker Development Co. also will be considered by the commission, which postponed action on it two weeks ago.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Let's Not Go Overboard On County Aide Salaries

Marin County boasts top caliber men in elected offices, both in integrity and in the ability to perform their functions.

Due compensation for those offices is fine. But let's not go overboard in our enthusiasm to express satisfaction with their performances and in recognition of their responsibilities.

Salary raises voted by the supervisors last week to some of our elected officials, especially the graduated increases that are built in over the next three years, border on the excessive.

The decision to increase the salaries was not based on any systematic study of salaries in other counties with comparable populations. Those who made the salary study report that the pay scale is "so varied" in various counties and so "very spotty" that they cannot be used as a basis of comparison.

The result was that the salary raises determined in Marin County represent arbitrary figures arrived at from personal judgments of what each position should be worth now and three years from now. The judgments were apparently based on the "responsibilities" of the elected offices and the importance of their decisions as they affect public interest.

Sure, some of our officials work long hours and are forced to attend night meetings to serve the community. As individuals, we like to see them well compensated for their efforts.

But the pay raises voted last week are for the positions, not the men. The pay raise will apply to the office holders, whether they be experienced incumbents or a newcomer who wins an election in the future.

We have in mind especially the automatic increases that are provided for 1967 and 1969. They are passed off as "coming to about five per cent per year increase" to keep up with the rise in cost of living.

Most of them amount to far more than five per cent. Some of them come close to 30 per cent increase. Furthermore, the automatic percentage raise for cost of living gives the higher income brackets (like elected officials) a big advantage over other employees in the lower brackets.

For example, a man in the $15,000 per year category, receiving 5 per cent cost of living raise, would have $750 per year more to spend on his family. A minor clerk, getting $5,000 per year, would have only $250 per year additional.

The disparity, which started with the original salary, is further widened with each percentage increase.

Now, to get down to specifics.

Sonoma County is the closest to Marin, both in geographical proximity and population. Sonoma's current salaries are as follows:

Assessor $15,000; county clerk $12,000; sheriff $15,000; treasurer-tax collector $11,250; and recorder $11,250.

The Marin assessor now gets $14,700 and will be raised to $15,300 next year. This is comparable. But in 1967, the salary will jump to $20,000, and in 1969 to $22,000. Sonoma would have to raise its salary by $7,000 in three years to keep up with Marin.

Marin's county clerk gets $16,000 now and will get $16,800 next year. This will jump to $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 in 1969. Sonoma would have to raise the pay by $7,500 in three years to keep up with Marin.

In 1969, the other Marin salaries would be: Recorder $15,500; sheriff $21,000, and treasurer-tax collector $19,500.

We believe the supervisors and their salary committee would have been on surer footing if they had used salaries in comparable counties as one of the bases on which to justify the increases.

The supervisors are treading on dangerous ground when they leave salary increases solely to the personal judgments of what the office is worth and what the responsibilities command.

Bid Negotiation Is Explained

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At the bid opening for San Rafael Fire Station No. 5 on Friday, Dec. 3, a great deal of confusion arose concerning the ethics of negotiating a building contract with the low bidder.

It is standard practice throughout the construction industry to negotiate with the low bidder for the purpose of either adding work to or deleting work from a proposed building contract prior to signing an agreement. The Associated General Contractors of America support this practice so long as it is conducted within a reasonable period of time after the bid opening.

Physicians Urge Viet Nam War End

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As physicians, we are asked by government and private agencies to volunteer for civilian medical service in Viet Nam — bomb-blasted and napalm-burned women and children by the hundreds lie relatively untended in monstrous refugee camps, driven from their homes by American planes. The undersigned, who marched with 40,000 others of like mind in Washington on Nov. 27, believe that prevention of these wounds makes more sense than appeals for treatment.

How can we rationally give with one hand while taking away one-hundred-fold with the other. Dr. Benjamin Spock's remarks at the end of the march seemed to us most appropriate:

"It seems ludicrous that our officials keep solemnly repeating that the North Vietnamese must leave their neighbors alone, when we have come half-way round the world to interfere. . . . I believe that our government only confuses itself and the American people when it sets up a puppet dictatorship in Viet Nam and then calls the Vietnamese people aggressors and attacks them with napalm when they revolt against it. . . . "

As physicians, we urge a halt to the bombing in Viet Nam as the most relevant medical aid to the civilians of Viet Nam.

No Harrassment Was Intended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Dec. 1, you published a letter by Patricia Gerstner of Kentfield in which she accused our organization (among others) of "harrassing and intimidating the public and property owners. . . ." She also implied that the name of our organization was "a variant way. . .(of). . .deluding. . .different segments of the population." Her identification of the basic Jewish and Christian principle of brotherhood as "a dead horse" is tragic. Furthermore, she failed to learn the facts of Operation WELCOME NEIGHBOR.

The Marin Council on Religion and Race which is supported by the Marin Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco and the Board of Rabbis of Northern California has been sponsoring a campaign within the churches and synagogues of Marin County to procure signatures from members of the religious community to the following pledge: "I recognize the right of all minority people to rent or buy housing in my immediate neighborhood and I shall welcome them as neighbors." Currently 61 of the congregations in Marin have requested a total of 25,000 pledge cards for distribution among their members.

As your editorial of Oct. 28 noted, the purpose of our campaign is to permit people to voluntarily express their commitment to the principles upon which their religious faiths are based. As is clearly indicated in that editorial as well as in a number of news articles which appeared in your paper and other newspapers, it is our desire to show that the "yes" vote on proposition 14 was an expression of the concern of many individuals for their private rights. These people also feel strongly their commitments to the principles of brotherhood, and given the opportunity to voluntarily express this in a pledge such as ours we are confident that they will do so.

Editorial Page Wins Plaudits

Just a line to thank you and your associates for the high quality of your editorial page. Monday, Dec. 6, it seemed to me, was especially good. Your approach to the drug problem was sensible, vigorous and timely.

I am especially pleased with your occasional articles on Marin birds. "The Birds in Winter" are a joy to us out on Pleasant Lane, even to the jays and sparrows. I am glad that you find pleasure in Marin's bird life and share it with us.

We enjoy the Independent-Journal with its good news coverage and its high standards, especially when issues involving moral standards are faced.

May the Christmas season be a blessed one for all of you.

Here's How You Can Help Foreign Aid—Give Materials For Schools

WASHINGTON — Whenever I have talked about foreign policy with students and adults in audiences across the country, two questions come up again and again:

"What can I do to help?"

"Isn't there too much handout in foreign aid?"

There is a good answer to both questions.

THERE IS something which the individual — students and adults alike — can do and in doing it enlarge the self-help side of foreign aid.

Without moving out of your own community, would you like to help build a schoolhouse abroad where schools are desperately needed and where children desperately need schooling?

The project I am talking about was originated by a private citizen, actively involves private citizen participation, and has generated private initiative in needy countries.

The project is the School-to-School Program which the Peace Corps has adopted in order that thousands of Americans may participate and which it has now thoroughly tested to make sure that it works, works well, and proves how it can be blessed both to give and to receive.

HERE'S WHAT happened:

A little over a year ago the Parent-Teachers Assn. of Rosendale School, Schenectady, N.Y., had some money they wanted to use for a good purpose. They asked a government official what he would propose.

"I'd build a school," he replied. "I don't mean sending in construction crews. I mean buying cement and block-making machines and providing a couple of supervisors to oversee the construction. I mean self-help."

They did it, with the students helping to raise funds to provide building materials for a school in the impoverished village of Casablanca, Colombia. The villagers of Casablanca built it with their own hands. The Peace Corps provided on-the-job assistance. A dire need was met people-to-people by private initiative.

And now donations from the U.S., mostly from school children, have built or are building over 70 schoolhouses in 19 underdeveloped countries where the Peace Corps is represented.

This is only a beginning. Many more applications for help are being received by the Peace Corps. With contributions of $1,000 or more, schoolhouses can be built by self-help in areas of Asia, Africa, and Latin America where the need is desperate.

WHO MAY participate? Nearly everybody, but especially:

1. Individual schools, classrooms, student bodies, and other school groups.

2. School-related organizations such as the P-TA of your community, provided the students share in the fund-raising.

3. Any community organization, such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, or Lions, provided they do so in conjunction with a school.

In the wake of these school-to-school, self-help projects will come a chain of contacts and communications between the school children of America and the school children in the communities abroad who will also benefit.

THIS IS FOREIGN aid which can do incalculable good—undertaken by private initiative matched by self-help and carried out people-to-people.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver has described the school-to-school program as "an exciting new avenue for better understanding."

Its potential is as great as Americans, by their voluntary contributions, want to make it.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Nasser And Russians Ready African Arms

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Gamal Nasser and Russia are in the process of setting up the machinery to arm and supply African attacks on the Rhodesian government of Sir Ian Smith.

At the very time Nasser is vigorously pressing the U.S. to provide him with new large stocks of surplus grain and other commodities, the UAR ruler is secretly conferring with high-ranking Soviet officers and members of the Organization of African Unity in Cairo to instigate and wage extensive guerrilla war in Rhodesia.

THE SOVIET GROUP, headed by Marshall Andrei Grechko, first deputy defense minister, consists of Air Marshal Rudenko, deputy air force commander; Admiral Sergeyev, top naval man; and Col. General Mikhail Nikitin, reputed new military intelligence commander.

Foremost among Africans are Flexi Onaha, Uganda defense minister and militant advocate of the use of armed force against Rhodesia, and the leading military lieutenants of Keyna President Kenyatta, chairman of the Organization of African Unity.

Significantly, the Russian group is exactly the same that visited Hanoi shortly before Communist Party Secretary Brezhnev went there early this year. Following these trips it was announced the Soviet was increasing its military aid to North Viet Nam, including ground-to-air missiles — which so far have taken a toll of eight U.S. planes.

IT HAS ALSO BEEN ascertained that the Soviet group in Cairo is in direct contact with Kenyatta and Diallo Telli, secretary-general of the OAU.

Nasser's conspiring with Moscow to organize and arm guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia is a repeat of what he did in the strife-torn Belgian Congo in 1964.

At that time, when the UAR was getting more than $100 million a year in surplus U.S. food under a three-year agreement with President Kennedy, Nasser was trans-shipping large quantities of weapons and munitions to the Communist-led rebels in the Congo. The arms were flown from Russia to UAR bases, where they were stored for delivery, largely via the Sudan, to the rebels.

IN THE ATTACKS now being secretly planned in Cairo against the Rhodesian government, Nasser will provide the military equipment from his stocks. In turn, the Soviet will replace these supplies with new arms.

In preparation for the guerrilla operations, "advance" infiltration and propaganda centers are being set up in adjoining Zambia and Malawi.

At Lusaka, Zambia, on the Zambesi River separating it from Rhodesia, already two leaders-in-exile of the African Peoples Unity Party are beaming incendiary broadcasts to the African population of Rhodesia. George Myandoro and James Chikerema in daily broadcasts are preaching "kill the whites," "destroy the whites' cattle and crops," "strike against the Smith government," "sabotage and tie up transportation and communications."

STATE AND DEFENSE department authorities make no secret of their profound concern over the Rhodesian crisis. A high State Department official is privately calling it the "most dangerous situation in the entire world, not excepting Viet Nam."

He pointed out that if large scale guerrilla fighting develops in Rhodesia, all Africa could become involved, with Russia and Red China "feeding the flames."

Administration insiders say President Johnson is prepared to support Britain if it imposes an oil embargo against the Ian Smith government. It is indicated that state and justice department experts already are formulating the measures necessary for such U.S. action.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

A Bad Year For Agriculture, In Spite Of What Brown Says

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO—Quite a few Californians—Republicans and Democrats alike, and cityfolk and countryfolk alike — may have some difficulty in matching Gov. Edmund G. Brown's glowing optimism over the year's agricultural experience with that of the first full and factual report for 1965.

The report comes from J. F. Bennett, deputy director of the state department of agriculture.

In early December, Brown met in Los Angeles with W. Willard Wirtz, U.S. secretary of labor, and the man who generally called the shots on when, how and if any Mexican braceros could be brought into the state to help in the harvest fields. Wirtz received a report from the panel he had appointed to advise him on California agriculture labor needs.

"THE REPORT clearly shows what we have predicted for several months," Brown said at the time, "that California agriculture has had an excellent year, and that it weathered this first year without major use of Mexican braceros very well.

"It also indicates," the governor continued, "that there probably will be few, if any braceros, needed next year."

Before lining up Brown's statements with those of his department of agriculture, one should realize two things about the 1955 season. First off, with one exception, it was one of the most beautiful growing seasons in years — summer temperatures were mild, not causing rapid ripening of fruit; the fall was warm and virtually without damaging rains. The single exception was a mid-August rain which destroyed many cling peaches.

THE DISASTER in the peach area freed workers who moved into the tomato harvest, thereby reducing shortages.

Now, getting into Bennett's report — the first full breakdown on crop production and marketing issued thus far. The report did not deal with livestock although prices for livestock and poultry have been very high this year and have boosted total farm income substantially.

ASPARAGUS: Actual harvest of 147 million pounds, indicating crop loss of 12 million pounds; canned pack down 1.2 million cases; price for white asparagus to consumers up an estimated 10-12 cents per No. 300 can, or 25 per cent.

STRAWBERRIES: Total harvest 174 million pounds, indicating loss of 25 million pounds, or 13 per cent; data indicates consumers are paying about 5 cents more per package for frozen strawberries, a 15 per cent jump.

CANTALOUPES: Production of 4,680,000 CWT, down 22 per cent; season average price for cantaloupe, $4.15 per jumbo crate, as compared to $3.30 a year ago.

LEMONS: Production at 13.5 million boxes, down 17 per cent; average price of $3.75 per carton, as compared to $2.63 per carton last year.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS: Indications are that 12 to 14 per cent of the expected production of 66 million pounds was lost.

A DINER at the Baroque Restaurant in N.Y. asked the head waiter if he could take home a half-finished bottle of wine for his dog. "It's very, very bad for a dog to drink wine," frowned the head waiter, "and besides, it's against the law to give a dog intoxicating liquids." "Who's giving it to him?" demanded the diner. "It happens that my dog likes to watch me drink it."

Assessor Broemmel Gets Heat In The Form Of Warm Praise

Marin Assessor Bert W. Broemmel came in for some more heat, this time in the form of warm praise, when Charles A. O'Brien spoke last Thursday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government.

O'Brien is chief deputy attorney general of California. He told the assemblymen:

"Our investigations have uncovered criminal acts, discrimination and incompetence in the assessment process.

"BUT WE HAVE also more frequently encountered dedicated, fair-minded assessors and their deputies and state board staff.

"Many of these men, particularly Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson and Marin County Assessor Bert Broemmel and our own state equalizers, have fought to improve the present system."

Broemmel was in San Mateo today presenting the recommended assessment reforms to the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, reforms that he and Watson with others developed and got approved by the California Assn. of Assessors.

THE PRIZE, consisting of 50 back copies of the I-J, must go to Florence T. Scott, director of the Marin Council of Community Services.

Dedicated readers will recall that it was Miss Scott who suggested that the mysterious Marin Coordinating Council was something to do with schools.

She was right, but in trying to track down the council the other day, I was thrown off the track by the county schools office itself. No one in that office seemed to have any idea what the group was, who belonged to it and what it coordinated.

IT TURNS OUT to be the Marin Coordinating Council of Teachers Assn. According to Newell McMullen, outgoing president of the council, it coordinates activities of the county, regional and state groups of the California Teachers Assn.

What the group did Dec. 1 at the meeting at the Civic Center was to name Hal Hybert president of the Marin council for 1966.

The council, by the way, is meeting again today at the Civic Center at 7:45 p.m.

When They Split Up California Will It Lead To Aggressiveness?

LOS ANGELES—The latest news from California is that they're thinking of breaking it up into two states. The idea, which was a joke a few years ago, is now being talked about seriously. The people I have spoken to have strong feelings about it. One man said:

"I've always believed there should be a South California and a North California. Of course I think the United States will support South California, because, after all, the Communist menace is located in the north at Berkeley, and if we don't stop them now, we could lose Oregon, Washington, and Idaho."

"HOW DO YOU KNOW the menace comes from the North?

"We have proof CAL students have been infiltrating down from the north especially during football games, and they're being supported by students from Stanford, and the College of the Pacific."

He showed me a draft card that he said had been burned in Hollywood. "This is a North California draft card found in the pocket of a Berkeley student who was picketing Grauman's Chinese Theater. I think it speaks for itself."

"WHAT DO YOU hope to gain by splitting the state?" I asked.

"We'll get rid of Sacramento for one thing. The North government has always treated South California as a stepsister. Now we'll have our own government probably located in Los Angeles. Mayor Yorty has just been in Viet Nam to study how their government works there. We'll probably use the South Vietnamese government as a model for our own."

"Aren't there many very difficult problems that have to be resolved before the division of the state is made?"

"Of course there are, and we're willing to negotiate all of them."

"HOW WOULD YOU go about it?"

"Well, first we'd bomb San Francisco. Then we'd tell the North Californians we'd be willing to stop the bombing if they were willing to go to the table and talk."

"But why would you bomb San Francisco first?"

"If we didn't, we wouldn't have anything to stop doing if they agreed to our terms."

"I see."

"Look, we don't want anything for ourselves. We just want to be left alone to prosper. It's the North Californians who are going to be the aggressors."

"BUT HOW do you know they will be the aggressors if you haven't even divided the state yet?"

"Well, you've had North Korea and North Viet Nam. Do you think North California is going to be any different?"

"Let's say, after the split, that you and North California have your differences and finally you agree to go to the negotiating table. What would be the primary objective of the negotiations?"

"I SHOULD think it would be to bring about a united California. If it was open to a vote, the North Californians would never want to live under a Communist system."

"Do you mean to say that after you take all the trouble to divide the state you will want to work at uniting it again?"

"But with one difference. This time South California would be the capital, and North California would have to dance to our tune."

"And if they didn't?"

"Then there's always San Francisco!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Nine chambers of commerce from San Rafael to Ukiah lined up in favor of discontinuing Northwestern Pacific's overnight passenger service to Eureka at a Public Utilities Commission hearing in San Rafael.

More than 700 persons jammed San Rafael High School auditorium for the first Marin County Conference on Education.

An old ferry, the Thoroughfare, which had been converted into a fish reduction plant, was charred by fire at its mooring off McNear's Point.

20 YEARS AGO

The San Rafael Bulldogs defeated the Tamalpais High Indians, 14-6, in the 25th clash in the series which was billed as the "Marin County classic in football."

Sheriff Walter B. Sellmer asked all Marin County residents who have extra Christmas tree decorations to take them to the county jail for use on the Christmas tree for inmates.

East Berliners Have False Front

EAST BERLIN (AP) — The pianist in East Berlin's plush Opera Cafe played "Tonight" from the musical "West Side Story" and a curvaceous waitress served fruit cake richly topped with whipped cream.

Across the broad Unter den Linden Boulevard, two booted members of an East German honor guard stood immobile in front of what once was the Nazi memorial. Now it is dedicated to "antimilitarism and anti-Fascism."

In another part of the schizoid half-city, three East Germans sat in a fashionable restaurant, timing their whispered conversation with the comings of a waiter in a tailcoat.

"You read in the newspapers about the price of butter going up in West Berlin. Here they continually raise the prices and you don't read a word about it. You go to the store one day and find that the prices are up," the man said.

"I keep thinking: This can't go on any longer — this type of government," his wife whispered, "They open a hole here and they fill it in there. It's become just like Russia. But it's gone on for 20 years—How? I don't know."

"Ninety per cent of the people put on a false front," her husband added. "They do the accepted things in public and then go home and say something entirely different."

The son, who relished the plate of beef stroganoff before him, smiled and asked: "Have you heard this one already?

"A well-known East German woman athlete is called to Berlin to be honored by Walter Ulbricht (East German Communist Party chief). 'Well, young lady,' he says, 'you have already earned every medal and honor we have to offer. So, this time we will grant you one wish.' 'Take down the Berlin Wall for 14 days,' she says. 'Aha!' Ulbricht says. 'I understand. You want to be alone with me.' "

The joke called to mind others, most with Ulbricht as the butt.

The conversation turned to the recent East German communal election in which the Communist regime claimed that 99.8 per cent of the 11-million voters endorsed the single-slate list of candidates.

"Ach! That was no election," the father said "We were sent our ballots in advance. What kind of election is it where you have no real choice of candidates. They all stand for the same principle."

If one does not vote or makes use of a closed booth to mark his ballots, he said, the person becomes suspect by the Communist authorities.

"I would never have gotten to high school," their son said, "if I hadn't joined the FDJ (the Communist Free German Youths organization). If I would want to make my doctorate, I wouldn't have a chance if I did not first join the party."

The son complained that East Germans traveling in other East Bloc countries, hungry for strong Western currencies such as the West German mark, are given third-class treatment.

"When you arrive, they ask you: East or West German? If you say West, you immediately get the best room in the best hotel and you can go where you want to and and exchange all the money you want.

"The East Germans are put together in closed groups. Everyone is told when to eat breakfast and when to eat lunch. And we are only allowed to exchange 100 marks."

At home as well, the woman said, East Germans are not accorded equal treatment from their Communist ally, the Soviet Union. Soviet troops in East Germany, she said, are discouraged from fraternizing and even from passing greetings with Germans.

"That is the great friendship you hear so much about," she said.

When the subject of the Communist Wall in Berlin came up, the woman said a surprising thing:

"The wall had to be."

If it had not been for the wall she said, the drain on East German manpower would have been such that the country's economy would have been ruined.

Later, before taking leave, her husband told a western visitor:

"We haven't given up hope yet. We can hope as long as we still can receive West German radio and television programs."

Four women disappear to every 1,000 men.

The salary of the first U.S. attorney general, Edmund J. Randolph, was $1,500 a year.

Anybody Here Seen Samantha?

Has anyone seen Samantha? She has a date she shouldn't miss.

She's a short-haired, orange and white kitten approximately six months old.

Unable to keep the kitten, a kind-hearted Mill Valley woman spent hours trying to find her a home, only to be turned down because of Samantha's gender and expenses of an operation and shots.

Then her benefactor and some friends had a brilliant idea. They donated five good prizes for a raffle to provide funds that would make Samantha more attractive.

But with tickets all sold, raffle held and date made with the vet — Samantha has disappeared.

Wishing to remain anonymous, her friends ask you, if you've seen the kitten, to call the Marin County Humane Society immediately.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Kennedy Faces Tasks After Latin Journey

By BONNIE ANGELO
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy promised cheering crowds throughout South America that "as long as I am in public life, you will have a friend in the United States."

Now he is faced with shaping his promises into programs—and in finding a way to spur into action an administration with which he no longer has influence and is often at odds.

Kennedy says that at this point he is not yet ready to talk about specific recommendations.

It can be said, however, that these points will take priority:

First is the overriding need for education in South America. Kennedy is convinced that the lack of education for the masses is the root of all the problems that burden the South American nations.

Second is the urgent need for reform. Kennedy's visits to sugar cane fields and coal mines dramatically showed him the sorry plight of laborers.

His views on reforms are chillingly simple: A revolution is in the making among South America's benighted poor, and if democratic forces fail to lead it, Communists will. He is dismayed at the tremendous gap between the leadership and the people of most Latin American countries.

He was annoyed by what he called "the incredible hypocricy" of rich liberals who talk endlessly about social revolution as they gather over cocktails in dazzling homes — but never do anything about it.

The senator is concerned about the state of the Alliance for Progress, which was one of President Kennedy's first major programs. He fears that its original concept — calling for 80 per cent participation by Latin countries working together, with 20 per cent participation by the United States—is slipping away, leaving the old, conventional idea of foreign aid. The alliance is most successful, he believes, in programs such as Food for Peace that directly affect the lives of the poor.

Two Men Join Navy

Human Guinea Pigs' Civil Rights Sought

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — There will soon be a new "civil rights" clause for patients volunteering for medical research.

Provisions for safeguarding patients' rights have been quietly drafted by federal health planners and endorsed by the nation's new Surgeon General, Dr. William Stewart.

Some scientists are bound to protest what they will consider new strictures. But the safeguards are going through, thanks to the prompt approval of Dr. Stewart.

In grasping the thorny problem Dr. Stewart has probably averted a public hassle later.

Henceforth, medical researchers applying for U.S. money grants will undergo a double check, if their planned experiments involve human beings. They will be asked to show that their potential volunteers have been fully informed of both the "risks" and "medical benefits" of the research.

If they can't, no money.

One Public Health Service spokesman likened the proviso to Title 6 of the Civil Rights Act, which permits the U.S. to cut off funds to balky grantees in other fields.

Of course, the PHS now has the power to halt support of improper research. But it isn't always quite clear just what is improper.

A new resolution approved by the National Advisory Health Council and seconded by Dr. Stewart removes some doubt. When investigators say they obtained "informed consent" from patients, they'll now have to prove it to the satisfaction of "institutional associates."

This may sound like hair-splitting. But Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., for one, doesn't think so. He's been watching the problem since the 1962 legal reforms of the Food and Drug Administration.

Javits then sponsored a patient-consent amendment involving drug experiments in the wake of the thalidomide tragedy. Since then, Javits has asked if some researchers are getting off the hook in medical experiments where techniques other than drugs are used.

Javits' interest was further heightened in July, 1963, when authorities charged that two doctors injected live cancer cells into 19 patients at Brooklyn's Jewish Chronic Disease Hospital without their knowledge and consent, and again, by complaints of a Harvard researcher that some deaths and crippling followed experiments elsewhere in which he assumes patient consent wasn't obtained.

Patient consent is a medical dilemma. If patients always knew exactly what investigators were seeking, some exepriments would be worthless. Prescribing dummy pills, or placebos, to measure the effect of real medicine is an exampie.

Yet it is possible , as the steps being taken show, to make sure that volunteers get the fairest shake possible. And this is so even when the goal of gaining vital new data supercedes the usual medical aim of trying to cure the patient.

This assurance of a double check on human experimentation seems to be a good first step. How it works out in practice remains to be seen.

Tiburon Tidelands Appeal On Agenda

The Tiburon City Council, meeting today at 8 p.m. at Del Mar School, will consider an appeal of planning commission denial of use permits for Tiburon Tidelands Co.

Tiburon Tidelands has been seeking use permits since Dec. 16, 1964, to construct a yacht harbor and a restaurant-shops building on six shoreline and 12 underwater acres between Main and Mar West streets. The planning commission denied the application on Oct. 18.

The council is expected to pass a resolution to create a city parks and recreation commission. The proposal was first introduced on Sept. 27. Councilmen at that time agreed on the need for a commission but felt the proposal needed more study.

The council will be asked to contribute funds to help pay for Christmas decorations in the downtown area, sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

Prep Band Wins National Award

The Terra Linda High School band has won fifth place and $100 worth of sheet music in a nation-wide contest with 460 other high school bands, sponsored by Disneyland.

Each entry in the contest was a film strip with recorded sound of the band in action for 10 minutes. The local school's film was made at College of Marin stadium last month under the baton of director Gordon Lowe.

Bay United Fund Merger Is Expected Tomorrow

Approval of merger of the Marin United Fund with that of four other counties into a United Bay Area Crusade is scheduled to be completed at the 11th annual meeting of the Marin group at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael.

The merger vote has been called "an absolute must" by fund president S. J. Hugh Allen. A two-thirds vote of the members is required. They will also be asked to approved a 15-man delegation for the area-wide board of trustees.

John D. LaNoue, 1965 Marin fund chairman, will report on campaign results. Rex T. Silvernale, executive committee chairman, will discuss the new area setup. Paul Y. Dunn of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts will be master of ceremonies.

Kramer is a member of the San Rafael Board of Education. According to a report from the plan's New York headquarters, the girl is one of five fatherless children living with their mother in a two-room tin shack. The money will allow her to attend school.

He was commissioned through the Army's aviation cadet program, and plioted 35 bomber missions over Europe during World War II, earning the Air Medal with five oak leaf clusters and the Army Commendation Medal.

Supervisors To Meet In Marin City

Marin County supervisors will meet at 8 p.m. today in the Marin City Community Lounge to seek solutions for vandalism, harassment of deputies and property damage in the community.

The trouble, which included several incidents of sniping at sheriff's patrol cars, reached its peak Dec. 5 when the sheriff's substation was gutted by fire. The special meeting was set after a long discussion before supervisors last Tuesday on the problem.

At that time the board agreed to defer the decision on a request from Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos for eight additional deputies and four more patrol cars to see if there were not some better solution.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will open the meeting with a report expected to include a recommended program.

Also scheduled for discussion is a letter from Marin City resident David Barrow suggesting that a machine and wood shop be established which would be open to all, not just residents of Marin City.

He suggested that this might be the nucleus of a club in which dues from members could help defray the cost.

The board will hear other suggestions from residents before starting its own discussion of possible solutions.

Four Nominated By Contractors

Four men have been nominated for two directors' seats to represent Marin for the Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. They are Denny Dehnert, Russell Thompson, Charles D. Kyne and Harry M. Locke.

Two Marin men, Walter Louis and Louis Robello, have been nominated for the post of trustee of the industry fund. Election for both offices will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at an organizational meeting in Cotati.

Council On Holiday

The Marin Youth Council will not meet during December because of Christmas. The council will next meet at 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 17 in the Curriculum Lab at the Civic Center. Those planning to attend should contact the Novato Chamber of Commerce.

Tomales High Assessment Called Unification Asset

High assessed valuation per student in the Tomales High School District would provide financial benefit to any district it might join under unification proposals now being studied.

Figures on several proposals will be discussed by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The figures, prepared by Asst. County School Supt. Robert Stannard, show that Tomales has an assessed value of $86,101 per high school-age student.

The Tamalpais High School District has an assessed value of $38,577 per student; Analy High School District, $23,050, and Petaluma High School District, $22,169.

Proposals discussed by the committee two weeks ago included unification of Tomales with the Drake attendance area of Tamalpais. This would give an assessed value per student of $40,207.

Committee members have also given thought to splitting the Tomales district with a northern portion going to Analy in Sonoma County, the middle being added to the Petaluma district, and the southern portion going to Tamalpais.

The committee, armed with Stannard's figures, is expected to define these proposals more firmly Wednesday, and to propose one of them next month.

Real Estate Breakfast

The Annual silver fizz breakfast of the Marin County Real Estate Board will be held Dec. 21 at 8 a.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Highway Chase Ends In Death

LONG BEACH (AP)—A 100-mile-an-hour chase on the Long Beach freeway ended with the death of a motorcycle officer and the arrest of to sailors, police reported.

Officer Robert Smith, 26, crashed his cycle into the rear of an auto during the chase of the two sailors' car last night. The chase ended when the sailors' auto collided with another car, police said.

The sailor driver, identified as Jerry L. Miller, 18, and his passenger Barry Weiner, 22, received minor head lacerations. The driver of the other vehicle, Catherine E. Puchrik, 50, of Long Beach, also received minor injuries, officers said.

Play Raises Cash

"The Miracle Worker" gained more than $250 for student activities at Redwood High School, students announced last week. The play was presented in November.

Honor Society Picks New Officer Slate

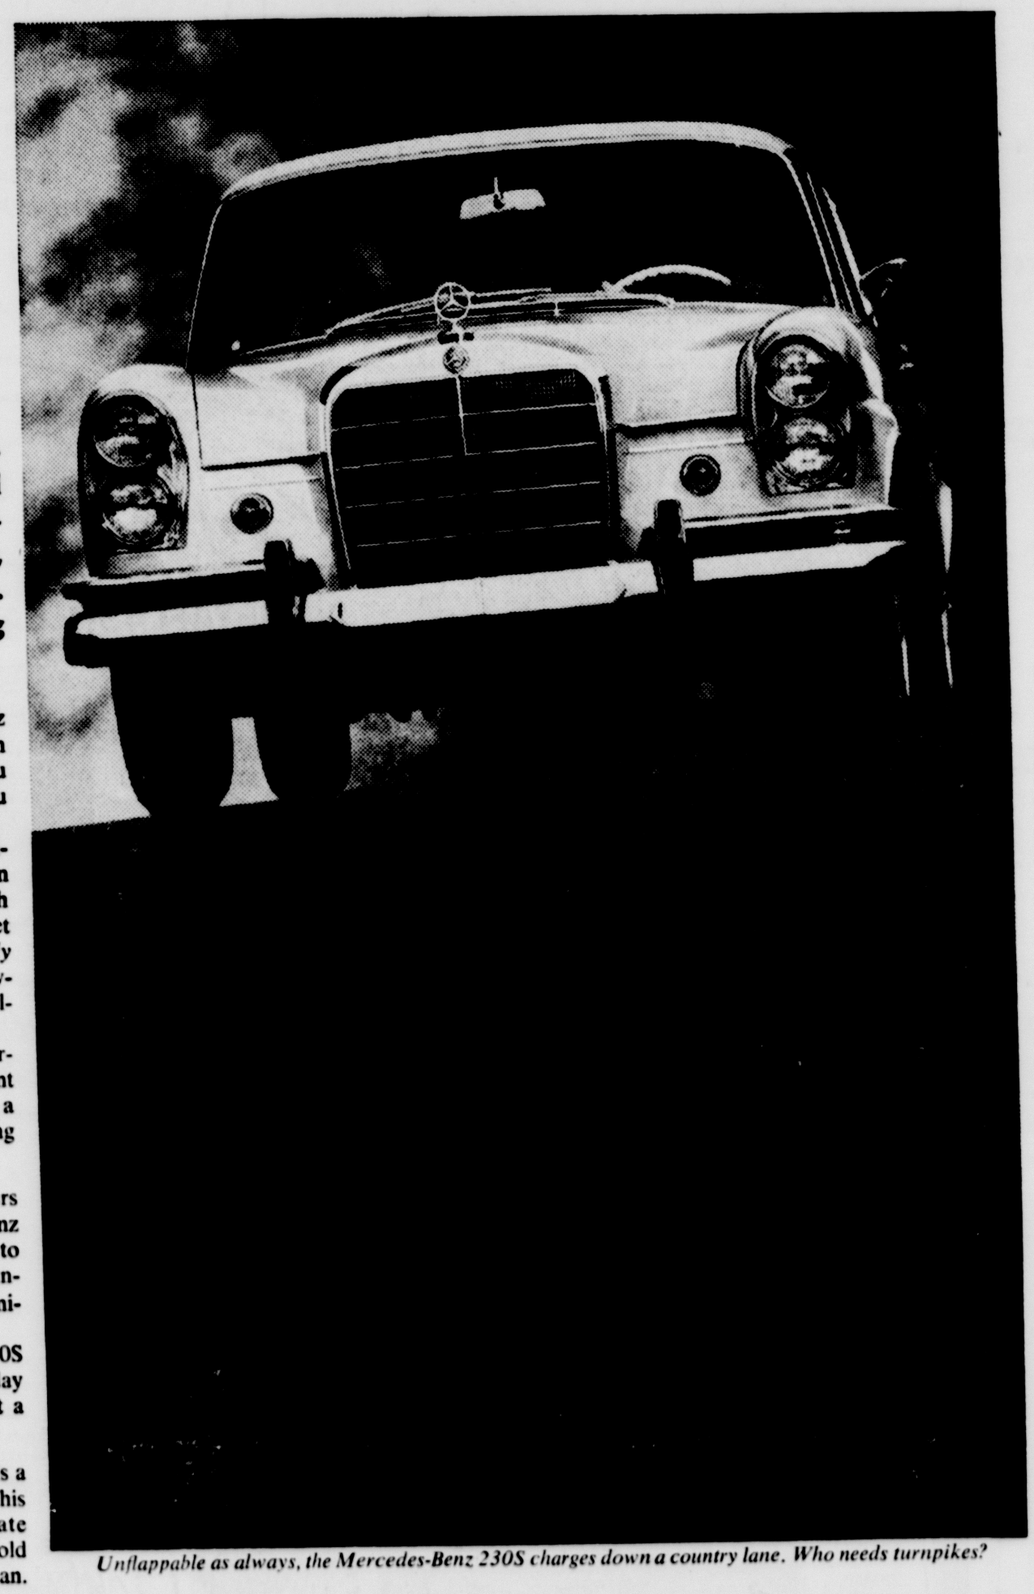
Other officers are Carol Wells of San Rafael, vice-president; Margaret Rowse of Larkspur, secretary; Stephen Schultz of San Anselmo, treasurer; and William Bruemmer of San Rafael, inter-club council representative.

15 revealing facts about the Mercedes-Benz 230S for those who always thought it was a rich man's plaything.



The Mercedes-Benz 230S scorns hand-tooled inlays and power-operated gadgets. For $4,900, you get an efficiently engineered car built for a long, hard life on the world's worst roads. Take 3 minutes to read the intriguing details below.

1. The steering system of the Mercedes-Benz 230S avoids two common pitfalls—freakish lightness and truck-like sluggishness. You guide this car with satisfying exactness. You control it—it doesn't control you.

This steering system is a precision instrument—and it's built like one. Key suspension and steering gear parts are hand tightened with a special torque wrench. This ingenious gadget squirts a blot of yellow paint onto the part only when the correct pressure is reached. A follow-up inspector simply counts the blots for a foolproof final check.

Showroom snoopers: Count the blots yourself. Scrunch down and peer under the front end of any Mercedes-Benz—there they are, a dozen or so telltale yellow dabs. A reassuring sight.

2. Heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers are standard equipment on the Mercedes-Benz 230S. It is a heavy-duty automobile. It has to be: Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 148 countries. Durability is a big sales point to Afghanistanians, Colombians and Icelanders.

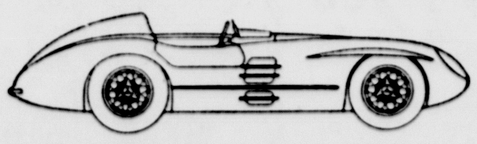
Test drivers: Blast the Mercedes-Benz 230S down the sort of road you'd skip on a Sunday drive. You'll pound over potholes without a qualm.

3. The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is a taut steel box, welded in 10,000 places. This "unit" structure is stronger than separate frame-and-body types. And the car grows old gracefully. Welds can't squeak, rattle or groan.

Unflappable as always, the Mercedes-Benz 230S charges down a country lane. Who needs turnpikes?

Bulldog grip

4. The fully independent suspension system under you in the Mercedes-Benz 230S would do credit to a racing car. As a matter of fact, it did. Its test-bed was the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR, World Champion sports-racing car a few years ago.



The 300SLR proved suspension in racing.

Just as Mercedes-Benz team racing drivers did back then, you slice through curves on a trim and even keel.

5. For a 1½-ton automobile with a top speed of 109 mph, the Mercedes-Benz 230S has immense braking power. Brutal panic stops can't fade its front disc brakes. Water won't turn them to sponge. In the Mercedes-Benz 230S, you stop with almost boring ease. The world could do with more monotony like this.

6. A 4-speed floor shift in the Mercedes-Benz 230S costs exactly as much extra as a column-mounted shift: nothing.

7. German driving conditions are an engine designer's nightmare. Gasoline costs 54¢ per gallon. Yet there is no highway speed limit. Mercedes-Benz engineers licked the problem with a 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine that delivers high gas mileage and high cruising speed.

This lovingly balanced and assembled engine can dash along for endless hours at 90 mph—yet uses about half the fuel of many large V8's. It is neither a tiger nor a tabby.

Bring your magnifying glass

8. Mercedes-Benz employs one inspector for every 11 workers. And pays them to criticize their heads off.

You'll never clench your fists in fury at shabby workmanship. The paint job under the hood is every bit as good as it is on top. A sensitive finger can run from grille to tailpipe and never meet a sharp edge, a lump or a gap.

9. Mercedes-Benz shuns the Annual Model Change like the plague. You relax at "new model time" with the Mercedes-Benz 230S. How pleasant, not to feel betrayed.

Note: Last August, Mercedes-Benz announced its most sweeping changes in years. Many technical advances were made—without having to change the cars' looks.

In 14 years, 3 Mercedes-Benz model changes.

10. Seats in the Mercedes-Benz 230S were built up by orthopedic physicians, not whipped up by interior stylists. This is why you can drive 600 miles a day and not feel like an old laundry bag when you stop.

"When you sit down, you don't sort of disappear into the cushion," says David E. Davis Jr., editor of Car and Driver. "You're cradled in something that was really engineered to keep a human being where he belongs."

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $23,245 to $4,065

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 7 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models.

600 Grand Mercedes	$23,245
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Roadster	6,262
230S Sedan	4,900
230 Sedan	4,250
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

11. You can go buy a new suit with the money you won't spend on premium-quality tires for your Mercedes-Benz 230S. They're mounted at the factory as standard equipment. And every wheel is balanced—even the spare.

12. You need never crack open a window to enjoy constant fresh-air ventilation. Air is drawn into the Mercedes-Benz 230S through a scoop on the hood. Stale air is exhausted through ducts behind the rear side windows.

Ingenious little valves, at either end of the instrument panel, blow warm air to the side windows for defrosting in cold weather. In muggy weather, you can adjust them with a fingertip for a stream of cooling air.

13. The engine and front suspension of the Mercedes-Benz 230S are mounted on a separate subframe that can be quickly removed, like a drawer, for major servicing.

14. At the proving ground, Mercedes-Benz engineers fire cars from rocket sleds to simulate head-on 65 mph collisions. Such tests have shown that doors stay closed and the passenger compartment stays intact.

The body of the Mercedes-Benz 230S is designed to fold at the front and rear under heavy impact: crash tests show that shock in the passenger area is reduced to one tenth of the amount recorded at the front bumper.

Mercedes-Benz cars enjoy a reputation as the world's safest passenger cars.

15. The Mercedes-Benz 230S repels status seekers. It is no bigger than it needs to be, and no more decorated than an efficient machine should be. All that is left is an automobile. Mercedes-Benz believes this is enough.

See for yourself

As your Mercedes-Benz dealer, we'll be gla to arrange a thorough demonstration drive i a 230S or other Mercedes-Benz model. You' find it a remarkable experience to drive a ca built to be the best—not the best seller.

YOUTHFUL SUCCESS STORY — Annoula La Lone, who had no education and did not know what Christmas was when she came to the United States from Greece at the age of 12, puts together a gauze Christmas tree at Tamalpais High School, where she is a senior. She is realizing a childhood ambition to "live in America and be a cultured lady." (Independent-Journal photo)

NEVER HAD CHRISTMAS

Greek-Born Coed Makes Two Sets Of Dreams Come True

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Annoula La Lone—sometimes called Allula, Anoola and Noola by her Tamalpais High School classmates—is a Greek-American success story at 17.

She told Greek villagers when she was five years old that she was going to live in America and be a "cultured lady." They laughed at her, but at 12 she came to the U.S.

With no knowledge of English and no education whatever, Annoula entered fifth grade in a Pasadena school where her foster mother was told "it's impossible to grade her." She worked hard and "cut the mustard."

Now a high school senior, she plans a college career, possibly in sociology.

Asked how she feels about her adopted country now, she says: "I love it. It's fantastic."

"She was praying in 1959 for a way to get out of her hell and we were praying for a little girl to come into our lives," says her foster mother, Mrs. Jay La Lone.

"I said, 'God, my hands are empty. Show me what you want me to do.' Then the mail man came. He knew this Greek-American woman with a list of Greek kids who were orphans and up for adption. He told me about them. Then 10 pictures were sent us and, from them, we picked Annoula."

The La Lones tried to arrange for Annoula to be sent to America but were unsuccessful, so Mrs. La Lone went after her, adopting her in Greece. Annoula lived in Athens then where she did house work. She had never attended school. She didn't know what Christmas was, she said, except that it was a time for people to meet and eat together. There were no gifts.

The La Lones moved to Mill Valley two months ago, residing at 507 Barone Lane.

Annoula, accustomed to Pasadena High Schol where she said there are 4,000 pupils, loves Tamalpais. She likes the smallness of it, the fact that she knows "practically everyone." She likes her counsellor, she said, and was amazed to find a 'free campus," unlike Pasadena's.

She said that, when she sent an article from the Tamalpais News to Greece, friends wrote back: "What is Tamites? We can't find it in the Greek dictionary."

Annoula loves to do the jerk, monkey and filley, but still likes to do her native Greek folk dances.

The La Lones have two sons, Darrell La Lone, a senior at University of California and Ernest Smith, of Sacramento. Smith and his wife have also adopted a Greek girl, who is named Yannoula.

San Rafael School Staff To Present Pay Requests

A new salary schedule for San Rafael School District employees will be presented to the district's board of education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrom at the administration building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The plan now calls for a sliding scale ranging from a 5.77 per cent increase at the bottom level to 4.75 at the top. The jump would be retroactive to the beginning of the school year, replacing a two per cent increase granted earlier.

Bottom salary would go from $5,300 a year to $5,500, and the maximum pay from $11,012 to $11,110.

Plans for rehabilitation of San Rafael High School have hit a snag on the way to approval by the state Division of Architecture, and Supt. Bert C. Corona will ask that the Dec. 22 bid opening date for the project be cancelled.

Bids should be opened Dec. 23 for the Davidson Junior High School gymnasium addition, according to Corona's recommendation.

Board members will hear a report calling for sale of $1 million in bonds for construction in the elementary district, for relocation of a portable classroom from Sun Valley to San Pedro School and annauguration of bus service for the Los Ranchitos area.

The staff will give a report on a proposal to use volunteers as noon supervisorsg on school grounds, and the board is scheduled to continue discussion on a retirement policy which will allow the board to allow some employees to work past the age of 65.

Terra Linda High Sprouts Yule Decor

Winning class will be honored with a plaque in the school trophy case, according to sophomore Blair Wardlaw, chairman of the contest.

Retired Officers Association Elects

Col. Helmut K. Schmid (Army), has been elected president of the Marin County Chapter of the Retired Officers Assn. He will replace Col. Arthur Watson, who organized the association.

Other newly elected officers of the association are: Col. Robert C. Hiatt (Marine Corps), first vice president; CWO Glen A. Thayer (Navy), second vice president; Capt. Edward F. Springer (Army), secretary-treasurer.

Farmers Named To Committee

Farmers of Marin and Sonoma counties voted last month to elect representatives to the Marin-Sonoma Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Elected after 92 ballots were mailed in by local farmers were: Alfred J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station, incumbent president, David B. Burbank of Fallon, James A. Marshall of Tomales, Thomas Furlong Jr. of Tomales, and William Barboni of Petaluma.

Bianchi was elected to a three-year term, Burbank to a two-year term, and Marshall for one year. Furlong and Barboni were elected as alternates to the committee, which oversees administration of federal farm programs in this area.

Slight Drop In Employees Association

Membership in the Marin County Employees Assn. has taken a slight drop since the association's decision to increase dues from 50 cents to $3 a month and hire a manager.

Since the decision was made last month, 49 have dropped out of the association while 28 employees have joined. This leaves a total membership of 474, which is more than enough to support the proposed budget, president La Verne Robinson said yesterday.

Applications for the manager will be closed Jan. 15 and the man should be selected by Feb. 1, she said.

The association drop outs included some department heads. Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht, and County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Yule Lights Voted

Directors of the Village Square Assn. of Corte Madera Friday agreed to decorate the square with Christmas tree lighting, reported association Vice President Robert D. Dolman.

Drake Widening Plan Detailed

The Marin County Public Works Department's proposal to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Kentfield from Laurel Grove avenue to the town of Ross would not only add traffic lanes on the main route, but also affect traffic on side streets.

The plan presented to the county planning commission last week showed new streets connecting Altamira and Butterfly and Maple and Stetson, each about 100 feet from the boulevard.

The new connecting streets would mean that the J. L. K. Fossey home at 6 Altamira would have to be moved or demolished. It would be one of 35 buildings affected in the plan approved by the commission.

The Fosseys and the Wallace E. McDonalds at 5 Altamira, have both protested the plan, reported Peter Sarant, public works department engineer. He said they were not at the planning commission hearing, although notified. They protested to him the following day.

The improvement project, still to go to the board of supervisors, would be constructed over five years.

Secretary Named

Mrs. Karen DeFault Friday was named acting recording secretary of the Black Point Improvement Club, replacing Mrs. Elaine Jensvold, who is moving from the community.

Four Men Accused Of Counterfeiting

LANCASTER (AP)—Engraving plates for 100-peso bills were confiscated with the arrest of four men accused of counterfeiting more than one million Mexican pesos, arresting officers reported.

Sheriff's deputies and U.S. Treasury agents said the pesos ere worth about $80,000 in U.S. dollars. Booked on suspicion of counterfeiting Thursday were Edward M. Brakes, 34, Donald Reed, 57, both Lancaster printers; Jack Carlton Reed, 35 and Philip James Rochford, 27, both of Redlands.

Juniors Wash Cars

A total of $47.50 was added to the treasury of Redwood High School's junior class following a car wash held Dec. 4 at Ed Miller's Texaco Station on Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

What Is Patriotism?

Is it patriotism to accept and obey without question the actions and policies of one's government even though one sincerely believes these actions and policies to be wrong, unwise, even immoral? Is it not greater patriotism to express a thoughtful dissent from our policy in Viet Nam and to explore peaceful solutions to the undeclared war in that devastated country?

We call upon our government to initiate a stronger effort to bring about an immediate cease-fire. Let us, in the name of humanity, submit this conflict to the judgment of the United Nations. In President Johnson's own words . . . "There can be no military solution . . ." "We must find a path to a peaceful settlement . . ." Because we are concerned with the morality, justice and honor of our country, we wholeheartedly support these statements.

To quote the late Justice Brandeis: "The greatest menace to freedom is an inert people. Public discussion is a political duty."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Decompensation Term Applied To Any Malfunctioning Organ

VAN DELLEN

Decompensation is a popular medical term that physicians apply to any malfunctioning organ. Cardiac decompensation is the best example and exists when the old ticker cannot maintain adequate circulation.

The victims are short of breath and develop a dry, hacky cough along with swelling of the legs and congestion in the lungs. Many will recognize the condition as dropsy or heart failure. Rest, digitalis, a salt-free diet, and diuretics usually bring relief.

A TECHNICAL term for a certain type of flat feet is decompensation of the arches. An overweight patient of mine was convalescing from pneumonia and wore moccasins for slippers. Pain developed when the weakened arches could not support the weight of the body as he walked about on the hard hospital floors.

Shoes with arch supports were obtained and he was given instructions on how to strengthen the arches through exercise. In this case, a prolonged illness led to weakness of his muscles, tendons, and other supportive tissues.

Uremia is a household word that we associate with "poor kidneys." Many physicians prefer the term decompensation of the kidneys or renal decompensation. It implies that these important organs are unable to function properly and toxic waste products are accumulating in the blood.

UREMIA sounds so final, whereas decompensation could be temporary and improvement takes place when the organs compensate.

This change in nomenclature was made to order when the artificial kidney was invented. This device filters the toxic waste products from the blood; the victim is not uremic for several days thereafter even though the decompensating kidney remains the same.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self addressed envelope accompanies request.

EXPLORATORY AGE

Mrs. D. writes: When my child was a year old we were able to put most of our knick-knacks out of reach. Now that he is 2, it is almost impossible to keep him away from things, no matter where we place them. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

As a father of three children and grandfather of seven, I know what you mean. There's an old saying, "Nothing is out of reach of a 2-year-old." Time will solve your problem.

GULLET SPASM

Mrs. D. writes: I nearly choke to death from spasms of the esophagus. Is there any cure for this condition?

REPLY

There is no need to worry about choking to death because the windpipe, rather than the esophagus, controls breathing. It goes to the stomach and when spasm occurs, pain and difficulty in swallowing are the usual manifestations. Cure is possible.

SKEPTICAL PATIENT

D. E. writes: Why are physicians so ignorant about brucellosis? I believe I have this disease but when I ask doctors about it, they act as if I were talking Greek.

REPLY

Some persons pay for physician's advice but refuse to believe what he tells them. I hope this does not apply to you. Have the usual brucellosis laboratory tests been made?

POLAR BEAR LIVERS

F. J. P. writes: I understand that the ingestion of polar bear livers can result in illness because of excessive quantities of vitamin A. What do you say about this?

REPLY

There have been reports of this nature in medical journals. Polar bear liver contains so much vitamin A that poisoning has occurred after ingesting large amounts of this meat.

Pedestrian Struck, Injured In Novato

Elizabeth Anne Sullivan, 6, of 19 Tyler Street, Novato, suffered cuts to a knee and forehead Friday when she was knocked down by a car at the Diablo Avenue and Center Road intersection, Novato. She was treated at Novato General Hospital.

The car driver, Kathryn Jean Traub, 18, of 193 Calle De La Mese, Ignatio, told police the girl ran out in front of her auto.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Gemini Coverage Was Cliffhanger

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI) —Someday something real live may blow up in front of our eyes in never-never land. Will many of us, tube-conditioned to violence (Western, gangland, sexland, soapland) as we are, just sit there nonchalantly, a-twiddle in our own twaddle and smug on the living room rug?

The question is not so whimsical. Anyway, it will be the whole of my sermon for today. It is occasioned by the television coverage of yesterday morning's space shot that wasn't.

What was revealed was thepot live disaster into our faces, should that disaster erupt within camera range. There could have been an explosion. There could have been ejection of the two astronauts safely. Or a tragedy.

In a few moments, we were reminded — through the intimacy of live television coverage of a set public event—that space exploration has not become cut - and - dried, that someday we're going to lose some people, that when anyone climbs up and encapsuleshi mself atop that much volatile power he's in a precarious perch.

It seems to me the public has been getting a bit blase about these shots. Those who watched the networks yesterday must have had their anxiety level freshened.

All three networks did good jobs of vamping until word came of what might, or could, have happened. All did well in remoting to experts who opined out of technical erudition. As a fine example of a typical bleat of frustration by a reporter, Dave Brinkley said at 11:25 a.m.: "If the NASA people know what happened, they still haven't told us."

As for those electroncc conversations, bird to blockhouse and back, much of this isf ine stuff for caricature by comedians. We bait our breath when NASA comes on with a here's-a-tape heralding, and then what comes could be titled "Why Johnny can't talk." Like this:

Q. Agrevable reostun halopen on the A-valve?

A. Roger.

Q. Uh, Roger, but first gayrn mimsy on the borogove, outgrabe the mome rath, and then take another frumious?

A. Ah, beamish, boy. Understand. You have a go, Galumph.

As James Thurber once wrote, in a title: "What do you mean, it was brillig?" Was?

It still is. Stop jabbering this wocky onto our frequency.

A live fish never stops growing.

Ranchers, Officials Meet On Annexation

A meeting Saturday of several West Marin ranchers with representatives of the North Marin County Water District failed to bring agreement over proposed annexation to the district of a 35-square-mile area in the Tomales-Marshall area.

"The ranchers wanted us to give them more information about the financial results of the annexation, which we will try to get them by next week. I think we are progressing to the point where they will be able to make a knowledgeable decision about the annexation," said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Span Directors Award Contract For Building Job

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors Friday awarded a contract for $411,000 to Arntz Brothers of San Francisco for a major expansion of the district's administration building at the bridge toll plaza.

Arntz was lowest of four bidders for the job which includes extending the office building 114 feet north for 4,500 square feet of new office space. The present meeting room for directors will be soundproofed and the old building will get new wiring.

The board also approved paying $35,000 to Tudor Engineering Co., San Francisco, to make a preliminary study of a five-lane lower deck on the bridge.

L. E. Castner of Boyes Hot Springs was re-elected board president for 1966, and Alvin H. Derre, San Francisco, was re-elected vice president.

Deprived Children Funds On Agenda

Supt. G. R. McConnell will make recommendations to the Mill Valley School District trustees at an 8 p.m. meeting today on uses of about $15,000 in funds for school programs for "educationally deprived children."

Trustees will discuss grade organization where it relates to the proposed school construction program, and set a date for a field trip to school sites and proposed school sites in and adjacent to the Dias Ranch.

Meat Fasting Ban Is Listed For Holidays

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has acted to allow Roman Catholics to eat meat on the Fridays before the coming Christmas and New Year's holidays.

His move, making a routine yearend excepton, reinforces belief that an expected papal announcement revising Church rules on abstinence will not be made until next year. If he had planned to announce a revision before then, a special dispenstion would not have been necessary.

The Vatican announced Pope Paul has given Roman Catholics bishops around the world permission to grant dispensations from the abstinence and fasting requirement applying on the day before Christmas and the abstinence required this year on Dec. 31 because it falls on a Friday.

Meeting Called Off

The Stinson Beach County Water District board failed to meet as scheduled Friday due to lack of quorum.

Youth Ignites Hall's Mattress

Paul Samuelsen, 16, ward of the court and detainee at Marin County Juvenile Hall, set his mattress on fire Friday while he was locked in his room, probation officials reported.

County firemen were called at 5:27 p.m. to extinguish the smoldering mattress. Samuelsen, who was choking from the smoke, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital. He was examined, then transferred to Napa State Hospital.

Damage at the hall was confined to the mattress.

Sausalito Agenda

Sausalito School District trustees will meet today at 8 p.m. at the district office to explain procedures for picking pupils for the "Operation Headstart" program at Manzanita School in Marin City.

'Fantastic, Electrifying, Unbelievable'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' unbelievable halfback, is a man in a hurry. He's in a hurry whenever he grabs a football and he has wasted no time getting into the record books.

Sayers unquestionably is the most electrifying rookie to break into the National Football League, an organization which usually demands tenure in dedication and hard work before serious goals can be reached.

Not so with Sayers, who saw little or no action in the first three games of the season, all of which the Bears lost. But in the last 10 games he has become one of the most fantastic stories in sports history.

The Kansas Comet topped it all yesterday when he scored six touchdowns in a 61-20 triumph over San Francisco. And what touchdowns they were as he tied a record set by Ernie Nevers of the Chicago Cardinals in 1929 and equalled by Dub Jones of Cleveland in 1951.

Sayers took a screen pass from Rudy Bukich and went 80 yards for his first score. Then he scored on runs of 21, 7, 50 and 1 yards before topping it off with an 85-yard punt return.

"That one was the best of all," said Sayers, "I worked hardest for it."

It was also the 21st of the season for Sayers, who smashed the NFL record of 20 set by Lennie Moore of Baltimore last year and tied by Jim Brown of Cleveland this year.

"This is the greatest performance I've ever seen by one man," said Owner-Coach George Halas, whose Bears retained a mathematical chance for a first place tie in the Western Division.

"Maybe so," said Sayers in reply to Halas "but I got blocking on every one."

Halas was aware that Sayers could have broken the touchdown record "but I couldn't let him go back in there. If he were to get hurt I'd never have forgiven myself."

Nevertheless, the 49ers were forced to punt in the final seconds and Sayers took his position on the field. The crowd, which had been chanting "we want Sayers" late in the fourth quarter, went wild as the 22-year-old phenom streaked 30 yards before slipping and being yanked by a man he had previously eluded on the return.

Never before had the Bears given a player a game ball twice in a season. Sayers left them no choice yesterday with his performance.

In all, Sayers accounted for 326 yards — 113 rushing, 89 on passes caught and 134 on punts returned — to fall five short of the record of 331 by Wally Triplett of Detroit in 1950.

To top it off, Sayers accomplished all this on a rain-slicked field.

A BIG WEEKEND FOR MARIN CAGE QUINTS

It was a big weekend for Marin County basketball teams.

Drake, Novato and Redwood placed first, second and third in the Drake High Invitational Tournament; the Tamalpais Indians advanced into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tourney against Sonoma's Dragons, and the College of Marin Tars continued to show improvement, although they lost a 65-64 heart-breaker to Santa Rosa in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference Tourney at Kentfield.

49ers Become Believers: Sayers 'The Greatest'

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Papa Bear Halas An Old Meanie; Sayers Deserved That TD Mark

Do you think Papa Bear George Halas is an old Meanie? Shake! I'm inclined to believe he beats kids and kicks puppies after the great injustice he inflicted upon his prize rookie Gale Sayers yesterday when the Chicago Bears routed the 49ers, 61-20.

After giving the greatest one-man performance in the history of the NFL, Sayers was prevented by Halas from easily breaking a single game touchdown record. Sayers already had tied the mark shared by Ernie Never and Dub Jones with six TDs, and the record-breaking seventh was his for the asking. The Bears had the ball on the 49er two and, hell, Baby Snooks or Little Orphan Annie could have scored, so why not let Sayers break the mark he so richly deserved?

BUT NO, Halas kept Sayers on the bench, and as it turned out Jon Arnett scored the TD.

Halas weakly explained that he was afraid Sayers might have been injured and he would never forgive himself. Bull, hogwash and fiddle-faddle. As a pal of mine out in the back room said, "Howinell could he get hurt? Nobody touched him all day."

Maybe Halas was afraid Sayers would run into the brick wall beyond the end zone. Or maybe he was afraid the rookie might raise a lump sum on his 1966 contract. Coach Halas, remember, is also the owner of the Bears who handles all contract negotiations. I think his action yesterday was awfully small.

RALPH CHATOIAN points out that the 49ers had a chance to draft Sayers last year, but went instead for Ken Willard and George Donnelly while the Bears, picking after the 49ers, plucked Dick Butkus and then Sayers.

Had San Francisco gone for Sayers instead of Donnelly . . . Close your eyes for a moment and picture the Windy City's Gale force in the same 49er backfield with Willard. Now open your eyes, wipe off your chin and come back to reality.

IN THE first game of the season the 49ers blasted the Bears, 52-24. Sayers made only a token appearance that day.

Yesterday's 61-20 Chicago win thus points out a 69-point improvement by the Bears. And just think, we're going to have to look at Sayers for 10 more years or so.

ONE THING seems certain: We 49er fans will have to rephrase our perennial battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" to a just plain "Wait . . ."

THE MAGIC of television was extremely unkind to us yesterday. I mean those "isolated camera action" or "instant replays" or whatever you call them. They merely rubbed salt in the wounds, because the way I saw it Sayers scored 12 touchdowns and the Bears beat us 122-40. Which is twice as bad.

I was hoping every time Sayers carried the ball the cameramen would push the stop-action button. But even in stop-action or slow motion, Sayers is too fast for anything the 49ers could offer.

WELL, WE were lucky to get out of Chicago alive. Now the 49ers come home for a "breather" against first place Green Bay. Packer Paul Hornung only scored five touchdowns against the Colts yesterday. Compared with Sayers' performance, that can be considered a breather for S.F.

ONE OF SIX — Gale Sayers (40) of the Chicago Bears shakes off San Francosco's Kermit Alexander and romps 21 yards for a second quarter touchdown in yesterday's lopsided game in Chicago. Sayers was simply fantastic, scoring six touchdowns to equal an NFL record set in 1939 by Ernie Nevers and equalled by Cleveland's Dub Jones in 1951. It gave Sayers a one season record total of 21 TD's with still one game remaining. (UPI Telephoto)

Kid Gridders Defeat Jockeys—By A Nose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weight limit in football?

There was in this game—the Bay Meadows jockeys against kids in the San Francisco Police Athletic League.

The weight limit was 115 pounds. The kids, the league's all-stars, defeated the jockeys by a nose, 7-6. It was the first annual Fun Bowl game, played at City College of San Francisco stadium yesterday.

Alex Perez, a Chilean-born jockey, chuckled after the game, "Just think, the first football game I ever saw and I played in it."

There were more fumbles and erratic passes from center than in most bowl games. They figured in the scoring.

The all-stars recovered a fumble on the jockeys' 13 and Randy Karp swept in with the score. Randy Shyne added the extra point that proved to be the margin of victory.

In the fourth period, the all-stars were kicking from deep in their own territory. A bad pass from center and the jockeys took over on the one-yard line. Alex Maese, tailback, took the ball over on second down, a half length ahead of the field. The try for the extra point failed when the jockeys mishandled the pass from center.

When the game ended, Maese was trying to get off a pass in the stretch that represented a bid for victory. The bid faded at the wire.

HUNCH, RIGHT GUESS AND . . .

Green Bay Takes Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vince Lombardi's hunch turned Paul Hornung loose on a five-touchdown spree in yesterday's National Football League power struggle at Baltimore but it was a right guess by Green Bay linebacker Dave Robinson that turned the corner for the Packers.

Hornung, given a reprieve by Coach Lombardi after languishing on the bench for two weeks, responded with an offensive binge that vaulted Green Bay past the crippled Colts 42-27 and into the lead in the NFL's Western Division stretch run. A defensive gem by Robinson, however, provided the momentum as the Packers all but shattered Baltimore's title hopes.

The loss dropped the Colts one-half game behind Green Bay and one-half length ahead of Chicago, which stayed alive by smashing San Francisco 61-20 as rookie flash Gale Sayers bolted for six touchdowns. The Packers can wrap it up by beating the 49ers in next Sunday's finale, regardless of how the Los Angeles and Minnesota, respectively.

The Rams upended Cleveland's Eastern Conference champions 42-7; the Vikings beat Detroit 29-7; the New York Giants topped Washington 27-10 and the Philadelphia Eagles trounced Pittsburgh 47-13 in yesterday's other games. Dallas whipped St. Louis 27-13 Saturday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League it was San Diego over Houston 37-26, Buffalo over Kansas City 34-25, Oakland over New York 24-14 and Boston over Denver 28-20.

Robinson, a third year pro from Penn State, came up with the big play for Green Bay in the final minute of the first half. The Johnny Unitas-less Colts trailed 14-13 but were driving for a go-ahead touchdown behind reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo. With the ball on the Green Bay 2, Cuozzo dropped back and lofted a flat pass in the direction of fullback Jerry Hill.

But Robinson, anticipating the pass, drifted to his left, reached up and picked it off — then raced 87 yards to the Baltimore 10. Bart Starr fired a TD pass to Boyd Dowler on the next play, boosting the Packers' halftime bulge to 21-13 and Hornung

Houston Shakeup: Richards Fired, Hatton New Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards, who came to the Houston Astros as general manager in 1961 to build up the club, is on the outside looking in today, but he isn't bitter.

Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, fired Richards yesterday and replaced Field Manager Luman Harris with Grady Hatton, manager of Houston's Oklahoma City farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Tal Smith, special assistant to Hofheinz, was named director of player personnel. Smith and Hatton will share Richards' former duties and the general manager title will be retired.

"The judge thinks that Grady and Tal can run the club better than our group," Richards said at a hurriedly called news conference set up by Hofheinz. "That's 100 per cent okay with me.

Richards said he first learned of the move about 1 p.m. Sunday but "you might say the judge (Hofheinz) and I had some long distance communication of the minds.

"I called Eddie Robinson (Astro farm director) when I landed in Miami (from Venezuela) and in that way learned about Friday's press conference."

Hatton and Hofheinz had held a news conference Friday to announce that Hatton had turned down an offer to manage the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox denied any offer was made.

"After that (when he learned of that news conference) it was obvious," Richards said.

Hofheinz had high praise for Hatton and Smith. "They are two of baseball's brightest young men and I feel that the progress of the Astros on the playing field will be swifter with Grady and Tal in charge of the playing end of the game," he said.

The terms of a new contract for Hatton presumably will be worked out in the next day or so.

Hofheinz said Harris and Robinson would be offered new jobs in the Astro organization. Robinson, at yesterday's news conference, said he'd have to talk it over with Hofheinz and with Mrs. Robinson.

Richards was given a three-year contract when he replaced Gabe Paul in 1961 as general manager. The contract was extended through 1970 last year.

Hatton was named Minor League Manager of the Year this year. He guided Oklahoma City to two Pacific Coast League titles in three years.

Richards launched his managerial career with the Chicago White Sox. In 1955 he went with Baltimore as a manager and later became a combination manager-general manager.

Bears' Rookie Runs Wild In 61-20 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who last watched Gale Sayers score six touchdowns, now get a look at Paul Hornung, who managed only five.

Sayers and the Chicago Bears mangled the 49ers 61-20 back east yesterday while the Green Bay Packers moved into first place in the Western Conference by beating Baltimore 42-27 as Hornung made five touchdowns.

The Packers come to Kezar Stadium next Sunday for the last game of the season. It means little for the 49ers, except they could hand Baltimore (9-3-1) the title should they beat the Packers (10-3) and the Colts defeat the Los Angeles Rams Saturday. The Bears (9-4) play Minnesota and still have a chance for a tie.

Sayers tied the National Football League record for most touchdowns in a single game held by two others. He ran for 113 yards, caught 89 yards worth of passes and accounted for an additional 134 yards in punt returns.

The rookie from Kansas scored on an 80-yard pass, runs of 21, 7, 50, and 1 yards and an 85-yard punt return. If he keeps this up, they'll make him throw those one-yarders back.

"That's the most brilliant exhibition I've ever seen," said Y. A. Tittle, now an assistant coach for the 49ers. "This was the greatest day I've ever seen a man have."

Head coach Jack Christiansen was so impressed he left the dressing room early to go somewhere alone and contemplate the performance, thus depriving others of his critique.

"He's out of sight," said 49er defensive back Elbert Kimbrough, speaking of Sayers, not Christiansen. "He's the greatest runner I've ever seen and that includes Jimmy Brown.

"He's not a power runner like Brown," Kimbrough continued. "But, man, who needs power the way he runs?"

A good question about Sayers, who saw only limited duty when the 49ers beat the Bears 52-24 at the start of the season. Sayers got the game ball for the second time this season—breaking a Bear tradition. He got his first after scoring four touchdowns in a warm-up against Minnesota.

The 49ers actually were not that far out of it in the first half. A 15-yard pass from John Brodie to John David Crow brought the 49ers to within 20-13. Tommy Davis missed his first point-after-touchdown attempt in his seven NFL seasons after 235 successes.

But Sayers then went on a three-touchdown spree and the 49ers were deader than some of those original Gold Rushers of 116 years ago.

A nine-yard pass to Dave Parks and a two-yard plunge by Dave Kopay accounted for the other 49er touchdowns.

Royal Still Undecided On Sooner Grid Offer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooner quarterback yesterday. "There are some things I'd want to talk about before I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An irate University of Texas regent said he doesn't think there is much doubt about the situation. "It sounds like it's cut and dried," he said privately yesterday.

Royal, insisting that nothing has been "seriously discussed," said, "I haven't encouraged anything . . . but I'm willing to talk about it."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Cross also said Royal's record at Texas is "among the best." Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games, won four Southwest Conference titles and were crowned the 1963 national championship team.

Span Directors Award Contract For Building Job

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors Friday awarded a contract for $411,000 to Arntz Brothers of San Francisco for a major expansion of the district's administration building at the bridge toll plaza.

Arntz was lowest of four bidders for the job which includes extending the office building 114 feet north for 4,500 square feet of new office space. The present meeting room for directors will be soundproofed and the old building will get new wiring.

The board also approved paying $35,000 to Tudor Engineering Co., San Francisco, to make a preliminary study of a five-lane lower deck on the bridge.

L. E. Castner of Boyes Hot Springs was re-elected board president for 1966, and Alvin H. Derre, San Francisco, was re-elected vice president.

Meat Fasting Ban Is Listed For Holidays

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has acted to allow Roman Catholics to eat meat on the Fridays before the coming Christmas and New Year's holidays.

His move, making a routine yearend excepton, reinforces belief that an expected papal announcement revising Church rules on abstinence will not be made until next year. If he had planned to announce a revision before then, a special dispenstion would not have been necessary.

The Vatican announced Pope Paul has given Roman Catholics bishops around the world permission to grant dispensations from the abstinence and fasting requirement applying on the day before Christmas and the abstinence required this year on Dec. 31 because it falls on a Friday.

Paul Samuelsen, 16, ward of the court and detainee at Marin County Juvenile Hall, set his mattress on fire Friday while he was locked in his room, probation officials reported.

County firemen were called at 5:27 p.m. to extinguish the smoldering mattress. Samuelsen, who was choking from the smoke, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital. He was examined, then transferred to Napa State Hospital.

'Fantastic, Electrifying, Unbelievable'

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Chicago Bears' unbelievable halfback, is a man in a hurry. He's in a hurry whenever he grabs a football and he has wasted no time getting into the record books.

Sayers unquestionably is the most electrifying rookie to break into the National Football League, an organization which usually demands tenure in dedication and hard work before serious goals can be reached.

Not so with Sayers, who saw little or no action in the first three games of the season, all of which the Bears lost. But in the last 10 games he has become one of the most fantastic stories in sports history.

The Kansas Comet topped it all yesterday when he scored six touchdowns in a 61-20 triumph over San Francisco. And what touchdowns they were as he tied a record set by Ernie Nevers of the Chicago Cardinals in 1929 and equalled by Dub Jones of Cleveland in 1951.

Sayers took a screen pass from Rudy Bukich and went 80 yards for his first score. Then he scored on runs of 21, 7, 50 and 1 yards before topping it off with an 85-yard punt return.

"That one was the best of all," said Sayers, "I worked hardest for it."

It was also the 21st of the season for Sayers, who smashed the NFL record of 20 set by Lennie Moore of Baltimore last year and tied by Jim Brown of Cleveland this year.

"This is the greatest performance I've ever seen by one man," said Owner-Coach George Halas, whose Bears retained a mathematical chance for a first place tie in the Western Division.

"Maybe so," said Sayers in reply to Halas "but I got blocking on every one."

Halas was aware that Sayers could have broken the touchdown record "but I couldn't let him go back in there. If he were to get hurt I'd never have forgiven myself."

Nevertheless, the 49ers were forced to punt in the final seconds and Sayers took his position on the field. The crowd, which had been chanting "we want Sayers" late in the fourth quarter, went wild as the 22-year-old phenom streaked 30 yards before slipping and being yanked by a man he had previously eluded on the return.

In all, Sayers accounted for 326 yards — 113 rushing, 89 on passes caught and 134 on punts returned — to fall five short of the record of 331 by Wally Triplett of Detroit in 1950.

To top it off, Sayers accomplished all this on a rain-slicked field.

A BIG WEEKEND FOR MARIN CAGE QUINTS

It was a big weekend for Marin County basketball teams.

Drake, Novato and Redwood placed first, second and third in the Drake High Invitational Tournament; the Tamalpais Indians advanced into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tourney against Sonoma's Dragons, and the College of Marin Tars continued to show improvement, although they lost a 65-64 heart-breaker to Santa Rosa in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference Tourney at Kentfield.

49ers Become Believers: Sayers 'The Greatest'

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Papa Bear Halas An Old Meanie; Sayers Deserved That TD Mark

Do you think Papa Bear George Halas is an old Meanie? Shake! I'm inclined to believe he beats kids and kicks puppies after the great injustice he inflicted upon his prize rookie Gale Sayers yesterday when the Chicago Bears routed the 49ers, 61-20.

After giving the greatest one-man performance in the history of the NFL, Sayers was prevented by Halas from easily breaking a single game touchdown record. Sayers already had tied the mark shared by Ernie Never and Dub Jones with six TDs, and the record-breaking seventh was his for the asking. The Bears had the ball on the 49er two and, hell, Baby Snooks or Little Orphan Annie could have scored, so why not let Sayers break the mark he so richly deserved?

BUT NO, Halas kept Sayers on the bench, and as it turned out Jon Arnett scored the TD.

Halas weakly explained that he was afraid Sayers might have been injured and he would never forgive himself. Bull, hogwash and fiddle-faddle. As a pal of mine out in the back room said, "Howinell could he get hurt? Nobody touched him all day."

Maybe Halas was afraid Sayers would run into the brick wall beyond the end zone. Or maybe he was afraid the rookie might raise a lump sum on his 1966 contract. Coach Halas, remember, is also the owner of the Bears who handles all contract negotiations. I think his action yesterday was awfully small.

RALPH CHATOIAN points out that the 49ers had a chance to draft Sayers last year, but went instead for Ken Willard and George Donnelly while the Bears, picking after the 49ers, plucked Dick Butkus and then Sayers.

Had San Francisco gone for Sayers instead of Donnelly . . . Close your eyes for a moment and picture the Windy City's Gale force in the same 49er backfield with Willard. Now open your eyes, wipe off your chin and come back to reality.

IN THE first game of the season the 49ers blasted the Bears, 52-24. Savers made only a token appearance that day.

Yesterday's 61-20 Chicago win thus points out a 69-point improvement by the Bears. And just think, we're going to have to look at Sayers for 10 more years or so.

ONE THING seems certain: We 49er fans will have to rephrase our perennial battle cry of "Wait 'til next year" to a just plain "Wait . . ."

THE MAGIC of television was extremely unkind to us yesterday. I mean those "isolated camera action" or "instant replays" or whatever you call them. They merely rubbed salt in the wounds, because the way I saw it Sayers scored 12 touchdowns and the Bears beat us 122-40. Which is twice as bad.

I was hoping every time Sayers carried the ball the cameramen would push the stop-action button. But even in stop-action or slow motion, Sayers is too fast for anything the 49ers could offer.

WELL, WE were lucky to get out of Chicago alive. Now the 49ers come home for a "breather" against first place Green Bay. Packer Paul Hornung only scored five touchdowns against the Colts yesterday. Compared with Sayers' performance, that can be considered a breather for S.F.

ONE OF SIX — Gale Sayers (40) of the Chicago Bears shakes off San Francosco's Kermit Alexander and romps 21 yards for a second quarter touchdown in yesterday's lopsided game in Chicago. Sayers was simply fantastic, scoring six touchdowns to equal an NFL record set in 1939 by Ernie Nevers and equalled by Cleveland's Dub Jones in 1951. It gave Sayers a one season record total of 21 TD's with still one game remaining. (UPI Telephoto)

Bears' Rookie Runs Wild In 61-20 Win

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, who last watched Gale Sayers score six touchdowns, now get a look at Paul Hornung, who managed only five.

Sayers and the Chicago Bears mangled the 49ers 61-20 back east yesterday while the Green Bay Packers moved into first place in the Western Conference by beating Baltimore 42-27 as Hornung made five touchdowns.

The Packers come to Kezar Stadium next Sunday for the last game of the season. It means little for the 49ers, except they could hand Baltimore (9-3-1) the title should they beat the Packers (10-3) and the Colts defeat the Los Angeles Rams Saturday. The Bears (9-4) play Minnesota and still have a chance for a tie.

Sayers tied the National Football League record for most touchdowns in a single game held by two others. He ran for 113 yards, caught 89 yards worth of passes and accounted for an additional 134 yards in punt returns.

The rookie from Kansas scored on an 80-yard pass, runs of 21, 7, 50, and 1 yards and an 85-yard punt return. If he keeps this up, they'll make him throw those one-yarders back.

"That's the most brilliant exhibition I've ever seen," said Y. A. Tittle, now an assistant coach for the 49ers. "This was the greatest day I've ever seen a man have."

Head coach Jack Christiansen was so impressed he left the dressing room early to go somewhere alone and contemplate the performance, thus depriving others of his critique.

"He's out of sight," said 49er defensive back Elbert Kimbrough, speaking of Sayers, not Christiansen. "He's the greatest runner I've ever seen and that includes Jimmy Brown.

"He's not a power runner like Brown," Kimbrough continued. "But, man, who needs power the way he runs?"

A good question about Sayers, who saw only limited duty when the 49ers beat the Bears 52-24 at the start of the season. Sayers got the game ball for the second time this season—breaking a Bear tradition. He got his first after scoring four touchdowns in a warm-up against Minnesota.

The 49ers actually were not that far out of it in the first half. A 15-yard pass from John Brodie to John David Crow brought the 49ers to within 20-13. Tommy Davis missed his first point-after-touchdown attempt in his seven NFL seasons after 235 successes.

But Sayers then went on a three-touchdown spree and the 49ers were deader than some of those original Gold Rushers of 116 years ago.

A nine-yard pass to Dave Parks and a two-yard plunge by Dave Kopay accounted for the other 49er touchdowns.

HUNCH, RIGHT GUESS AND . . .

Green Bay Takes Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vince Lombardi's hunch turned Paul Hornung loose on a five-touchdown spree in yesterday's National Football League power struggle at Baltimore but it was a right guess by Green Bay linebacker Dave Robinson that turned the corner for the Packers.

Hornung, given a reprieve by Coach Lombardi after languishing on the bench for two weeks, responded with an offensive binge that vaulted Green Bay past the crippled Colts 42-27 and into the lead in the NFL's Western Division stretch run. A defensive gem by Robinson, however, provided the momentum as the Packers all but shattered Baltimore's title hopes.

The loss dropped the Colts one-half game behind Green Bay and one-half length ahead of Chicago, which stayed alive by smashing San Francisco 61-20 as rookie flash Gale Sayers bolted for six touchdowns. The Packers can wrap it up by beating the 49ers in next Sunday's finale, regardless of how the Los Angeles and Minnesota, respectively.

The Rams upended Cleveland's Eastern Conference champions 42-7; the Vikings beat Detroit 29-7; the New York Giants topped Washington 27-10 and the Philadelphia Eagles trounced Pittsburgh 47-13 in yesterday's other games. Dallas whipped St. Louis 27-13 Saturday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League it was San Diego over Houston 37-26, Buffalo over Kansas City 34-25, Oakland over New York 24-14 and Boston over Denver 28-20.

Robinson, a third year pro from Penn State, came up with the big play for Green Bay in the final minute of the first half. The Johnny Unitas-less Colts trailed 14-13 but were driving for a go-ahead touchdown behind reserve quarterback Gary Cuozzo. With the ball on the Green Bay 2, Cuozzo dropped back and lofted a flat pass in the direction of fullback Jerry Hill.

But Robinson, anticipating the pass, drifted to his left, reached up and picked it off — then raced 87 yards to the Baltimore 10. Bart Starr fired a TD pass to Boyd Dowler on the next play, boosting the Packers' halftime bulge to 21-13 and Hornung

Houston Shakeup: Richards Fired, Hatton New Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Paul Richards, who came to the Houston Astros as general manager in 1961 to build up the club, is on the outside looking in today, but he isn't bitter.

Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, fired Richards yesterday and replaced Field Manager Luman Harris with Grady Hatton, manager of Houston's Oklahoma City farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Tal Smith, special assistant to Hofheinz, was named director of player personnel. Smith and Hatton will share Richards' former duties and the general manager title will be retired.

"The judge thinks that Grady and Tal can run the club better than our group," Richards said at a hurriedly called news conference set up by Hofheinz. "That's 100 per cent okay with me.

Richards said he first learned of the move about 1 p.m. Sunday but "you might say the judge (Hofheinz) and I had some long distance communication of the minds.

"I called Eddie Robinson (Astro farm director) when I landed in Miami (from Venezuela) and in that way learned about Friday's press conference."

Hatton and Hofheinz had held a news conference Friday to announce that Hatton had turned down an offer to manage the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox denied any offer was made.

"After that (when he learned of that news conference) it was obvious," Richards said.

Hofheinz had high praise for Hatton and Smith. "They are two of baseball's brightest young men and I feel that the progress of the Astros on the playing field will be swifter with Grady and Tal in charge of the playing end of the game," he said.

The terms of a new contract for Hatton presumably will be worked out in the next day or so.

Hofheinz said Harris and Robinson would be offered new jobs in the Astro organization. Robinson, at yesterday's news conference, said he'd have to talk it over with Hofheinz and with Mrs. Robinson.

Harris' contract runs through next year.

Richards was given a three-year contract when he replaced Gabe Paul in 1961 as general manager. The contract was extended through 1970 last year.

Hofheinz indicated he would buy up Richards' contract.

Hatton was named Minor League Manager of the Year this year. He guided Oklahoma City to two Pacific Coast League titles in three years.

Richards launched his managerial career with the Chicago White Sox. In 1955 he went with Baltimore as a manager and later became a combination manager-general manager.

Kid Gridders Defeat Jockeys—By A Nose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A weight limit in football?

There was in this game—the Bay Meadows jockeys against kids in the San Francisco Police Athletic League.

The weight limit was 115 pounds. The kids, the league's all-stars, defeated the jockeys by a nose, 7-6. It was the first annual Fun Bowl game, played at City College of San Francisco stadium yesterday.

Alex Perez, a Chilean-born jockey, chuckled after the game, "Just think, the first football game I ever saw and I played in it."

There were more fumbles and erratic passes from center than in most bowl games. They figured in the scoring.

The all-stars recovered a fumble on the jockeys' 13 and Randy Karp swept in with the score. Randy Shyne added the extra point that proved to be the margin of victory.

In the fourth period, the all-stars were kicking from deep in their own territory. A bad pass from center and the jockeys took over on the one-yard line. Alex Maese, tailback, took the ball over on second down, a half length ahead of the field. The try for the extra point failed when the jockeys mishandled the pass from center.

When the game ended, Maese was trying to get off a pass in the stretch that represented a bid for victory. The bid faded at the wire.

Royal Still Undecided On Sooner Grid Offer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma's search for a football coach to restore the Sooners to national prominence continued to center on Darrell Royal today. But the Texas coach indicates he's having a tough time deciding.

"My talks with Oklahoma officials have all just been kind of casual," said the former Sooner quarterback yesterday. "There are some things I'd want to talk about before I could become excited about it."

But Dr. George L. Cross, University of Oklahoma president, said Royal knows what OU is willing to do. "We made him the offer," Cross said. "Now he has to make up his mind."

An irate University of Texas regent said he doesn't think there is much doubt about the situation. "It sounds like it's cut and dried," he said privately yesterday.

Royal, insisting that nothing has been "seriously discussed," said, "I haven't encouraged anything . . . but I'm willing to talk about it."

An Oklahoma quarterback in the 1940s, Royal came to Texas in 1957 and proceeded to beat his alma mater eight times in nine years. The Sooners haven't beaten Texas since his first year there.

Cross also said Royal's record at Texas is "among the best." Royal's Texas teams have posted a 75-19-3 record, gone to seven bowl games, won four Southwest Conference titles and were crowned the 1963 national championship team.

Pirates Down Novato; Redwood Places Third

Drake High School won its own tournament Saturday night when the Pirate basketballers beat Novato's Hornets 52-46 in the championship game.

It was the Drake Invitational Tournament that included four Marin County teams, three San Francisco squads and one from Napa. Redwood won third place in the tourney with a 77-67 victory over Balboa of S.F., Washington (San Francisco) took fifth with a 67-51 triumph over Terra Linda, and Napa was seventh with a 92-79 win over Lick-Wilmerding in the tourney's highest scoring game.

Novato was cold in the start of the championship game, hitting only five points in the first quarter. Drake jumped out to an 8-0 lead on four straight buckets from outside. The Pirate defense was tough and caused Novato to force its shots.

By halftime, Drake had a 29-23 lead, but the Hornets of Novato outscored the Pirates in the third quarter 12-6 to knot the game at the three-quarter mark 35-35. From there it was close until Druke pushed through five free throws to reach its total of 52 points. Will Curley, voted the most valuable player of the tourney, made four of those five free tosses.

REBOUNDS EVEN

The Pirates made 19 of 58 shots from the floor for 33 per cent, to Novato's 14 of 54 for 26 per cent. Both teams were even in rebounds, 31 each, and Drake's Bob Tobin was high man with 13.

The big match of the night was Curley guarding Novato ace John Dolinsek, who had scored 32 points against Redwood the night before. Dolinsek was held to only 10 points by Curley. Chet Carlisle was the big scorer for Drake with 19 points, and Novato was led by Tom Corder with 16. Each team used only six players in the game.

SMITH HIGH

Redwood again was led by Russ Smith against Balboa, the 6-1 guard hitting 20 points. He tied Balboa's Pat Ham for game high scoring honors.

The game wasn't as "close" as the final 10-point deficit shows, as the Giants had a 71-43 lead at the three-quarter mark. Emptying the bench, Redwood's reserves gave up 24 points in the final quarter.

Redwood hit 31 buckets in 72 attempts (43 per cent) and Balboa hit 25 of 70 for 36 per cent. In free throws, it was Redwood with 15 of 24 and Balboa with 17 of 33. Balboa won in rebounds, 40-34, Ham with 20 of them.

Terra Linda played Washington, a team that was picked to win the tourney, about even in the first quarter but the Eagles spurted out with a 20-point second quarter to take a 32-23 halftime lead. Then Washington kept control of the boards against the smaller Trojansand never gave up the lead. The Eagles out-rebounded the Trojans 40-26.

TROJAN LEADERS

High scorers for Terra Linda were Fred Smith and Mike Ainslie, each with 10 points. For Washington it was Don Mamou with 21 points.

Bill Cox and Napa and Joel Black of Lick-Wilmerding established the tourney records in their game. Each scored 36 points, Cox of 13 baskets and 10 free throws and Black on 14 buckets and 8 charity tosses. Cox hit 13 of 19 from the floor and Black made 14 of 35 shots. As a team, Napa hit 37 of 65 shots for a fine 57 per cent and Lick had 30 of 79 for 38 per cent.

Cox and Black also tied for the most points in the entire tourney, 79 in three games.

Joining Curley on the all-tourney team were Mike Johnson, Washington center; Dolinsek and Tom Corder, Novato forwards; Chet Carlisle, Drake forward, and Smith, Redwood's guard.

Dolinsek, Novato, 60; Smith, Redwood, 56; Corder, Novato, 49; Johnson, Washington, 48; Brian Perron, Terra Linda, 41; Rich Gray, Washington, 37; Carlisle, Drake, 36; Ham, Balboa, 34.

ACE AGAINST ACE—Drake guard Will Curley (13) makes things difficult for Novato's John Dolinsek during the final game of the Drake Invitational Saturday night. Curley held Dolinsek, Novato's star who scored 32 points Friday night, to just 10 points. That was one of the reasons the judges voted Curley most valuable player in the tournament.

Marin Bows To Santa Rosa In Thrilling Cage Finals

A pair of free throws by Bob Butler in the waning seconds of play gave the Santa Rosa Cubs a spine-tingling 65-64 victory over defending champion College of Marin Saturday night in the finals of the Golden Valley Conference basketball tournament at Kentfield.

Butler's charity tosses put the Bear Cubs out in a 65-62 lead and rendered useless Tar Jim Halm's field goal at the final buzzer, capping the tournament that in two days crammed 11 games into the Marin gymnasium—seven on Saturday.

The last three games on the schedule were decided by one point each—indicating a well-balanced conference. Yuba nipped American River 78-77 for third place and Sierra copped the consolation championship with an 80-78 squeeker over Napa.

Earlier in the day, Marin and Santa Rosa won semi-finals, the Tars with an 89-79 upset over pre-tourney favorite American River and the Bear Cubs with an 83-63 romp over Yuba.

In Saturday's consolation semi-finals Sierra downed Shasta 65-55 and Napa measured Siskiyous 89-69.

Injury and foul trouble hampered Marin's championship bid. Forward Fred Arnold, who fouled out of Friday night's game against Siskiyous and had four penalties in Saturday's semi-final duel with American River, picked up three in the early stages against Santa Rosa and finally fouled out midway through the second half.

Halm, the big Tar center who leads the league in courage, played on an injured knee and though he played well, he still was below full strength.

In spite of those handicaps, the Tars raced off to a surprising 42-35 halftime lead, thanks mainly to 12 points by Arnold and 9 by Larry Wolfe.

But the Bear Cubs quickly caught up early in the second half and the two teams seesawed right down to the wire with Butler's free throws providing the margin of victory for the northerners.

Center John Karlin led the Santa Rosa attack with 20 points, followed by Butler with 15 and Ron McEntire with 10.

Tamalpais High School's cage team will be going for the Healdsburg Basketball Tournament championship tonight at 9 o'clock when it takes on Sonoma High.

Tam's Indians, led by Steve Johnson with 22 points, dumped Ukiah 54-33 in a semi-final game Saturday. It was evident it wasn't going to be a match by helftime when the Indians had a 33-15 lead.

Ed Chavez, Tam's coach, said he feels his team is just starting to jell. Besides Johnson's fine performance, Chavez had praise for the rebounding of Honor Jackson.

Raiders Clinch Runner-Up Spot

66-YARD PASS PLAY — Oakland Raiders end Art Powell gets out in frofnt of New York Jets defenders Cornell Gordon (48) and Dainard Paulson (40) to gather in Tom Flores' pass in the first period yesterday for a 66-yard gain. Two plays later Clem Daniels ran Oakland's first touchdown, starting the Raiders off to a 24-14 win. (UPI Telephoto)

OAKLAND (AP) — The next time Joe Namath visits Oakland, there'll be a suitable arena to showcase a $400,000 quarterback.

The Jets' golden rookie paid his first and last visit Sunday to Frank Youell Field, the temporary home of the Oakland Raiders. And, if there were a few wet eyes in the joint while the band played "Auld Lang Syne" as the game was ending, it wasn't because anyone was choked up about never seeing the place again.

Namath and the Jets were entitled to a good cry after losing 24-14 to Oakland. But so were the Raiders, who play next season in their new triple-tiered 50,000 seat Coliseum, part of a $30 million complex. Fans will lean back in individually contoured plastic seats instead of the hard wooden benches at Youell.

Before halftime, the Raiders knew San Diego had clinched the Western Division title in the American Football League by beating Houston 37-26 in Texas. The Raiders did insure a second-place finish no matter what happens next Sunday in their season finale at San Diego.

The Jets could have clinched second place in the Eastern Division. Now they must beat division champ Buffalo next Sunday unless last-place Boston can upset Houston.

Instead of landing solidly in second, the Jets skidded all over Youell Field, which drained like a sponge after heavy rains Saturday. The most noticeable skid came with a little more than five minutes remaining, the score tied 14-14 and the Jets on the move.

Namath, who completed 19 of 36 passes for 280 yards with the help of a newly-installed triple wing offense, threw a perfect strike to the spot where Bake Turner was supposed to be.

But Turner slipped on a swampy portion of the field and Dave Grayson intercepted on the 22 and ran it to the Oakland 41, one yard from the original line of scrimmage.

The Raiders drove to the New York 15 from where Mike Mercer stepped back and booted a 22-yard field goal with 2:28 remaining for the go-ahead points. Clem Daniels ran 30 yards to a touchdown with 39 seconds left, a little Christmas present from the Jets because the teams won't be able to get together Dec. 25.

"One of the reasons we put the triple wing in was that we expected a bad field," commented Namath, who suffered three interceptions. "But we didn't expect it to be this lousy."

Despite the mud, Namath pulled the Jets even in the third quarter after being behind 14-0 at half. A 62-yard touchdown pass to Turner and a 43-yarder to Don Maynard did the job with each receiver providing most of the yardage with his feet after Oakland defenders tried vainly for interceptions.

Oakland quarterback Tom Flores, who skidded around in hitting 12 of 29 passes for 219 yards, held a five-minute class in the perils of slippery Youell after the contest.

But his 66-yard pass to Art Powell as the first quarter ended set up Daniels' one - yard plunge and Flores hit Powell with a 23-yard touchdown pass later in the period on a great catch.

"Don't look back. It's better that way," said one fan to another. "Believe me, it's better."

PACKERS COP LEAD; RAMS RIP BROWNS

picked up the pieces.

The three-time NFL scoring king ran for three touchdowns and tallied on 50 and 65-yard pass-run plays from Starr. The 65-yarder killed a last-gasp rally by the Colts and gave Hornung a club record for TDs in a single game.

"I guess that takes me off the Atlanta list," he quippd afterward, in referenc to the stockpile of NFL talent to be made available to the new Atlanta franchise next season.

LIKE A ROOKIE

"I never felt better than I did in practice this week," he said. "The other guys were kidding me just like a rookie and before the game I felt I was ready for a big day."

Until Lombardi gave him the green light against the Colts, Hornung had scored only three touchdowns and had lost his starting job to Elijah Pitts. "It was a hunch — but Hornung's a pressure player," the coachs aid of his decision to start the eight-year veteran yesterday.

With Unitas on crutches — result of a mangled knee inflicted by the blitzing Bears last weekend — and Cuozzo slowed by a shoulder injury in the second half, the Colts' attack couldn't keep pace with Hornung and Starr, who completed 10 of his 17 pass attempts for 222 yards. Cuozzo hit on 20 of 38 for 212 yards and one touchdown.

Sayers shocked San Francisco with a one-man show that set a single-game NFL mark of 336 yards rushing, receiving and returning kicks. His six touchdowns gave him a total of 21 for the year — one more than the league record set by Baltimore's Lenny Moore last season and matched by Cleveland's Jim Brown this year.

GABRIEL STARS

Roman Gabriel sparked the Rams' upset of Cleveland by tossing five TD passes and running for a sixth score. The Rams held Jim Brown to 20 yards in 13 carries while winning their third in a row. Tommy McDonald caught three Gabriel scoring strikes on plays that covered 46, 42 and 43 yards.

Minnesota snapped a four-game losing streak as Fran Tarkenton fired two first-half TD passes, Fred Cox booted two long field goals and Ed Sharockman scored on a 40-yard interception return.

Earl Morrall hit Homer Jones with a pair of scoring bombs, good for 74 and 72 yards, in the Giants' victory at Washington, which kept them in second place in the East. The Giants cancl clinch berth in the NFL Playoff Bowl at Miami if they get by Dallas next Sunday.

Philadelphia defenders intercepted nine Pittsburgh passes, running three back for touchdowns, in the Eagles' one-sided victory. The loss was No. 11 for the Steelers in 13 games, their worst record in 21 years.

Warriors Lower Sights

NEW YORK (AP) — Their thoughts of beating Boston shattered, the San Francisco Warriors have lowered their sights to what might be easier prey.

The Warriors will try to bounce back from an overwhelming 143-106 defeat by Boston Saturday when they take on the New York Knickerbockers tomorrow night.

San Francisco has beaten the Knickerbockers twice and lost to them only once this year. The Knicks are in the Eastern Division cellar, nine games behind first-place Boston.

The Celtics showed champion form when they sprinted to a 17-4 lead in the first five minutes and dazzled San Francisco for the remainder of the game. Boston padded its lead with a 42-point output in the third period.

The final score was the Celtics' highest single game total of the season. The previous high was 134 points against Detroit in Providence.

Eight members of the Celtics scored in double figures, topped by Tom Sanders with 24 points. Larry Siegried finished with 18, Willie Naulls had 16.

High for the Warriors were Nat Thurmond and rookie Rick Barry with 19 each.

Seals Win, But Tough Road Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals, warmed by a victory over Los Angeles, will need all the steam that high scorer Wayne Connelly can produce when they meet Victoria Friday.

The Seals defeated the Los Angeles Blades 3-1 last Saturday night after three dismal losses. But Los Angeles had been flirting with the Western Hockey League cellar while the Victoria Maple Leafs are in first place.

Connelly scored the Seals' final goal Saturday, after Jerry Brisson made two points. Many of Connelly's scoring sprees have come in games which San Francisco eventually lost.

One example was Friday's 5-4 defeat by Hershey, Pa., of the American Hockey League.

Saturday's game with Los Angeles ended a seesaw series, with the teams commuting between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Brisson scored first, then Blade wing Leo Labine tied the match. Brisson intercepted a Los Angeles pass and put the Seals ahead to stay.

The win gave San Francisco a record of 8 victories against 11 losses and two ties for the year.

L.A. State Captures Camellia Bowl Tilt

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It took Los Angeles State's Ray Jones only about 13 seconds Saturday to show the University of California at Santa Barbara and a Camellia Bowl crowd of 3,500 why he's a Little All-American.

That's how long Jones needed to race 90 yards for a touchdown with the second half kickoff, as his Diablos came from behind to whip UCSB 18-10 and win the Western Region championship of the NCAA's college division.

Jones, a 5-11, 200-pound senior, ran for two other touchdowns in scoring all his team's points. He also completed four of seven passes for 34 yards and played all the way on defense.

It was a defensive play by Jones, in fact, that insured the victory for Coach Homer Beatty's Diablos.

With less than two minutes left in the game, the Gauchos had driven to the Los Angeles State 6-yard line. Then a pitchout to fullback Mike Thomas went astray and it was Jones who recovered the ball to put the game on ice.

Salinas Or Woodland In Cal Loop?

SAN JOSE (AP) — Ed Mulligan, California League president, is deciding between Salinas and Woodland as the city to own an eighth franchise in the league in 1966.

Directors met Saturday in San Jose and approved the eight-team league. Reno and Modesto, cities that had franchises in 1964 but not in 1965, were selected for 1966 franchises.

Salinas, which dropped its franchise after the 1965 season, re-applied. Woodland applied for a new franchise. The Chicago Cubs offered to sponsor a team at either site.

The Reno team will be operated by George Basta who operated the team in 1964. Joe Gagliardi, a San Jose real estate and insurance man, will operate the Modesto team.

Mulligan said the 1966 season would be 140 games long in a split schedule beginning April 19 and ending Sept. 5.

McKeever Still In Critical Condition

LONG BEACH (AP) — Former University of Southern California football star Mike McKeever remained in a coma for the ninth straight day today from head injuries received in an auto accident.

McKeever, 25, underwent surgery last Thursday to remove blood clots from his brain. Officials at Long Beach Memorial Hospital said he is still in critical condition.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

He Learns To Solve Problems Of Life While Writing Column

The advantage of reading a bridge column is that you learn what to do in life's little emergencies.

For example, when your wife tells you that she can get a mink coat at an unbelievable bargain price you can show her today's hand.

♠ 9 8 4 3
♥ K Q J 10 7
♦ 5
♣ Q 4 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks your partner to bid a major suit if he can. If partner bids spades or hearts, you plan to raise to game.

If partner bids two diamonds, denying a major suit, you plan to bid two hearts.

Opening lead — ♠ 2

South won the first trick with the king of spades and led her singleton heart to dummy's king.

When this held the trick South smiled happily: she had just found something for nothing.

SERIES OF RUFFS

Declarer took the ace of diamond, ruffed a heart, ruffed another diamond and ruffed another heart.

When South then led her last diamond, West stepped up with the ten of trumps and returned a trump to clear the North and South hands of trumps.

South had to lead clubs, and West defeated the contract with a club, the last trump and the ace of hearts.

SHOULD MAKE CONTRACT

South can make the contract, of course, by refusing the bargain in hearts.

After winning the second trick with the king of hearts, declarer should immediately return the queen of hearts, discarding a club from her hand.

West can get the ace of hearts and two trumps, but South wins the rest without any trouble.

Declarer's plan is to discard the rest of the clubs on dummy's hearts. Then South cashes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond in dummy, takes the ace of clubs and ruffs another diamond in dummy.

It is then time to lead the last heart and discard the last diamond from the South hand.

Redwood Students Win English Kudos

Two Redwood High School students have been named winners in the 1965 National Council of Teachers of English achievement awards.

Named among 410 "outstanding students of high school English" were Laura Schlichtmann of 103 Bretano Way, San Rafael, and Ronald Gibson of 172 Solano Street, Tiburon. Both youths were recommended for college scholarships.

ALMANAC

The moon is approaching its last quarter; the morning stars are Jupiter and Mercury; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1642, New Zealand was discovered by Dutch navigator Abel Tasman.

In 1918, American soldiers attached to the Third Army crossed the Rhine River at Coblenz, Germany.

In 1928, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra premiered George Gershwin's tone poem "An American in Paris."

In 1937, Japanese soldiers captured Nanking, China, and began systematically to loot the city.

A Thought for the Day — British novelist A. Conan Doyle said: "Whenever you have eliminated the impossible whatever remains, however improbable, must be the truth."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. INCOME TAX FACTS

Getting Credit For Dependents

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

How much have your dependents earned so far in 1965? If your dependent is not a child under nineteen or a student, you lose the dependency credit if his earnings are $600 or more. You should be sure your dependent does not earn over $600 for 1965 even if it means stopping work in December because each dependency credit is worth at least $85 at the lowest tax rate in actual dollars.

P. J. Wikel

If your dependent is a child under 19, or is a student, and you furnish over half the cost of his support, he can earn any amount and you can still claim him.

If your son or daughter was married in 1965 and you furnished over one-half of his support and he was under 19 or a student, then be sure that he does not file a joint return with his spouse. You can claim his dependency credit and the child can file a separate return for his own income. In California the married couple can split the community income after marriage and file separate returns.

If you and your brothers or sisters jointly support your parents, and the parents have income of less than $600 and one of you in unmarried, then that unmarried one should make sufficient payments so that he furnishes over half the cost of maintaining the household for at least one of your parents and he will then be able to claim Head of Household as well as the dependency credit for one of the parents. This could result in considerable tax advantage to the unmarried brother or sister.

Do you contribute to the support of a dependent, but cannot claim him on your Federal or California return because you do not furnish over one-half of his support?

If your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you:

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent to the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact that he did not contribute more than 50 per cent to the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided:

1. The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and

2. Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent of the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1965.

An agreement Form 2120 must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreements must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent. You cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

Airlines Show Late Strength In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines showed late strength and the stock market closed mixed today. Trading was active.

General Dynamics opened late under an accumulation of buy orders due to weekend news that it would build the FB111 bomber. It trimmed about a point from a 5-point jump.

Grumman, also a beneficiary of the project, was up around a point at best.

Schering held a gain of around 4 most of the time as a standout in the drug section.

Steels advanced as a group amid brightening prospects but gains were moderate.

Big Three motors were slightly lower most of the session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.6 million shares compared with 8.75 million on Friday.

Here was the picture near the close:

General Dynamics leaped 5¼ to 66¾ on a delayed opening block of 85,000 shares after orders accumulated on news that the company is to build the new FB-111 bomber.

Grumman, also involved in the bomber project, rose more than a point.

Steels, spurred by a report of brisk demand from the construction field, moved ahead in a body. Gains of less than a point were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

Xerox jumped 7 points. Polaroid was up more than 3. U.S. Smelting nearly 3.

Gains of a point or more were made by Raytheon, High Voltage Engineering, GM, Boeing, Goodyear, Air Reduction, United Air Lines, General Aniline, United Artists, Addressograph and Brown, Sharpe.

Insurance Co. of North America and Texas Instruments advanced about 4 each.

The averages were dampened by Du Pont, off more than 3. IBM lost 2, Best Foods nearly 2.

All big three motors took small losses.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

A. VON ROTZ
Will retire

Contractor Von Rotz Is Retiring

Veteran building contractor A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo will build no more homes in Marin County hills.

The Swiss-born cabinet maker, who came to the county in 1922, opened his own cabinet shop at 40 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, a few years later and then went into building houses, said he is retiring from construction work. Coincidentally Van Rotz, now 69, announced closing of his cabinet shop and mill, which has remained at the same location since 1929.

In place of this business the premises will be converted into a new enterprise: Building Supply Center, to be operated by Von Rotz's sons-in-law Orlando F. Denning and James E. Simon, and to open Dec. 15. The company will handle builder's supplies, hardware, lumber and garden supplies.

It will be under management of Tom Perkins, who has been with Von Rotz since 1938.

Last building project of Von Rotz is a small shopping center, nearing completion at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Oak Manor Drive at the northwest boundary of Fairfax. He also developed the nearby Oak Manor residential area which extends high into the hills and to within a few hundred yards of the hillside homes above Sleepy Hollow.

"The shopping center is almost completed and Oak Manor is just about sold out," he said. "There isn't much left to do here."

Other Von Rotz developments have been in Santa Venetia and the Bret Harte and Knoll Paris areas of San Rafael.

In 1942 Von Rotz became interested in local politics and was elected to the San Anselmo City Council. He served as mayor the last two years of his four-year term.

He is a past president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, a former member and for five years chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission. He has been president of the San Anselmo Lions Club, a director of the Marin County Development Assn., and a director of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., of which he was one of the founders.

Kayser's Pastries Finally Opens Two In Bank Have Anniversaries

A bakery that was scheduled to open in Northgate Shopping Center's Unit One as far back as December, 1964, and has been held up because of construction delays finally made it this month.

Kayser's Pastries, located next to the Kountry Kitchen Delicatessen, is now in business and open daily from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. — extended to 9 p.m. Fridays and shortened to 5 p.m. Sundays.

Owner Kurt Roesner of Novato took the name of his business from a former employer in Berlin, where he served his apprenticeship as a baker. The bakery specializes in sour French bread, original Black Forest cake and for the holidays honey gingerbread.

MARK L. SHAFER of San Rafael has been appointed by Pacific Far East Line, Inc., as owner's representative for Southeast Asia, headquartered in Hong Kong. He joined the line in 1958 and was first stationed in Honolulu. Subsequently he was owner's representative in Tokyo and in the sales department at San Francisco headquarters.

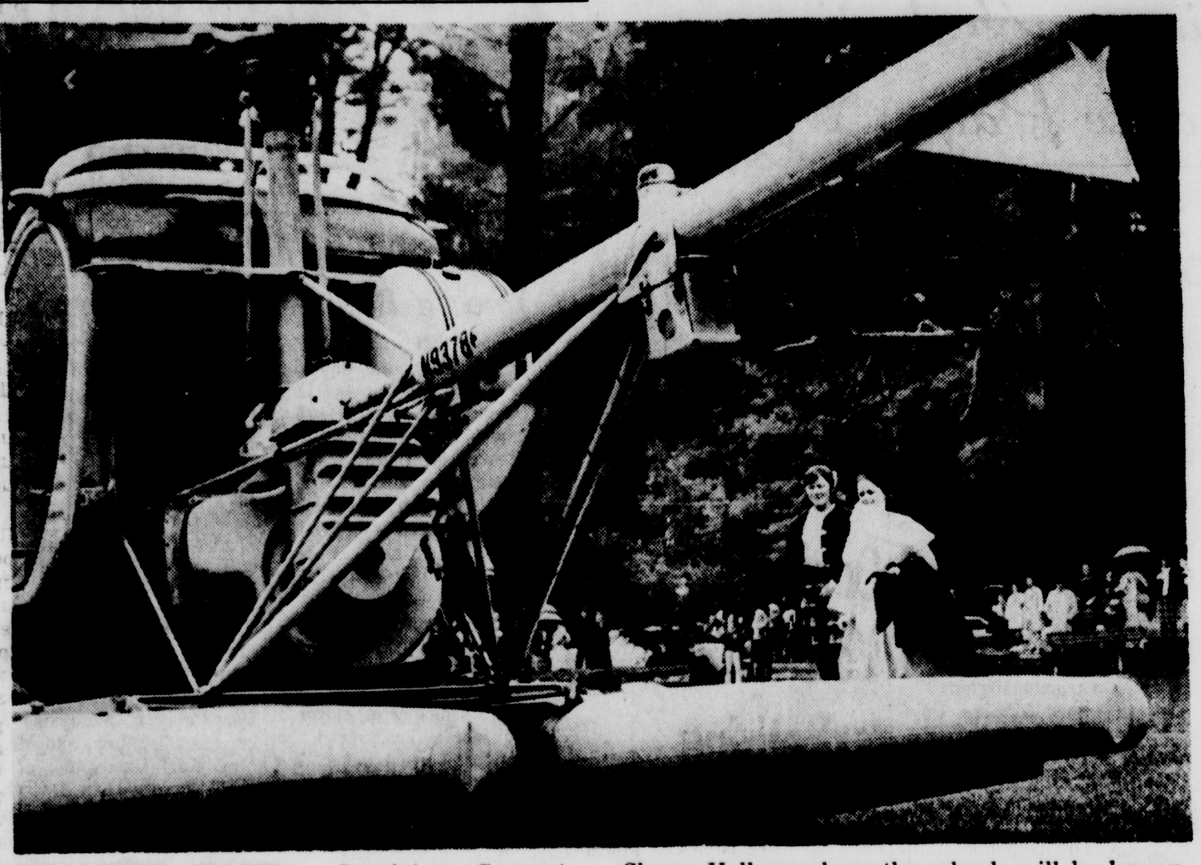
Dominican Schools Move



HELICOPTER HELPED — Dominican Convent called on many types of transportation, from horse-drawn vehicles to a helicopter, to move Dominican Upper and Lower Schools from their San Rafael campups Saturday to new campus on a 550-acre site on the former Hotaling Ranch in Sleepy Hollow, where the schools will be known as San Domenico. Sister M. Carol, O.P., senior class sponsor, and Judy Owens, student body president, head for the Commodore 'copter takeoff from Forest Meadows.

RAIN COULD NOT DETER—Rain poured down as Dominican's big move made up a parade from San Rafael to Sleepy Hollow. But 115-year-old Dominican schools had been through much more trying affairs than a mere rainstorm. The parade moved as scheduled. Here, the Marin Mounted Sheriff's Posse leads the procession west on Fifth Avenue at Irwin Street in San Rafael. Behind them come horse-drawn vehicles and a string of antique cars, bearing faculty members, trustees and others.

Apparent Argument, Then Crash

What appeared to be an argument between a driver and his passenger ended in a serious traffic accident at 11:50 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Stephen W. Pinson, 39, of 108 Hilldale Drive, San Anselmo, struck a parked car at 2050 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

In poor condition at Marin General Hospital today with head injuries and a cut face was Pinson's wife, Maybelle Pinson, 38. The driver was treated for face cuts at the same hospital.

San Rafael police had received a call minutes earlier from Ronald A. Kirisits, a private patrolman, who said he had seen the Pinson car headed south on Highway 101 from Terra Linda, and swerving.

He said the passenger seemed to be trying to jump from the car, but the driver was holding her. Kirisits followed in his own car, keeping in touch with police by radio.

The Pinson car was followed off the freeway at Mission Avenue and down to Fourth Street.

The car soon after was found to have crashed into a parked car registered to Virginia M. Long, of 43 East Crescent Drive, San Rafael, knocking it 33 feet forward, even though the hand brake was set and the car was in gear.

James E. French III, 29, of 837 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, was cut on the left hand when his car skidded off Highway 101 near the San Quentin overpass at 10:20 a.m. Saturday and struck a parked station wagon.

Californa Highway Patrol officers said French's car knocked the station wagon, registered to Robert I. or Helen Baker of Sacramento, from the shoulder of the road into a chain-link freeway fence.

French was treated at San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco, where he was examined and sent home.

Bernice H. Kelley, 52, of 55 Corte Madera Avenue, Mill Valley, was cut above her eye in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just south of the Corte Madera overpass, at 12:35 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Kelley's car collided with one driven by Barbara Jean Kovacs, 24, of 2466 Center Road, Novato, as Mrs. Kelley attempted to avoid an unidentified car which had spun out of control in front of her, the highway patrol reported. Mrs. Kelley was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Lucinda Williford, 46, of San Pablo, suffered a sprained neck in a two-car collision on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a quarter of a mile east of Highway 101, at 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

Smith had stopped for traffic and Brittain braked to stop, but his car slid on wet pavement, the highway patrol said. Brittain was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Charlotte Ann Larson, 34, of 212-A Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, complained of pains after her car spun out on Highway 101 and struck the railing on the San Rafael viaduct at 10:45 a.m. Saturday. She told CHP officers she would see her own doctor.

Catherine Barrow, 22, of 163 Drake Avenue, Marin City, suffered minor injury in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just north of the Alto interchange at 12:50 p.m. Saturday.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Floyd Barrow, 18, of 25 Burgess Court, which collided with one driven by George J. Farineau, 42, of 4 Sycamore Avenue, Larkspur, the highway patrol said. Barrow's car skidded off the highway, went up an embankment and then rolled back onto the highway into the path of Farineau's car, the patrol reported.

Both drivers were injured at 10:11 p.m. Saturday when a car driven by Edward J. Posusney, 18, of 144 Knight Drive, San Rafael, struck a small foreign car driven by Eleanor K. Lem, 21, of 134 Stadium Way, Mill Valley, at Hoag and Front Streets, San Rafael.

Police said several witnesses reported Miss Lem's northbound car ran a stopsign. She was reported in good condition with broken ribs and internal injuries at San Rafael General Hospital today.

Posusney's eastbound auto was spun around by the impact and the back end hit the front door of Redwood Electric Co., 46 Front Street. The driver was treated for cuts at San Rafael General Hospital.

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision on Highway 101, just south of the northbound Sausalito lateral, at 12:15 a.m. yesterday.

A car driven by Rocco D'Agostino, 40, of Montezuma Avenue, Forest Knolls, collided with one driven by William E. Worrell, 49, of 21 Fawn Court, Sleepy Hollow, the highway patrol reported.

D'Agostino, who suffered neck and back pains, was X-rayed at Marin General Hospital. Worrell, who suffered a cut nose, and his passenger, Elizabeth Worrell, 40, of the same address, who suffered head pains and cuts of the legs and hands, were treated at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco.

Injured was Jacqueline L. Sinclair, passenger in a car driven by George L. Sinclair, 23, of Pacifica. She was taken to San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where she was held for observation.

The highway patrol said a northbound car driven by Evelyn C. Shackleton, 55 of 170 Trinidad Road, Tiburon, slowed to avoid traffic ahead, and skidded. Sinclair's car and one driven by Alessio Trinei, 53, of San Francisco, stopped behind the Shackleton car. Then a car driven by May Belle Stenman, 54, of 4 Booker Avenue, Sausalito, struck the rear of the Trinei car, starting a chain-reaction series of rear-end crashes.

Two men were cut last night when the car in which they were riding overturned on Miller Avenue in Mill Valley.

Passenger James A. Smith Jr., 19, of 49 Cole Drive, Marin City, was treated by Mill Valley fireman Loren Freeman, then taken to Marin General Hospital where he was given further treatment. Driver James Henery Griffin, 19, of San Francisco, was cut on his left hand and arm but was not taken to the hospital.

Griffin told police he was driving north at about 8:30 p.m. on Miller near Tamalpais High School when he lost control on a curve. His car struck the divider, rolled over and then back onto its wheels.

Joseph A. Tubb Jr., 30, of San Mateo was cut on his right leg at 5:15 p.m. yesterday when his southbound motorcycle hit the rear of a car on highway 101 just south of the Alto overcrossing, the highway patrol reported.

Labor Leaders Ask For More Of Wealth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders demanded today a bigger slice of the nation's wealth for workers, a federal curb on the prices of some key commodities, and a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits.

In resolutions certain to be gaveled to quick approval by about 1,000 delegates to the federation's 10th anniversary convention, AFL-CIO policymakers also rejected White House wage guidelines and called for bold federal policies to create jobs and boost consumer purchasing power.

"A faster rise in wages and fringe benefits is needed to broaden and strengthen the mass markets that are the foundation of the economy," one resolution said.

Federation leaders also suggested income tax cuts for low- and middle - income families, and elimination of taxes altogether for those under the government's poverty income level of $3,000 a year.

The effects on the economy of 1964 and 1965 tax cuts have "almost completely worn off," the proposed resolution said.

In recommending a 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits, federation leaders said the base on which Social Security taxes are assessed should be increased from the present $6,600 to $15,000 a year, supplemented by extra money from the federal Treasury. The cost should not be charged to future generations of workers and employers, they declared.

Social Security benefits now average about $92 per month for a retired single worker and $137 for a married couple.

The recent 7 per cent increase barely covered the increased cost of living, the federation said.

AFL-CIO leaders said medical care benefits under Social Security — which do not go into effect until next July — should be improved and extended to surviving widows and children.

The federation blamed the outflow of private capital, rather than wage increases, for the U.S. balance-of-payments problem in foreign trade.

It said the federal government should restrict the investment of U.S. corporations overseas.

Delegates asked Congress to raise the minimum wage to $2 and include farm workers in its coverage.

In calling on Congress to raise the minimum wage from $1.25 to $2 and expand its coverage to millions more workers — especially farm laborers—federation officials said:

"About 20 to 25 per cent of the population live in poverty or close to its edge in the richest and most productive nation in the world.

"The AFL-CIO, the largest organization of consumers in the United States, seeks no cut rate prices at the grocery store based on the exploitation of anyone," they added in demanding minimum wage coverage of farm workers.
